Obituary

Mrs. Ole Knutson.

Grygla Eagle: In the Northwestern hospital, Minneapolis, Minn., on Friday, July 23, 1920, Mrs. Aletto, wife of Ole Knutson, aged 61 years, 4 months and 16 days. Funeral services were held in the Lutheran Synod church, Thief River Falls, conducted by the Revs. Roll of that city and E. O. Sabo, of Grygla, interment in Greenwood cemetery. She leaves besides her husband to mourn the death, four sons, Alfred, Albert, Oscar and Charles, and one daughter, Mrs. Clara Utabjan. Death came in a fainting spell following an operation performed a few days before. At the moment of her death her daughter, Mrs. Utabjan, was the only member of the family present the rest having gone for a walk at the request of their mother. Albert and family arrived soon after the funeral.

The deceased was born in Lands Prestejeld, Norway and came to this country with her husband in January, 1880, and settled in Wisconsin. In the year 1900 they took a homestead in the town of Benville where they lived for a while when they moved into this village and have been in the hotel business for a number of years. She was known as a kind mother, a patient and helping wife and an excellent neighbor.

In Memory of Mrs. Ole Knutson.

A precious one from us has gone
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
But God in His wisdom has recalled,
The boon His love has given,
And though her body slumbers here
Her soul is safe in heaven.

You can make this surprising experiment in our store—

The Test of the Two Violins

Violins differ subtly in tone! Test the New Edison Realism by that fact.

We have an "Ave Maria" RE-CREATION played by Albert Spalding with his Guarnerius. This famous violin has a brilliant, singing tone. We have a second "Ave Maria" RE-CREATION played by Carl Flesch with his genuine Stradivarius. This violin has a rich, mellow tone.

Come in and compare these two RE-CREATIONS—tone for tone. If the New Edison makes clear the distinction between the singing Guarnerius and the mellow Stradivarius, you know it has perfect realism for you.

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Albert Spalding himself recently took part in a test of the New Edison's Realism, at New York City. He played in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of his performance by the New Edison. Mr. Henry Hadley, one of the jury of the three distinguished musicians who listened from behind a screen, said: "The RE-CREATION matched Mr. Spalding's performance tone for tone."

The New Edison is the only phonograph which has given this conclusive proof of its perfect realism. It has triumphed in 4,000 such comparison-tests.

PRICES! HALT!
Since 1914, the total price increase in the New Edison has been less than 15%. Mr. Edison has, personally, absorbed more than one half of the increased costs of manufacture. He may not be able to do this much longer. Buy now—if you want today's prices. Our Budget Plan will help you. It distributes the payment over the months to come.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

Yours for Health—Granny Chamberlain

New One Born Every Minute

(Copyright.)

It has been said that there is a sucker born every minute. If this be true, there are 1,440 potential customers of the mail-order houses ushered into the world every 24 hours and the number reaches a total of 525,600 every year.

Of course, as Mark Twain remarked regarding reports of his death, these figures may be exaggerated, but they serve to illustrate the fact that the mail-order houses of the big cities always have new fields to exploit and are not hampered in their dealings by the necessity of pleasing all their old customers. If the mail-order buyer discovers that he has been "stung" and registers a vigorous kick, it means nothing in the young life of the mail order man. Why should he worry as long as there are some 99,999,999 other persons in the United States to whom he may make his alluring appeals.

Ever Get Money Back?

Did anyone ever hear of a mail order house refunding a customer's money if the customer was not satisfied with his purchase? Don't all speak at once, please. The big mail order houses in the cities expect to receive a large number of complaints from their customers. They know that much of the goods which they sell will not come up to the expectations of the buyers, whose ideas as to what they will receive have been formulated from the pretty pictures and alluring descriptions given in the catalogue.

The mail order houses prepare for this contingency by maintaining large corps of clerks whose sole duty it is to answer the letters of irate customers. These clerks, or correspondents, as they are called, exercise all their powers of cajolery in an effort to appease the complaining customers, but if this is found to be impossible, after an exchange of letters, the mail order man has no cause for worry. His living is not dependent upon the customer to whom he has already sold goods. "There are as good fish in the sea as have ever been caught" and he turns his attention toward the landing of the new fish.

Local Merchant's Field Limited.

Compare the position of the mail order man with that of the retail merchant in the small city or town. The retail merchant has a certain limited territory from which he must draw his trade. All his business must be done day after day and year after year among the same people. The buyers to whom he can appeal for business number only a few thousand at the most and in some cases a few hundred. Unless he can make his customers his friends and bring them back to his store again, he cannot continue in business. The result is that he looks beyond the single sale which he may be making at the time. It is to his interest to please every one of his customers. It will profit him nothing to make a big profit off a customer on one sale if that customer is not satisfied with his purchase and refuses to come back to his store again.

From which man can the buyer expect to get the best values, the best service and the best prices in proportion to the quality of the goods sold? From the man who must please him and give him his money's worth in order to remain in business or from the man who figures that he may never hear from the buyer again and that it will make no great difference whether he pleases him or not?

Gets it While He Can.

The idea upon which the mail order man works is to get the money while the getting is good. If the customer is satisfied with the goods which he receives, all well and good. The mail order man knows that the customer is the kind of a man or woman who likes to take a chance or he wouldn't have sent in his order in the first place. Therefore he may figure that the customer is likely to take a second chance even if the first does not turn out to his liking. If the customer has enough spirit to make a kick, the trained correspondents in charge of the complaint department may be able to pacify him. If they are not, it doesn't matter much anyway, for there are millions of others who may be caught with the same bait—there is one born every minute, you know.

It is well for the consumer to remember these facts if he is ever tempted to take a chance on the offerings of the mail order house. The home merchant has something at stake in every sale that he makes. The mail order man has nothing at stake. The home merchant has everything at stake on the manner in which he treats his customers, for he cannot get others to take their places. The mail order man has nothing at stake for it is to his interest to get all that he can out of each sale, knowing that he may never have another chance at that particular customer.

WAS LUCKY DAY FOR HER, SHE SAYS

Mrs. Cummings Was Nervous, Depressed and Hardly Able to Eat When She Began Taking Tanlac.

"If any one had told me there was a medicine in the world that would do me the good Tanlac has I would not have believed them, and don't feel that I would be doing right not to tell others what it has done for me," said Mrs. William A. Cummings, 1033 Edmond avenue, St. Paul, Minn.

"For the past year I had suffered terribly from indigestion and was in a badly run-down condition when I started taking Tanlac. My appetite was very poor and I could not digest even the lightest kind of food. I suffered a great deal with nervous headaches and at times had terribly dizzy spells. I was nervous and weak, felt depressed all the time and could get but little sleep. I had lost considerable weight and felt tired and worn out all the time. After trying many different medicines and getting no benefit from any of them I was very much discouraged and had just about lost faith in all medicines.

"As I had seen so much praise of Tanlac, however, I decided to give it a trial, and it certainly was a lucky day for me, for my condition began to improve right away. So far I have only taken three bottles, but I now have a splendid appetite, eat just anything I want and everything agrees with me perfectly. My nerves are in good condition, I sleep well and have gained several pounds in wheight. In fact, the improvement in my health has been so great all my friends are telling me how well I look. I don't believe there is another medicine in the world that will begin to compare with Tanlac, and I would gladly pay five dollars a bottle for it if I couldn't get it any cheaper, for after what it has done for me I think it would be cheap at that price."

Man Power and Gasoline Prices

SO LONG as the acute shortage of man-power in the United States continues, the demand for gasoline power will continue to increase.

Every increase in the demand for gasoline power will affect the price of gasoline, because, though petroleum production is continually increasing, it is not keeping pace with the demand for gasoline.

The latest figures available illustrating this point are for March, 1920.

Petroleum Production:	Petroleum Consumption:
1,177,129 bbls.	1,417,129 bbls.
Total for Month	Total for Month

If production continues for the rest of the year at the rate established in the first quarter, the total production of petroleum for 1920 will be in excess of 410,000,000 barrels.

If consumption continues for the rest of the year at the rate established in the first quarter, the total consumption of petroleum for the year 1920 will be in excess of 495,000,000 barrels.

Or, for the year 1920, consumption may be expected to exceed domestic production of petroleum by 85,000,000 barrels.

Because of its high-powered organization, trained through years of experience to the interpretation of conditions, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is anticipating increased need for gasoline and is bending every effort to supply the people of the Middle West with the gasoline they need.

It means much to the Middle West to be able to use freely that most important of all labor-saving devices—the automotive machine.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes that its greatest service lies in providing at all times, everywhere, and at the lowest possible prices, the gasoline needed to operate these engines of production.

GONVICK SLUGGERS TAKE HOME BACON

Victors in Snappy Game Here on Sunday By Score of Seven to Five.

Working under a handicap caused by the absence of several of their fastest players, together with an occasional streak of hard luck, the Thief River Falls base ball team last Sunday met defeat at the hands of the Gonvick team by a score of 7 to 5.

The Gonvick lads had determined beforehand to win this game at all costs and their lines were strengthened with a number of hired players, making by far the strongest team the local boys have been up against this season. It was the snappiest game played here for a long time and it is too bad the public does not patronize local games more freely.

Next Sunday the locals go to Gonvick to try conclusions once more with the victors in last Sunday's contest. They expect to have a full lineup of their best players and if they don't come home with Gonvick's scalp it won't be their fault. The team will be accompanied to Gonvick by a big bunch of rooters and indications are it will be a big day for that burg.

SEES BIG BENEFIT IN WATERWAY PLAN

H. M. Owen, Minneapolis Publisher, Boosting For Waterway Project at Meeting.

The Detroit Evening Journal interviewed Harry M. Owen, publisher of Farm Stock and Home, the leading Minnesota Farm Paper, a delegate to the Great Lake-St. Lawrence Tidewater Congress at the Hotel Tuller. Mr. Owen said: "I think I am in a position to state the farmers of the three big spring wheat states, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, are fully awake to the advantages of having the head of the lakes a seaport.

"The car shortage of this year is nothing new; it is an ever-recurring condition every fall. It is a good deal worse than ever just now. I think that inadequate seaboard storage is to a great extent the cause of our chronic car shortage trouble. There is only about 15,000,000 bushel actual grain storage capacity from Maine to the tip-end of Florida. This means the use of freight cars for storage at the seaboard while awaiting ocean tonnage. Loading directly at Duluth for export would relieve not only the Northwestern roads but also the lines between Buffalo and the seaboard would be able to devote cars now used for grain to other purposes. Aside from this we would have the saving of handling grain at Buffalo and the seaports, coupled with the saving in freight between all water and the present system of land and rail. The farmers feel that this saving will be in a measure, though perhaps not fully, reflected in better prices, and therefore want to see the money spent on the deep waterways project, the work started promptly and vigourously pushed for rapid completion."

BRIDGE COMPLETED ON RED LAKE ROAD

With the completion of the bridge at the outlet of the Red Lake river, on the west side of Red Lake, a new route from Bemidji to Thief River Falls, through the Grygla country, has been made, says the Bemidji Sentinel. The contract of constructing the bridge was completed this week by A. C. Goddard, of Red Lake.

Mr. Goddard was in the city Tuesday and reported that the road the entire distance from Bemidji to Thief River Falls, is in good condition and that automobiles are now being driven over the new route.

The new road extends north from Bemidji to Red Lake, and then extends along the south shore of the lake to the southwest corner, and thence northwest along the shore of the lake to the outlet. It then follows a high ridge running from the outlet to the Grygla district, and then on to Thief River Falls.

Mr. Goddard is of the opinion that the new road will open a new trading territory for Bemidji and as the residents who live north of the outlet have promised to build a good highway to the bridge, a first class road may soon be had between Bemidji and Thief River Falls, along the new route.

HOGS AND CATTLE SHOW BIG DECLINE

Market Continues Unfavorable and Low Points Are Reached at End of Week.

St. Paul Union Stockyards, South St. Paul,—The hog market is closing about 25c lower for the week. The top is 15c with bulk at $14.35 to $14.50. Stock pigs continue in good demand and are bringing from $8 to $14.00. Boars are bringing $5 to $7.50. Receipts at about 24,000 are the lightest in a long while.

Prices were sharply lower in the cattle market the first of the week, with a continued easier trend during the latter part of the week, with sales closing at the lowest point. There was a very limited showing of good beef material, practically all of the offerings being of the grassy type. Killers show a 50 to 75c loss for the week and some kinds even lower. The best fat steers brought $12.25 to $14.25 and the cow and heifer trade was largely in the $6 to $8 spread, these figures bringing a better class of cattle than last week. Canners and cutters ranged down to $3.50 to $4.00 and occasionally lower. Bull trade showed a little more strength this week with sales at $5.00 to $7. Veal calves were also up a little for the week, with top at $15.50 and other sales at $5.50 to $14.00. Receipts for the week were 18,000.

Lambs showed a loss of about 50c for the week with sheep grades remaining steady. Ewes are bringing $2.50 to $7; wethers $4 to $8 and yearlings $8 to $11. The quality of material was only fair in all classes. Run of 21,000 was considerably higher than has been received in some time.

Want More Light.

A petition signed by numerous residents in the vicinity of Duluth avenue and Ninth street was presented to the council Tuesday evening, asking that a street light be placed at the intersection of the above named streets. The matter was favorably acted upon by the councilmen and the light will be placed in position at an early date.

NINE MEN SECURE CITIZENSHIP HERE

Seven civilians and two soldiers were granted full citizenship at the hearing held last Friday before Judge Andrew Grindeland at the Pennington county court house. The two soldiers who successfully passed the examinations are Halvor Olson Ryen and James Todroff.

Bjorguf Tarjerson Roysland, Hans Kristian Johansen, Neils Laurids Nielsen, Hans Hermanson, Severt Johnson, Peder Sabo and August Jacob Oden were the seven civilians granted full citizenship. Mr. Johansen was granted permission by the court to change his name to Hans Kristian Rustad, and in the future will be known by that name. The petition of one applicant, Chas. Langer, was left for future action owing to the fact that Langer is a resident of Austria and as long as this country is technically at war with Austria it is impossible for a citizen of that country to be naturalized in the United States.

Four applications were continued until the next hearing, which will take place Feb. 26, 1921. Hans Finkel Hanson and Axel Olson did not answer questions put to them to the satisfaction of the court, and their cases were continued until the next hearing to give them an opportunity of studying up. The applications of Nels Christofferson and Carl Christofferson were continued at the request of the petitioners.

PRICES NO HIGHER BY RATE INCREASE

Railroad-Labor Economist Sees Little Cause For Greater Costs to Consumer.

Railroad rate increases authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission "should have no appreciable effect on prices of the majority of things the ordinary consumer purchases," according to an analysis made public today by W. Jett Lauck, economist for the railroad labor organizations.

"There is no occasion for alarm in the prospect of an addition of a billion and a half dollars to the annual transportation bill," the statement said, "provided this item is not multiplied four or five times before it is presented to the people for payment.

"For instance, by no possible computation can the increased freight rates be made to justify an increase of 1 cent per pound in the price of meat, or 5 cents per pair in the price of shoes, or 10 cents in the price of a suit of clothes or one-fourth of 1 cent in the price of a loaf of bread."

Coal, Mr. Lauck said, was one commodity the price of which would be "directly and appreciably increased" by the rate advance.

"The greatest industries of the country could amply afford to deduct the increased freight rate from the price of their products," he said, after presenting statistics on profits of producing corporations, "thus allowing the commodity to reach the retailer at the same price as formerly."

Completion of "the cycle of government management of the railroad industry" through increases in freight and passenger rates was said by Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway system, to leave the carriers the opportunity for a "constant and progressive reduction of rates, accompanied by an enlargement of service."

RECORD BROKEN IN ATTENDANCE AT LOCAL FAIR

Eighteen Thousand People Present to View Exhibits During Three Big Days.

High Class Free Attractions Furnish Thrills and Amusement For Visitors.

The Pennington county fair has come and gone. It was in every respect greater than any of its eighteen predecessors—and that is saying a great deal. It was an unqualified success in the matter of attendance, in exhibits and free attractions.

On the first and third days the attendance was estimated at three times that of last year, while the second day sent all previous records glimmering so far that no estimate can be made.

A Comparative Statement.

Secretary Smith submits the following figures to show the growth of the fair during the past four years: In 1917 the gate and grandstand receipts were $1,875. The following year only $1,387.45 was taken in, while last year the total receipts footed up $3,546.95. At the fair just closed the receipts from gates and grandstand were $5,271.95. The receipts from shows and concessions have grown during the same period from $678.50 to $1,470.65.

The amount paid in premiums also has been mounting steadily upward. In 1917 $945 was paid out in this manner, in 1918 $972.25, and last year $1,302.75. This year the premiums are estimated at $1,600.

Attendance has grown from 4,000 in 1917 to 18,000 this year. These figures are authentic and show that wonderful progress has been made.

Where Credit Belongs.

A large part of the credit for this showing belongs to the officers and directors of the fair association. These men have worked untiringly early and late and their efforts have borne fruit. Herbert Poller, president; Albert Johnson, first vice president; Fred Beerbower, second vice president; R. McGinn, treasurer, and G. Howard Smith, secretary, are each entitled to a large share of credit for the success of the fair. But they did not do it all. They were assisted in an able manner by the various department superintendents, who vied with each other as to who should make the best showing. Mrs. J. H. Hardesty had charge of the woman's department, L. H. Lawrence the poultry section and Fred Beerbower the live stock, while the farm products division was under the supervision of Albert Johnson.

Excellent Exhibits.

To make individual mention of the exhibits at the fair is an impossibility. Suffice it to say that they were the best ever. The improvement in the live stock section was especially noticeable and the animals on display received much praise from those who viewed them. There was an unusually large display of poultry, the exhibition of which was this year conducted under the rules of the American association.

L. V. Wilson, who judged the live stock, stated that last year's showing of cattle was equalled by only one county in the state—Pipestone. He said it was much better this year than last, with improvements in the Guernsey section especially being worthy of note.

Praises Farm Displays.

R. R. Smith of the university farm school officiated as judge of agricultural exhibits. Mr. Smith stated to a representative of The Times that it was the best exhibit of agricultural products he had seen in his 15 years of judging, considering that the local fair is held early in the season. He stated it was almost unbelievable that such a display could be gathered at this time of the year.

Officials are now busily at work compiling the premium lists from the judges' reports and checks will be mailed to winners within two weeks. A complete list will be published as soon as compiled and exhibitors are requested to check this list over. If any errors are found it will be considered a favor if the secretary's attention is called to them. The secretary also desires to have all bills against the association presented before Aug. 14 in order that they may be audited and allowed before the annual meeting of the directors.

LOCAL CONTRACTOR LANDS LARGE JOB

P. W. Roark Awarded Road Grading in Cass County Amounting to $200,000.

P. W. Roark, local road contractor, was last week awarded a grading contract in Cass county and is making preparations to load his horses, tractors and other equipment to that place at once to begin operations.

That the contract is one of considerable magnitude is evidenced by the fact that a total of 25.16 miles is to be graded, involving a total contract price of approximately $200,000. Mr. Roark was awarded the contract at 70 cents per yard and considers that he has an opportunity to make a little profit out of the job. He has been in the road contracting business for years in this section of the state and has handled several large jobs to the satisfaction of everyone concerned. This is the biggest undertaking he ever tackled, however, and he is more than determined not to fall down on it in any particular.

The Times feels safe in recommending Mr. Roark to the commissioners and highway engineer of Cass county and feels sure they will never regret having awarded this important contract to him.

Thief River Ball Team to Close Season Next Sunday

Baseball fans may be interested in the announcement that the last game of the season insofar as the Thief River Falls team is concerned will be played at the fair grounds next Sunday. The final tussle will be staged with the St. Hilaire aggregation and it promises to be a snappy exhibition. It is expected the band will be out to give the visitors a rousing welcome and to help draw a crowd to the game.

The management of the local team has decided that it is useless to attempt to hold the boys together longer. They have been playing good ball all summer, but have received very little encouragement in the way of attendance at games played in Thief River Falls. The fact that no salaries have been paid to the players has made it possible to go through the season and come out with a small sum left in the treasury.

First Rye From 1920 Crop Brought to Town This Week

The first grain from the 1920 harvest was sold this week at the elevator of the Hanson & Barzen Milling company. J. S. Brown, Carl Hillard and P. H. McAndress each brought in several loads of rye, which breaks all previous records in Pennington county by at least two weeks, according to those who have kept tab on such things.

The new crops is of excellent quality, with large plump kernels, and the yield is said to be exceptionally heavy. Threshing of rye will soon be general throughout the county and reports from all sections are most encouraging.

Business Changes.

The Walker-Gesell Land company moved this week into the building vacated by the First and Peoples State bank, which provides ideal quarters for their business. The Benson building vacated by the land company has been leased by Scott Laird, who is busy moving his specialty shop into it. Mr. Laird also is the gainer both in the matter of location and room.

FALL MEETING OF LOCAL MERCHANTS

Officers of the Merchants association are busy making preparations for the first fall meeting of the organization, which will take place about Sept. 1. The meeting will be in the form of a banquet at a local hotel.

The association has issued invitations to H. G. Hart of Long Prairie and Frank P. Mann of Devils Lake, N. D., and it is quite certain that one or the other of these men will be present at the meeting. Both are leading figures in the merchandising field and no doubt will have something interesting to relate.

One of the important subjects to be taken up at the meeting is the obtaining of a complete mailing list for the territory adjacent to Thief River Falls. It is also expected that a new and up-to-date credit rating book will be ready for distribution to members of the association at this time.

AIR MAIL SERVICE NOW ESTABLISHED

Letter to Times Arrives From Chicago Just 24 Hours After Being Mailed.

The Times on Wednesday morning received a letter via the first aerial mail to arrive at Minneapolis. The letter left Chicago at 7:30 a. m. on Tuesday and reached Thief River Falls just 24 hours later. Had this letter been dispatched by train and left Chicago at the same time, it would have arrived in Minneapolis at 10:30 yesterday forenoon too late to connect with a train leaving for this city, thus losing one business day.

The postal plane making the inaugural flight is an 800 h. p. Martin, propelled by two Liberty motors of 400 h. p. each. It carried on its first trip 30,000 letters and has capacity for 80,000, which will be its load when flying on regular schedule. Its average speed will be approximately 100 miles per hour. The arrival of the plane marks the beginning of daily air service between Minneapolis and Chicago.

The regular schedule on which ships will operate will be announced immediately following test flights. Postal authorities propose to prove to patrons of the Northwest that air mail is not to be an innovation of a spectacular or stunt nature, but a necessary and economical adjunct to the service.

CITY SUPPLY OF WATER SOON TO BE MADE PURE

Complete Filtering System Likely to Be Installed Here in Near Future.

State Board of Health Report Shows Local Supply Unfit For Human Use.

City Council Takes Steps to Insure Plentiful Supply of Pure Water.

A city water filtering system is one of the possibilities looming up in the near future for Thief River Falls. Action in this matter was prompted Tuesday evening at the council meeting when a report from the state board of health was read, covering a number of tests which have recently been made of the city's water supply. Samples of water from mains in various parts of the city were gathered some time ago by a representative of this department, and the report thereon has just been issued.

Water Unfit to Drink.

According to the report of the board of health, the water supply secured from the river and pumped through the mains is wholly unfit for human consumption. The report states that the water is a menace to public health and something should be done at once to remedy the condition.

Residents of Thief River Falls are quite well informed concerning the water supply and very few use it for drinking purposes, but the greatest danger lies with those who are not familiar with local conditions. Transients passing through the city are in grave danger of contamination unless something is done to warn them.

Filtration Only Solution.

A system of filtering the water supply is the only solution offered. An effort has been made to secure pure water through deep wells but this has long ago been abandoned as impractical. Last year a tour of inspection covering several cities was made by the council, who were firmly convinced that a filtering plant offered the only remedy within reach.

The council Tuesday evening decided to take up the matter once more in an effort to secure the installation of a filtration system at the earliest possible date. Engineers' plans and estimates of costs will be secured, and with this basis to start from it is hoped that work on actual construction can soon be begun.

ROAD TO RED LAKE TO BE CONSIDERED

Mayor Taralseth Calls Meeting to be Held at Warren on August 17.

Mayor R. B. Taralseth of Warren has called a meeting to be held in that city on Tuesday, Aug. 17, the purpose of which is to devise ways and means for building a road to Red lake. Delegates from all sections of the valley are expected to be present at the meeting, and it is planned by those interested in the movement to form a permanent organization to back the road building program.

The idea of a good road to the Red lake region is not a new one. It is realized that such an improvement would open to the public one of the finest summer resorts in the state, which should prove a powerful attraction to tourists looking about for a place to spend their summer vacations. The greatest fresh water lake within the boundaries of the state can, with the securing of this road and a few other minor details, be transformed into a mecca for tourists from all parts of the country.

Concerted action is necessary to secure results, and therefore Mayor Tharalseth conceived the idea of calling the meeting as above stated. That the proposed road is a necessary improvement is apparent to everyone, and the meeting at Warren will provide an opportunity for the boosters of the valley to get together on the proposition.

Three Pennington Boys Win Free Trip to Stock Show

Lester Coyle, Raymond Muzzy and Burton Aarnes were declared winners in the boys' and girls' stock judging contest conducted at the county fair. This will entitle them to a free trip to the South St. Paul Live Stock show this fall.

Competition was keen among the ten young folks entered in the contest, and the results showed a comprehension of good live stock among the contestants. In addition to the three winners the following took part in the contest: Howard Struble, Daniel Payne, Thomas Belland, Halbert Evenstad, Harry McDonald, Noble Urdahl and Rudolph Urdahl.

In the dairy calf contest Pearl and Ruby Conklin carried off the honors, while Frances Conklin and Myron Robinson were declared winners in the sheep contest. These contestants are entitled to a free trip to the state fair, providing they score sufficiently in writing their essays to maintain their lead. Otherwise some other participant will be awarded the trip.

Local Guernseys May Be Exhibited at State Fair

L. V. Wilson of the University farm, who judged the cattle at the Pennington county fair, writes County Agent J. J. McCann, urging the breeders who had Guernseys on exhibition at the local fair to send their stock to the Minnesota state fair in September.

Mr. Wilson says the Pennington county animals have an excellent chance of carrying away some big prizes, stating that the animals are really in a class by themselves. Local Guernsey breeders have had the matter of exhibiting at the state fair under consideration for some time and it is likely that several will make the venture.

CHILD MEETS DEATH IN TRAGIC MANNER

Little Russell Muzzy of Steiner Strangled When Pump Jack Falls on Him.

Russell, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Muzzy, residing on a farm near Steiner, met death in a tragic manner on Monday. The child was found near the pump, strangled to death by a pump jack which had fallen in such manner as to pin the child between it and the plank covering of the well. No marks were visible on the child's body, making it evident that he had slowly strangled to death.

The child had been playing about the yard as usual. Thinking he had wandered away the mother went to look for him and was shocked to find the lifeless body beside the well. Medical aid was immediately summoned but nothing could be done as an examination by the doctor showed death to have been instantaneous.

Russell is survived by his parents and a baby sister three weeks old and his sudden death comes as a severe shock. The funeral was held yesterday morning from the local Catholic church and the little body laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery.

AMERICAN LEGION TO MEET TONIGHT

Election of Delegates to State Convention Principal Business to Come Up.

A rousing meeting of the American Legion will be held at the Evelyn hotel, Thief River Falls, on Thursday evening (tonight) at 8:30, at which all members of Elmer J. Eklund Post are urged to be present. All other ex-service men also are invited.

The most important business coming before the meeting will be the election of six delegates and six alternates to the state convention of the legion at Duluth Aug. 16, 17 and 18. Reduced fares have been provided for the delegates and all those desiring to go should see G. Howard Smith prior to their departure in order to get the proper credentials.

Service men are urged to apply to Mr. Smith for the new Victory medal recently issued by the government, bringing their discharge papers with them. It is planned to issue these medals to all service men between now and Nov. 11, at which time a great presentation ceremony will be carried out by the local post.

Thief River Concern Makes Carload of Sash Weights

The Thief River Iron Works this week shipped to the Reymer Hardware company at St. Paul a full carload of sash weights, made in the foundry of the local concern. Some idea of the number of the weights may be gained from the fact that the shipment weighed over 24 tons.

This is the first time in the history of the local foundry that a complete carload of one class of goods has been shipped to one firm. The order was secured in the face of several competitive bids and was filled in record time. One great difficulty with this class of work at present, according to Manager Richter, is the scarcity of old iron. He states that it is impossible for him to keep a sufficient supply on hand to care for current needs although exhorbitant prices have been offered for it.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Owing to the fact that the 1920 High School Annuals are a little late in being finished, and the book being considerably larger than we expected, we will be obliged to raise the price to $2 each. All of the material submitted to the printers could not be placed on the number of pages contracted for, making it necessary to issue a larger book at a considerable added expense. The annuals may be obtained from Denis McGinn, Stanton Dahlen, Leland Schuster, or at the Lincoln high school. The books will be on sale the remainder of this week at the high school.—Prowler Staff.

ELKS TO FROLIC AT HUGE PICNIC SUNDAY, AUG. 29

Antlered Herd Preparing For Greatest Outdoor Celebration in History.

Eats Fit For Kings and Good Program of Sports Promised to Visitors.

Sunday, Aug. 29, will be a red letter day for Elks of Thief River Falls and vicinity. On that day will occur the great annual picnic at Squaw Point, and if all indications do not fail it will be some kind of a picnic. There will be something doing every minute, with pink lemonade and other trimmings aplenty.

Committees Busy.

Committees have been appointed to look after every detail of the big picnic, and every man is doing his best to see that nothing is left undone. The program is in charge of L. A. Lampert, G. W. Connell, O. C. Olson, C. W. Vorachek and R. E. Hunt. That combination should be able to arrange a program worth going miles to see. The kids also are promised their share of fun and many numbers are arranged especially for their benefit.

And Then the Eats.

Of course an Elks' picnic wouldn't be complete unless a competent committee had charge of the eats. This department has been put in charge of the following experts: Louis DeCremer, Julien Provencher, H. A. Brumund, L. C. Nielsen, E. M. Bennes and Jos. Elsenpeter. What these men don't know about feeding people isn't worth knowing. They have had the experience and now they have the disposition to break all previous records. Anybody who leaves the picnic hungry will have himself to blame. It won't be the fault of the committee in charge of the culinary department.

Free Rides Furnished.

In order to be sure that everybody gets a chance to attend the picnic, cars will be provided to furnish free rides to Squaw Point for all who care to go. These will leave the Evelyn hotel at regular intervals during the day and picnicers are urged to make generous use of them.

A regular meeting of the Elks will be held on Friday evening, Aug. 20, at which final arrangements for the picnic will be made. All committee chairmen are requested to make their reports at this meeting.

GREAT AUTO RACES SUNDAY, AUGUST 29

Plans are now under way for a big automobile racing meet to be held at the fair grounds on Sunday, Aug. 29. The racing program will open at 4 o'clock and will continue in one uninterrupted speed show until 8 o'clock.

The racing meet has been placed in carge of M. T. McFarland and G. Howard Smith. These gentlemen are now busy booking cars and motorcycles for the races and have assurances that there will be no dearth of speed kings. It will be a racing event worth coming miles to see.

There are a large number of fast cars and nervy drivers scattered over the Northwest, many of whom hold enviable records in the racing world. Assurances is given that many of these will appear at the race meet in Thief River Falls on Aug. 29, assuring plenty of thrills for all who attend.

Bumps to Be Reduced.

Steps were taken by the council Tuesday evening to reduce some of the bumps on the streets throughout the business section of the city. The streets are in bad shape due to the numerous excavations made this summer but the council has put off work on them in the hope that paving could soon be taken up in earnest. With the prospect of immediate paving gone it was thought best to take measures to smooth down the thoroughfares somewhat.

EXPLOSION VICTIM DIES FROM BURNS

Henry Schuver of Grand Forks died last Thursday at the local hospital from burns received the day previous when a gasoline stove exploded in his wiener stand at the fair grounds. The body was removed to the Larson undertaking rooms and the funeral held from there on Tuesday, with burial at Greenwood.

Deceased was a man about 40 years of age and leaves a wife, who was with him at the time of the accident. These people had made it a practice to operate a refreshment stand at various fairs in this section for several years, and this was their first venture this season. The dead man left very little property, which makes it all the more difficult for the widow. A collection was taken up at the fair grounds Friday afternoon under the auspices of the fair association and a nice sum realized to assist Mrs. Schuver in defraying hospital and funeral expenses.

Bull Moose Pays Early Morning Visit to Fair

M. Bothun saw a full grown bull moose just west of the fair grounds on the V. C. Noper farm early last Wednesday morning. Mr. Bothun was in his car and claims the animal crossed the road just ahead of him and proceeded across country through the Noper corn field, disappearing in the distance. The animal was of extraordinary size and seemed to be in the pink of condition, but had evidently traveled a long distance as he appeared very tired and had difficulty in clearing the fence alongside the road.

This is the first bull moose seen in this section for many years and what brought him here at this time is somewhat of a mystery. It is presumed, however, that he had heard about the Pennington county fair and wanted to be here early for the opening day. The country about the fair grounds evidently was too thickly settled to suit him and he decided to postpone his visit until some other time.

SEND MUCH WOOL TO CHICAGO POOL

Fifteen Tons Shipped by Pennington County Farmers Monday and Tuesday.

Two full carloads of wool were this week shipped by Pennington county farmers to Chicago, where it will be stored in the national wool pool until prices advance. Arrangements have been made for keeping the wool in storage for five months if necessary, and the pool includes most of the wool producing states of the northwest. The growers have adopted this method of forcing wool prices to a reasonable figure and indications are that the venture will prove successful.

Forty shippers in the vicinity of Thief River Falls loaded a car here on Monday, the shipment containing a total of 14,623 pounds. Yesterday a carload was shipped from Goodridge, comprising the season's product of 64 farmers. This car was billed out at 15,026 pounds. These shipments include practically all of the wool produced in Pennington county this year. A little has been sent directly to woolen mills to be transformed into blankets, etc., and a small amount still remains on the farms but the total is very slight.

Not to Supplant King.

Dr. Shipstead's announcement was sent out from headquarters of the Nonpartisan league, and is held to be evidence that A. C. Townley, president of the league, was unable to induce the Farmer-Labor candidates to withdraw. It was the original intention of the league to supplant the Farmer-Labor candidates, who had no contest in the primaries, with the defeated candidates of the Nonpartisan league who were unable to capture the Republican nominations.

Not only has Dr. Cyrus King, of Deer River, the Farmer-Labor candidate for governor, refused to withdraw in favor of Dr. Shipstead, but the other candidates on the ticket have also stood pat in their determination to resist domination by the league, Dr. Shipstead's announcement is held to indicate.

Thormodson to Run.

N. E. Thormodson, who was nosed out of the Republican nomination for congress in the Ninth district, will also be an independent candidate. Nominating petitions are now being circulated in his behalf.

League farmers and members of organized labor in the Sixth congressional district will meet Aug. 18 in Brainerd, to indorse an independent candidate for congress in that district.

Captain George H. Mallom, who was the League and Labor candidate for lieutenant governor, and Thomas V. Sullivan, candidate for attorney general in the Republican primary, are expected to announce themselves as independent candidates in a few days.

METHODS OF QUACK BARED AT INQUEST

Coroner's Jury Recommends State Board of Health Investigate Case.

As the result of a coroner's inquest held last Thursday morning the methods of S. R. Kirby, a quack practitioner operating in Rocksbury township, will be looked into by the state board of health. Kirby, though not a regularly licensed physician, has been treating patients at his farm home, it being alleged by witnesses that he often had a dozen or more under his care at one time.

Mrs. Carl P. Holmstrom of Strathcona, who had been under Kirby's care for some time, died last week. Some things about the case did not look just right to the authorities and the inquest was ordered. It was found, however, that Mrs. Holmstrom's death was caused by tuberculosis and Dr. Kirby was not held liable, although his methods of effecting a cure were seriously questioned. The woman's body was badly blistered by compounds which the doctor admitted he had applied to cure the disease.

The coroner's jury recommended that Kirby's methods be investigated by the state board of health, it being evident that his system of treating diseases did not conform to standards accepted by accredited members of the medical profession. Just what steps will be taken by the state board has not yet been learned.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop Receives Important Political Post

Mrs. J. M. Bishop of Thief River Falls was this week named one of three vice chairmen of the Women's Republican committee of Minnesota, her appointment being for the state at large. Of the other two chairmen appointed, one was for Minneapolis and the other St. Paul. Mrs. Manley L. Fosseen, who is chairman of the state organization, is taking an active part in national work and therefore found it necessary to turn the state over to three vice chairmen. Mrs. Bishop also is a member of the state Republican central committee and chairman of the Ninth district organization.

Mrs. Bishop expects to leave for St. Paul on Aug. 19 to take up active work in her official capacity. Her duties will consist principally in arranging speaking tours throughout the state and in directing other political work from headquarters at St. Paul. She anticipates these tasks will occupy her entire time from now until next November.

OPENING OF BANK DRAWS BIG CROWD

[illegible] Two Thousand People Entertained on Saturday by First and Peoples.

About two thousand people attended the opening of the new First and Peoples State bank building on Saturday, according to records kept by officials of the bank. This does not include the large number of children who accompanied their parents or came by themselves to view the new building.

From morning until late in the evening officers and employes of the bank were kept busy entertaining the visitors, all of whom expressed admiration when shown through the institution. Souvenirs, cigars and flowers were given the visitors, while instrumental and vocal music added very much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Much interest was taken in the penny guessing contest and nearly everyone who visited the place registered a guess on the number of pennies in the glass jar. Mrs. G. A. Penney, Miss Anna Quale and Mrs. H. P. Miller each guessed 2999, which proved to be the right number. Mrs. Penney and Miss Quale each received a credit of $10 in their savings accounts, while Mrs. Miller was given $9.99, being penalized the odd penny because she lives at Crookston. Mr. Miller is a former cashier of the old First State bank of Thief River Falls, which probably aided Mrs. Miller in making a correct estimate of the pennies, while Mrs. Penney likely won because of her close association with Penneys for several years.

The guesses ranged all the way from 800 to 15,000. Six made a guess of 3,000, while three opined the jar contained 3,001 coins. Guesses between 2,900 and 3,100 were numerous.

It was a big day for the First and Peoples State bank and a more successful initiation of a new building would be difficult to imagine.

SEE QUICK ACTION IN SECURING CARS

Congressman Halvor Steenerson Goes to Washington on Car Shortage Situation.

A telegram was received Friday morning by Congressman Steenerson from Chairman Ira B. Mills of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission advising that a hearing was to take place before the interstate commerce commission at Washington Monday morning on the matter of a supply of cars for the movement of the northwest's grain. The telegram urged that a delegation be hurried to Washington, in support of the efforts to be made to secure an adequate supply of cars.

Mr. Steenerson conferred with officers of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association, which organization has been actively interesting itself in the matter and with bankers and business men of Crookston. Information to the effect that the car situation in this section showed no signs of improvement as yet, and that threshing would become general within a very short time, inclined to the belief that the situation was actually critical. Congressman Steenerson volunteered to make the hurried trip necessary in order to reach Washington in time for the hearing. His offer was readily accepted and he left on the Northern Pacific train for Washington, barely an hour and a half after the receipt of the telegram.

Mr. Steenerson had just returned from a trip, taken purposely to gather information upon the car situation, so is well equipped to speak authoritively upon the needs of this particular section.

PRODUCTS OF DAIRY SHOWN ECONOMICAL

Exhibit Gives Relative Values With Other Foods in Dollars and Cents.

One of the most interesting features of the exposition at the auditorium during the fair was the display showing comparative food values and relative costs of milk and milk products with other foods. The display was in charge of F. A. Tripp, agricultural teacher in the Thief River Falls high school, who also gathered the data and arranged the exhibit.

The first display showed the food value of a quart of milk valued at 11c as compared with other foods. This quantity of milk has been found the equal of 25 cents spent for bananas, 22 cents for eggs, 37 cents for apples, 22 cents for beef steak and 60 cents for chicken.

One pound of butter at 59c was shown to equal cabbage costing 74 cents, bananas 82 cents, oranges $1.35, chicken $1.80 and beef steak 78 cents. One pound of cream cheese valued at 45 cents equals, apples 84 cents, chicken $1.32, bananas 60 cents, eggs 55 cents and beef steak 60 cents.

A pound of cottage cheese at the modest value of 10 cents has more food value than the average person realizes, according to Mr. Tripp. It was asserted to be the equal of eggs costing 19 cents, bananas 25 cents, beef steak 19 cents, and chicken 52 cents. Buttermilk, the most lowly product of the cow, also [illegible] high in food value when price is considered. One quart at 5 cents is claimed to be the equal of cabbage worth 20 cents, ham worth 28 cents, chicken worth 86 cents, bananas 18 cents, eggs 14 cents and beef steak 18 cents.

The display was very tastefully and forcefully arranged and attracted a large share of attention from fair visitors. It brought home to many the relative values of dairy products as compared to other foods and should prove of much assistance to housewives generally in securing the most food value for the least money.

BIG CROWDS VIEW AUDITORIUM SHOW

Women's Department, School Exhibits, Etc., Prove Attraction for Fair Visitors.

The exhibits housed in the auditorium this year proved no small part of the Pennington county fair. The large building was completely filled from one end to the other and was a mecca for visitors during all three days of the fair.

In this building were housed the women's department, city and rural school exhibits, boys' and girls' club exhibits, besides more than a dozen industrial exhibits and many other interesting things. The woman's department, under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Hardesty, made a splendid showing, the thrift, fancy work and art departments being worthy of special mention.

The boys and girls of the county were well represented in the manual training, educational and club exhibits. The boys' and girls' club of Goodridge also had a very creditable display of garden products raised by its members. It would be impossible to describe the various exhibits in detail. To say that they were wonderful is putting it mildly. An interesting feature was the booth of the Oakland Park sanatorium, showing a large amount of handiwork performed by inmates of that institution.

Fourteen local business houses were represented in the industrial exhibition, and some very creditable showings were made. Those represented were Loken Brothers, the Sapero company, Thief River Grocery company, Johnson's millinery, J. C. Penney & Co., Oen Mercantile company, Larson Furniture company, Botten Hardware company, Hermanson Hardware company, A. M. Langseth's shoe store, Hall Brothers company, Kiewel Product company, E. O. Mogensen and the Tessum-Coumbe company.

LOCALS LOSE LAST BATTLE OF SERIES

Red Lake Falls took home the baseball championship from the series played last week at the Pennington county fair. This was brought about through the defeat of the Thief River Falls team in the final game on Friday by a score of 8 to 5.

Thief River lost the game in the first two innings, when the pitcher went up in the air and the down river players managed to slip over four scores. This was too much to overcome, although things settled down to a good game after the illfated start and the visitors were held down to four tallies in the last seven innings, while the locals piled up five.

Red Lake Falls had several hired players, including Tom Skye, the famous Indian pitcher, who has played in some of the fastest teams of the northwest for years. Van Dusen of Plummer was in the box for the locals and with the exception of the blowup he experienced in the first two innings, played a good game.

Grygla suffered defeat at the hands of the Red Lake Falls bunch on Thursday by a score of 19 to 2, which shows the Red Lakers to be a fast bunch this year. Jens Erickson of this city and E. G. Buse of Red Lake Falls officiated as umpires in Friday's game.

PASTOR OF TRINITY LEAVES OLD FIELD

Former Parishioners in Dakota Show Appreciation of Pastor in Many Ways.

The following article, taken from the columns of the Cooperstown, N. D., Courier-Sentinel, will be of interest to local members of the Trinity congregation and others:

"Cooperstown must, after this week, relinquish all claim to Rev. T. E. Sweger as a resident, for thereafter Thief River Falls, Minnesota, will be the home of himself and family. Mr. and Mrs. Sweger and family will leave Monday for their new location, the pastor to deliver his farewell sermon here Sunday morning.

"Cooperstown feels a genuine loss in the departure of this splendid family, but it is not alone, for throughout this section Rev. Sweger has gained an acquaintance that does not permit of easily broken ties. Rev. Sweger has come to be one of the best known and best liked of Griggs county men and the "you'll soon forget" verse is not going to apply in the event of his leaving at all. But the Sweger family is going to have the heartfelt good wishes of the entire community to take with them.

"Rev. Sweger, having accepted call of the Thief River Falls Lutheran church congregation, is to be installed in his new field on Sunday, August 15th. Rev. I. T. Anstad, president of the Northern Minnesota District and former pastor of the Thief River Falls congregation, is to conduct the installation service on that day. That Thief River Falls is going to enjoy and be proud of its new pastor and the Sweger family is the assurance of every man and woman of these parts who has come to know the family during their eight years of residence here.

"The Swegers have been royally entertained during their last days in Griggs county and many very agreeable surprises have been given in their honor."

CANADIANS INSPECT PEAT EXPERIMENTS

Distinguished Party Views Results Secured at Golden Valley Peat Plots.

The peat experimental station at Golden Valley is attracting widespread attention. Visitors have been there recently from all parts of the Northwest and all have expressed surprise at the progress being made in the experiments carried on there.

On Tuesday a distinguished group came down from Winnipeg to visit the station, the party including three members of the Manitoba Drainage Commission, Douglas McLean, J. A. Thompson and H. Grills. These men were joined in Thief River Falls by Dr. Alway of the University of Minnesota, who has the experiments in charge, and together they drove to Golden Valley. T. F. Haynes piloted the party in his automobile.

Despite the unfavorable weather conditions the plots at Golden Valley have made good progress. Dry weather has been the principal trouble but recent showers have done much to improve prospects. Geo. H. Nesom, also of the university farm, has been in personal charge of the station during the summer.

Gonvick Downs Thief River in One-Sided Game of Ball

The Thief River Falls baseball team was last Sunday given the worst drubbing of its career. The boys journeyed to Gonvick to play a return game with that aggregation and came out with the small end of a 12 to 0 score. The local team was badly crippled, due to the fact that a number of players failed to report for duty, while the Gonvickers were loaded for bear. They had provided themselves with all the best ball players in that section of the country for what they had figured would be the hardest game of the season.

Thief River was outclassed from start to finish but even then the score should have read differently. A combination of hard luck and bonehead plays made it impossible for the locals to cross the plate, while the same reason is given for the unreasonably large score of their opponents.

HOLT WINS FIRST ROUND OF BATTLE

Governor Burnquist Issues Proclamation Relative to Division of Marshall County.

Governor Burnquist on Saturday issued a proclamation to submit to Marshall county voters at the general election November 2 the proposal to divide the county and from the eastern portion establish Liberty county with Holt as the county seat.

It is expected an action will be started in court by the rival faction in the county division project, which favors the establishment of Park county with Middle River as the county seat.

This fight no doubt will overshadow all other issues during the coming campaign in Marshall county, and the decision of the governor giving preference to the Holt petition was only the opening gun of the battle. It will be a fight to the finish.

Dr. H. B. By allowing it to become thin, pale and watery, they are not giving the natural life forces of the body a chance to do their work. LABOR AND GOOD ROADS.

Whatever question may have been ised in isolated instances of the attitude of labor toward Amendment No. 1—the Babcock good roads plan—has been disposed of by recent action of official labor bodies.

The first official action was taken at a meeting of the executive council of the Minnesota State Federation of labor at which unanimous approval was given the good roads amendment. Next the state convention of the Working People's Nonpartisan Political league at Rochester indorsed the amendment with the reservation that no bonds be issued by the state in the carrying out of the plan. And the convention of the State Federation of Labor at Rochester took similar action.

As to the matter of bond issue, it is exceedingly unlikely that any such issue ever will be needed or authorized. The bond issuing power is given the Legislature in the amendment largely because at the time it was written the authors had not forseen how much revenue could be raised by automobile license tax to pay for operations without a bond issue. Since then conditions have changed. The amendment requires that any bonds issued under the law shall not be sold below par and shall not bear interest over 5 per cent. Of course it would be impossible now or in the very near future to sell a penny's worth of bonds on these terms. It is estimated that with 300,000 motor vehicles in the state by next year $5,400,000 could be collected from license fees and $2,800,000 from Federal aid, making a total of $8,200,000. It was never intended to spend more than $10,000,000 on the plan in any single year, and the road materials may be so difficult to obtain next year that it will be impossible to spend the $8,200,000 cash available. On each succeeding year there would be more machines to be taxed. Moreover, the legislature is not limited to the average of $18 per machine on which the above calculation is made.

Labor is wise in indorsing this amendment, furthermore, because all but an insignificant percentage of the money to be spent will go to labor. Labor will manufacture the cement, quarry the rock and prepare it and manufacture the machinery to be used besides laying the road itself. Labor is a consumer of food the marketing of which will be cheapened and facilitated by good roads. And labor is an extensive owner and user of automobiles. Is there any possible reason why enlightened labor should be against this amendment?

"IS GRANDEST IN THE WORLD TODAY

Minnesota Man Carries Tanlac 800 Miles so as Not to be Without it.

"There is no doubt in my mind that Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world today. Why, I have gained fifteen pounds in weight since I started taking it and am enjoying better health than I have in years," said Robert Kruse, Lancaster, Minn, horse dealer and farmer, while telling of his experience with Tanlac in Boyson's drug store in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, recently.

"I want six bottles of Tanlac now and the address of this store so I can order some more when I get back home. They keep it on sale in Lancaster, but there is such a demand for it they had run out when I left home, and although it is 800 miles from here I am going to take these six bottles with me to make sure I have some when I get back. For seven years I had suffered from stomach trouble, and although I tried many different treatments and medicines nothing ever did me any good until I got hold of Tanlac. My appetite was so poor I just had to force down every mouthful I ate, and when I did manage to eat a little something I suffered with a terrible burning sensation as if there was a ball of fire in the pit of my stomach for hours afterwards. My nerves were also badly upset, so much so that I only slept a few minutes at a time during the night and could seldom stay in the bed later than 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, as I would become so restless I just had to get up. I had lost a great deal of weight, too, and was in a badly run-down condition every way.

"I saw so much of the good Tanlac was doing others I decided to try it myself, and I had taken only a few doses when I began to feel lots better. I have only taken three bottles so far, but that has been enough to make me feel just like a different person. I now have a splendid appetite and can eat anything I want and all I want without having a particle of trouble with my stomach. My nerves are in splendid condition and I can sleep all night long without ever waking up, and always get up in the morning feeling simply fine. In fact, I feel as good in every way as I ever remember feeling in my life, and while I believe I am entirely rid of my troubles I am going to take a few more bottles of Tanlac to be absolutely sure they will not return. I never expect to be without it in my house, and I could stand here and talk to you all day without being able to tell you what a grand medicine I think it is."

Obituary

Alvin O. Tandberg.

Wednesday morning the community was grieved to learn of the death of one of the most respected and promising young men of Thief River Falls, Alvin Oscar Tandberg. The deceased was born at Red Lake Falls on August 27, 1900 and died Tuesday evening at his home on Horace avenue, lacking 17 days of being 20 years old. It is difficult to understand the ways of Divine Providence, so quickly closing the career of a young man whose future seemed so bright and so full of benefit for his fellow men, but those who were intimately acquainted with Alvin know what his friendship has meant to them and he will long live in their memories.

Alvin was baptized and confirmed by Rev. I. T. Aastad, who will also?? present to conduct the funeral services Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Two years ago Alvin finished the local high school and this spring he successfully completed his sophomore year at St. Olaf college, Northfield. His mother, two brothers and four sisters, together with a host of relatives and friends, mourn his departure. Blessed be his remembrance. —Contributed.

Arthur S. Alnes.

Arthur Alnes, age 26, passed away last week in a Minneapolis hospital, where he had been confined for some time. When he left here several weeks ago he was in the advanced stages of tuberculosis and his friends realized that the end was near.

The Alnes family has been all but annihilated by that dread disease—consumption, Arthur being the fifth member of the family to fall a victim to its ravages within a few years. Preceding him in death are his parents, his sister, Gladys and brother, Erwin. One brother remains—Lloyd—to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

Deceased graduated from the local high school with the class of 1914, with an exceptional standing. He was a member of Zion Lutheran church and in 1910 was confirmed in the faith. On April 26, 1918, he enlisted for service in the war and left for France on July 14 of the same year. He returned to the states the following April and made this city his home until a few months ago, when his condition became so critical as to make it necessary for him to go to the hospital for treatment.

The funeral was held here on Sunday, with interment in Greenwood cemetery. The services were in charge of the Masonic lodge, of which deceased was a member, and Rev. George Larson read the ritual. A number of war veterans accompanied the remains to their last resting place and fired a military salute over the grave.

Holding Gasoline Prices Down

"The Federal Trade Commission in report to Congress ascribes strong demand as primary cause of recent advances in price of gasoline and other petroleum products, rather than to any combination in restraint of trade." (Boston News Bureau, June 3rd, 1920.)

Gasoline prices will go down as soon as gasoline supply exceeds demand.

Only two ways are known to increase gasoline supply. First, increase the production of crude petroleum; second, to increase the yield of gasoline from the crude petroleum obtainable.

Recognizing the latter as the more practical method, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has discovered, through extensive research, a way to definitely increase the yield of gasoline from crude oil.

In its laboratories, modern to the last detail of equipment, chemists, engineers and experienced refiners are working continually to this end.

It was one of these men who discovered the process which has largely increased the yield of gasoline obtainable from the crude.

This, and other discoveries, together with the economies of efficiency throughout all processes of refining, have enabled the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to exert a marked downward pressure on gasoline prices.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) strives at all times to deal in fairness to all the people, within its territory, and today is operating its business on as small a margin of profit as is consistent with sound financing, and with safety for its 4799 stockholders, of whom no single investor owns as much as 10 per cent of the total stock.

Not Merely a New Name But a New Cigarette

THERE was room at the top for a new and better cigarette. And Spurs were made to fit in right there! Spur's decidedly new blend makes the Orient's choicest tobaccos and America's finest tobaccos yield more richness, aroma and mildness than you thought a cigarette could have. A new method of rolling (crimped, not pasted) makes Spur's good tobacco taste last longer. Spur is "class" all through—even to the smart "brown-and-silver" package, triple-wrapping, that keeps Spurs fresh and fragrant. If you're fed up with ordinary cigarettes, Spurs will give you a fresh start.

What's done as much as anything else to fill up the movie houses

LOOK at the crowds that step out of their cars in front of the movies every summer evening.

The movie managers would be renting half of their theatres for store space, if it weren't for the automobile.

II

It is typical of Americans that they took to the automobile as a matter of course—just as they have to the movies and to every other great invention of the last half century.

And the same thing has happened every time. Taking things as they come is a fine way to foster waste and extravagance.

As regards tires, the comeback is about due. People are pretty near through paying for something that isn't there when they look for it.

III

What a man pays for in a tire is quality—not a limited number of miles or the privilege of getting a rebate in case the miles don't come up to the limit.

And that holds just as good for the small car tire as for the biggest U. S. Tire we've got. There's only one standard of quality with U. S.—and the size of the car has nothing whatever to do with it.

IV

We represent U. S. Tires in this town. You'll find it worth while to talk to us before you buy any more tires.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:
In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.
For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.
For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.
For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cords.

BEMIDJI PEOPLE TO VISIT DITCH LAND IN NORTH

Thirty or More to Make Four-Day Trip Through Northern Beltrami County.

Two Big Farmers' Meetings Arranged, Where Excellent Speakers Will Talk.

To Remain at Baudette and Spooner Wednesday to Rest For Journey Home.

A trip that has as its object an inspection of the millions of acres of ditch lands north and west of Red Lake, in this county, is being arranged by Judge Stanton, co-operating with the county real estate board and the Bemidji association, says the Bemidji Sentinel. For years it has been impossible for citizens of Bemidji to reach this country without extreme discomfiture, but by the construction of the bridge over the Red Lake river outlet the trip can now be made, although the roads are not in the best of condition.

Thirty Men in Party.

According to the plans that have been made, the party, which will consist of about thirty men, will leave Bemidji at 6 o'clock the morning of August 23rd, going past the Red Lake agency, over the new bridge and stopping at the Four Towns creamery for a picnic dinner and a big meeting. From there the party will run into Grygla for the night. They will leave Grygla early in the morning, following Ditch No. 25, and hoping to reach Baudette late that night. All day Wednesday will be spent in Baudette and Spooner, leaving there on Thursday and returning on the direct road. A big farmers' meeting is being arranged at Waskish for that afternoon, with a picnic dinner late in the afternoon. The drive home will be made in the evening.

An Undeveloped Empire.

Judge Stanton, in discussing the trip at the meeting of the Bemidji Association Wednesday, said that he believed but few of the residents of Bemidji realized the importance of this territory, and he hoped that the trip would provide material for an educational campaign. More than a million acres of good farmable land has been transferred from government to private ownership since 1911, under the Volstead act. The drainage projects have developed this country so that now many valuable farms have been started.

As guests on the trip will be the directors of the Conservancy and Drainage District, established last year by Judge Stanton and Judge Grindeland, a board that is recognized by the government and has for its object the reclamation of the territory now flooded by Red Lake and Red River.

A committee has been appointed to provide for the accomodations enroute and owing to the nature of the roads only light cars will be taken.

Personnel of Party.

The party will consist of: The directors of the Conservancy and Drainage District, including C. G. Selvig, Crookston; Wm. Paskewitz, Grygla; Andrew Johnson, Gonvick; Axel Nelson, Holt; Ed. Aubol, St. Hilaire; Judge C. W. Stanton of the district court; the Beltrami County Commissioners, who are, Wm. Lennon, Kelliher; Ed. Paulson, Bemidji; Sam Ellis, Blackduck; J. F. Hayes, Liberty; H. B. Imsdahl, Pitt; Congressman Harold Knutson, Senator L. H. Nord, Representative A. E. Rako, County Auditor A. D. Johnson; Sheriff Andrew Johnson, County Attorney Torrance, ex-Representative J. J. Opsahl, ex-County Auditor J. L. George, County Agent D. C. Dvoracek, Engineers S. D. Snyder, W. M. Everts and J. T. Burke; H. Z. Mitchell of the Sentinel, E. H. Denu of the Pioneer, E. E. McDonald, E. H. Winter, E. B. Berman, Chas. Carter, J. W. Wilcox, A. L. Molander, R. H. Schumaker, W. L. Brooks, H. C. Baer, J. L. Elwell, W. N. Bowser, F. R. Duxbury, Abe Grossman, Geo. Baker, Frank Koors and others who will be designated by the Bemidji Association. It is expected that a number from this city will drive to Waskish on Thursday to attend the big meeting to be held there during the afternoon.

Closed Season Results in Prairie Chicken Increase

Prairie chickens are again becoming numerous in Northwestern Minnesota. Closed season on this game bird went into effect in 1919 and the ban on hunting will remain clamped on until 1922.

Season after season of hunting cut down the number of birds until few remained. Poor hatching weather last year resulted in few birds being added, but with a dry hatching year this season large coveys are reported from all sections. The chickens, aside from being numerous, are said to be very tame.

Motorists report that scores of large coveys can be seen any day in nearly every direction out of Thief River Falls, which means that by the fall of 1922 the day limit of five will easily be obtained.

ROSEWOOD

Prospects For Filling Station.

Rosewood may at last have a Standard gasoline filling station, where gas will be retailed to autoists at the same price as at the larger city stations, at least so was the opinion of a Standard company representative from Fargo, who visited town last week and made a review of the existing conditions. On finding them satisfactory he took up the matter with Herbert Carlson to secure his services as local representative. Mr. Carlson found the proposal quite agreeable and a contract was drawn up and signed whereby he will have charge of the sale of their products on a commission basis if the plan materializes. The agent will submit his plans for the company's approval and if found satisfactory the pumps and a 300-gallon capacity underground tank will be shipped up and installed in the near future. A filling station is a local necessity, with autos, gas engines, lighting systems and tractors on almost every farm and in almost every house, and the citizens are finding the gasoline question almost as vital as the grocery deals, and with the opportunity of securing gas in the home town and at a price similar to the city, both farmer and town man will realize the advantages offered and will hail the project with enthusiasm.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bloom, Arthur and Annie Bloom, motored to Hazel last Sunday to visit with the J. Sjoberg people.

Nina and Tena Westby and Esther Thoreson left on Monday evening for Thief River Falls to attend the circus and call on friends.

Complimentary to her sister, Miss Gretchen Bartlett, Mrs. A. S. Holm entertained formally four friends at her home in town last Friday afternoon. Miss Bartlett, who has spent some time here as a guest with the Holm family, leaves on Saturday morning for her home at Browns Valley. The afternoon was pleasantly spent various indoor games and amusements being the chief diversion, besides conversation and getting acquainted in general. The following were the guests: Misses Elwla Nelson, Hannah Hellquist, Synneva Sorenson, Gretchen Bartlett and Mrs. Emil Anderson.

Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen of Anita has accepted a position as teacher at Rosebank school for a seven months' term to commence next October.

Miss Mabel Lappegaard and Edwin Lappegaard left last week Tuesday evening for Thief River Falls where they spent the week-end with their sister, Mrs. Henry Carlson and attended the county fair.

Henry Sagmoen, who has been employed at Hibbing for some time, arrived home on Saturday morning for a brief visit with his parents.

Miss Isabella Sagmoen, who has spent the last four months as a guest with her sister, Mrs. M. L. Furan, returned home last Friday.

Miss Viola Axelson was at Thief River Falls between trains last Thursday to visit with friends and attend the fair.

Mrs. Benhard Ranum left last Thursday for Minneapolis where she will visit with her sister, Mrs. Roy Skinner, for a week.

Mrs. T. Holten left last week for Crookston where she will visit with relatives for some time.

Misses Gladys and Geneva Swenson left on Tuesday evening for Thief River Falls where they will spend the remainder of the week visiting with the Severt Brandon people and attend the fair.

Mrs. J. Blomquist, accompanied by her son, Albert, and two daughters, from Middle River, were in town last Sunday visiting at the Mrs. Eva Carlson home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Benson and family from Thief River Falls were in town last Sunday to visit with Mrs. Benson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Sagmoen.

Miss Ella Nelson left on Sunday for Norden, where she will stay at her sister's home, Mrs. Ole Skaar, for some time. Mrs. Skaar's small baby had a leg broken in a fall on Sunday and Miss Ella will assist with the housework during his illness.

Miss Nellie Saustad of Holt was the guest of Miss Laura Kron a few days this week.

People from nearly every household attended the Pennington county fair last week. Most people went by car on Thursday afternoon and evening, and several visited with friends and relatives during their stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Blomberg and children from Crookston, were in town last Sunday visiting at the Haugen Brothers' home.

HOG PRICE STEADY AND CATTLE LOWER

Extra Supply of Dakota Grassers Cause Drop in South St. Paul Market.

Union Stock Yards, South St. Paul. The hog market held fairly steady last week and bulk of porkers sold at the finish on about the same basis as the opening. Top was advanced 25c for choice, well finished hogs but only a few loads of this variety were on sale. Extreme top was $15.25 with bulk at $14.25 to $14.50 and low end $13.75. Receipts were on the decline, less than 20,000 arriving. Stock pigs continued in good demand at prices generally 50c higher, sales being made at $8 to $14.50. Boars cashed at $5 to $8.

With a liberal supply of Dakota grassers and the first arrival from Montana, the annual fall run is beginning to get under way. A run of more than 11,000 Monday had a tendency to lower values and prices were clipped 25c to 50c on the average, the early days. When runs let up the last of the week, the market steadied some and closed about steady at the week's decline stated above. The best grassers are landing at $11 to $12 with corn-fed stuff selling at $12.50 to $13.50 and higher occasionally. The ordinary steers cashed at $6 to $9 mainly. In the cow and heifer division supplies were scant and quality rather plain. Most of the sales were made at $5.50 to $8 at the close with only choice stuff higher. Canners and cutters are quoted at $3.50 to $5.50 with bulls at $5 to $7.50 for the majority. Veal calves closed $1 lower with top at $14.50. Stocker and feeder trade was dull with supplies scant. There was a fair inquiry for good milkers and springers at $65 to $125. Receipts were around 26,000.

Sheep receipts fell far short of last week but prices took a drop. Lambs were quoted at $5 to $13 with ewes at $2.50 to $7.25. Wethers were rated at $4 to $8 and yearlings at $8 to $10. There was a light call for breeding ewes. Receipts were 12,000.

Exclusive Agencies Cost You Money

Probably you are a man who believes in getting full value for every dollar. If so, you want to know some of the facts about exclusive agencies.
Exclusive dealers have no competition on the brands of roofing they sell, and some of them charge any price the purchaser will stand. Then, too, they generally charge more for the roofing they sell, because they usually have to ship their roofing from a long distance and therefore buy under greater handicaps.
Now you know that unnecessary stocks boost the cost of doing business. Figure it out for yourself—interest on the money invested—storage cost—insurance against loss by fire, theft and other causes.
It all costs money. And naturally you, the buyer, pay this added cost.
Certain-teed cannot see this way of doing business. Any responsible dealer can sell Certain-teed.

Certain-teed Way Saves Money
He carries only the stock he needs and keeps it filled by frequent orders from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or jobber.
He pays the same price per roll whether he buys one roll or a thousand.
This saves him money. And naturally you benefit as well as he.
In Certain-teed you get the highest quality roofing. It has never been known to wear out on the roof. It is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight.
It is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof.
Any reliable dealer can get Certain-teed for you quickly from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or jobber. He gets it when he wants it and he gets what he wants. He can afford to sell you at a fair price.

Certain-teed Products Corporation
General Offices, St. Louis
Offices and Warehouses in Principal Cities

Certain-teed

Beware of the dealer who tells you he has Certain-teed, but tries to sell you a private brand. He probably wants a bigger profit.

AVERAGE YIELD INDICATED FOR COUNTY CROPS

Early Threshing Reports Show Wheat to Be of Good Quality But Not Heavy.

Corn Will Equal Last Year Unless Frost Occurs Before Its Maturity.

Nineteen-twenty will not be a bumper crop year in Pennington county, at least not so far as wheat is concerned. Early threshing reports indicate that an average yield of good quality is the best that can now be expected. The season would probably not have been a record-breaker under any circumstances, but the inroads made in a number of fields by rust cut the output below what was indicated.

But little wheat threshing has as yet been done, but there is enough to show that the quality will be better than last year while the quantity will be somewhat less. On the Rasmus Oen farm west of the city an average of 15 bushels to the acre was maintained while a particularly fine field on the Martin Rockstad place went 20 bushels. It is admitted that these are exceptional instances, however, and that the average for the county will not go over 12 bushels. Several loads brought to the Hanson-Barzen mill here went 59 pounds to the measured bushel.

Rye Stands Up Well.

Rye is turning out about as expected, although several unusual yields are reported. A seven acre plot on the Peter Engelstad farm in Rocksbury township threshed out 40 bushels to the acre, the entire field averaging 25 bushels. From every section of the county come reports of good rye yields, particularly where the seeding was done early in the fall.

Oats and Flax Leaders.

The verdict of experts is that not for years has the county produced an oat crop equal to the present. This condition holds good all through the county and will in a great measure make up for any shortcoming that may be found in the wheat yield.

Flax promises to be a bumper. The season has been most favorable to this grain, to which a very large acreage has this year been devoted. In some sections the straw is short but the heads appear well filled. Indications are that flax will be the county's best crop this year.

The Corn Outlook.

Unless early frost upsets all calculations the corn crop will equal that of last year, which was one of the best in the county's history. Corn is not as far advanced as was the case at this time last year, but the right kind of weather will place it beyond danger in a very short time.

BACK FROM WEEK'S SOJOURN IN NORTH

Thief River Falls Men Have Wonderful Trip on Lake of the Woods.

R. W. Patterson, G. W. Werstlein and T. J. Austad returned last week from a six-day cruise among the 14,000 islands in the Lake of the Woods. They were members of a party led by W. T. Noonan of the Baudette Region, and assert that they had the time of their lives. Others in the party were: Louis L. Collins, Minneapolis, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor; Maj. H. L. Brady, Minneapolis; J. H. Kaisersatt and M. J. Desmond of the state auditor's office; Robert E. Delury, head of the state land reclamation department, Walker; Otto H. Diercks, state superintendent of timber; Roscoe Johnson, Hibbing, in charge of the state's automobiles; C. H. Mickelson, superintendent of Virginia and Rainy Lake Lumber company, Virginia; Earl A. Simpson, assistant state fire marshal, St. Paul; Iver Lund and N. A. Sneed, representing Duluth commercial houses.

The steamer Clipper, owned, commanded and operated by the Budreaus, had been chartered and the party spent most of the time on board, the sleeping accommodations being ample. While perhaps the poorest season of the entire year for fishing, a sufficient supply of pike and muskelonge was secured to satisfy the rather fearful appetites of even such a bunch as this. The weather was ideal and the only objection to be found was that it was sometimes necessary to sleep a little.

A great deal has been said and written about the Lake of the Woods and its wondrous islands, but no description can even remotely picture the facts. Nor can an idea of the lake's extent and picturesqueness be gained in a week's visit. It would be necessary to put in one entire season at least right on the spot in order to get any kind of an adequate notion of its varied points of interest and its surpassing beauty.

Indian villages were visited and the papooses treated to oranges and other good things. A large number of photographs were taken and every member of the party is awaiting the outcome of these with a great deal of interest. A trip was made to the fine little Canadian city of Kenora where the gang was shaved up and otherwise made presentable.

Capt. Budreau stated that other parties from Thief River Falls had indicated an intention of coming to the lake for a cruise later in the season. At that time the fishing will be much better—for those who find time to enjoy this pastime. The probabilities are, however, that on their first visit up there everyone will do just what this party did—be content to sit around and enjoy the most wonderful water trip on the American continent.

ALLEGED MURDERER TAKEN BY SHERIFF

Pennington County Officer Captures Accused Man on Farm Near Warren.

Sheriff LaBree last Thursday afternoon placed under arrest a man wanted for murder by the authorities at Duluth. The accused man, who travels under the name of Andrew Koski and a number of aliases, was apprehended on the Robertson farm near Warren.

Officers from Duluth arrived on Friday and left the same evening with their prisoner. He is now behind the bars awaiting the outcome of his trial, which will likely take place in the near future. It is alleged that Koski murdered Jacob Carlson at Colvin, near Duluth, in June, 1919, his pal having been arrested and convicted of complicity in the crime some time ago. The pal, Wm. Kumpulu, is said to have confessed his part of the deed, maintaining that Koski did the actual killing.

Koski has been employed on the Robertson farm for several months and his arrest resulted from a circular issued by Duluth officers, giving his description and offering a reward of $500 for his arrest. When arrested Koski stoutly maintained that he was not the man wanted, but after being in charge of the sheriff for a while he admitted his identity, denying however that he had fired the shot which killed Carlson.

BASE BALL SEASON CLOSES IN VICTORY

St. Hilaire Outclassed at Every Turn By Locals in Last Sunday's Game.

The official base ball season for Thief River Falls closed last Sunday when the locals took the St. Hilaire team into camp by a score of 14 to 8. The game was a slugging match from start to finish as far as the Thief River lads were concerned and they simply pounded the ball all over the lot.

A fair sized crowd was out to witness the game and everybody had his money's worth. Considering the fact that Thief River Falls has not had a salaried team in any sense of the term during the past season, a splendid record has been established. Some of the strongest teams in this section of the state have been defeated by the locals, and about the only games lost were those in which a strong bunch of professionals was lined up on the opposing team.

Interest in base ball has not been at white heat during the past season, however, and attendance has been far below normal at games played on the local diamond. As a result the boys were lucky to close the season with a small balance in the treasury, even after every man of the team had donated his time and services.

Thormodson to Run Again For Congress Next Fall

At a meeting of the officials of the Farmers' Nonpartisan League and the Working Peoples' Nonpartisan Political League held at Crookston, Sunday afternoon, N. E. Thormodson of Dalton, defeated candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman at the June primaries, was endorsed for the office. Thormodson will be put on the ballot as an independent by a petition, which was started circulating at once. About 500 signers will be necessary to place Thormodson's name on the ticket.

By the entry of Thormodson three men will be on the ballot at the fall elections. They are Congressman Halvor Steenerson, present incumbent, Frank Jeffers, democrat, Red Lake Falls and Thormodson.

Quite a delegation from Thief River Falls was present at the Crookston meeting, most of them making the trip by automobile.

RED LAKE ROAD PLANS STARTED BY VALLEY MEN

Permanent Business Organization Formed to Back Popular Highway Project.

Meeting Called By Mayor Taralseth of Warren Attended By Many Boosters.

Preliminary Work to Be Taken Up at Once—Officers and Directors Chosen.

One of the most widely attended and most enthusiastic gatherings held in the Red River valley for some time was the meeting called at Warren Tuesday evening by Mayor R. B. Taralseth for the purpose of considering the proposition of securing a road to Red Lake. The meeting was called with a view to forming an organization to push the matter of constructing the highway, and the movement was given a good impetus.

The matter of a good road to Red Lake is one of importance to the entire valley. Such a highway would open to the public Minnesota's great playground and make of it one of the most popular resorts in the state.

Valley Well Represented.

Delegates were present at the meeting from all sections of Northwestern Minnesota, and every man present was a genuine booster for the program.

A permanent organization, to be known as the Red Lake Highway association, was formed at the meeting and the following officers were elected: Daniel Shaw, Thief River Falls, president; Julius J. Olson, Warren, 1st vice president; C. R. Gillespie, Stephen, 2nd vice president; Dan Robertson, Argyle, 3rd vice president; Scott Laird, Thief River Falls, secretary; C. L. Hansen, Thief River Falls, treasurer. These officers, together with the following, constitutes the board of directors: J. P. Jensen, Goodridge; Geo. Johnson, Grygla; Carl Hanson, Newfolden; A. C. Kvennes, Middle River; J. N. Lodoen, Alvarado; J. C. Figenskau, Oslo and I. M. Myrbo, Viking.

Seek Steenerson's Aid.

A committee was appointed to interview Congressman Steenerson at Crookston at the earliest possible moment in connection with the proposed highway. This committee is composed of B. B. Brett, Stephen; Julius J. Olson, Warren; Dan Robertson, Argyle; L. Lamberson, Warren and Daniel Shaw, Thief River Falls.

It is understood that Mr. Steenerson has a feasible plan for financing the construction of the highway and much good is expected to result from the conference at Crookston. Immediately following this meeting the directors will be called to formulate further plans of action.

Plan Membership Drive.

It was decided that the larger the membership of the association the greater its influence and the greater its chance of accomplishing its aims. For the purpose of increasing the membership the vice presidents, secretary and treasurer were each appointed a committee of one to solicit memberships in their respective communities. In order to provide funds for incidental expenses a minimum membership fee of $1 was decided upon.

Large Attendance.

The following were present at the Warren meeting and took active part in the proceedings: G. W. Booren, F. H. Herrick, John Bratrud, Loren Johnston, W. S. Sylvester, E. M. Schutt, O. F. Mellby, W. W. Prichard, Jr., J. M. Bishop, C. M. Adkins, E. O. Mogensen, C. L. Hansen, E. M. Bennes, H. W. Protzeller, G. W. Connell, Math Barzen, A. H. Akre G. W. Werstlein, H. O. Loken, J. Provencher, R. H. Ross, F. J. Stebbins, Daniel Shaw, T. L. Melgaard, all of Thief River Falls; I. M. Myrbo, Viking; Carl Hanson, Newfolden; B. B. Brett, Stephen; C. R. Gillespie, Stephen; D. Robertson, Argyle; J. P. Jensen, N. Bundlund, A. B. Mandt, N. H. Dahl, Carl Christianson, M. G. Thorson, all of Goodridge; L. Lamberson, C. L. Stevens, Rasmus Hage, C. Wittensten, A. E. Mattson, A. B. Nelson, A. N. John L. Melgaard Named Naval School Candidate

John L. Melgaard, son of T. L. Melgaard, cashier of the Citizens' State bank, Thief River Falls, on Monday was notified by Congressman Halvor Steenerson that he had been nominated for examination to be held next spring for admission to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis in June, 1921.

John is highly elated over his good fortune and expects to take advantage of the opportunity. He graduated from the local high school last year and plans to attend an institution of higher learning until the time for his Annapolis examination arrives. His friends congratulate him upon his good fortune and feel sure he will have no difficulty in passing the tests necessary to insure his admission to the naval academy.

Says Our Section Beats Anything in the North

State Forester W. T. Cox was in the city a short time on Sunday, enroute to Roseau county where forest fires are said to be gaining sufficient headway to require his attention. With him was a gentleman representing the Curtis publications—Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal and Country Gentleman. This agent had just come from a trip through northern Michigan, Wisconsin and northeastern Minnesota and is now covering the prairie towns for his papers. He stated that he could not for the life of him see why any sane man would settle down in a timber region while there remained so much unoccupied land in a part of the country actually awaiting the plow. "I know you have a good soil," he said, "because weeds seem to flourish where they are not kept down. It has been my experience that any section capable of producing weeds will produce food crops if given a chance."

AMERICAN WOMEN GIVEN SUFFRAGE; TENNESSEE ACTS

Action Will Enable 17,000,000 Women to Vote in Presidential Election.

Tennessee yesterday became the thirty-sixth state to ratify the Susan B. Anthony Federal suffrage amendment.

The constitutional change thus will become effective in time for the 17,000,000 women of the country to vote in the presidential election in November, unless the lower house of the Tennessee assembly rescinds its action of yesterday in adopting the ratification resolution, 49 to 47.

Bells and whistles are to sound in all parts of Minnesota Saturday noon to proclaim the passage which gives all women in the United States the right to vote at the November election on the same terms with the men. The Minnesota legislature ratified in special session Sept. 8, 1919, the 15th to ratify.

PARALYSIS RESULT OF SUDDEN PLUNGE

Glenn C. Anderson Stricken While Bathing at Grand Forks Last Sunday.

Glenn C. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Anderson of this city, is lying in a partially paralyzed condition at his home in Grand Forks, the result of a most unusual occurance. He was suddenly stricken while in bathing on Sunday, and while his condition is somewhat improved, it is still such as to cause the gravest concern.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, accompanied by their other children, went to Grand Forks on Sunday to visit Glenn's family. About 5 o'clock in the afternoon all went down to the public swimming pool and the younger members of the family went in bathing. Glenn plunged into the pool and Mr. Anderson noticed him come up with his face toward the surface and surmised from his look that something was wrong. The bather sank at once and his father rushed to the water's edge and called the attention of others to the situation. The young man was taken out at once and medical assistance summoned. It was found that no water had entered his lungs but that his body was almost entirely paralyzed. He has improved so far as to be able to move his arms to some extent but the greater part of his body is devoid of feeling. He is conscious and rational and the doctors hold out hope that he will eventually fully recover.

GOODRIDGE MAKING GREAT FAIR PLANS

Second Annual Event to Surpass Last Year's Effort in Every Respect.

Now that the county fair is a thing of the past it is time to recall that another fair is to be held in the county at no distant date. This exhibition is the second annual Tri-County fair to be held at Goodridge Sept. 21 and 22. Last year the fair was an eye-opener to those who visited it and those in charge of arrangements promise even better things for the second exhibition.

The Tri-County fair is intended primarily for the country surrounding Goodridge, comprising parts of Pennington, Marshall and Beltrami counties. This section of country finds it inconvenient to make creditable showings at the regular county fairs owing to distance and poor transportation facilities, and to overcome this difficulty prominent men got together last year and perfected plans to conduct a fair at a more central point.

It is proposed to show at the forthcoming exhibition what this comparatively new section of country has done in the matter of producing live stock, grains and other farm products. The country is developing by leaps and bounds and for this reason many do not realize the progress which has been made.

In addition to the exhibits the management also is making arrangements for a program of high grade attractions as an inducement for people to visit the fair. Thief River Falls will be there en masse and it is not likely that other parts of the county will fail to do their share.

LOCAL SCHOOLS ALL READY FOR GREATEST YEAR

Fall Term Opens on Tuesday Morning, Sept. 5—To Organize Monday.

New Methods Introduced By School Board With Regard to Text Books.

Every Position on Staff Filled and Indications Point to Banner Year.

Vacation days are nearly over and on Tuesday, Sept. 7, teachers and pupils will be on hand to take up the duties of the new school year. Much preliminary organization work is planned for Monday, the 6th, among which is a meeting of teachers and the superintendent to map out work for the year.

On Tuesday morning teachers and pupils will be in their places ready to go to work in earnest. Present indications are that all former attendance records will be shattered and preparations are under way to care for a larger number than ever before.

Changes of Method.

Several radical changes have been made with regard to text books and other school matters. It has been decided by the board that free books will no longer be furnished in the high school, and therefore each pupil will be called upon to provide whatever books are necessary for his or her own use.

When it is considered that text books for the high school last year involved about $1,500 and that a large part of this was used in purchasing equipment for pupils residing outside of the district, the justice of the board's decision at once becomes apparent.

New Supply System.

Another new departure is the appointment of a purchasing agent for the district. M. A. Schmitt, industrial training teacher, has been chosen for this position and hereafter will be in charge of the purchase of all supplies. This undoubtedly will prove a vast improvement over methods employed in the past as it will remove all confusion and duplication in the purchase of material, books and equipment.

Corps of Teachers.

Supt. W. A. Ziegler announces that a full corps of teachers has been secured, and he believes it to be a very efficient force. It will be noted that a large number of the instructors have taught in the Thief River Falls schools during previous terms, and all others are teachers who have had successful careers in other places. Miss Ella Evans, principal last year, had agreed to return for another term, but ill health forced a change in her plans and she will be compelled to give up teaching for the present at least.

Complete Teaching Staff.

Following is the complete staff of instructors for the coming school year: W. A. Ziegler, superintendent; L. N. Pierce, principal of high school; Irene Patrick, assistant principal, English III and IV; Minnie Leavitt, English I; Margaret Dix, English II; Margaret Mealy and Amelia Hoorn, mathematics; Zella Zeh, commercial; Esther Johnson, domestic science; Lillian Poppitz, domestic art; Signe Svedal, Norse and botany; Maude Johnson, music; Albert Tommeraasen, mathematics and physical training; F. A. Tripp, agriculture; M. A. Schmitt and C. Pope, industrial training; Ruth Elliott, history; G. B. Melby, science; Dora Perry and Marguerite Ober, Normal.

Washington Building—Blandine Belanger, 6th grade; Edna Larson, 5th grade and principal; Gladys Smith, 3rd grade; Edna Byff and Alice Benson, 2nd grade; Minnie Schmit, 1st grade.

Northrup Building—Ella Pelto, 6th grade and principal; May Bark, 5th grade; Ada Whipps and Katherine Smith, 4th grade; Lovina Adams and Valborg Sandum, 3rd grade; Hildegard Kleber and Carrie Trogan, 2nd grade; Viola Nepper and Estella Hoyt, 1st grade.

Knox Building—Inez Howe, 6th grade and principal; Ella Miller, 5th grade; Mary Grizold and Florence Nylander, 4th grade; Florence Fjelstad, 3rd grade; Olga Lofgren and Jane Morley, 2nd grade; Olga Lindquist, 1st grade.

Central Building—Ida Tandberg, 8th grade and principal; Mrs. L. N. Pierce and Maude Frizzell, 8th grade; Lyda Batten, Gerda Mortenson, Margaret Jordan and Lorna Dodge, 7th grade; Ruth Friestedt, kindergarten.

Octogenarian Surprised at North State Progress

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Dalquist returned Sunday evening from an auto trip of a month during which time they visited at a number of points in west-central and southern Minnesota. On their return they were accompanied by an uncle of Mrs. Dalquist, August Brokopf, an old settler in the Alexandria neighborhood, having taken up a homestead there 50 years ago. The old gentleman is now in his 84th year and this is the first time he has made a trip into the northern part of the state. He was greatly surprised at the agricultural progress evinced on every hand as he had expected to find more or less of a wilderness. Mr. Brokopf is spending part of the time visiting the Becker families near Goodridge, these being also kinsfolk.

Mr. Dalquist states that from Sauk Center northward the crops look fine but that farther south the situation is not so good. He says that every time he gets away from Thief River Falls for a short time the old town looks better to him upon his return.

G. If these parties will apply to Mr. Smith they will learn the details with regard to this matter.

NEW PASTOR TAKES CHARGE OF TRINITY

Rev. T. E. Sweger Formally Takes Over Pastorate of Lutheran Church.

Before an audience which filled all the available space in Trinity Lutheran church, Rev. T. E. Sweger, formerly of Cooperstown, N. D., on Sunday formally assumed charge as pastor for the congregation. The impressive ceremony of installation was conducted by Rev. I. T. Aastad, for more than 20 years pastor of the same church and now president of the Northern Minnesota district. His address to the members of the congregation was an elegant plea for cooperation and consideration on the part of all concerned. He dwelt impressively on the duty of the people toward the man who had been called to lead the work of the church in the city and neighborhood and maintained that without the hearty support of those under his charge much of his efforts must necessarily be wasted. A pastor's duty is not confined to preaching alone, said Rev. Aastad, a large share of his work being of a different nature entirely. For this reason too much is often expected. It is not sufficient nowdays that a minister confine himself to teaching the lessons of the Bible—he must also be a civic and social leader in his community. This has made the exactions of the calling doubly hard and the facts should be considered in case either side at times concluded that a cause for fault-finding had developed. It was an excellent sermon and full of sound common sense.

Rev. Sweger preached the regular sermon for the day, taking occasion during his remarks to present his position to his hearers. He bespoke for himself the kindly offices of every organization within the congregation and only hoped that he might prove worthy of the place and equal to the responsibility. Rev. Sweger is an eloquent, forceful speaker and his unassuming manner and deep earnestness made a most favorable impression.

Solos by Mrs. O. F. Mellby and Dr. J. N. Nesse, song by a quartet composed of Miss Edna Larson, Miss Josie Weeks, Reuben Teslow and Arthur Rholl, and a pipe organ selection by Elnor Overland, interspersed the proceedings.

TO AFFILIATE WITH STATE FEDERATION

Five Thief River Falls Labor Unions Apply For Membership Charter.

The organized working men of Thief River Falls at a meeting last Thursday evening unanimously voted to affiliate with the State Federation of Labor and an organization of the local unit will be effected as soon as the charter arrives. E. G. Hall, president of the state body, was at the meeting for the purpose of assisting the members in getting the right start.

Unions applying for the charter are the following: International Typographical No. 850; Carmen's No. 747; Electrical Workers' No. 1088; Retail Clerks No. 513; Carpenters No. 2480. The action also makes these unions members of the American Federation of Labor.

The name under which the new organization will operate has not yet been chosen, this being a matter left to be decided at a later date, when officers will also be chosen. At the present time these five unions have a membership of about 175, which will be increased to at least 300 when the machinists, boilermakers and railway clerks, who have signified their intention of joining, are admitted.

One of the first matters coming up for consideration by the new labor unit will be a Labor Day parade and celebration. In this matter the Federation men expect to be joined by the railway brotherhoods.

LEGION STAGES FINE PROGRAM OF AUTO RACES

Speed Kings to Furnish Thrills Galore at Fair Grounds on Sunday, August 29.

One Unusual Feature Will Be Race Between Plane, Automobile and Motorcycle.

Speed demons from all over the northwest will congregate at Thief River Falls on Sunday, Aug. 29, for the purpose of competing in the races staged by Elmer J. Eklund Post, American Legion. The card is the most varied and interesting of any that has been presented to the public this year in Minnesota and it is expected that people will come from long distances to witness the contests. These races fall on the date of the Elks' picnic and there will be many visitors from nearby points in the city for the purpose of attending this outing. In order not to conflict in any way with the doings of the Elks it has been decided to begin the race program at 4 o'clock and continuing until about 8.

Noted Riders Coming.

Among the famous drivers who will be present to compete in the races are John Lee, Fargo, who pilots an Elgin; Larry Finlayson, Breckenridge; Pepper of Ada; Gust Forseth, Grand Forks; J. M. Barlett, Winnipeg, all of whom will drive Ford Specials, and Joe Morris of Bemidji, whose intention it is to prove that a Jewett Special has it over them all.

The International Flying Circus will have an airplane on the ground in charge of one of the most intrepid airmen connected with that organization. Many stunts not heretofore seen in this section will be performed, the circus to wind up with a race between the airplane, an automobile and a motorcycle.

Committees in Charge.

The following committee has been appointed by the legion to be in charge of the race meet: G. Howard Smith, chairman; Hugh McDaniel, Fred D. Haug, Omer Anderson, L. C. Nielsen and Ed. Brevig. The local track will be put in the best shape possible and it may safely be assumed that a number of records will be hung up.

A committee has been chosen by the legion to look after the matter of concessions, the following being placed in charge of this part of the program: Hal Stanton, chairman; G. H. Husby, Oscar Smith, Harold Provencher, Walter Jonas, Alvin Holzknecht and Derby Anderson.

SECTION PROMISED CARS WHEN NEEDED

Congressman Steenerson Says Northwest Grain Will Be Taken Care Of.

Congressman Halvor Steenerson returned last week from Washington where he represented the ninth congressional district and the Red River Valley Development association in the grain car hearing before the interstate commerce commission.

Mr. Steenerson declared that although the car situation was unquestionably serious he did not believe a car famine would exist this fall which would prevent the northwest grain supply from being moved. He said the interstate commerce commission had promised the northwestern roads would have as many cars to ship grain as they owned and he believed this would enable the crop to be moved, although slowly.

Cars for the potato crop would also be forthcoming, according to Mr. Steenerson's belief, but he declared all potato growers should plan for storing their crop as frost might come before the cars were available.

Those interested in music will be glad to learn that it has been possible to secure a first-class conservatory for Thief River Falls. Indications are that the school will be well patronized and it undoubtedly will prove a success from the beginning.

SHOULD INTEREST OTHERS.

There is danger that the Guernsey cattle exhibit which made such a reputation for the county at five different county fairs will not be taken to the state fair in September. This is greatly to be regretted.

It seems as if a way should be found to make it possible for these exceptional cattle to be seen at the biggest fair in the United States. The owners, who themselves financed the former trip, do not feel that they can spare the time and money necessary to place the stock on exhibition at Hamline. It means a considerable outlay of money and absence from the farm at a time when the owner's presence there is most urgently needed. The Pennington County Guernsey Breeders association hardly feels justified in bearing the expense of an enterprise by which the entire community benefits.

The people of Thief River Falls—and the entire county for that matter—have invested so much money at different times for advertising and propoganda work, the value of which was problematical, that it would seem as if there should be a way in which undertakings of undoubted value could be financed. Our bankers and business men have at all times shown a commendable inclination to assist in any project that even promised to help the section's reputation as a farming and stock-raising community, and they would probably do so again if the matter were presented to them in the proper light. It would require no great sum and the undoubted results would without question more than justify the outlay. Competent judges have stated that the Pennington county Guernseys exhibited in Northwestern Minnesota and the two Dakota fairs this year would stand up in competition with the best there is in any locality. Such being the case, the more folks that are made acquainted with the fact the better for the entire region.

The county group contents promise to develop the hottest competition of the show. Under this classification, a group of 10 head of pure bred cattle, of either sex and any age, but one breed, may be entered by any county in Minnesota. The animals in any group must be owned by at least three exhibitors and must have been shown in open lots. Only one group of any breed may be entered by a county.

This fits the Pennington county situation exactly. Shall we get together and have our Guernseys bring back the bacon from the biggest show on Earth?

NO MORE THAN RIGHT.

The school board of District No. 18 has decided not to furnish free text books to students at the high school hereafter. The step may seem rather unusual but there is sound reasoning behind the board's action.

Few high schools in the state are situated as that at Thief River Falls with regard to attendance. It is the largest in the state outside the principal cities and draws pupils from a vast territory. This has had the effect of bringing the number in attendance up to a point that is out of proportion to our population and the cost naturally is beginning to bear down heavily on the taxpayers of the district.

There is no way in which these outside pupils can be forced to pay a tuition fee if the district is to receive anything in the way of high school aid from the state. One of the conditions attending the distribution of this aid is that pupils from any part of the state must be taken in free of charge. A law providing for a small fee was passed at the last session of the legislature but it does not begin to cover the actual cost of providing a high school education for these outsiders.

The cost of text books for the high school is a considerable item and it certainly is no more than right that the pupils themselves should pay for them. This is particularly so in the case of those not residents of the district, but as there is no way in which a ruling can be made unless it applies to all, the board decided that this would prove the best way out of the difficulty.

There is certainly nothing unreasonable about this decision. The students will be required to provide the books they themselves use and these will be their property when the course is completed. Those among us who went to school at a time when the pupil had to furnish everything from penwipers to histories will not be able to work up any great amount of sympathy over the situation—particularly when it is realized that if this action had not been taken we would be called upon to foot the book bill of a whole lot of young folks who do not belong here and have no very well defined claim upon us.

ONE CONTINUOUS WASTE.

We sometimes wonder if the citizens who are objecting to paving on the score of expense realize just how much it costs every year to maintain our streets in their present unsatisfactory condition. The money expended to keep the thoroughfares of the business district in even passable shape would pay the interest on a considerable sum.

Those who pay attention to such matters will have noticed that when the proceedings of the city council are published in The Times every two weeks, there is an item of about $500 each time for street work. The bills are all absolutely proper and no fault is to be found with the way the work has been done, nor can its necessity be questioned. In fact where criticism is heard at all it is to the effect that more work should be done and the dragging crew more often in evidence.

Approximately $1,000 is spent during the open months of the year in this manner. During the winter this particular item of upkeep does not appear but the expense is there in some other form just the same. It is safe to say that our streets are at the present time costing us $10,000 every year. A large part of this expense will be done away with when the streets are paved, the costly grading process being at least eliminated. And just think of the difference in convenience and satisfaction.

The more this paving matter is considered the more plain it becomes that the city is a loser by the delay. Instead of trying to find methods by which the work can still further be postponed it would be the part of wisdom to try and discover some means by which the undertaking may be rushed to a conclusion with the least possible delay.

LABOR FOR GOOD ROADS.

The action of the State Federation of Labor and the Working Peoples Nonpartisan League in indorsing Amendment No. 1 will prove a great boost for the proposed law. Laboring men realize that most of the money expended will go toward paying for labor, the material bill being small in comparison.

This decision on the part of the organized laborers of the state means more than appears on the surface. Placing themselves back of the candidates for office endorsed by the Nonpartisan League, it will be impossible for the latter to oppose the passage of a law endorsed by the workingmen without making their entire campaign ridiculous. Farmers generally have not opposed the Babcock amendment, but there is no denying the fact that the leaders of the Nonpartisan League have regarded the proposition with suspicion. If the farmers and workingmen are to work together in the campaign it will not be possible for the former to maintain their present attitude toward this important measure. They cannot very well combine on candidates and remain in opposition as to principles.

ON THE RIGHT TRACK.

The water supply of the city has again been condemned by the state health authorities and all persons are warned against using it for drinking purposes. The warning is timely as carelessness in this respect might be followed by serious consequences.

The city council is fully awake to the danger of the situation and has already considered plans for remedying it. A filtration plant seems to present the only solution and its immediate installation is the crying necessity of the hour. An unlimited supply of very good water flows past the city and it is almost a disgrace that our people must still depend on back-yard pumps for one of their foremost necessities. With the rapid growth of the city it is certain that even this source cannot long remain uncontaminated.

The fact that the city spent quite a lot of money a few years ago in an attempt to secure a supply of pure water through another channel and failed has nothing to do with the case. The council and citizens at that time took the steps that seemed to them best and the failure should not be charged against them. It should also be remembered that the money at that time expended is not a total loss. The reservoir will be needed for a filtration system and the mains laid will in the near future be necessary anyway. Thus the cost of actual drilling is the only item to be charged as a loss. But that is all past and gone anyway. What we want now is pure water and the only way to get it is by using the supply furnished by the Red Lake river and installing a filtration plant.

They Are Satisfied.

(Red Lake Falls Gazette.)

Dr. Kessler, superintendent of the Sunnyrest Sanitorium for Tuberculosis at Crookston in speaking of general health matters in this part of the state, stated that in his opinion better ends would have been attained had Red Lake county joined with Polk and Norman counties in the maintenance and use of a sanitarium rather than with Pennington, Marshall and Roseau counties, as was done recently, as this had the effect of barring Kittson county from joining with any other county or counties as four is the highest number that may unite according to the law under which joint sanitoria are maintained. The doctor may be correct, but he is somewhat late in his suggestion. No doubt if he had offered as good a proposition as Dr. Milan of the Thief River Falls sanitorium offered to the Red Lake county board, and had offered it first, the Red Lake board would have taken him up. But as far as Red Lake county is concerned we are satisfied with the present arrangement.

ELMER EKLUND POST HOLDS BIG MEETING

Delegates and Alternates Selected to Convention—Lack of Funds Handicap.

A rousing meeting of the American Legion was held last Thursday evening at the Evelyn hotel. One of the important things coming up for consideration was the selection of delegates to the state convention of the legion held at Duluth this week. Daniel Dosey, Derby Anderson, Hugh McDaniel, Oscar Smith, G. H. Husby and Arthur Berg were chosen as delegates to the convention, while Bernard Burggraf, Guy Johnson, L. C. Nielsen, F. E. McGinn, Hal Stanton and W. E. Peterson were named alternates. Owing to the present strained condition of the post treasury it was found impossible to send more than one delegate to the convention, and Derby Anderson is now at Duluth acting in that capacity.

Word from Derby is to the effect that the convention is a huge success and that he is having the time of his life. It is too bad the local post is unable to have a full delegation in attendance, but conditions over which the boys have no control make this impossible. Bemidji is doing things up in grand style and sent a special train loaded with boosters, the principal reason for this being that Bemidji is making a strenuous effort to land the legion state convention for next year. The local post went on record as favoring this move.

Eklund Post finds itself badly hampered through lack of funds with which to carry on its work. There are many ways in which the post can make itself useful to former service men, but it takes money and often considerable amounts. In many places throughout the Northwest local chapters of the Red Cross, which in most instances have nice balances to their credit, have come to the assistance of the legion by supplying needed funds, but it is understood no such action has yet been taken in Thief River Falls.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR CLINICS ARE MADE

Red Cross to Co-Operate With Minnesota Public Health Association in Work.

Effective co-operation, particularly in the conducting of clinics, between the Minnesota Public Health association and the Northern Division of the Red Cross, was assured at a meeting of representatives of both organiza- office of the Northern Division at Minneapolis, attended by Dr. T. C. Clark, Miss Linda James, Dr. H. W. Cook, and Dr. C. L. Scofield, of Benson, on behalf of the Health Association, and by Dr. Mabel S. Ulrich, C. C. Hield, and Miss Mary Muckley for the Red Cross.

It was determined at this meeting that local public health associations shall continue to put on traveling clinics, such as tubercular, eye and ear, nutrition, and dental clinics, under the supervision of the Minnesota Public Health association, and that in all cases where a county nurse is not available the Red Cross shall pledge the assistance of one of its nurses, either from the field or from headquarters. Preparations for the clinic, it was agreed, will be made by the Red Cross, and the follow-up work afterwards will be done by the same organization. In order that sufficient time shall be assured to make the work successful in each case, it was determined that the local health association shall be required to notify the Minnesota Public Health association a month before the date set of its intention to hold the clinic, and that the information shall be passed on immediately to the Red Cross by the Minnesota Public Health association. This will make it possible for both organizations to make adequate preparations, to avoid the possibility of delay or the miscarrying of plans, and to insure the success of the work so far as their efforts can do so. Clinics held under this agreement are to be advertised as conducted under the auspices of the Minnesota Public Health association, with the assistance of a nurse supplied by the Red Cross.

Other matters concerning the coordination of the efforts of the two associations were discussed, and a general understanding of the particular lines of work carried on by each was reached.

GOOD ROADS NEED TOLD BY TOURIST

Minnesota Cannot Afford to Neglect Highway Improvements Now.

That the state of Minnesota would quickly fall behind her sister states in the procession of progress if she were to fail to meet her responsibilities in providing good highways, is the concensus of opinion among the many summer tourists arriving daily from other states.

William Irving of Aberdeen, Washington, a former St. Paul man, who with Mrs. Irvine is visiting in St. Paul, manifested considerable interest in Minnesota's pretentious good roads program, and told of the progress being made in that direction by the Western states.

Mr. Irvine said the good roads movement has spread throughout the West, and there are miles of splendid highways already constructed.

The State of Washington is taking a lead in the good roads movement, he said. Seattle, Tacoma and the counties of King and Pearce, in which they are located, have spent millions on good roads.

WORLD WAR TOOK NUMEROUS LIVES

Table Shows Colossal Losses in Manpower Suffered by European Countries.

Statistics compiled by an English society on the results of the world war place the loss of life at 40,000,000 people. Of these 10,000,000 or more were slain in battle or died of wounds and of disease there. The figures for the different European countries run as follows:

European Russia	13,000,000
Germany	6,300,000
Austria-Hungary	5,800,000
France	3,340,000
Italy	2,280,000
Great Britian	1,800,000
Serbia	1,650,000
Roumania	510,000
Belgium	375,000
Bulgaria	275,000

These figures, of course, include women and children as well as men engaged in combatant or noncombatant service whose deaths are immediately traceable to the war. And the books of death are not closed, since every day poverty, starvation and disease due to the war still takes a heavy toll of human life.

Also of the population of the war countries which escaped death the majority are probably impaired in health and working ability by reason of the war strain.

Progress Being Made by Minnesota Peat Experts

About one-eighth of the surface of Minnesota, or 7,000,000 acres, is peat land, according to bulletin 188 of the Minnesota Agricultural Experiment station prepared by F. J. Alway, chief of the division of soils and recently issued.

The title of the bulletin is "Agricultural Value and Reclamation of Minnesota Peat Soils." The future of the immense area of peat land in the state lies in its possibilities for industrial purposes, forestry and agriculture, says Dr. Alway. Among the industrial purposes suggested are the manufacturing of fuel, power, gas, charcoal, stable litter, and even paper and textiles. The utilization of these lands for crop production, however, Dr. Alway says, will hasten rather than retard their development for industrial purposes.

Dr. Alway's bulletin is a first step toward the reclamation of one of Minnesota's great resources, because it points out what needs to be done after telling what the present conditions actually are. Thus it gives a blue print or working plan by which the owners of such lands and the state may proceed. Copies of the bulletin may be had by addressing Office of Publications, University Farm.

Giving Wounded Soldiers Chance of Independence

That the government is doing everything possible with the machnery at hand to aid soldiers wounded in the late war to become selfsustaining is evidenced by the number that have been admitted to vocational schools from Minnesota during the past few months. From July 1 to August 1 more than 150 applications were approved. None of these are from Pennington county but there are a few from nearby communities.

The number of applications for admission to one of the institutions selected by the government for those who were partially disabled is steadily on the increase and assignments are being made as rapidly as possible.

The Pennington County fair held in Thief River Falls last week was the most successful, both in attendance and financially, ever held there. Thursday the attendance was double that of any previous year. The stock exhibits, though not large in numbers, was of a very high grade and showed that the farmers are becoming to realize that it costs no more to keep good stock than it does poor and it pays much better. In the fruit and vegetable products it is hard to believe that such fine stuff could be raised in this climate. The free attractions were of a very high order and amusing. The aeroplane exhibits were simply startling. The final of the ball games was Red Lake Falls vs. Thief River Falls which resulted in favor of the former, 8 to 5. There was also plenty of fake shows and anyone who had more money than they wanted could find plenty chances to get rid of it. The management of the fair deserve a great deal of credit for its success.

Mayor of Rainy River Is Jailed For Selling Booze

A sensation was caused at Rainy River last week when the mayor, Dr. Murdoch, was sentenced to ten days in jail and a two thousand dollar fine for selling liquor unlawfully. The mayor was accused of selling six quarts of liquor to one man and entered a plea of guilty. The usual penalty of $200 fine was expected but Judge Chapman exploded a bombshell by imposing a jail sentence as well as an exceptionally heavy fine.

Dr. Murdoch will appeal to a higher court and a bitter fight is expected. If the conviction stands he would have to resign as mayor and in all likelihood will be barred from practicing as a physician.

Sufferers in Forest Fire to Combine Damage Suits

More than 1,000 forest fire property damage suits, 300 alleged wrongful death actions and 300 personal injury damage suits involving between five and ten million dollars will be disposed of at one swoop in a composite trial to begin at Duluth before five judges of the 11th district September 13.

Residents of the regions between Moose Lake and McGregor, which was swept by the forest fires of October, 1918, are plaintiffs in each of the actions. The Soo Railway company and John Barton Payne, agent of the president under the transportation act of February 29, 1920, are named as joint defendants. The question of liability only will be the issue.

Good Crops Around Grygla.

Grygla Eagle: Harvesting is well under way in this section and the indications are for a bumper crop with the yields running above the average. Many fields will show a big gain over previous years and there are but a very few in which the yield will not be a normal one. Given favorable weather for the next few weeks and the Grygla country will advance still further in the estimation of those who know and appreciate a good reliable agricultural community.

Fortunes in Stock Deals

(Copyright.)

There is one way to make money by dealing with the mail-order houses but it isn't by buying goods from them.

The man who thinks he is making money by buying his goods from mail-order houses has only to read of the amuzing profits made by some of these big corporations to realize that all the money is being made by the man on the other end of the deal.

The stockholder in a big mail-order concern toils not and neither does he spin, but he piles up his money so fast that it makes the ordinary man's head swim to read about it. Here is the experience of the stockholder in one of the large mail-order concerns, as told by a reliable financial journal. It gives a glimpse into the inside workings of the mail-order business that should be of interest to those who have made such things possible.

How the Game Works.

In 1908 this man bought 600 shares of stock in the mail-order corporation in question when the stock was selling around $40 a share, the 600 shares costing him a little less than $25,000. In 1911 the company declared a stock dividend of 33 1-3 per cent. In other words the company after paying cash dividends regularly, had accumulated a surplus profit of one-third of the amount of capital invested in the business; but instead of distributing this profit among the stockholders the company kept the money in the business and issued stock for that amount to the stockholders. By this action 200 more shares of stock were issued to the man who had originally bought 600, increasing his holdings to 800 shares, without his having put any more money into the business.

Another stock dividend of 50 per cent was declared in 1916 and this added 400 shares more to his holdings, giving him 1,200 shares in all. A third stock dividend of 25 per cent was paid on this man's stock holdings up to 1,500 shares, still without his having paid in any more money. On this 1,500 shares of stock, cash dividends of $8 a share are now being paid. This investor therefore is now receiving $12,000 a year from his original investment of about $25,000, and as the stock is now worth around $160 a share the present market value of his stock is $240,000, giving him a profit of $215,000, in addition to cash dividends which he received during nine years, amounting to many more thousands of dollars.

Only One of Hundreds.

This is the story of just one small stockholder in one mail-order concern. A profit of more than $215,000 made by one small stockholder in nine years on an investment of less than $25,000! It reads like fiction but it is financial history. There are hundreds of other stockholders in this and other mail-order corporations, some of whom have made millions while this man made thousands. Add the profits of all these stockholders together and the result is a sum that staggers the imagination.

Small wonder that the men who own the stock of the big mail-order houses can live in palaces, ride in the highest-priced automobiles, own palatial private yachts and buy $100,000 paintings. But who has furnished the money to pay for the palaces and the automobiles and the yachts [illegible] the $100,000 paintings? The people in the country and the small towns who have kept an endless stream of money flowing into the coffers of the mail-order house have made all this possible. Their millions of dollars have gone to the big cities to build up these great concerns. Their millions of dollars have provided the automobiles and yachts and other luxuries for the stockholders in these corporations.

Present From Mail-Order Buyers.

These men who have piled up such big fortunes in the mail-order business have not even had to pay for much of the stock from which they are now drawing princely dividends. The people in the country and the small towns, generous souls, have bought it for them. This is shown in the case of the stockholder just mentioned, who originally invested. The generous mail-order buyers have made him a present of $215,000 worth of stock and he has not had to turn his hand over to get it. He has never even had to as much as write a letter to get it. The generous mail-order buyers have handed it to him on a golden platter.

There's money in the mail-order business without a doubt, but its [illegible] the side of the man who does the se[illegible]ing and not the one who does the buying. If you must do business with the mail-order house, buy some of its stock and let the fellow in the next town buy you automobiles and private yachts while he struggles with the hard times that come from draining his town of the cash that goes to keep you in luxury.

ACTUAL WORK ON RIVER IMPROVEMENT NEXT YEAR

Work of conducting a survey of Clearwater and Thief rivers with a view to determining whether improvements should be made to prevent high water is now under way according to C. G. Selvig of Crookston, who is president of the Red River Valley Drainage board. According to Mr. Selvig, thousands of acres of Red River Valley land has been damaged by previous floods and it is the opinion of the board that widening and deepening the rivers would eliminate the flood stage.

George W. Walker, a Thief River Falls engineer, is in charge of the survey of Clearwater river which was started yesterday. His work is expected to be completed by fall. Engineer Joseph Baugh of Warren who has been busy since early spring in the establishment and construction of judicial ditches in the Thief River vicinity is conducting the survey of Thief river and is also expected to be able to make a report this fall.

Both engineers are expected by Mr. Selvig to recommend improvements in the two rivers. The recommendations will be presented to Judge Andrew Grindeland, who will order the improvements made if he believes conditions warrant them.

The drainage board, Mr. Selvig said, hopes for a favorable decision and a start on the deepening of the rivers in 1921. It is his opinion that with the completion of the work, thousands of acres of cheap land will be open in the valley for occupation.

Dances and Concerts Are Not Making Legion Rich

To set aright any notion that the American Legion of Thief River Falls is growing rich as the result of dances and entertainments, the following report given at a recent Legion meeting is given. The dance committee reported that a net profit of $3.05 had been made from two dances given at the auditorium, while the New Year's dance showed $23 in the credit column. The committee which had in charge the recent Million Dollar band concert reported a net earning of $10.25 on the venture. The boys are not kicking, but the figures are given for the purpose of proving to the public that dances and entertainments given under Legion auspices are not get-rich-quick schemes in any sense of the term.

Trip to Washington.

Editor Times: Find enclosed a check for $2 for which please send The Times to our new address.

Three months ago today we loaded our Studebaker and started on our trip westward. The trip was most enjoyable—very little car trouble and good roads. It was, however, tiresome driving all day. We camped out nights. Visited the North Dakota state asylum at Jamestown and the penetentiary at Bismarck, where we crossed the Missouri river on a ferry and passed through the valley where Theodore Roosevelt once had a ranch. One whole day was spent in getting through the Bad Lands of North Dakota. The scenery there is wonderful, but to describe it is a hard task. To give a slight idea of what that country is like might say that there are miles and miles of masses of rock and ugly looking mountains. We visited with Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Doyle, former residents of Thief River, at Sentinel Butte and saw the highest point in North Dakota, called the Big Butte.

After leaving Miles City, Mont., the flowers were in bloom and everything looked so much greener than in the East. In western Montana we saw fields of alfalfa and sugar beets, these being almost the sole crops raised by the farmers in the neighborhood. Billings has the second largest beet sugar factory in the United States.

Crossing the Rocky mountains we were surprised to find such a gradual raise to the top that we did not know we were on the divide. Drove for miles with snow-capped mountains on all sides but never dreamed we would get very close to them.

Were delayed at Hunter Hot Springs one afternoon because of the rain and stayed at the hotel there. This was the most beautiful place we had ever seen. At one end of the hotel they have a swimming pool of hot sulphur water where people go for all kinds of ailments as well as on mere vacations. There is hot sulphur water running into this pool all the time from the mountains. We were also delayed at Bozeman a week on account of the rain and while there went to the top of state university and looked over the Gallatin valley—the most beautiful in Montana.

At Missoula we visited with Mrs. Paul Holzknecht, who is a sister of Mrs. P. W. Roark of Thief River Falls. We also called on the Fred Zeh family. Mr. Zeh is a brother of Phil and Emil Zeh of Thief River Falls. At Missoula there is a mountain that looks just like an elephant lying on its side and we crossed another mountain after leaving Missoula that is called the Camel's Hump.

Crossing the divide between Montana and Idaho we were 4000 feet above sea level and we drove through snow. The outlook from the top was magnificent for we could see the roads winding down ahead of us and we were as high as the tops of the highest trees. Used no gas for seven miles after leaving the divide. Made one turn called the "Hairpin Curve" where no car but a Ford or a runabout can make the turn without first backing up, and that is what we had to do. We got stuck in the Fourth of July canyon as they were fixing the road and we had to be towed out of there.

Even though we went through some dangerous places and had some very narrow escapes we had a trip that we will never forget—nor regret—and we landed at Spokane on the 1st of June.

Spokane is a very beautiful city but we have not been here long enough to say whether we are going to like it or not.

Wishing that everyone in Thief River Falls could have been along on this trip with us, we remain

Yours truly,
VAL YAGER AND FAMILY.

The small grain is very good here, some of the wheat going 45 bushels per acre and oats 80 bushels. Corn looks good but needs rain.

I think there is a very good country around Thief River Falls and expect to make my home there in the near future. Your town is up-to-date so far as I can see for a Northwestern community. Yours respectfully,

ELMER EKLUND POST HOLDS BIG MEETING

Delegates and Alternates Selected to Convention—Lack of Funds Handicap.

A rousing meeting of the American Legion was held last Thursday evening at the Evelyn hotel. One of the important things coming up for consideration was the selection of delegates to the state convention of the legion held at Duluth this week. Daniel Dosey, Derby Anderson, Hugh McDaniel, Oscar Smith, G. H. Husby and Arthur Berg were chosen as delegates to the convention; while Bernard Burggraf, Guy Johnson, L. C. Nielsen, F. E. McGinn, Hal Stanton and W. E. Peterson were named alternates. Owing to the present strained condition of the post treasury it was found impossible to send more than one delegate to the convention, and Derby Andefson is now at Duluth acting in that capacity.

Word from Derby is to the effect that the convention is a huge success and that he is having the time of his life. It is too bad the local post is unable to have a full delegation in attendance, but conditions over which the boys have no control make this impossible. Bemidji is doing things up in grand style and sent a special train loaded with boosters, the principal reason for this being that Bemidji is making a strenuous effort to land the legion state convention for next year. The local post went on record as favoring this move.

Eklund Post finds itself badly hampered through lack of funds with which to carry on its work. There are many ways in which the post can make itself useful to former service men, but it takes money and often considerable amounts. In many places throughout the Northwest local chapters of the Red Cross, which in most instances have nice balances to their credit, have come to the assistance of the legion by supplying needed funds, but it is understood no such action has yet been taken in Thief River Falls.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR CLINICS ARE MADE

Red Cross to Co-Operate With Minnesota Public Health Association in Work.

Effective co-operation, particularly in the conducting of clinics, between the Minnesota Public Health association and the Northern Division of the Red Cross, was assured at a meeting of representatives of both organiza-office of the Northern Division at Minneapolis, attended by Dr. T. C. Clark, Miss Linda James, Dr. H. W. Cook, and Dr. C. L. Scofield, of Benson, on behalf of the Health Association, and by Dr. Mabel S. Ulrich, C. C. Hield, and Miss Mary Muckley for the Red Cross.

It was determined at this meeting that local public health associations shall continue to put on traveling clinics, such as tubercular, eye and ear, nutrition, and dental clinics, under the supervision of the Minnesota Public Health association, and that in all cases where a county nurse is not available the Red Cross shall pledge the assistance of one of its nurses, either from the field or from headquarters. Preparations for the clinic, it was agreed, will be made by the Red Cross, and the follow-up work afterwards will be done by the same organization. In order that sufficient time shall be assured to make the work successful in each case, it was determined that the local health association shall be required to notify the Minnesota Public Health association a month before the date set of its intention to hold the clinic, and that the information shall be passed on immediately to the Red Cross by the Minnesota Public Health association. This will make it possible for both organizations to make adequate preparations, to avoid the possibility of delay or the miscarrying of plans, and to insure the success of the work so far as their efforts can do so. Clinics held under this agreement are to be advertised as conducted under the auspices of the Minnesota Public Health association, with the assistance of a nurse supplied by the Red Cross.

Other matters concerning the coordination of the efforts of the two associations were discussed, and a general understanding of the particular lines of work carried on by each was reached.

GOOD ROADS NEED TOLD BY TOURIST

That the state of Minnesota would quickly fall behind her sister states in the procession of progress if she were to fail to meet her responsibilities in providing good highways, is the concensus of opinion among the many summer tourists arriving daily from other states.

William Irving of Aberdeen, Washington, a former St. Paul man, who with Mrs. Irvine is visiting in St. Paul, manifested considerable interest in Minnesota's pretentious good roads program, and told of the progress being made in that direction by the Western states.

Mr. Irvine said the good roads movement has spread throughout the West, and there are miles of splendid highways already constructed.

The State of Washington is taking a lead in the good roads movement, he said, Seattle, Tacoma and the counties of King and Pearce, in which they are located, have spent millions on good roads.

Statistics compiled by an English society on the results of the world war place the loss of life at 40,000,000 people. Of these 10,000,000 or more were slain in battle or died of wounds and of disease there. The figures for the different European countries run as follows:

European Russia	13,000,000
Germany	6,300,000
Austria-Hungary	5,800,000
France	3,340,000
Italy	2,280,000
Great Britian	1,800,000
Serbia	1,650,000
Roumania	510,000
Belgium	375,000
Bulgaria	275,000

These figures, of course, include women and children as well as men engaged in combatant or noncombatant service whose deaths are immediately traceable to the war. And the books of death are not closed, since every day poverty, starvation and disease due to the war still takes a heavy toll of human life.

Also of the population of the war countries which escaped death the majority are probably impaired in health and working ability by reason of the war strain.

Progress Being Made by Minnesota Peat Experts

About one-eighth of the surface of Minnesota, or 7,000,000 acres, is peat land, according to bulletin 188 of the Minnesota Agricultural Experiment station prepared by F. J. Alway, chief of the division of soils and recently issued.

The title of the bulletin is "Agricultural Value and Reclamation of Minnesota Peat Soils." The future of the immense area of peat land in the state lies in its possibilities for industrial purposes, forestry and agriculture, says Dr. Alway. Among the industrial purposes suggested are the manufacturing of fuel, power, gas, charcoal, stable litter, and even paper and textiles. The utilization of these lands for crop production, however, Dr. Alway says, will hasten rather than retard their development for industrial purposes.

Dr. Alway's bulletin is a first step toward the reclamation of one of Minnesota's great resources, because it points out what needs to be done after telling what the present conditions actually are. Thus it gives a blue print or working plan by which the owners of such lands and the state may proceed. Copies of the bulletin may be had by addressing Office of Publications, University Farm.

Giving Wounded Soldiers Chance of Independence

That the government is doing everything possible with the machinery at hand to aid soldiers wounded in the late war to become selfsustaining is evidenced by the number that have been admitted to vocational schools from Minnesota during the past few months. From July 1 to August 1 more than 150 applications were approved. None of these are from Pennington county but there are a few from nearby communities.

The number of applications for admission to one of the institutions selected by the government for those who were partially disabled is steadily on the increase and assignments are being made as rapidly as possible.

The Pennington County fair held in Thief River Falls last week was the most successful, both in attendance and financially, ever held there. Thursday the attendance was double that of any previous year. The stock exhibits, though not large in numbers, was of a very high grade and showed that the farmers are becoming to realize that it costs no more to keep good stock than it does poor and it pays much better. In the fruit and vegetable products it is hard to believe that such fine stuff could be raised in this climate. The free attractions were of a very high order and amusing. The aeroplane exhibits were simply startling. The final of the ball games was Red Lake Falls vs. Thief River Falls which resulted in favor of the former, 8 to 5. There was also plenty of fake shows and anyone who had more money than they wanted could find plenty chances to get rid of it. The management of the fair deserve a great deal of credit for its success.

Mayor of Rainy River Is Jailed For Selling Booze

A sensation was caused at Rainy River last week when the mayor, Dr. Murdoch, was sentenced to ten days in jail and a two thousand dollar fine for selling liquor unlawfully. The mayor was accused of selling six quarts of liquor to one man and entered a plea of guilty. The usual penalty of $200 fine was expected but Judge Chapman exploded a bombshell by imposing a jail sentence as well as an exceptionally heavy fine.

Dr. Murdoch will appeal to a higher court and a bitter fight is expected. If the conviction stands he would have to resign as mayor and in all likelihood will be barred from practicing as a physician.

Sufferers in Forest Fire to Combine Damage Suits

More than 1,000 forest fire property damage suits, 300 alleged wrongful death actions and 300 personal injury damage suits involving between five and ten million dollars will be disposed of at one swoop in a composite trial to begin at Duluth before five judges of the 11th district September 13.

Residents of the regions between Moose Lake and McGregor, which was swept by the forest fires of October, 1918, are plaintiffs in each of the actions. The Soo Railway company and John Barton Payne, agent of the president under the transportation act of February 29, 1920, are named as joint defendants. The question of liability only will be the issue.

Grygla Eagle: Harvesting is well under way in this section and the indications are for a bumper crop with the yields running above the average. Many fields will show a big gain over previous years and there are but a very few in which the yield will not be a normal one. Fortunes in Stock Deals

(Copyright.)

There is one way to make money by dealing with the mail-order houses but it isn't by buying goods from them.

The man who thinks he is making money by buying his goods from mail-order houses has only to read of the amazing profits made by some of these big corporations to realize that all the money is being made by the man on the other end of the deal.

The stockholder in a big mail-order concern toils not and neither does he spin, but he piles up his money so fast that it makes the ordinary man's head swim to read about it. Here is the experience of the stockholder in one of the large mail-order concerns, as told by a reliable financial journal. It gives a glimpse into the inside workings of the mail-order business that should be of interest to those who have made such things possible.

How the Game Works.

In 1908 this man bought 600 shares of stock in the mail-order corporation in question when the stock was selling around $40 a share, the 600 shares costing him a little less than $25,000. In 1911 the company declared a stock dividend of 33 1-3 per cent. In other words the company after paying cash dividends regularly, had accumulated a surplus profit of one-third of the amount of capital invested in the business; but instead of distributing this profit among the stockholders the company kept the money in the business and issued stock for that amount to the stockholders. By this action 200 more shares of stock were issued to the man who had originally bought 600, increasing his holdings to 800 shares, without his having put any more money into the business.

Another stock dividend of 50 per cent was declared in 1915 and this added 400 shares more to his holdings, giving him 1,200 shares in all. A third stock dividend of 25 per cent was paid on this man's stock holdings up to 1,500 shares, still without his having paid in any more money. On this 1,500 shares of stock, cash dividends of $8 a share are now being paid. This investor therefore is now receiving $12,000 a year from his original investment of about $25,000, and as the stock is now worth around $160 a share the present market value of his stock is $240,000, giving him a profit of $215,000, in addition to cash dividends which he received during nine years, amounting to many more thousands of dollars.

Only One of Hundreds.

This is the story of just one small stockholder in one mail-order concern. A profit of more than $215,000 made by one small stockholder in nine years on an investment of less than $25,000! It reads like fiction but it is financial history. There are hundreds of other stockholders in this and other mail-order corporations, some of whom have made millions while this man made thousands. Add the profits of all these stockholders together and the result is a sum that staggers the imagination.

Small wonder that the men who own the stock of the big mail-order houses can live in palaces, ride in the highest-priced automobiles, own palatial private yachts and buy $100,000 paintings. But who has furnished the money to pay for the palaces and the automobiles and the yachts [illegible] the $100,000 paintings? The peo[illegible] in the country and the small tow[illegible] who have kept an endless stream of money flowing into the coffers of the mail-order house have made all this possible. Their millions of dollars have gone to the big cities to build up these great concerns. Their millions of dollars have provided the automobiles and yachts and other luxuries for the stockholders in these corporations.

Present From Mail-Order Buyers.

These men who have piled up such big fortunes in the mail-order business have not even had to pay for much of the stock from which they are now drawing princely dividends. The people in the country and the small towns, generous souls, have bought it for them. This is shown in the case of the stockholder just mentioned, who originally invested. The generous mail-order buyers have made him a present of $215,000 worth of stock and he has not had to turn his hand over to get it. He has never even had to as much as write a letter to get it. The generous mail-order buyers have handed it to him on a golden platter.

There's money in the mail-or[illegible] business without a doubt, but it[illegible] the side of the man who does the [illegible]ing and not the one who does the buying. If you must do business with the mail-order house, buy some of its stock and let the fellow in the next town buy you automobiles and private yachts while he struggles with the hard times that come from draining his town of the cash that goes to keep you in luxury.

ACTUAL WORK ON RIVER IMPROVEMENT NEXT YEAR

Work of conducting a survey of Clearwater and Thief rivers with a view to determining whether improvements should be made to prevent high water is now under way according to C. G. Selvig of Crookston, who is president of the Red River Valley Drainage board. According to Mr. Selvig, thousands of acres of Red River Valley land has been damaged by previous floods and it is the opinion of the board that widening and deepening the rivers would eliminate the flood stage.

George W. Walker, a Thief River Falls engineer, is in charge of the survey of Clearwater river which was started yesterday. His work is expected to be completed by fall. Engineer Joseph Baugh of Warren who has been busy since early spring in the establishment and construction of judicial ditches in the Thief River vicinity is conducting the survey of Thief river and is also expected to be able to make a report this fall.

Both engineers are expected by Mr. Selvig to recommend improvements in the two rivers. The recommendations will be presented to Judge Andrew Grindeland, who will order the improvements made if he believes conditions warrant them.

The drainage board, Mr. Selvig said, hopes for a favorable decision and a start on the deepening of the rivers in 1921. It is his opinion that with the completion of the work, thousands of acres of cheap land will be open in the valley for occupation.

Dances and Concerts Are Not Making Legion Rich

To set aright any notion that the American Legion of Thief River Falls is growing rich as the result of dances and entertainments, the following report given at a recent Legion meeting is given. The dance committee reported that a net profit of $3.05 had been made from two dances given at the auditorium, while the New Year's dance showed $23 in the credit column. The committee which had in charge the recent Million Dollar band concert reported a net earning of $10.25 on the venture. The boys are not kicking, but the figures are given for the purpose of proving to the public that dances and entertainments given under Legion auspices are not get-rich-quick schemes in any sense of the term.

Trip to Washington.

Editor Times: Find enclosed a check for $2 for which please send The Times to our new address.

Three months ago today we loaded our Studebaker and started on our trip westward. The trip was most enjoyable—very little car trouble and good roads. It was, however, tiresome driving all day. We camped out nights. Visited the North Dakota state asylum at Jamestown and the penetentiary at Bismarck, where we crossed the Missouri river on a ferry and passed through the valley where Theodore Roosevelt once had a ranch. One whole day was spent in getting through the Bad Lands of North Dakota. The scenery there is wonderful, but to describe it is a hard task. To give a slight idea of what that country is like might say that there are miles and miles of masses of rock and ugly looking mountains. We visited with Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Doyle, former residents of Thief River, at Sentinel Butte and saw the highest point in North Dakota, called the Big Butte.

After leaving Miles City, Mont., the flowers were in bloom and everything looked so much greener than in the East. In western Montana we saw fields of alfalfa and sugar beets, these being almost the sole crops raised by the farmers in the neighborhood. Billings has the second largest beet sugar factory in the United States.

Crossing the Rocky mountains we were surprised to find such a gradual raise to the top that we did not know we were on the divide. Drove for miles with snow-capped mountains on all sides but never dreamed we would get very close to them.

Were delayed at Hunter Hot Springs one afternoon because of the rain and stayed at the hotel there. This was the most beautiful place we had ever seen. At one end of the hotel they have a swimming pool of hot sulphur water where people go for all kinds of ailments as well as on mere vacations. There is hot sulphur water running into this pool all the time from the mountains. We were also delayed at Bozeman a week on account of the rain and while there went to the top of state university and looked over the Gallatin valley—the most beautiful in Montana.

At Missoula we visited with Mrs. Paul Holzknecht, who is a sister of Mrs. P. W. Roark of Thief River Falls. We also called on the Fred Zeh family. Mr. Zeh is a brother of Phil and Emil Zeh of Thief River Falls. At Missoula there is a mountain that looks just like an elephant lying on its side and we crossed another mountain after leaving Missoula that is called the Camel's Hump.

Crossing the divide between Montana and Idaho we were 4000 feet above sea level and we drove through snow. The outlook from the top was magnificent for we could see the roads winding down ahead of us and we were as high as the tops of the highest trees. Used no gas for seven miles after leaving the divide. Made one turn called the "Hairpin Curve" where no car but a Ford or a runabout can make the turn without first backing up, and that is what we had to do. We got stuck in the Fourth of July canyon as they were fixing the road and we had to be towed out of there.

Even though we went through some dangerous places and had some very narrow escapes we had a trip that we will never forget—nor regret—and we landed at Spokane on the 1st of June.

Spokane is a very beautiful city but we have not been here long enough to say whether we are going to like it or not.

Wishing that everyone in Thief River Falls could have been along on this trip with us, we remain

Yours truly,
VAL YAGER AND FAMILY.

Coming From Illinois.

Editor Times: Please send me The Times for six months. I think it a live-wire newspaper. Am interested in the crops and weather conditions in your section as I purchased a farm eight miles northeast of your city last year through the W. H. Frederick land agency.

The small grain is very good here, some of the wheat going 45 bushels per acre and oats 80 bushels. Corn looks good but needs rain.

I think there is a very good country around Thief River Falls and expect to make my home there in the near future. Your town is up-to-date so far as I can see for a Northwestern community. Yours respectfully,
Berwick, Ill., Aug. 7. J. R. PENCE.

Pure Milk Strengthens Little Bodies

Our milk is rich, fresh and nourishing. But, above all, it is Pure. The confidence which mothers place in our milk is well deserved because of the extra care we exercise from the time it leaves the dairy farm until it is delivered, cool, sweet and fresh, for the children's morning meal.

Thief River Co-Operative Creamery Association

ROSEWOOD

A Farmers club meeting, the first this season, was held at Rosebank last Saturday evening, but owing to various social doings in the nearby towns the same evening the public was somewhat split and only about 25 persons attended. Most of those present were young people and a very enjoyable social evening was spent at indoor games and frolic. Lunch and lemonade was served before closing and everybody retired at midnight. No attempt was made at reorganizing, and no definite date was set for next meeting which, however, will be held some time next month.

Services in the Norwegian language was held at the Rindal church last Sunday afternoon, Rev. Geo. Larson of Thief River Falls officiating. The monthly meeting of the ladies aid of the same church was held at the home of Mrs. M. Jarsaw last Tuesday afternoon and was one of the largest attended in the history of the organization. The same evening the young peoples society had their meeting at the church but was not very successful on account of the rainy weather. Rev. George Larson returned home before evening and the Y. P. S. was conducted by the home officers. Not very many were present.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Vorseth, who left on Aug. 2 by car for a month's vacation in Iowa, that they arrived safely in Waterville where their main stay will be on Aug. 5. The journey was pleasant save for a few wheel troubles and loose sandy roads which delayed the travelers some, but in all was well worth taking. Many things of interest were encountered during the trip and many places of scenic interest were visited. The entire party are in the best of health, and are enjoying the stay with friends and relatives immensely. They expect to be back the first week in Sept.

J. E. Thompson of Gully has been appointed agent for the Hanson & Barzen interest in this village and came here to take charge last Saturday.

Mrs. James Johnson and son, Earl of Thief River Falls, spent Friday visiting at the John Hellquist home, returning home the same evening.

Henry Sagmoen and Dave Mosbeck will leave on Monday for the harvest fields of North Dakota, where they will seek employment for the next few weeks.

Victor Mosbeck left the first of this week with his horses for Wylie where he will plow and seed to winter rye about 20 acres on his farm located there.

Martin Jarsaw will thresh in this neighborhood this year, and the intention is to have the farmers join hands and do a shock threshing run. Olof Nordhagen will thresh south of town and has already commenced on some winter rye. The best yield reported so far is from one grain load of winter rye from the Mosbeck Bros. farm which netted 24½ bushels. Oats seem to run satisfactory. The Soderberg-Bottleson rig has commenced working in the Aug. Johnson vicinity.

Carl Bloom and Thom Holten has secured shares in the Viking telephone company and the building a line from their farms to connect with the main line through the town.

Swen Swenson has spent all last week on real estate affairs at Newfolden and various other places.

The Cycle of Service

In its issue of June, 1920. Petroleum Age says:

"The announcement made May 25th, advancing the tank wagon prices of gasoline and kerosene in all Standard Oil Company (Indiana) territory was a disappointment to the oil men. They say the advance in the price of gasoline was less than was expected, or at least hoped for. The refiner is asking 23c for the cheapest straight-run, and this makes the cost to the jobber 25c in Chicago. To this must be added 3c for the cost of doing business. As a result the new price is still too low for a profit on gasoline."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) distributes through tank wagons and service stations, completing the cycle of service from refiner to consumer.

The present low price for gasoline in the Middle West is due in large measure to the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in refining and distributing its products.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains an elaborate research department, which has enabled it to increase the amount of high grade gasoline obtainable from crude oil.

The efficiency of the manufacturing department, plus the all but perfect system of distribution, enables the company to render an unique but necessary service to everyone in the Middle West who, either directly or indirectly, relies upon automotive machinery for power.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has maintained, and will continue to maintain, the lowest possible price for petroleum products consistent with proper security to its stockholders.

U-BOAT PRISONER TELLS EXPERIENCE

Officer of Ill-Fated U. S. S. Neptune Gives Story of Remarkable Adventure and Recovery.

Richard Cannon, Chief Petty Officer of the U. S. S. Neptune, whose dramatic capture at sea by a German U-Boat and subsequent experiences aboard the submarine and in a German prison hospital, thrilled the entire country, is still another world hero to test the remarkable reconstructive powers of Tanlac and give it his strong endorsement. Mr. Cannon's adventures were so harrowing that his constitution was completely shattered but after months of suffering he has now regained the wonderful health that enabled him to pull through his adventures alive and is today the same strapping two hundred pound fighter that embarked on the ill-fated collier. But let him tell his own story:

"When the Neptune was torpedoed off the Irish coast," said Mr. Cannon, who now lives at 707 E. LaFayette, Tampa, Fla., "I had my right leg and ribs broken by the explosion, and when I came to my senses I found myself on board a submarine bound for Germany. I was kept in a German prison hospital for five months, and you can imagine what I must have suffered when I tell you that I fell off in weight from two hundred and twenty-five to a hundred and thirty-one pounds. When I was repatriated and finally got my discharge in February, 1919, I was little better than a living skeleton. I had no appetite and my digestive system was so upset that what little I did eat always gave me severe pains in the pit of my stomach. Before I joined the service I never knew what nerves were, but after what I went through my nerves were so shattered that I couldn't keep still a minute, and the slightest thing upset me. For six months I continued in this condition, unable to pick up strength, and so weak that any attempt at work tired me out completely. I began to think that I should never be a well and strong man again.

"But the way Tanlac overcame my troubles and built me up was nothing short of marvelous. It gave me such an appetite that I wanted to eat all the while, and I sure did make up for lost time. I had no more bother with indigestion and from then on I picked up strength and put on weight until now I tip the beam at two hundred and four pounds and am as well and strong as I ever was before I joined the service. My nerves are as steady as a die and I'm like my old self again. Tanlac is certainly a grand medicine and I think every suffering person ought to try it."

Whooping Cough

"The disease I most dread is Whooping Cough, for children are often permanently injured by the awful straining of the cough. You should never neglect it, and treatment should be started at the first symptom. You cannot mistake the symptoms: protracted coughing, worse at night; peculiar whoop; labored expectoration of mucus; apparent suffocation after coughing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is a positive remedy for this disease—repeat the dose frequently, for if given freely it liquifies the tough mucus, makes it easy to expectorate and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. There is no danger whatever from Whooping Cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given."

MORE BUILDING IS PLANNED BY FAIR MANAGERS

Want Administration House and New Quarters For Poultry and Farm Products.

Proposed to Enlarge Woman's Department to Include Junior's Division.

Association in Good Shape Financially and Can Stand the Expansion.

So successful have the annual fairs of the Pennington County Agricultural society proven in late years that the directors consider themselves justified in taking rather elaborate steps in providing for the future. This year's fair was the best ever held and proved conclusively that anything done for the purpose of adding either to the convenience or attractiveness of the grounds and equipment insures certain returns.

At the directors' meeting held last week plans for next year were discussed and the first steps taken toward making the fair grounds and buildings the best to be found in this section. The plan includes the erection of an administration building, octogonal in shape, on the most convenient site on the grounds. Separate structures for the housing of poultry and farm products are also among the things needed and which are receiving the attention of the board. The woman's building has long been inadequate to meet the needs of this important department and it is proposed to add two wings, one to be used as a rest room and the other for the boys' and girls' exhibits.

While the association is in very good shape financially and might in a pinch undertake this expansion on its own hook, it was considered a better plan to ask the organizations most directly interested in the success of the fair to assist in securing the funds for carrying out the program. The Woman's club, Community Girls, Merchants association and Commercial club will in all likelihood later be requested to assist in putting the proposition across.

The old board fence surrounding the grounds has long been an eye sore to everyone who has passed the place. It is now proposed to erect a wire fence around the enfor automobiles and taxis as well as entrance and exit gates for those on foot. Whether or not this idea is carried out will depend largely on the availability of the materials required.

Live Stock Parades.

A feature of much interest at future fairs will probably be a parade of all the livestock entered for exhibition. The directors considered this proposition with much favor, deciding that in case the plan was carried out all exhibits would be awarded ribbons. Another matter discussed was the advisability of devoting one night of the fair to a display of fireworks.

Secretary G. Howard Smith stated that all the bills against the association had not yet been presented but he was of the opinion that between $2500 and $3000 had been cleared on the recent fair. The amount just about equals the indebtedness of the association. This is an excellent showing and, with the property assets, easily makes the stock worth $1.50 for every dollar's worth held.

As soon as all bills are in there will be another meeting at which there matters will be more freely discussed.

FARM BUREAU TO MAKE PLANS FOR BETTER MARKET

Scheme Formulated to Eliminate Speculation in the Fixing of Grain Prices.

National Co-Operative Association to Handle Grain and Livestock For Farmers.

Movement Inaugurated at Meeting of Farm Organizations Last Week in Chicago.

Active steps toward the formation of a great pan-American co-operative marketing organization to handle grain and livestock for farmers in United States and Canada were taken at a conference held last week in Chicago, under the auspices of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Over 500 persons, most of them representing one or more of the various independent co-operative organizations now in the field, discussed for two days, ways and means of bringing about a fusion of their varied interests into a conglomerate whole. As a result, J. H. Howard, president of the Federation, was empowered to appoint a committee of seventeen, which will be instructed to bring a concrete plan of action before another meeting which is to be held in January.

To Eliminate Speculator.

The aim of the organization will be to eliminate speculators and needless middlemen, who take an annual toll of $50,000,000; permit the farmer and his representatives to regulate the flow of grain and livestock to market so as to avoid price depressions, and to give to consumers a better product at a lower price through avoidance of the present wasteful and inefficient marketing methods.

Mr. Howard announced that it would take him some time to determine on the personnel of the committee, as he desired to put only men who are in a "co-operative frame of mind" to work on the gigantic task before them. It is certain, however, that men who are now engaged in co-operative marketing will be asked to serve. It is probable that the Department of Agriculture and the Federal Trade Commission will send delegates.

Monster Undertaking.

This is the largest undertaking that the National Federation has ever tackled. The movement was born at a meeting of secretaries and presidents of Mid-West state federations, held at Ames, Iowa, July 22 and 23. Minnesota was represented at this meeting.

Prominent organizations which had representatives at the conference were the various state farm bureau federations, the Equity Co-Operative Exchange of St. Paul, state and national Equity unions, state and national Granges, Farmers' unions and the National Board of Farm Organizations. More than two million farmers were represented.

Not in Market Business.

Mr. Howard, who presided at the conference, made it plain that the American Federation of Farm Bureaus did not want to go into the marketing business, but it does earnestly desire to further and assist in every way possible a movement that will remedy present injustices to which the farmer is subjected.

Benjamin B. Drake, attorney for the Equity Co-Operative Exchange, on his return to St. Paul said there was every prospect of a worth-while organization to grow out of the conference. "It will take time," he said, "but the goal toward which we are aiming cannot be attained in a week or ten days."

L. E. Potter of Springfield, a member of the executive board, was the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation's representative.

SOLVES PROBLEMS FOR NORTH FARMS

New Experiment Station at Grand Rapids Proves of Immense Value to Section.

The North Central Agricultural Experiment station at Grand Rapids, Minn., one of the six stations in the Minnesota system, is working out the answers to not a few problems of vital interest to the farmers of north central Minnesota. A report of progress has just appeared in the form of a bulletin covering the work of the station for the period from 1915-1919.

In this bulletin or report, Otto I. Berg, superintendent, describes numerous experiments. For example, he mentions a durum wheat, the Prelude, a very early short-strawed variety which surpasses the fife and the bluestem in hardiness and shows excellent qualities under milling tests. He also outlines results obtained to secure an early corn for the far north counties. The results have been encouraging as a certain strain of one corn is sufficiently early to produce seed in normal seasons, though as yet this corn cannot be recommended to be grown for ripe grain except on farms that are very favorably located. The author furthermore, describes a combination silage consisting of corn, sunflowers and soy beans which seems to give much promise. What can be done in increasing the productive efficiency of a dairy herd from common native stock is also outlined. The herd at Grand Rapids, which when started averaged 196 pounds of butterfat and less than 5,000 pounds of milk per cow annually now averages 358 pounds of butterfat and 7,184 pounds of milk.

CELEBRATION SOON FOR AGGIE SCHOOL

September 28 Chosen as Date For Notable Gathering at Crookston Institution.

Elaborate plans are being made for a Valley wide event of unusual interest and importance to be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture on September 28. The citizens of Crookston will be the sponsors and hosts to visitors from near and far who will attend the exercises planned for that day.

The occasion is the dedication of the Northwest School's Soldiers' Memorial, the formal opening of the school's new $100,000 dining hall and service building, and the acceptance by the state and county of the paved roadway leading from Crookston to the school's campus.

The memorial will be in place in time to be unveiled and dedicated to the eight boys who gave their lives and to the 153 others in the service. The alumni and former students of the school have subscribed funds for this monument.

Numerous organizations, state and valley wide in their scope, will participate in the celebration planned.

Former students and their friends will hold reunions at the school. When it is known that the former students now number nearly 1500 it will be seen that they reach into every county and community. Former service men will come from all the posts in the Valley. Other organizations will be present in the parade under consideration or be represented on the program. Many will wish to see the new dining hall building which is now nearly completed. The concrete roadway two miles long will be of interest to many.

As soon as committees get plans under way, further announcements will be made. Thus far only the date has been determined upon but it is in the minds of all that this noteworthy event shall be fittingly observed.

PUBLIC WARNED AGAINST UNFAIR PRICE BOOSTING

Legitimate Rise in Prices on Account of Freight Increase is Small.

Example Furnished by Showing Increase in Cost of Pair of Shoes.

New York—Declaring that the authorized increase in freight rates will, for example, legitimately add but from five to sixteen cents to the cost of a pair of shoes, Charles D. Orth, President of the National Security League, issued a warning to the public today to beware of profiteering as a result of the new schedules. Mr. Orth stated that there are undoubtedly many unscrupulous retailers who will immediately use the new rates as an excuse for making large increases in the price of every day commodities.

Mr. Orth's statement reads:

"Used as Excuse."

" 'Nine-tenths of wisdom is being wise in time.' For which reason, the National Security League wishes to warn the people that the increased freight rates recently authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission do not justify any rise in the prices of most of the things which the people use. There is a great danger, in the opinion of the League, that the freight rate increase will be used as an excuse or camouflage for still further advancing the High Cost of Living. To many people it will sound not only credible, but convincing, if shop keepers say they must advance the price on eggs or shoes, because the freight charges have been increased from 25 to 40 per cent. Taking the latter as an example, it will be seen that, as a matter of fact, the increase in freight rates might justify an advance of between five and sixteen cents on each pair of shoes. The explanation of this is as follows:

Shoes as Example.

"There are four freight movements of the leather in a pair of shoes.

(a) The hide from the stock farm to the slaughter house.

(b) The hide from the slaughter-house to the tanner.

(c) The leather from the tanner to the shoe-factory.

"As nearly as freight rates on an average haul can be approximated, each one of these movements costs, at the old rates, 75c per 100 lbs., or ¾c per pound. An increase of 25% in freight rates would therefore increase freights 18-¾c per 100 lbs., or 3-16c per pound.

"Assuming that five pounds of hide, equal to about four pounds of leather, go into a pair of shoes and that a completed pair of shoes weighs 4 lbs., the increased cost of same resulting from a 25% increase in freight-rates would be:

(a) 5 lbs. at 3-16c per lb., 15-16 of 1c
(b) 5 lbs. at 3-16c per lb., 15-16 of 1c
(c) 4 lbs. at 3-16c per lb., ¾ of 1c
(d) 4 lbs. at 3-16c per lb., ¾ of 1c
to which add, for freight on containers, say 1 lb. 3-16 of 1c
3 9-16 of 1c

or, to make it round figures, call it 4c, which would be the actual increased cost of the leather in a pair of shoes under a freight-rate advance of 25%. Allowing 1 cent (which is exhorbitant for the purpose) to cover the actual increased freight-rates on the other material in the shoe, the maximum increased cost would be 5 cents a pair, or 1% on a $5 pair of shoes.

"Assuming that the entire movement of hide, leather and shoes was in a district where the freights had been advanced 40% instead of 25% the increased cost still be only about 8c on a pair of shoes. If this sum is doubled to cover increased freight on coal, new machinery and other things which are used in a shoe factory, the maximum increase on a pair of shoes would be in the neighborhood of 16c a pair, or 2% on an $8 pair of shoes.

"The same principle applies to meat, eggs and butter, and practically everything else in which transportation by rail enters to any extent.

"The $1,500,000,000 advance in freight and passenger rates may seem a huge sum, but, when it is considered that this is not more than 2% on the annual production of the farms, factories and mines in the United States, a proper prospective can be obtained of how slightly the advance affects the cost and price of any particular commodity."

WORK ON PAVING JOB TO START NEXT WEEK; CURBS AND GUTTERS TO BE COMPLETED IN 2 MONTHS

Contractors Decide to Undertake This Part of Contract Without Waiting For Supreme Court Decision in Matter—Take Pay in Warrants.

Work of Paving Streets to Be Deferred Until Money From Sale of Bonds Becomes Available—Good Start Anticipated This Fall.

Thief River Falls is going to pave, and work on gutters and curbs will be under way within a few days. A representative of the concern holding this part of the paving contract appeared before the council Tuesday evening and expressed his willingness to go ahead with the work under existing conditions. He is willing to accept as payment city warrants and agrees to hold them until such time as the legal phase of the paving matter can be cleared up and money derived through the sale of bonds.

Contractors Present.

A. D. Hanson, president, and R. B. Collard, superintendent, of the Bithulitic Contracting company of Winnipeg, which holds the paving contract, were present at the meeting Tuesday evening and explained fully the position of the company with regard to the job.

Mr. Hanson stated that inasmuch as it was necessary that curbs and gutters be constructed before paving could be undertaken, he had made arrangements with Mr. Anderson, the subcontractor, to begin this part of the work at once. Mr. Anderson spoke briefly, stating he knew the conditions, but he considered the chance of an adverse decision from the supreme court very remote. He said he was willing to take this chance in order to get his part of the contract completed this fall. The councilmen, equally anxious to see actual work started soon, were glad to accept Mr. Anderson's proposal.

The Main Contract.

Just how soon paving of the streets can be started is not known at this time. Mr. Hanson stated that it would be necessary to wait until the supreme court rendered its decision so that bonds may be sold with which to finance the contract. He said his company was positive it would be taking no chances in going ahead with the work under the same conditions as the subcontractor but the size of the contract makes it impossible for the company to carry the financial burden.

To Speed Up Work.

It is considered likely that with an even chance on weather conditions and an early decision by the supreme court as to the legality of the procedure, a good start may be made with paving before winter sets in. Mr. Anderson informed the council that with anything like favorable weather it would be possible to complete the gutters and curbs in about two months, making it extremely probable that this part of the work will be entirely completed before winter sets in.

Putting in the gutters and curbs this fall will be of great advantage when the big job finally is undertaken in earnest. It will place the entire paving program a month or six weeks ahead of where it would otherwise be, with the result that all paving will be out of the way early in the summer.

No Streets Torn Up.

Putting in curbs and gutters will not in any way interfere with traffic. Mr. Anderson explained that very little excavating is necessary and the streets will be left in first class condition for travel immediately after the gutters are completed.

It also was explained that this work will not interfere with placing the new white way cables in position as these are to be put under the paving about six inches outside the curb. Suitable conduits leading to the standards will be provided by the workmen laying the gutters and curbs so that connections may be made at any time.

SLEEP COSTS MORE AFTER NEXT WEEK

People traveling entirely within the state of Minnesota will not be required to pay additional fare on account of the recent increase in rates allowed by the interstate commerce commission. This does not hold good in the matter of sleeping car accommodations, however, and on Sept. 1 the rate will be boosted 50 per cent, still carrying the 8 per cent war tax on the entire amount. The present rate to the Twin Cities is $2.50 plus the tax, making $2.70, while the new rate calls for $3.75 and tax, or a total of $4.05.

Passengers destined to points outside the state should bear in mind, however, that when tickets are purchased for interstate travel the recently granted increase becomes effective for the entire distance. It is therefore obvious that anyone going to Chicago, for instance, can save money by purchasing a ticket to St. Paul and then securing additional transportation from that point to Chicago. This makes the increase operative on only that part of the trip lying outside the state of Minnesota.

It is not known how long this condition will prevail as the matter is now in the courts for settlement. It is considered likely by the best authorities that railroads will be granted the increased fares upon intrastate and interstate business alike, in spite of the state law now existing to the contrary.

MODEL ICE CREAM PLANT COMPLETED

As will be seen by the announcement in another column of The Times today, the new ice cream factory of the Kiewel Products company in this city will be opened for public inspection on Saturday evening. Practically all the machinery is now in place and the ammonia plant is being tested out. When everything is in running order this will be one of the finest and most modern factories of its kind in the state.

Housed in a new brick building, 25x70 feet with full basement, the plant is equipped to turn out ice cream in its two freezers at the rate of 100 gallons per hour. The mixer has a capacity of 500 gallons and will only have to be filled twice each day in order to keep the freezers going at full speed. Two ice chippers will supply the packing rooms while the latter will be kept at the proper temperature by the ammonia system. A York ammonia pump in the basement will attend to circulation of the required amount of chilled atmosphere throughout every department. All other machinery required in an up-to-date plant will be in keeping with the principal items of equipment.

E. L. Helgeland, local manager for the Kiewel company, expects to be shipping ice cream early next week and as the Puritas brand already enjoys an enviable reputation throughout the section he is confident that the plant will soon be taxed to its utmost to supply the demand.

The factory will consume a large amount of raw material in the shape of cream and milk and thus provide another outlet for the products of the dairyman and farmer.

WHISKEY SMUGGLER ALMOST IN LOCKUP

Aroused from peaceful slumber at a local hotel and started for jail, a young Canadian last Saturday evening eluded the vigilance of the Soo detective who had him in charge and made his escape. The young man was picked up to answer to the charge of breaking the seal on a box car in the Soo yards a short time previous and removing therefrom what gave every indication of being two cases of Canadian whiskey.

While the detective was endeavoring to get in touch with Night Patrolman Smith to assist him in placing the suspect under lock and key the prisoner ducked and disappeared through an alley. The detective pulled his gun and fired at the fleeing man but evidently missed his mark as it did not cause the runner to hesitate.

The operation of breaking the seal on the car and removing the whiskey was witnessed by two yard men who at once notified the detective. Before chase could be given, however, the contraband had mysteriously disappeared and no trace of it could be found. Breaking a car seal is a serious offense and it was on this charge that the man was taken in tow. The young Canadian has been making frequent trips to this city during the summer and has been under suspicion of being instrumental in bringing considerable whiskey with him.

The smuggler got away by the skin of his teeth this time and it is not likely that he will put in an appearance again in the near future. Where the young man went is no more of a mystery than what became of the two cases of whiskey. It seemed to evaporate immediately after it was taken from the car and all trace of it vanished.

A. H. VERNON NAMED LEGION COMMANDER

Derby Anderson, delegate from Elmer Eklund post, Thief River Falls, to the American Legion state convention at Duluth, returned last week. The convention elected A. H. Vernon of Little Falls as state commander to succeed Harrison Fuller, and chose Winona as the place for the next convention.

Other officers named at the concluding sessions were: Joyce Lewis, wounded veteran of Long Prairie, first vice commander; Florence McNamara, Minneapolis, second vice commander; E. A. Walsh, Minneapolis, third vice commander; Rev. Wm. Harrington, St. Paul, chaplain; Dr. A. A. VanDyke, St. Paul, national committeeman; John Bowe, Canby; George Leach, Minneapolis; Ivan Bowen, Mankato; A. H. Vernon and Dr. VanDyke, delegates at large to the national convention. Miss McNamara's election came as the legion's recognition of women's war service.

Winona's selection as the scene of next year's convention was the result of a split between supporters of Virginia and Bemidji. The delegates witnessed a pageant celebrating the anniversary of Duluth's founding by Greysolon Sieur D'Lhut. Vice President Thomas R. Marshall was a guest of the Duluth legion post and, following the pageant, delivered an address to 3,000 persons.

CLEAR AUTO DRIVER OF SERIOUS CHARGE

Jury Says John Ostlund Was Not Intoxicated as Charged in Warrant.

John Ostlund was arrested last week on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, the warrant being sworn out by G. I. Fellman of St. Hilaire. The case was tried Saturday afternoon in municipal court before Judge N. W. Tarrant and a jury of 12 men. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, deeming the evidence insufficient to prove that Ostlund was drunk as charged in the warrant.

The incident which led up to the arrest occurred on Thursday evening, Aug. 5, at the entrance to the fair grounds in this city. Ostlund was driving from the grounds while Fellman was headed in the opposite direction. The two cars collided, causing considerable damage to both, but occupants of the machines escaped serious injury. Fellman maintained that Ostlund was intoxicated and swore out a warrant for his arrest.

The case consumed nearly all Saturday afternoon, 12 witnesses being summoned to tell what they knew concerning the matter. A jury composed of M. N. Benson, A. H. Akre, John Aas, W. W. Prichard, Jr., L. A. Lampert, A. S. Lieberman, Walter Jung, Carl B. Larson, Ed. Ness, Henry Froseth, Carl Evju and P. J. Bottem was called and returned a verdict as above stated. County Attorney Theo. Quale conducted the prosecution while Attorney H. O. Chommie appeared for Ostlund.

FIVE CHUMS DROWN IN RED LAKE RIVER

Five boys, ranging in age from 8 to 14 years, were drowned last Thursday in Red Lake river near Fisher. One of the boys, Thomas Anderson, 14 years old, stripped and plunged into the river to escape the blistering heat. He failed to reckon, however, with the treacherous current and soft bottom of Red Lake river and both dragged him down while he screamed for help.

His cries brought one of his companions, Theodore Olson, to his aid and the lad plunged in to save the life of his chum. The lad was powerless to aid as the current and quick sand treated him as they treated the Anderson boy. Then one by one the remaining three took off their clothes and jumped into the river to render aid. The third boy was Oscar Olson, 11 years old, who could not stand the sight of seeing his brother, Theodore, drowning. He, too, was dragged down by the sand and current, and the fourth boy, Ephraim Vattendahl, 11 years old, tried to come to the rescue by going into the water.

Even though only 8 years old, Maurice Vattendahl, who had stood on the bank and watched the struggles of his older companions, decided to reach out a hand for his older brother and three other boys. Unmindful of the danger he went in unflinchingly to save the four boys, who by this time were utterly exhausted from their struggles. He sank beneath the muddy waters into the clinging quick sand bottom.

The parents of the five boys all reside at Fisher and all efforts were being made by their neighbors to console them in their grief over the loss of their sons.

FIRST TRIP TO RED LAKE MADE WITHOUT HITCH

Six Heavily Laden Automobiles Get Through in Record Time Last Sunday.

A party of Thief River Falls citizens on Sunday demonstrated that it is quite possible to reach the Red lakes by auto and that the trip can be made in fair time and without discomfort. The members of the party also proved to their entire satisfaction that once the journey is over it is proven to have been decidedly worth while.

Six cars carrying capacity loads of passengers, grub and cooking utensils, started from town about seven o'clock, only one hour behind the time originally set—which was doing pretty well for the first attempt. A record run was made to Thorhult, when it became necessary to slow down somewhat. A short distance beyond this point a stretch of corduroy was encountered and for three miles navigation was very slow. Every car went through on its own power, however, and there was not an accident of any kind.

Interesting Ridge Run.

Leaving this stretch a fine hard ridge was encountered and followed clear to the shore of the lower lake, two miles above the outlet to Red Lake river. The actual running time to this point was about five hours. Here dinner was prepared, H. W. Protzeller acting as chef with Dr. H. W. Froehlich and E. O. Mogensen as chief assistants. During the preparation of the meal and particularly while such tasks as peeling spuds were in progress, the ladies sat around the shore talking politics while the kids went in swimming. Everyone did ample justice to a most appetizing dinner, the supply of grub having been supplemented by a string of fine pike purchased from an Indian living near the outlet.

Different Route Home.

There is no denying the fact that considerable road work will have to be done before the route taken by Sunday's party will become popular, but the cost of this need not be prohibitive. The three miles of corduroy could be put in passable shape in a short time and at an expense of not over $100 and there is already a movement on foot to raise this sum. Along the ridge the brush bordering the road would have to be cut away as it now rubs against the car and is hard on enamel. The opinion is very general that something should be done at once to make this route available until such time as the Red Lake Highway association can get its program of a road running straight east from Thief River Falls carried out. This will take a couple of years at least, no matter how smoothly things run, and in the meantime there is an enthusiastic demand for a line of communication.

In order to make the trip as complete as possible it was decided to return by another route. Crossing the new bridge at the outlet, where the remains of three good sized steamers are slowly rotting, an old logging road was followed to the Clearwater county line and thence to Berner, where supper was prepared—same cooks and general plan as at noon—Windsor, Trail and Oklee were passed to one side and a short stop made at Plummer, thence home.

It was a most enjoyable trip throughout and while the excursionists pleaded guilty to being tired all were well pleased with the day's outing. Speedometers showed that 165 miles had been covered and the only accidents recorded was the stripping of the muffler from the Bennes car when crossing a small culvert at Brener and a tire puncture on the Loken car when nearing home.

Much Interest Awakened.

The trip had the effect of stimulating interest in the proposed highway to the lakes and the matter will not be permitted to drop. The lake itself is a wonderful body of water, but few persons who have not actually seen it having any idea of its extent. The surface covers 440 square miles, the largest body of water wholly within one state in the country. The Indians are very friendly and willing to do everything in their power to get into closer touch with civilization.

Those making the trip were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Protzeller and children, Jane, Helen and Betty; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Connell and children, Janet and Geraldine; Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Loken and children, Muriel, Ione and Ruth; Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Froehlich and children, "Billy" and Clifford; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mogensen and daughter, Jeanette; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bennes and children, Lloyd and Esther; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ross and son, Richard, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Lampert and sons, Blair and Leonard, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Jr., and son, Jarvis; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stewart, Miss Mildred Owen, George Loken and T. J. Austad.

District School Census Shows Slight Increase

Miss Luella Peterson has just completed the school census for District No. 18 at the request of the board of education. Her figures show that there are at the present time 986 children between the ages of six and 16 in the district, an increase of 38 over last year.

This census is taken every year at the request of the state but is also of value in guiding the school board in making the necessary arrangements for taking care of those who will in all likelihood demand school facilities. The census is also an aid in checking up after enrollment as it enables the authorities to determine whether or not any are keeping their children out of school.

BURGLARS FOILED AFTER MUCH WORK

The first report of an attempted burglary in Thief River Falls for a long time was discovered by Loken Brothers on Monday afternoon. The burglars had attempted to gain an entrance to the place either on Saturday or Sunday night, but although the attempt was apparently determined, they were completely foiled.

An alley-way runs between the Loken place and the Lambert drug store, one door and a number of windows opening onto the space. The burglars had first tackled the door, removing the escutcheon and cutting a hole sufficiently large to permit of the lock being turned. Nothing was gained by this painstaking labor, however, there being a bolt on the inside to supplement the lock. The burglar could not very well be expected to know the location of this safety device, and he therefore gave up the door as a bad job.

Giving his attention next to the window he removed the strips holding the sash in place and was on a fair way to gain an entrance when something must have happened to scare him away. Marks of the tools used and the broken pieces of stripping prove that he was not going to give up without making another attempt.

No clue to the would-be thief has been found and the police as well as the store proprietors admit that there is but slight hope of the culprit being caught.

ELKS PLANNING BIG TIME NEXT SUNDAY

Everything pertaining to the Elks' picnic to be held at Squaw Point next Sunday has been attended to by the committees in charge and prospects are that it will be a highly successful affair. The first consideration in doings of this kind is the eats—and if anyone leaves this picnic in a famished condition he will have himself only to blame. Julien Provencher is in charge of the culinary arrangements and he has a reputation to maintain which he does not propose to jeopardize.

A picnic without special attractions for the kiddies would be no picnic at all. Knowing this, the entertainment committee has arranged a program overflowing with events in which the children are expected to participate. Everything from foot races to pie eating contests will be staged and it will be one grand and glorious time for the youngsters who are fortunate enough to be there.

The celebration is scheduled to start promptly at ten o'clock in order that the day's festivities may be brought to a close at four in the afternoon. This will make it possible for those at the picnic to attend the race meet at the fair grounds from four until eight o'clock. Dinner will be served promptly at 12:30 and the sports program is scheduled to begin at two. Automobiles will transport picnic visitors to the grounds from 9:30 until one o'clock, making the start from the Evelyn hotel corner.

Partridge May be Shot This Year; Chickens Nix

Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant says that he is asked 20 times a day whether or not the shooting of prairie chickens will be permitted this year and is surprised at the lack of knowledge on this subject shown in many ordinarily well informed quarters. Prairie chickens are protected at all seasons in Minnesota until Sept. 16, 1922—two years from now. Partridge, however, may be shot from Oct. 15 to Nov. 30 in every even-numbered year. This means that these birds may be taken this year but not in 1921. The limit for each hunter is five birds.

Reports from places where prairie chickens have in past years been plentiful are to the effect that they are rapidly multiplying under the protective laws of the state and that there will be a large supply available when the restriction is raised.

RACING DEMONS TO COMPETE IN GIGANTIC MEET

Automobiles, Motor Cycles and Airplanes to Compete in Thrilling Exhibition.

Fastest Riders, Drivers and Pilots in Entire Northwest Booked to Take Part.

Speed is the word and next Sunday is the day. The Thief River Falls fair grounds is the place and this is the opportunity of a lifetime to see some real speed events pulled off.

The racing meet and aerial exhibition to be staged under the auspices of Elmer Eklund post, American Legion, will be the greatest thing of its kind ever attempted in Northwestern Minnesota. Speed demons galore have been secured to furnish thrills, and exhibition flyers will do their share to keep things humming.

Great Racing Numbers.

A glance at the full page advertisement in this issue of The Times should be sufficient to convince the most skeptical that a racing program of more than ordinary merit is to be presented. Some of the fastest automobile and motor cycle riders in the northwest, will be on hand and the rivalry among them is said to be very keen.

Many of the drivers took part in the race meet held at Crookston last Sunday and those who witnessed these races are unanimous in their statements that it was a real speed event. Over 3,000 people were present at the Crookston races and, aside from a few minor accidents and spills, everything passed off without a hitch.

Kiewel Among Speeders.

Dewey Kiewel of Crookston, well known to Thief River speed fans, will take a prominent part in next Sunday's program. He has been entered for both the auto and motorcycle races and something fast may be expected. Kiewel took first money in the auto races at Crookston and was second under the wire in the motor cycle events. Practically all of the other riders and drivers who took part in the Crookston races will be here next Sunday—and it is an aggregation hard to beat.

Another fast driver who has proved his right to a place in the racing world is J. Stolpe of Winnipeg, driving a Henderson special. He won the ten-mile race at Crookston and showed real class in other events. Speed Johnson of Fargo, an exceptionally daring motor cycle driver, will likely furnish some thrills. He had three bad spills at Crookston but escaped without serious injury.

An Unusual Event.

A novelty race has been arranged, in which the winner of the auto races and motor cycle events will contest with an airplane for honors. This race alone will be worth coming a long distance to see. Another number of much interest is the three-mile race for stock Ford cars. One of the requirements is that each car must come to a complete stop after each lap, after which the driver must dismount, crank his car and make a new start. This race will no doubt furnish heaps of excitement.

Program at Four O'Clock.

The racing program has been scheduled to start promptly at four o'clock and will continue until eight. Admission will be 75 cents plus war tax. Children under 15 will be admitted for 40 cents plus war tax, while autos and grandstand will be free.

A great deal of work has been done on the race track during the past week and those having the matter in charge give assurance that it will be in excellent shape for the races next Sunday.

RED LAKE COUNTY FAIR DATES NAMED

Machinery Set in Motion For Biggest Event Ever Held in County.

Dates for the Red Lake county fair have been announced and the event will this year be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 and 2. Special attractions are being booked and everything will be ready for the three big days when the management of the fair announces that the gates are open.

The premium books will be in the hands of exhibitors within a few days and people of Red Lake and surrounding counties are urged to look it over and decide on a big exhibit. It is realized that the success of county fairs is in large measure due to the co-operation of exhibitors and the fair management urges everyone to submit liberally to the exhibit department.

Red Lake county has raised a bumper crop this year and the forthcoming fair promises to be unusually successful. Thief River Falls has always been well represented at the county fairs of its neighbors to the south and this event will likely prove no exception.

SURVEY PROVES NINTH DISTRICT IN FINE SHAPE

Wheat Crop Badly Damaged By Rust in Several Sections Throughout State.

General Conditions Much Improved Over Last Year and Optimism Prevails.

Despite a reduced wheat crop and unsatisfactory prices for wool and for cattle, the sunshine of prosperity has not neglected a single county of Minnesota this summer. Tremendous successes of diversified activities and aggressive campaigns for road and municipal improvements, are reflected in the weekly survey of conditions in every section of the state, which was prepared by the Merchants National Bank of St. Paul and the Merchants National Bank of Crookston.

The review, grouping counties into congressional districts, covers agricultural, commercial, industrial, civic, rural and municipal activities. Outstanding features of the reports are these:

Wheat Yield Affected.

Corn and oats, with scattering exceptions, were in splendid condition on Aug. 17, when the report was compiled. Wheat, which promised a generous yield in June, was sharply reduced by drought or by rust. Most of the counties indicated wheat would not yield more than 10 bushels to the acre.

Farmers thruout Minnesota are holding their cattle for higher prices. Wool raisers in many counties have pooled their holdings and will store the wool with the hope that the dead market may come to life.

Farm labor was adequate in 90 per cent of the counties but farmers operated with less help than they used when labor was cheap. Southern counties reported shortage of farm labor. Wages averaged from 50 to 70 cents an hour. Many farmers helped support baseball teams.

Bank deposits, with few exceptions, showed decrease, and loans were very heavy.

Babcock Plan Endorsed.

The Babcock good roads plan has won general endorsement. Automobile travel on the main highways broke all records and gasoline purchases in small towns were from 50 to 300 per cent greater than last summer. Shortage of cement affected road building.

Real estate and building activities have been generally light but a number of important farm transactions were closed recently. Land brought as high as $300 an acre.

Forest fires in the north caused some damage. Wolves have been destructive here and there. Tramps bothered Southern Minnesota farmers while I. W. W. itinerants were reported in Northern counties.

Summer resort business has been brisk. The state's Ten Thousand Lakes proved a prime attraction. Hotel keepers seem inclined to "go stronger" on advertising next year.

Marshall county—Crops fair over 80 per cent harvested. Some building at Warren. Roads excellent. Stock and grain improvement work.

Roseau County—(Banking conditions almost normal; loans not extra heavy). Considerable building. Farmers complaining of low prices for wool and cattle. Roads in fair shape but need better care.

Pennington County O. K.

Pennington County—Much wheat escaped rust; crops fine. Sugar beets splendid. Farm sales increasing with Iowa inquiries. Aggressive livestock development work. Fall plowing has started. Flood control survey being made.

Polk County—Wheat spotty. Deposits decreased. Barns and silos being built. Not a vacant house in Crookston. Rain saved the potato crop. J. E. Harris of Melstone, Mont. bought 1,600 acre tract near Crookston for $123,000. Will raise blooded stock.

Red Lake County—Rust affected wheat. Other crops good. Ideal harvest weather. Moderate movement in farm lands. Over supply of farm labor. Some went to North Dakota. Wool a drug on the market.

Otter Tail County—Work started on $120,000 good roads contract between Perham and Otter Tail. First wheat threshed eight bushels to the acre.

Norman County—About 50 per cent wheat crop. Other grains vary greatly throughout county with many fine yields. Drought reduced others.

And Now They Are Taking Traffic Census Here Also

In order to determine the actual traffic passing over the several roads leading into Thief River Falls, checkers have been busy during the past week keeping track of the number of automobiles and other vehicles passing a given point. The information thus gained is to be used in determining the amount of improvement to which each road is entitled, the stretches of road showing the greatest amount of traffic coming in for the greatest share of attention in the matter of improvement. The work of checking in this vicinity will likely cover a period of a week or ten days.

SEN. W. G. HARDING TO SPEAK AT FAIR

Republican Presidential Candidate Scheduled For Talk on Wednesday, Sept. 8.

Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for president, is to speak at the Minnesota State fair, Wednesday, Sept. 8. It is the only fair in America at which Harding will speak this year.

His address at the Minnesota State fair will be a key-note speech on the attitude of the Republican party towards the American farmer. It has been Mr. Harding's belief that a speech on agriculture in a techinal way should be given in an official manner early in the campaign and that this address should be delivered at some place in the west where agriculture is paramount. Both Mr. Harding and the Republican National committee are of the opinion that no better place could be chosen for this address than the Minnesota State fair.

The official record for daily attendance at the Minnesota State fair was established on Labor Day in 1919, when 187,000 persons passed the turnstiles. It is believed that fully that number of people will avail themselves of their only chance to see and hear the Republican candidate for president. Mr. Harding will leave Marion, O., for the Twin Cities, Tuesday, Sept. 7, arriving Wednesday morning. He will be the guest of the state fair the entire day, and deliver his important address on the fair grounds. He will leave the same evening for his home, arriving at Marion on Thursday.

PEAT BRUSH FIRES SERIOUS SAYS COX

State Forester Tells of Losses Suffered By Settlers in Northern Minnesota.

The peat and brush fire situation in Northwestern Minnesota is serious but not necessarily alarming, W. T. Cox, state forester said late Friday on his return to St. Paul after an inspection tour through the fire districts. The forester declined to state whether he will ask the state board of relief for additional emergency funds for fire fighting.

"Many of the fires have been put out," said Mr. Cox, "but some new ones are springing up and close watch must be maintained. Members of the relief board have given assurances that necessary funds will be supplied and systematic efforts are being made to protect the settlers and property.

"The fires are continuing, however, and the vegetation is steadily becoming drier. A killing frost will add to the danger of serious fires. Settlers are fighting fires and saving much property, but in many instances to the detriment of their crops which they are unable to find time to harvest."

The forester told of reports of fire losses reaching him on his tour. One was to the effect that a settler living 10 miles south of Baudette on the Rapid river had lost his buildings, stock and crops, and in abandoning them hastily with his family had left behind $800 in currency which also was burned.

Many fields of grain have been swept, these ranging from 40 to 80 acres each, he said. He saw flames run over a field of oats which would have yielded 50 bushels an acre, he said.

Many of the fires are blamed to land owners who cause them to be started believing that the land will be benefited.

A ROAD TO THE LAKE.

Every resident of Pennington, Marshall and Red Lake counties should become a member of the Red Lake Highway association, the organization launched at the Warren meeting last week. Particularly is Pennington county interested in this matter as most of the travel will of necessity be over the roads and thru the towns of that community. Our people must take the lead as they are by far the most interested in the success of the project.

The Red Lakes are destined within a very short time to become the outing point for the people of northwestern Minnesota. No other body of water is so easy of access and none in the neighborhood offers so many attractions. The area of the lakes—440 square miles—provides ample room for cruising while no more favored spot for campers could be found. There are probably no better fishing grounds in half a dozen states while the beach at certain points is ideal for bathing. The only reason why these lakes have not long before this been brought to the attention of the country as a summer resort with but few equals, is their inaccessibility and the fact that the surrounding country is Indian reservation. This last fact may easily prove an asset now that our Indians are becoming fewer and more scattered.

In order to reach the nearest point on the lake the construction of about 26 miles of highway will be necessary. This will not take the traveler to the most picturesque point on this interesting body of water, but it will place him in a position to get there without much trouble. The most direct road would terminate at the lake about two miles above the spit of land dividing the Upper and Lower lakes on the west, and auto travel is possible along the shore for some distance from there on. That is a detail of minor importance anyway.

In their enthusiasm over the recreation possibilities of the Red Lakes it may be that the commercial value of a road such as that proposed will be overlooked. The Indians have long wanted an outlet to the west, this being the natural way for them to reach market. They stand ready to foot the bill for putting the road through the reservation and have asked permission of the department to do so. Congressman Steenerson has been working on the proposition for some time and has been assured that there will be no objections raised. If their request is granted and the road built it will place them within an hour's run of the railroad terminal at Goodridge, a fact which alone warrants its immediate construction. Hay, timber products and fish are the items of greatest value now being shipped from the reservation and the Indians residing to the west of the village of Red Lake have no way of getting their products out except at very heavy expense. An outlet to the west would be a great convenience and act as a stimulous to the rapid agricultural development of that section.

Membership in this highway association costs one dollar and there should be a thousand members in Pennington county alone—five hundred in Thief River Falls. It is the most important proposition we have to deal with at this particular time.

HELP THE LEGION.

The racing and airplane program to be put on by Elmer J. Eklund Post of the American Legion at the fair grounds in this city on Sunday afternoon is so unusual that it should bring out a record crowd. It is by far the most sensational and elaborate meet of its kind ever scheduled for the Northwest and it is doubtful if even the larger cities have seen anything better. The flyers and racers are all men of national reputation, all of them returned service men who distinguished themselves by their exploits while in the army.

It costs a lot of money to provide our people with an entertainment of this kind and as any surplus after the expenses are paid goes to the general Legion fund the patronage should be most liberal. The boys need the money and are employing about the only means at hand for raising it. They do not wish to ask for anything in the way of donations and have, therefore made arrangements to give the spectator a great deal more than he pays for.

Four hours of the most spectacular entertainment imaginable at a cost of twenty cents per hour for adults and less than that for children. You simply can't beat it.

OBSERVATIONS

(Bill Noonan in Baudette Region.)

One bad feature about this year's Baudette fair is that it looks as if it isn't going to be held.

There is a Baudette lad who knows how to get 25 miles out of a gallon and 8,000 miles out of a set of tires. He doesn't own a car.

The Importance of Grass.

(Exchange.)

Did you know that in 1916 the United States hay crop just about equalled the wheat crop in value?

Or the cotton crop?

Hay probably beats spuds two to one in annual value.

Aristocratic taste, that's all.

Yet grass is the most democratic of crops.

Grass grows anywhere.

Everywhere except in your lawn.

Chances are that every spring you sow carefully selected, washed, assorted and guaranteed lawn seed and what comes up?

Chick-weed, plaintain, dandelion, dock, sour-grass, butter-weed, mustard, milk-weed, feather-weed and a score, or a thousand nameless weeds.

They wrap their roots around the axis of the earth and defy you.

Yet the farmer grows hay successfully!

No Profiteering In Oil

THE Federal Trade Commission in its report to Congress, emphasized the point that the recent advances in prices of crude and refined oils were a natural result of increased demand, coupled with the difficulty experienced by the oil companies in getting adequate supplies of crude.

Other factors contributing were increased costs of drilling, producing and operating generally; also the influence of the unfavorable developments in Mexico in the last few months.

The official statement of the commission is refreshing to those who are familiar with the conditions.

Not only does no profiteering exist at the present time, but facts demonstrate that there has been no disposition on the part of the oil industry to take advantage of any of the circumstances which might have justified price advances.

During the war, the entire petroleum industry united to hold down prices, even at the risk of actual loss.

The value to the public of such a highly trained organization as that maintained by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is obvious. Anticipating and preparing for difficulties in refining and distribution of petroleum products, are some of the functions of this Company.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop is Leader Among Women Politicians

That Mrs. J. M. Bishop of Thief River Falls is taking a leading part in the state Republican women's organization is evidenced by the fact that she has recently been named vice chairman of the state women's committee, and given charge of all work in the state outside of Hennepin and Ramsey counties. Mrs. Bishop also is chairman of the Ninth district organization. Mrs. Charles A. Reed of Minneapolis has been placed in charge of Hennepin county, while Miss Keith Clark has been chosen to have charge of the Ramsey county work as third vice chairman.

Mrs. Bishop's picture was published in Sunday's Minneapolis Journal, in a group with four other leaders in the work. The women's organization is planning a very active campaign and Mrs. Bishop will devote her entire time to the work from now until election.

"Bringing Up Father" Coming in the Movies

Manager H. A. Brumund of the Thief River Theatre company, returned Saturday evening from St. Paul where he had been for the purpose of booking the latest pictures, being particularly anxious to secure something new and different in the line of comedies. He was successful in having his houses assigned as among those which are to show the latest scream-producer, "Bringing Up Father," made famous in cartoons by McManus. Everybody knows Mr. Jiggs and his wife, Maggie, and if the pictures are as funny as the cartoons their success is assured from the start. Mr. Brumund is unable to state just on what date the first of these pictures will appear.

The First National circuit, which includes both the Lyceum and Princess in this city, will produce 60 pictures during the coming year, each one a masterpiece, and these will be shown at the local houses. The Paramount-Artcraft people are planning on 100 pictures during the same period, most of which will be shown here. Two productions, said to be the greatest in all motion picture history, will soon be released by the Paramount-Artcraft, and Mr. Brumund was successful in securing both at an early date. One is called "Humoresque" and the other "Something to Think About." Both are staged by all-star casts.

A Proof of Stamina

Ask any of those who went on the trip to Red Lake last Sunday concerning the performance of the Maxwell car. This was the only four cylinder machine in the lot but it was never stuck and never hesitated where the heavier high-power cars were sometimes taxed to their utmost. The Maxwell was the talk of the excursionists. We have a right to feel proud of the record made by this machine under the severest tests.

Let us tell you more about the Maxwell and point out some of its exclusive features.

We have a number of cars on hand and can deliver at once.

I Owe My Life to PE-RU-NA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me. Traveling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while plying my trade as auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part settled on my lungs. When almost too late, I began doctoring, but without avail, until I heard of Peruna. It cured me; so I cannot praise it too highly."

It Cured Me

LINDBERGH TO TRY FOR CONGRESS JOB

Will Run as Independent Candidate in Sixth District, it is Announced.

Chas. A. Lindbergh, candidate of the Nonpartisans for governor two years ago, has been selected to make the race for congress in the Sixth district as an independent, it was announced last week, following the adjournment of a district convention of the farmer-labor groups at Brainerd.

His endorsement and announcement of acceptance means that the Nonpartisan and labor elements of Minnesota will have a candidate for congress in each of the ten districts of the state except the Second. No candidate has yet been endorsed in the Fifth, but it is expected that Lynn Thompson, nominee on the Farmer-Labor party ticket, will receive the endorsement of the Hennepin county branch of the Working Peoples Nonpartisan Political league, carrying with it the support of organized labor.

SHORT DIRT TRACK AUTO RACES THRILL

Fair Events More Fascinating Than Long Distances—Disbrow Holds Record.

Although automobile speedway racing has not proved successful in this country, except in the case of the Indianapolis and Los Angeles speedways, dirt track racing continues to fascinate the public. The shorter races over mile and half-mile tracks seem to be far more interesting to the public than a long, tiresome grind of [illegible] or 500 miles. For this reason, two days of auto races are scheduled for the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 11.

It is now nearly two decades since automobile racing became a fair attraction, but new records have been hung up year after year, and interest has not waned.

While many persons attend automobile races out of morbid curiosity, hoping to be present when something "happens," a great majority of the visitors are auto racing fans, many of whom have never missed a local program.

Louis Disbrow is the holder of the one-mile circular dirt track record. He drove it in :46:20 in his Simplex Zip at St. Louis, August 8, 1914. Disbrow holds the two, four, five and ten-mile records, too. He drove two miles in [illegible] the same day he established his mile mark. The other three records were made at Cleveland, Sept. 14, 1912. The time for four miles was [illegible]; five miles, 4:06:58; and 10 miles, 8:17:02.

Sig. Haugdahl and his Fiat speeder hold the three-mile record, made on the Hamline track, Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4, 1918. The time was [illegible].

Large Saving to Farmers Effected By Co-Operatives

Cooperative farmers' associations in the Northern and Western states, whose organization was promoted by county agents, last year effected a saving to the members of $5,434,000, according to reports made to the States Relations Service, United States Department of Agriculture. The governing principle in all activities on the part of county agents sharing in cooperative movements has been not to act as the direct business agent of the farmers or an organized group, but to assist farmers in determining what form of local organization is desirable and to secure expert assistance, when available, in organization methods. The county agent also helps guard the community against overorganization and wherever practicable advocates the use of existing agencies. The cooperative associations which the county agents have helped form have had to do both with production and distribution and handle cooperative grain elevators, creameries, and live-stock selling associations.

DIVISION OF POLK COUNTY PROPOSED

McIntosh and Fosston Each Have Designs to Secure County Seat Honors.

Another effort to divide Polk county is to be expected, according to reports from the eastern end of the county. McIntosh and Fosston have both long had aspirations to become county seats and were it not for the fact that neither is willing that the other should be it, a division might have been probable some time ago.

Both places are again preparing to try to get a division effected at the coming session of the legislature and both view themselves as the only logical location for the county seat. The fact that both are equally good towns, well situated toward the center of the proposed new division, will still serve to make a decision either way unacceptable to the other.

Crookston does not propose to lie down and let the county be divided without entering a vigorous protest. Crookston is the metropolis of the county, has excellent railroad facilities and is easily accessible from all parts of the county as at present constituted.

Polk county is very large, however, when compared to surrounding counties, and many feel that a division would be advisable and desirable. A county seat fight is always an interesting scrap and the proposal to dissect Polk will not likely prove an exception to the rule.

DROP DURING JULY IN COST OF LIVING

Labor Department Report Reveals Decline in Prices in United States.

Wholesale prices of commodities declined approximately 2½ per cent during July in the United States, according to a report by the Department of Labor.

The decrease in cloths and clothing materials was the most notable shown in the department's list of index numbers, amounting to 5½ per cent, while foodstuffs declined 4 per cent and farm products generally 2.9 per cent.

At this point, the department reported, prices were still above levels of July, 1919, food articles having increased during the year 24.1 per cent. Fuel and lighting materials were products which showed no decrease during July, 1920, according to the department's statistics, but on the contrary increased by 2½ per cent, making their current level the more disproportionate to other commodities.

FIRE DESTROYS TWO AUTOS AND GRANARY

Blaze on Bourdon Farm Near Red Lake Falls Does Considerable Damage.

Fire was discovered about 3:30 Tuesday afternoon in the granary and garage on the R. H. Bourdon farm, probably better known as the A. L. Flage farm, four miles east of the city Tuesday afternoon, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette. The cause of the fire is unknown as no one had been near the building during the day and when discovered had made such headway that it was impossible to enter the building.

Two Chevrolet cars, the property of George and Will Marcotte, tenants of the farm, were in the building and were completely destroyed. It was only thru the untiring efforts of the neighbors, who had organized a bucket brigade that the flames were kept from spreading and destroying the barn.

The heaviest losers in the blaze were the Marcotte brothers who lost their cars, they being uninsured.

What is the big idea?

MEN have all kinds of reasons for liking Spur Cigarettes. Some like them because they're mighty classy-looking—that brown-and-silver package is an eye-winner. Some like them because the paper is crimped—no paste to taste. Some like them because they're a full-packed cigarette—nothing "skinny" about them. Some like Spurs because they're twenty for twenty cents—the rock-bottom price for the highest possible quality.

But what they all think about and pass along is that they have found at last a cigarette with that good old tobacco taste that lingers in the memory.

Yes, sir, you can sure taste the good Oriental and home-grown tobaccos—and that's the big idea back of Spur Cigarettes.

Now, folks, just don't wait, but try a package of Spur Cigarettes today. It's not as though you were buying a limousine. And if you do find in Spur the cigarette you have been wanting—something that just strikes the spot—it will be the best buy you've made since Hector was a pup.

LEAGUE LEADERS TO APPEAL CONVICTION

A. C. Townley and Jos. Gilbert Take Jackson County Case to Supreme Court.

A. C. Townley and Joseph Gilbert, Nonpartisan league leaders, this week appealed to the state supreme court from their conviction in Jackson county on a disloyalty charge. The case may be heard in November. The men are under a sentence of 90 days in the Jackson county jail.

The appeal is from the order of Judge E. C. Dean of the Jackson county district court, denying the joint motion on behalf of Townley and Gilbert for a new trial. The motion is based upon contentions that the verdict is not justified by the evidence and is contrary to law and on 110 assignments of errors at the trial.

The appeal bond for $1,000 filed by Herman Mueller, clerk of the supreme court, has as sureties A. P. VanDam and Matt Gentry and is approved by Judge Dean.

To Distill Turpentine.

Distillation of turpentine has begun at the new plant just being completed on the Douglas mill site, near Lake Irvine, by the Stellar company and within the next few days Bemidji will become the shipping point of a new product, or rather for several products, including creosote, pine oil, resin oil, boiled tar and charcoal. Work of construction on the plant was begun only a few months ago and is now nearly completed. The plant will be run continuously, night and day, seven days a week, provided a sufficient quantity of Norway pine stumps can be kept on hand. The process being used at this plant for the manufacture of turpentine and its byproducts is known as the restructive process.

"WAS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD"

"If everybody knew how much good Tanlac has done me there isn't any one who wouldn't think as I do—that it is worth its weight in gold and should be in every home," said Gust Kirchiff, 493 West Central avenue, St. Paul, Minn., an employee of the Foote-Schulz Shoe Company.

"When I started taking Tanlac I had been suffering from spells of nervous indigestion for the past eleven years. Whenever these spells came on me I would bloat up something awful for two or three days at a time and have intense sharp, shooting pains in the region of my heart. These attacks always left me in a very weakened condition and I was unable to work for several days following them. Many a night I would walk the floor in agony that was almost unbearable, and I could never get a good night's sleep; for when I wasn't lying awake with pain I would toss and roll from one side of the bed to the other on account of nervousness, and always got up feeling tired and worn out. I was also very constipated and frequently had severe nervous headaches, and was in a badly run-down condition generally.

"Since I began taking Tanlac, however, all my troubles are things of the past. It has built me up and strengthened me so that my work doesn't tire me any more. I never have a headache and my stomach is in splendid condition. I havn't had an attack of nervous indigestion since I started taking Tanlac, and my appetite is so good I can hardly get enough to eat. I have been telling everybody I could about Tanlac, but I know I can't speak to everybody personally, so I am glad of this opportunity to tell others what a grand medicine I think Tanlac is."

GOVERNMENT NEEDS MANY RATE CLERKS

Increase in Freight and Passenger Rates Makes Augmented Forces Necessary.

In a statement issued by the United States Civil Service commission it is said that the recently authorized general increase in freight and passenger rates, following the wage increase of railway employees, requires the Interstate Commerce commission to add scores of expert freight and passenger rate clerks to its present force.

The Civil Service commission states that to fill these positions, examinations will be held throughout the country on September 22 and October 20 for tariff-examiners under the Interstate Commerce commission. The usual entrance salary is $1,620 a year, besides which appointees whose services are satisfactory will be allowed the increase of $20 a month granted by congress. The higher administrative positions in connection with tariffs will be filled through promotion.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the Civil Service commission at Washington, or from the secretary of the U. S. Civil Service board at the post office or customhouse in any city.

Wholesale Candy Concern Starts Out For Business

R. M. Carlson, manager of the Thief River Candy company's plant, has been busy during the past week unpacking the stock and arranging it in the Smith building on Main avenue. This concern will handle high grade candies of all kinds, having taken the exclusive agency for some of the most famous brands in the country. Edward Carlson, father, and Irving, a brother of the resident manager, are expected to arrive in a few days for the purpose of making Thief River Falls their home. The family has purchased the Herman Anderson property at 717 North Main and will at once proceed with the work of making it thoroughly modern.

The Carlsons are men of long experience in the candy business and selected Thief River Falls as their distributing point after carefully investigating the advantages claimed by many other places. They are business men of excellent standing and with the high quality of the goods they handle should make a success of the venture from the outset.

If You Want Roofing Protection Buy Certain-teed

Cheese cloth will cover your building, but you want more than covering. You want protection and you want it to last.

Everybody wants long-lived protection. That is why so many people buy Certain-teed Roofing instead of unknown private brands.

You know that Certain-teed is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight. And you know that the Certain-teed reputation will never be risked on a roll of inferior roofing.

Certain-teed Sold on a Fair Basis

Any reliable dealer can sell Certain-teed, but some prefer to sell private brands. In many cases this preference is due to the fact that the dealer can take a longer profit on the private brand. Of course, you pay long profits when you buy from dealers who believe in such practices.

The Certain-teed dealer gets a fair profit, but he cannot stretch it, because so many dealers are selling it on fair margins everywhere.

Buy Certain-teed Roofing—it is guaranteed—its reputation is based on performance—it has never been known to wear out on the roof—it is sold on a fair basis.

Any responsible dealer can get it for you quickly from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or jobber. He gets it when he wants it and he gets what he wants. He can afford to sell you at a fair price.

Certain-teed

Beware of the dealer who tells you he has Certain-teed, but tries to sell you a private brand. He probably wants a bigger profit.

Panama and the Canal.

Passengers aboard ships navigating the Panama Canal cannot fail to be impressed with the magnificence of the giant undertaking. Through deep gorges into beautiful lakes, the trip is an ever changing panorama. Americans can feel justly proud of this great engineering feat, for while foreigners wrote books, submitted plans and talked about the possibilities of building the canal, it took Yankee grit and determination to put the plans in operation and successfully carry them out.

Many obstacles had to be overcome, perhaps the greatest being efficient sanitation. Streams were traced to their source and made sanitary. American sanitation methods have practically eradicated yellow fever and malaria. Today the Canal Zone is a clean and healthy place to live, the streets are clean and the sewerage system is excellent.

A few days ago the midshipmen from the Naval Academy passed thru the Canal on their return voyage from Honolulu and the West Coast. The photograph above, taken from an aeroplane shows one of the United States battleships approaching Culebra Cut, which often blocked the Canal by sliding into it. However, by continually dredging and digging it away this last obstacle has been finally overcome.

The Canal is a strip of territory about ten miles wide and fifty miles long, located in the center of the Republic of Panama. The general direction of the Canal is nor'northwest and so'southwest, the Panama entrance being 23 miles to the eastward of the Atlantic.

Dead Town Stays Dead

(Copyright.)

There is nothing deader than a dead town. Try as hard as it may to conceal the facts, the truth is written all over it so that he who runs may read. No camouflage of bluff and bluster can conceal the true situation from anyone who comes within the limits of the community. A dead town is dead and that's all there is to it.

The worst of it is that once a town dies it stays dead. There have been exceptional cases in which dead towns have been revived, have taken on new life and prospered, but these are merely the exceptions that prove the rule.

The fact that a town can seldom "come back" is easily explained. The growing and prosperous town today is the one that can attract new residents and new capital. It is one that can offer attractive inducements for the location of new industries. The dead town offers no attraction to outside capital. A man looking for a place to launch a new business or a new location for an old industry, is not going to pick out a dead town. He is going to select a town in which money is plentiful, a town whose business men are progressive and whose residents, as a whole, are prosperous and contented. There are too many live and thriving towns in the world for a man to risk his future in one that is dead. This is the reason that a town, once dead, almost always remains dead.

Town Like Corporation.

There is just one thing, ordinarily, that kills a town in the first place and that is a lack of money. A town is just like a corporation and the money possessed by its inhabitants is its capital. If this capital is depleted the town will fail just as the corporation whose capital is depleted through poor management or other causes, fails. And just as the corporation which has once failed can seldom retrieve its lost fortune, the town which has failed cannot often "come back."

The capital of a community is depleted when its money is spent away from home in a way that brings no return benefit to the community. It takes no great amount of thought to be able to realize that the town, like the individual, cannot last long if it is paying out more money than it takes in. That does not mean that a prosperous town is one in which the people do not spend any money. On the contrary, a prosperous town is one in which the people do spend money but it is one in which they spend the money at home. As long as the money is spent at home, the town gains by having it kept in circulation, but when it is spent away from home, either by being sent to the mail order houses or by shopping trips to other cities, the town's capital is impaired to that extent and if enough money is spent away from home in that way, the town collapses and virtually goes into bankruptcy, just as does the corporation which dissipates its capital.

The people of a community are apt to overlook the fact that they are stockholders in their town and that their fortunes are bound up with those of the community as a whole. They do not realize that if their town fails they will fail with it. They—or many of them at least—send their money away to the mail order houses in the great cities, without realizing that they are impairing the capital of their own corporation and that if enough of them pursue that course they will force their corporation into certain bankruptcy.

Merchants Not Only Ones Hurt.

Many customers of mail order houses say that they are under no obligation to trade with their home merchants and this may be true. They overlook the fact that the business men of a town do much for their community and are entitled, in return for what they do, to the support of the people in the community, but leaving this out of consideration, they overlook the fact that they are bringing about their own downfall when they drain their town of its money—its capital.

The home merchant will not be the only one that will be hurt when the town "goes broke." The merchant can reduce his stock and cut down his expenses and get along some way or he can sell out and move to some other town which has not been so blind to its own welfare. It is the great body of the people of the community including all those who have sent their money away to other cities instead of spending it at home, that suffers most when the hard times come.

The time for all the people to pull together for a live town is while the town is still live and not after it is dead, for when a town dies it is a long time dead—if not forever.

Is Your Blood Starving For Want of Iron?

Without Plenty of Iron In Your Blood You Don't Get the Strength and Nourishment Out of the Food You Eat

When over-work, lack of sleep, improper food and impure air sap the iron from your blood and make you feel weak, nervous, irritable and out-of-sorts, it is important that you should at once put more iron into your blood. Without iron the blood loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing that you eat does you the proper amount of good because you don't get the full strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. Because of this steady starvation of the blood and nerves people often become weakened, tired-out, nervous and rundown and frequently develop all sorts of symptoms. But the moment organic iron—Nuxated Iron—is supplied a multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear in most cases, the flesh becomes firmer, the muscles get back their strength and the roses of health bloom in cheeks that were pale and sickly looking.

No matter what other so-called remedies you may have tried, if you are not strong, vigorous, hearty and well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next, take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. You can obtain Nuxated Iron from your druggist on the distinct understanding that if you are not fully satisfied your money will be refunded.

THE women should certainly be thankful for the automobile. It has given them a chance to see a lot more of their husbands.

But it has done a great deal more than that.

It has brought people closer together, given them new interests, swept away old prejudices.

What affects one man now generally affects a good many of his neighbors in the same way. And they have a better chance to get together and talk things over.

III

It's had its effect on the tire business.

When automobiles were new people were willing to buy any kind of a tire. Now they're beginning to insist on knowing what they are getting.

And the more they insist, the better it will be for us.

We want our customers to know what they are getting.

That's why we represent U. S. Tires—so there will be no doubt about it.

Whatever the size of your car, you know that the U. S. Tire you put on it is the best kind of tire its makers know how to make.

U. S. Tires are guaranteed for life, without any limitation of mileage.

That ought to mean something to the man who has thought about tires.

AUTOMOBILE TIRES HAVE NOT GONE UP

ABOUT ONLY ARTICLE THAT IS CHEAPER TODAY THAN FIVE YEARS AGO.

How many things can you name off-hand that cost less today than they did ten years ago?

Clothes cost more than they ever did before, food has jumped almost out of sight, building materials have advanced by leaps and bounds—in fact, just about everything has skyrocketed in cost beyond all reason, lowering the purchasing price of a dollar to just about one-half of what it used to be.

But there is one remarkable exception to the general H. C. L. rule, says the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company. That exception is the automobile tire. Not only is the tire no more expensive than it was ten years ago but it is actually cheaper, 20 per cent less in fact, and of a much superior quality.

The steady drop in tire prices from July 1, 1910, to February 1, 1915, was caused by the decrease in price of raw rubber and the more efficient methods of manufacture adopted. During this period the price of cotton fabric and labor remained almost uniform.

The moderate up turn in the price curve since 1915 was caused by the abnormal increase in these last two factors—cotton fabric and labor. Cotton fabric costs 250 per cent more now than it did during the first half of the decade and labor fully 200 per cent more. If tires had increased proportionately with these two factors, they would now be almost beyond the reach of the average user.

Fortunately, however, the increase in the cost of cotton fabric and labor were counterbalanced by the installation of more efficient manufacturing methods. Large scale production has brought about greater factory efficiency and lower overhead expense, effecting a reduction in cost which has been passed to the consumer.

Another remarkable thing about tires is that they are not only less expensive than they were ten years ago but are considerably better as well. The improved methods of manufacture now being used add many extra miles to their life.

A few years ago it was a common sight to see a car laid up on the side of the road with its owner repairing a flat casing. Today such a sight is comparatively rare, despite the fact that countless more automobiles are in use. Long tours are made without any tire trouble whatever.

Constant experiments on the part of the manufacturer have resulted in changes in construction and the materials used which make it possible for the tires to give almost perfect service.

It can be safely said that every dollar spent for tires today buys twice as many tire miles as ten years ago.

I Am "Granny" Chamberlain

"Granny" Chamberlain

Everybody's friend when they have coughs and colds and their children have croup and whooping cough.

Most everyone knows me. I have been going from home to home for nearly fifty years—always welcome, too, for I never fail in their hour of need.

I have helped young mothers whose babies were choking with croup, and been the comfort of parents whose children tramp to school through the wet winter weather. Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped through the anxious moments of whooping cough. I have come to the aid of mothers and fathers when they had colds and influenza, and have been a relief to old folks suffering from bronchitis and asthma.

I have had a most varied experience; I go everywhere—among the rich and the poor, in cities and the country.

Now don't forget "Granny" Chamberlain! You will see me often now, for I am going to tell you of my experience and what can be done in your home with

CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS RESTORE HEALTH QUICKLY AND PERMANENTLY

Ninety-five per cent of diseases are due to pressure upon nerves along the sides of the vertebral column. This pressure interferes with their functions; hence inflammation, unnatural action, pain and distress are manifested where these nerves end. All diseases are prolonged until pressure upon these nerves leading to the affected parts are adjusted.

If your health is below par you will be interested to know what a Chiropractor can do for you.

BIG RACE MEET ON SUNDAY AND LABOR DAY TOO

Rain Stopped All Performances Last Sunday, Making Postponement Necessary.

Two Days of Real Thrillers Gives Everybody Chance to Be Present.

The weather man carried a club for the races scheduled to be held last Sunday at Thief River Falls and rain poured down in torrents all afternoon. This naturally put the program completely on the hummer and the whole show had to be called off.

Not being able to understand how the aforesaid weather man can be cruel enough to do the same thing a second time, the boys have decided to make one more try at putting the racing program across. This time they are going to do it up better than ever and are going to make it last for two days.

Celebrate Labor Day.

Next Monday being Labor day it was decided to conduct the racing program for two days, Sunday and Monday, so as to give everybody a chance to attend. The American Legion boys have joined forces with the Thief River Falls Central Labor union and the two organizations are going to sponsor the celebration in partnership.

Labor day is labor's holiday and union members in Thief River Falls had been planning a little celebration in any event, but when the proposition of joining with the Legion in putting on the races for two days was submitted, its acceptance was a matter of minutes.

Parade a Feature.

A labor day celebration without a parade would be no celebration at all and the boys have decided to get all union members in line for a march around the city at 1:30 Monday afternoon. The procession will go to the fair grounds in time to witness the races, which are scheduled to begin at 2:30 sharp.

There are at present more than 300 union workers in Thief River Falls and it is urged that every union member make it a point to take part in the parade. This is the first time in the history of the city that labor has been organized sufficiently to attempt a demonstration on labor day and those in charge of arrangements want to make the first one a hummer.

Excellent Racing Program.

Every racer entered for the races last Sunday will be there for the two-day event, together with two or three others who have joined the contest since that time. If this doesn't furnish thrills it simply can't be done, that's all. Some of the fastest speed maniacs in the Northwest will be there, both in the automobile and motorcycle events. Many of them performed at the race meet held by the Legion at Crookston two weeks ago and the boys will tell you there wasn't a slacker on the program.

The races will begin promptly at 2:30 each afternoon and there are enough numbers to last from that time until dark. It will be one grand speed-fest and no one can afford to miss it.

AVIATORS FLY HIGH ON CANADIAN BOOZE

Pilots Land in Municipal Court and Pay $5.00 Each For Joyful Experience.

Two of the aviators who had come here for the purpose of making flights at the race meet last Sunday appeared before Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant Monday morning, charged with drunkenness. Each paid a fine of $5 and costs as a result of his familiarity with old John Barleycorn.

It seems the boys, who were unable to do aviation stunts on account of the heavy rainstorm Sunday, looked around for some other form of excitement and, either accidentally or intentionally, ran into a supply of Canadian product. This discovery proved their undoing for the law soon had them in its toils on the charge of carrying too much of the firewater in their systems to conform with rules and regulations of the community.

The boys are accustomed to flying high and this probably accounts for the hilarious proclivities exhibited by them when the booze got to working. Anyway they claim to have had a good time while it lasted.

Pennington Averages Up Well on Crop Conditions

The Merchants' National bank of St. Paul has put into operation a plan whereby a weekly review of agricultural, financial, industrial, commercial, civic and municipal conditions in each county will be prepared for state-wide publication. The first report sent out has the following to say concerning conditions in Pennington county:

"Early threshing reports show average crop yields with wheat below normal. Rye turning out well with several bumper reports. One seven acre plat in Rocksbury township gave 40 bushels per acre. Corn crop will be big. Flax ditto. Grain cars promised. Project endorsed for road to Red Lake. Success of county fair has caused supporters to plan important enlargements. Thief River Falls probably will have a water filtering system."

Big Contract Completed on Improvement Program

Holt & George have completed the contract of putting in new water and sewer connection in the paving district of Thief River Falls, and the council Monday evening accepted the final estimate of the job as submitted by the engineers. All of this work was necessary before paving could be started and everything is now ready for the paving contractors to put on the finishing touches throughout the business section of the city. Placing the sewer and water connections has made necessary a large amount of excavating and the city's streets have been badly torn up all summer.

NEW MEMBER NAMED FOR SCHOOL BOARD

L. M. Rayson Chosen to Fill Place Made Vacant By Resignation.

A regular meeting of the board of education was held last Thursday evening. L. M. Rayson was appointed to fill the vacancy on the board caused by the resignation of P. O. Myhrum, and has accepted the position. Mr. Rayson is well qualified as a member of the school board and will no doubt give his new duties the same careful and painstaking attention which has been characteristic of his work in other lines.

Mr. Myhrum has served the district long and well and his resignation is deeply regretted by his co-workers on the board and by school patrons in general. Owing to a multiplicity of other duties, however, he felt that he could not spare the time necessary to look after school work and accordingly decided to withdraw from his position.

The matter of providing quarters for pupils in the present school buildings is proving a very difficult matter for the board. With the increased enrollment over last year it is likely that a doubling up of grades in several instances will be necessary. This condition cannot be remidied until next year, when it is hoped the new Knox building on the East Side will be ready for occupancy. Whether the elimination of free text books will have an appreciable effect on outside attendance in the high school yet remains to be seen. It is not considered likely, however, that this change will alter the plans of the great majority of prospective students.

GOODRIDGE FAIR TO BREAK ALL RECORDS

Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 20 and 21, have been decided upon as the dates for the Tri-County fair to be held at Goodridge. The program committee has been busily at work on arrangements and indications are that an exceptional list of attractions will be provided as an inducement for people from a large radius to attend the fair.

The Tri-County fair is staged primarily for the purpose of providing the residents of eastern Pennington, eastern Marshall and western Beltrami counties with an opportunity to display their products. This stretch of country is so situated that it is a difficult matter to make a creditable showing at the regular county fair, due to distance and difficulty of transportation. The Tri-County fair at Goodridge being centrally located, gives these people a chance to put on the most creditable exhibits of which they are capable, and it is said by those in a position to know that the Goodridge fair will be an eye-opener to those who labor under the mistaken idea that this part of the country is behind its neighbors in the matter of agricultural and other development.

In addition to the fine array of exhibits, plenty of entertainment has been provided for visitors. While detailed programs are not yet available, assurance is given that there will be something doing every minute of the two days. Thief River Falls sent a large delegation to the Goodridge fair last year and this year it is expected the attendance from this part of the county will completely eclipse the former effort.

Local Elks Lodge to Hold Big Meeting Friday Night

The next regular meeting of the Elks will be held tomorrow, Friday evening at the lodge rooms. Much important business will come up for consideration at this time and all members of the order are urged to be present.

A big drive is being made for candidates to be initiated at the big meeting planned for Oct. 15. Indications are that this campaign will be very successful and that the largest class in the history of the local Elks' lodge will be secured.

TWO-CENT FARE HIT BY FEDERAL JUDGE

Railroads Get Temporary Order Preventing Return to Lower Passenger Rate.

Federal Judge J. D. Elliot at St. Paul on Monday afternoon granted to the railroads a temporary restraining order against the enforcement of 2-cent passenger fares in Minnesota by the State Railroad and Warehouse commission.

The order will obtain until a temporary injunction, having the same aim in view, is or is not granted at a new session of the federal court. Until that time, the railroads will be required to supply all passengers buying tickets with receipts for all sums in excess of the 2-cent fare, so that in case the decision is reversed, passengers may claim reimbursements.

Railroads, opposing the state law charged in federal court today that the old rates are unconstitutional and confiscatory.

Dennis Lyon, attorney for the railroads, asked for the issue of this order on the grounds that the state law violated the federal constitution, the interstate commerce act of 1887, and the recent transportation act of February, 1920. The old rates are confiscatory, he charged. They would force the railroads to receive an unfair and inadequate return upon property, which by that act in its nature would be confiscatory for it would be depriving the railroads of property without due process of law.

Stating that increased wages to employes, necessity of rehabilitating railroad lines, caused by deterioration of rail property during the war, he claimed that the intent of congress in passing the Esch-Cummins bill was to give railroads a chance to meet present conditions. To meet present conditions a 3-cent rate was granted in continuation of federal controlled railroads during the war. Furthermore, he claimed that the 20 per cent increase in wages granted to railroad employes by the Interstate Commerce commission was granted with the understanding that a 3-cent fare would prevail.

LARGE TRACT SOLD AT $100 PER ACRE

W. H. Frederick, the land man, this week closed a deal whereby he conveyed to John Dore, a prominent Illinois farmer, a tract of 240 acres on the Red Lake river a short distance south of Thief River Falls. While this land transfer is by no means the first in which the sum involved represented $100 per acre, the tract is one of the largest ever transferred in this section at that price.

Mr. Dore, who is heavily interested in farm lands in Illinois, will not farm the newly-acquired tract himself, but will send parties here at once to look after it for him. It is understood that he will go into blooded cattle and hog raising on a large scale and that he is particularly enthusiastic over the possibilities for sugar beets in this section.

FARM LOAN BANK REPORT IS ISSUED

The report of the Valhall National Farm Loan association, submitted by Secretary L. A. Lampert, has been returned after approval by President E. G. Quamme at St. Paul. It shows that to date 59 loan applications have been approved, carrying a total of $173,100. Stock subscriptions in the district foot up $8655 and the dividends for the year on this sum amount to $429.82. The largest loan is for $10,000 and the smallest for $500.

The association can make no further loans at this time for the reason that a law suit has been brought before the supreme court of the United States attacking the constitutionality of the law establishing the National Farm Loan bank. This suit has been instituted, so officials of the association claim, by enemies of the farm loan system. The case comes up for hearing on Oct. 11

Ball Players Give Dance and Big Banquet Tonight

Invitations are out to a banquet and dance to be given this evening by the Thief River Falls baseball association at the Evelyn hotel. This event is intended as a fitting conclusion to a very successful season for the local ball team.

It was found that a little money remained in the treasury after all expenses for the season had been paid and a party seemed the most appropriate way of expending the surplus. Elaborate plans have been made for the banquet and dance, and it goes without saying that the affair will prove an unqualified success. The lads have played good ball and are entitled to all the enjoyment they can get out of the money left in the treasury at the close of the season.

Mrs. S. L. Aanstad, City, Winner of Sewing Machine

The sewing machine given away at the store of the Larson Furniture company by the Free Sewing Machine company on Saturday afternoon was awarded Mrs. Sigurd L. Aanstad, 927 LaBree avenue north, city, her ticket No. 2109 being the lucky number.

Interest in the event was keen there being a large crowd present when the hour came for announcing the winner. Two numbers were drawn before that held by Mrs. Aanstad was taken from the box by a blindfolded little girl, but as the holders were not present the machine could not be given to them under the rules.

The Larson company has taken the agency for the Free line in this city and will at all times carry a complete stock of both the foot and motor power kinds.

SUPREME COURT OPENS WAY FOR PAVING PROJECT

Decision Handed Down in Marshall Case Has Bearing on Local Situation.

Court Holds Much Questioned Chapter 65 Constitutional in Every Respect.

Council Decides to Go Ahead on Paving Program Without Further Delay.

Practically the last obstacle standing in the way of the paving program in Thief River Falls was removed on Saturday when the state supreme court handed down a favorable decision in an identical case. This case was brought at Marshall, a city in the southern part of the state operating under the same form of charter as Thief River Falls. There, as in Thief River Falls, certain parties sought to prevent the city council issuing certificates to pay for paving improvements without first submitting the matter to a vote of the people. The objectors were beaten in the lower courts, as they were here, and the supreme court affirmed the findings of the lower court in every particular.

New Law Vindicated.

The paving program in Thief River Falls, as in Marshall, has been proposed under chapter 65, laws of 1919, and a previous decision of the supreme court held this law constitutional with respect to cities operating under a home rule charter. No mention was made in the previous ruling of cities operating under the general law and it was therefore claimed by the objectors that the council of Thief River Falls had no right to sell paving bonds without first submitting the matter to a vote.

Judge Grindeland of the district court some time ago refused an injunction sought by the objectors and an appeal to the supreme court has been taken from this order.

The Marshall case, being identical in every respect, may safely be taken as a criterion of what will happen to the Thief River Falls case when it comes up for consideration before the higher tribunal. It is understood, however, that there is no intention to drop the pending appeal but even the most hopeful among the objectors realize that chances of the supreme court reversing itself are very slight.

Work to Start Soon.

As far as the city council and the contractors are concerned, the decision in the Marshall case has removed all obstacles to paving and from now on work will be rushed in order that a good start may be made this fall. The first thing on the program is the curbs and gutters and the plan is to get all of this work completed before snow flies. Mr. Anderson, the subcontractor who will erect the curbs and gutters, will be on the ground within a few days ready to go to work in earnest.

Main Avenue First.

It was decided at the council meeting Monday evening that Main avenue will be the first to be paved. With favorable weather it is thought possible that all of this thoroughfare and possibly several blocks on LaBree avenue and in other parts of the city may be paved before winter sets in.

Material has been ordered for improvements in the white way system of the city, and this work will be done simultaneously with the construction of the curbs and gutters. This part of the work is to be done by day labor under the supervision of Supt. Legvold of the light and water department.

MANY PEOPLE VIEW ICE CREAM FACTORY

Opening of Kiewel Products Company's New Plant Attended By Large Crowd.

The formal opening of the new plant of the Kiewel Products company last Saturday evening was a pronounced success. It is conservatively estimated that a thousand people visited the ice cream factory during the evening, and all evidenced keen interest in the establishment and its appointments. It was the first opportunity for many to visit an ice cream factory and they were naturally much interested in knowing just how this delicious food is produced.

Kiewel's new factory in Thief River Falls is one of the finest in this section of the state and is modern in every detail. The facilities for producing large quantities of ice cream will make it possible for Manager Helgeland to care for the rapidly increasing demand which "Puritas" ice cream is creating.

Mr. Helgeland and his assistants entertained the visitors Saturday evening in a very pleasing manner. Gentlemen were furnished free cigars and the ladies all were presented with flowers as a memento of the occasion. It had been the intention to hold the reception from 7 until 9 o'clock only but the throng of visitors made it necessary to extend the closing time more than an hour.

New Night Cop.

Ed. Brooten has been chosen as night patrolman in Thief River Falls and entered upon his new duties last night. Mr. Brooten served as a policeman for several years in Minneapolis before coming to this city and therefore is well qualified for the position. Andy Smith, who had held the night job during the summer, did not feel that he cared to continue the work longer.

Serious Loss Suffered By East Grand Forks Farmer

Over $6,000 damages was done by fire at the farm home of Charles Ryan, three miles out of East Grand Forks, about 3 o'clock Friday morning when the fire, which started in the barn, spread to the silo, cattle and dairy barn and ice house, destroying them all.

The fire was noticed about 3 o'clock a. m., and neighbors came to the assistance of Mr. Ryan in trying to control the blaze but it had gained too much headway to be stopped. A small insurance covered the buildings Mr. Ryan said. No stock was in the barn at the time of the fire.

MACHINERY SALES INDICATE PROGRESS

—Trade at Home—

If the adoption of machinery by the farmers of a section is an indication of progress, those residing in the territory for which Thief River Falls forms the trading center are entitled to credit for moving forward. Implement dealers say that never before have so many tractors, threshers and other machines been sold in any one season. It has often been a question of supplying the demand, the factories being unable to supply the number of machines needed.

The Rambeck & Stone company has sold 11 complete or partial threshing rigs during the season, these going in some cases to individuals but more often to a number of farmers in the same community. Those with whom the deals were made are as follows: H. P. Nabben, Ole Skaar, Shannon & Wheelwright, A. P. Anderson, K. Skaaren, Toby Melve, William Jones, Robert Rambeck, A. B. Newton and Mr. Robertson of Malcolm.

C. Gustafson & Son have sold 13 outfits, the purchasers being the following: Peter Lindeblad, Kratka; Hans Anton, St. Hilaire; Ed. Timm, city; John Johnson, city; Alfred Helgeson, Hazel; R. M. Johnson, Kratka; Hanson Bros., Kratka; Peterson Bros., Holt; T. J. Lillevold, Grygla; W. E. Chapman, Esplee; H. A. Myrom, Rhoda; Sjur Stolaas, Highlanding. Two complete outfits were also sold at the firm's Grygla branch, but the names of the purchasers are not yet known at the office here.

STARS AND MASONS TO PICNIC MONDAY

Squaw Point Will Be Scene of Annual Outing Given Jointly By Lodges.

Agreeable to an ancient custom in all regular and well governed Masonic lodges, there will be a grand open air picnic for the members given by the local Masons and Eastern Star members next Monday—Labor Day. All those who can do so are expected to bring a basket containing something good to eat, but those who find this impossible or inconvenient are invited to come anyway as there will be plenty for all.

A good program of games and sports has been arranged, particularly for the young folks and there will be something of interest going on every minute.

These picnics have in the past been among the most enjoyable affairs of the year and it is the aim to make this one eclipse all its predecessors. Visiting Masons and Eastern Star members are cordially invited to come out and help celebrate.

Free transportation will be provided, volunteer autoists starting from the Methodist church and Central school from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Mother of Local Attorney Dies at 84 Years of Age

Mrs. Johanne H. Michelet, mother of Attorney Wilhelm Michelet of this city, died last Sunday at her home in Minneapolis. Deceased had reached the advanced age of 84 years and for 38 years had been a resident of Minneapolis. The funeral was held on Tuesday and interment made in Lakewood cemetery. Mrs. Michelet was the widow of Nils C. Michelet, attorney and former deputy collector of customs, who died one month ago. Surviving are three sons, Simon Michelet, secretary to Senator Knute Nelson, Washington, D. C.; Wilhelm Michelet, Thief River Falls; Ove Michelet, Oakland, Cal.; and one daughter, Maren Michelet, Minneapolis.

Former Resident Here.

O. A. Westin, for many years a resident of Thief River Falls and now residing at Forest Lake, spent several days here last week attending to business matters. Mr. Westin also stopped for a few days at Trail, where he owns a farm.

SCHOOL BEGINS NEXT WEEK AND KIDS ARE GLAD

Monday Will Be Devoted to Organization Work For the Coming Year.

Efficient Corps of Teachers Secured and Signs Point to Successful Term.

Vacation days will soon be over and the rising generation once more engaged in the arduous task of acquiring an education. Next Tuesday morning school starts in earnest, when the pupils will be required to register and will each be assigned to his or her proper room and class. High school pupils will be given a list of books which they are required to purchase, free text books having been discontinued in this department of the schools.

Teachers to Meet.

Monday will be devoted to general organization work by the teaching staff, and a meeting of all teachers is planned for this purpose. It is a big undertaking to get everything running smoothly and efficiently and the proper start means a great deal. Supt. W. A. Ziegler has a big job on his hands but demonstrated last year that he is equal to the task.

At the meeting on Monday plans for the school year will be outlined by the superintendent and methods adopted so that all departments and grades may work in harmony.

Buildings All Ready.

Everything about the various school buildings has been put in tip-top shape for the first day of school. A number of minor improvements and changes have been made in some of the buildings during the summer months and nearly all of the rooms have been given a thorough cleaning and renovating.

The same efficient corps of janitors which was on the job last year has been retained for another season. These men promise that the kids won't freeze if the supply of fuel holds out.

Teachers Seek Rooms.

Supt. Ziegler would consider it a favor if all those having rooms to rent will let the fact be known. Teachers arriving in the city often find it difficult to secure quarters and any assistance from the general public will be greatly appreciated. Many students who plan to attend school here during the coming term are looking for a place where they may work for their board. Anyone who can accommodate young men or young women in this respect should notify the superintendent at once.

Bright Prospects.

Prospects for a successful school year were never brighter at the beginning of a term. A corps of efficient teachers has been secured, many of whom have demonstrated their ability during previous terms in which they have been on the local staff. Most of those who are beginning their first year in Thief River Falls have had several years of experience in other schools. Taken as a whole, the teaching force has never been a better one and Supt. Ziegler feels that much efficient work will be done.

PAY FOR TOO MUCH FARM—START SUIT

Anderson Brothers Claim Hazel Man Short Changed Them in Land Deal.

A case arising from the sale of a piece of land south of St. Hilaire some time ago was tried yesterday at a special term of court before Judge Andrew Grindeland. After hearing the evidence the judge took the matter under advisement and will render a verdict at a later date.

A. G. and F. I. Anderson, brothers, purchased the farm in question from J. W. Denhart of Hazel, paying therefor $26 an acre. The Andersons testified they bought the farm with the understanding that it contained 150 acres and had paid for it at that rate. Upon measuring the land, however, they claim to have found that it contains only 117 acres. They brought suit against the former owner to recover the difference between the land bargained for and the land actually purchased. A number of witnesses were examined for both sides and the trial occupied nearly all day.

Council Not Yet Ready to Invest in Land For Park

The matter of buying the point near the river in block 13 on the east side for park purposes was brought before the council at its meeting this week. This matter has been under consideration for some time and the purchase of this piece of ground is recommended by the park board.

The council decided a little more investigation was necessary before going ahead with the deal and accordingly voted to lay the matter on the table until the meeting next Tuesday evening.

COMPREHENSIVE EXPLANATION OF THE BABCOCK GOOD ROADS PLAN

Numerous Sound Arguments in Favor of the Idea Are Presented For Public Consideration By C. M. Babcock, Author of Proposed Law.

Every Voter in the State Should Familiarize Himself With Constitutional Amendment to Be Submitted Before Casting Ballot.

C. M. Babcock in presenting the various features covered in proposed Amendment No. 1 to be voted upon this fall makes the following explanations which should be read by every voter who is desirous of posting himself on the subject of good roads:

"At the present time we have approximately 98,000 miles of road in the state of Minnesota which are classified and known as Town roads, County roads and State roads. Town roads are those laid out, built and maintained by the town boards, with township funds. County roads are those that are built and maintained with county funds and state roads are those which have been designated as such by the county commissioners and are roads on which state funds may be expended. State roads are the only roads in the state over which which the Highway department has jurisdiction, therefore, it is quite natural for the public to assume that the Highway Department is only interested in those roads which come directly under its supervision and which have been designated as state roads. Such, however, is not the case, as in fact the State Highway Department is interested in every mile of road in the state and is also interested in extending its present road system. We have vast acres of undeveloped lands in Minnesota, and as the state develops we must necessarily extend our present state road mileage.

How to Enlarge System.

"The big question that confronted the Highway Department was how could we enlarge our road system. As it is impossible to improve our roads or extend our present mileage without funds, it naturally resolved itself down to a financial proposition. Our present road funds are all derived by direct tax levies, and county bond issues, county levies and the state one-mill tax, which was provided for by a constitutional amendment known as the Bob Dunn Amendment. The actual tax levy in the state of Minnesota for road and bridge purposes for the year 1918 was $13,374,832.15 and for the year 1919 was $16,682,778.03, a total of $30,507,610.18 or an average of over $15,000,000 for the two year period, which is equivalent to a levy of nine mills of the total assessment valuation of the state. For the year 1919 alone, it is approximately a levy of ten mills on the total assessed valuation of the state of Minnesota. Now gentlemen, there is a limit to everything, and there is a limit to the amount of taxes that can be placed upon the public, and I am of the opinion that a tax of ten mills is about the limit of taxation for road and bridge purposes in this state. This being the case, the question is, from what source can we derive funds for the enlarging of our road system? Now I firmly believe there should be no tax without benefits; with this thought in mind, I began to consider the benefits which would be derived from a system of paved roads in this state, and being convinced that the greatest benefits would accrue to the operators of motor vehicles who are the largest users of the roads, I conceived the idea of financing the construction and maintenance of a definite system of roads with the receipts to be derived from motor vehicle licenses and leaving the present moneys raised by tax levies for the construction and maintenance of the lateral roads.

To Create Trunk Highways.

"This system and plan as embraced in the pending constitutional amendment, provides for the creation and establishment of a trunk highway system of approximately 7,000 miles of roads reaching into all parts of the state, connecting every county seat and important city and village with every other county seat and important city and village in the state. It provides that this system shall be located, constructed, reconstructed, improved and forever maintained as public highways by the state of Minnesota.

"This 7,000 miles of roads which comprise the Trunk Highway System are the main through roads in the state and are the roads on which most of the money used for road construction is expended each year. Records in the office of the State Highway Department show that nearly eighty per cent of the founds expended by the counties on roads is spent on his identical system. This system of trunk highways or main through roads are roads which, in many cases, are of more importance as connecting links in a state system, than they are of local importance and therefore constitute a system of roads which are of great benefit to the state, and which consequently should be built, maintained and financed by the state with funds derived from the state source and not by local authorities with local taxes and assessments.

Motor Tax Imposed.

"The constitutional amendment which deals with nothing but the Trunk Highway System, in addition to creating the system of seventy routes, as the Trunk Highway Sinking Fund. This fund consists of the proceeds of any tax imposed on motor vehicles and can be used only for payment of principal and interest on any bonds issued unless there is an actual excess of money needed for such requirements, in which case such excess money may be transferred to a fund known as the Trunk Highway Fund, which is the operating fund.

"The constitutional amendment also authorized the Legislature to provide for the issue and sale of bonds of the state of Minnesota in such amounts as may be necessary to finance the construction of the Trunk Highway system. It is provided, however, that there shall never be more than ten million dollars par value issued in any one calendar year, and that the total amount of outstanding bonds shall never exceed seventy-five million.

Car License $18.00.

"In order to finance this bond issue within the limits of the amendment it will be necessary to receive from the motor vehicle owners of this state an average license fee of $18.00 per car. This legislation fixing the fee will have to be passed by the 1921 session of the Legislature, but it is pretty definitely determined that it will be based on horsepower, weight and valuation of the car. It is also proposed that there shall be different classes of licenses to take care of the depreciation in the value of the car commensurate with depreciation which the owner gets when he lists his car for personal property taxation under the present laws. It is very probable that rate per horsepower and weight will remain the same in all classes of licenses.

"There is another thing that is worthy of notice and that is: The sinking fund is created before any bonds are issued, and the sinking fund can be used for no other purpose except payment of interest and retirement charges. With a definitely determined sinking fund, it is just as easy for the Legislature to determine how many roads may be issued without requiring a tax levy, as it is for a man to determine how much merchandise he can purchase with the funds on hand.

"There is also a provision in the constitutional amendment which provides that in the event of the creation of a new county, or by reason of a change in the county seat of any existing county, and city or village not a county seat at the time of the adoption of this amendment is constituted the county seat, Legislature is authorized to add to the Trunk Highway System such additional routes as may be necessary to connect such newly constituted county seat with other county seats and other points in the state. This feature was written in the Amendment to take care of conditions in undeveloped sections of the state, where large counties are likely to be divided and where present conditions do not warrant the laying out of trunk lines.

New Routes Added.

"There is also a provision that when seventy-five percent of the Trunk Highway System has been constructed and permanently improved, the Legislature shall have authority to add new routes, provided there are sufficient funds for their construction and maintenance.

"Since the submission of the constitutional amendment there have been some who have been afraid that there might be a tax levy on all the property of the state to meet interest and retirement charges on the bond issue and in support of this fear they cite Section 4 of the amendment, which reads as follows:

"In case the Trunk Highway Sinking Fund should not be adequate to meet the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds authorized by the Legislature as hereinbefore provided, the Legislature may provide by law, for the taxation of all taxable property in the state in an amount sufficient to meet the deficiency, or it may in its discretion, appropriate to such sinking fund money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Bonds Safeguarded.

"Now, gentleman, every careful thinking man, and every man who has had any dealing whatever with bond issues knows that this provision is placed in the constitutional amendment for the sole purpose of making the bonds salable, in other words, it is absolutely necessary that the faith and credit of the state be sustained or it would not be possible to market them at par. Every member of the Legislature and everyone connected with the drafting of the amendment knows full well that it never was the intention that bonds should be issued in such amounts as to exceed that which can be financed by the receipts from motor vehicle licenses.

"In brief, these are the points that are covered in the pending Constitutional Amendment No. 1, which will be submitted to the voters of the state at the general election next November."

SEND DELEGATES TO STATE CLUB MEET

Women's Clubs of Ninth District Well Represented at Northfield Sessions.

The ninth district women's clubs are well represented at the state meeting of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs at Northfield this week. One of the features of the program is a report of the club in the various districts. According to Mrs. C. G. Selvig, Crookston, president of the district federation, there are now 29 women's clubs in the ninth Minnesota district. Four of the clubs are new, including Red Lake Falls Civic League, Warren Girls' Community club, Beltrami Woman's club and Strathcona Daughters of Ceres. Seven of these clubs hold membership in the general federation which held its biennial at Des Moines recently.

The twentieth annual ninth district convention was entertained by the Ladies' Reading club of Warren. The meeting was the largest in the history of the district and was marked by the finest hospitality and the finest spirit of co-operation of all at Warren. The next annual convention will be held at Breckenridge.

The St. Hilaire Women's club has conducted a successful lyceum course during the past year. The Reservation Club of Mahnomen presented silk flags to each class room in their public schools. The Women's Study club of Breckenridge has placed magazines in the library and given financial assistance to the public health association. The three clubs of Crookston cooperated in a series of lectures on citizenship for information to the women voters. The Ladies' Reading club of Warren has done excellent work in Americanization. The Fairfax-Andover Social Circle, composed of farm women near Crookston, will study citizenship, child welfare and textiles next year. All of the clubs are promoting better citizenship and community welfare. There are many communities that would benefit by having such an organization as the women's clubs of the state, which have a distinct place among the organizations that are doing good work.

Money in Speltz.

The market price in Ada yesterday for speltz was $1.65 per hundred. Forty pounds make a bushel of speltz which would be 66 cents a bushel. On the Thorpe & Smithknecht farm speltz averaged 60 bushels per acre, which shows that this crop is a paying one. Grain men in Ada say it is surprising that more speltz is not planted here. It pays well, and makes stronger feed than either barley or oats. One grain man even says it makes better feed than corn for hogs. Our farmers should look into this.—Norman County Index.

PAVING OBSTACLES REMOVED.

The decision of the state supreme court declaring constitutional the law of 1919 which provides that cities and villages may undertake internal improvements such as paving, without submitting the matter to a vote of the people, removes practically the last obstruction to the program planned for Thief River Falls and a considerable number of other municipalities in the state. The court holds that certificates of indebtedness may be issued covering the cost of the work.

This ought to settle the matter. The constitutionality of this law was the principal point at issue although there are others raised by the appellants. So certain is the city council that the other objections will meet a like fate that arrangements for going ahead without any delay have been made. The contractors have signified their willingness to proceed with the work at once and it is probable that before another week has passed by the dirt will be flying.

This will be good news to the progressive citizens who have labored consistently to secure this modern necessity. The subject has been up for consideration almost continually for the past ten years but for one reason or another has always been postponed. The present council, heeding the general demand, went at the proposition in earnest and had it not been for the somewhat ambiguous phrasing of the law, the job would now be well under way.

Objecting citizens have still a case pending before the supreme court on appeal, asking that the city be estopped from going ahead wtih the work, but this is not regarded as serious by the council members or contractors. These same objectors have been defeated in the district court, their main reliance has been swept aside by the supreme tribunal of the state and they are left with very little on which to pin their hopes.

While both sides to this question have proved themselves determined, the controversy has been waged with but little bitterness and the outcome will leave no sore spots. It will only be a very short time until even those most violently opposed to the improvement will be made aware of its value. Soon it will be impossible to find any person in the city who will admit that at one time he opposed paving.

WILL TRY IT OVER.

It was rather a mean trick the weather man played on the American Legion boys last Sunday, but it may turn out for the best anyway. The local post had arranged for a wonderful program of automobile, airplane and motorcycle races at the fair grounds and people from all over northern Minnesota were in the city to witness the performances. Then came the rain.

The event would have been a great success, that much is certain. Some of the best racers in the northwest were on hand with their machines and were consequently more disappointed than was the public. The legion members did the only thing possible under the circumstances—offered to put on the show next Sunday. The racers, practically without exception, assured the management that they would be on hand.

Since that time even greater interest has been added to the program by the fact that the newly formed Thief River Falls Central Labor union has joined forces with the legion and there will be a two-day meeting instead of one. Monday is Labor Day—the first one in which the union workers of Thief River Falls are to take part as an organization. It is one of the big holidays of the year and the workingmen were anxious to celebrate it properly. The big legion program was just to their liking, forces were joined and the entertainment will be a joint affair taking place on the afternoons of two days.

This is going to be a real show. Nothing like it has ever been attempted in this section and those who do not make it a point to be here will miss something of a most unusual nature. All arrangements are made and the weather man would certainly not be mean enough to dish up two disappointments in succession.

Arrange to spend Sunday and Labor Day in Thief River Falls. At no other point will so much fun and excitement be provided.

UP TO DATE AS USUAL.

The advertisements in The Times today would indicate that merchants realize the summer season is over and that a new appeal must be made. The fall lines in all classes of goods are arriving, this being particularly true as concerns wearing apparel for both women and men. The actual buying season for men opens generally about two weeks later than does that for women, but the stores are preparing for the event.

Thief River Falls merchants have this season made greater preparations than ever before to meet the demands of our people. The past summer has been one of the most prosperous in our history, both for the man on the farm and those working in the city. The demand for new goods will therefore be greater than ever before and the merchants have anticipated it.

Gradually the fact that buyers can get the best service and prices right here at home seems to gain headway. There are of course those who will persist in sending away for their goods, no matter how often they get stung, but every year their number is decreasing. It would be pleasant to think that this has been brought about by an awakened civic consciousness and a determination to be loyal to home institutions, but it is greatly to be feared that such is not the case. More goods are being bought at home than ever before, but it is because the home merchants successfully compete with those on the outside. This applies to both quality and prices. No better goods can be bought in Minneapolis or Chicago than are being shown in Thief River Falls this fall, while the prices are often actually lower. The high cost of doing business in the large cities at the present time gives the country merchant an advantage he has not heretofore held and he is not slow in letting the world know of the changed conditions. The increased cost of railroad travel is another factor that works to his advantage. This charge must be added to any article purchased away from home and is an item that cuts deep.

Any way it is figured, buying away from home is a mistake, particularly when your own stores are as well quipped to supply your needs as are those of Thief River Falls. The person who persists in following this mistaken policy hurts himself, his credit and his town.

REROUTING THE JEFFERSON.

Unless the towns on the Jefferson Highway to the north of Thief River Falls wake up and get busy there is grave danger of their being left out in the cold. This is particularly true as regards the Marshall county communities through which the highway now runs.

There has not much been done in the way of road building for about five years, but things are again shaping themselves so that there will be a great revival. The Jefferson is certain to come in for its full share of improvement and it behooves every city along its course to get into the game with both feet.

Warren is making a strong bid to have the highway run westward from Thief River Falls to the Marshall county seat and the reasons put forth are such as to command respect. An excellent road now connects the two cities and in case the Babcock amendment is adopted this is one of the stretches certain to be paved or otherwise hard-surfaced. No such treatment can be expected northward on the Jefferson from this city as things now stand and the people of Warren evidently think that this is the proper time to put forth their claims. It is believed that the county commissioners there would look much more favorably on requests for improvements on such a road than they do on the Jefferson as now laid out.

The main objection to this proceeding is that it would cut out the interesting and historic Pembina Trail, but it is probable that even this would have to yield in favor of the more densely settled region.

It is not likely that there would be any serious objection to this program in Pennington county. The plan would make of the Jefferson the principal inter-county artery and would also provide an important link for the proposed road to the Red Lakes. There are in fact many features in connection with the change that should appeal to the people of Pennington county. While as a general proposition we would all dislike to see Karlstad and the other villages through which the Jefferson is now routed given the go-by, yet there is no denying that the interests of Thief River Falls and Pennington county will be fully as well served by the new plan.

DO WE WANT THIS MONEY?

Nearly three million dollars are being held at Washington awaiting action on the part of the state of Minnesota. This is the state's share of the Federal road apportionment and covers the past two years. Before the money can be turned over, however, the state must have provided a similar amount for the same purpose.

The greater part of this sum represents this year's apportionment but there is a considerable amount held over from last year. Unless something is done to secure it, all will be forfeited and divided among states meeting the requirements.

About $600,000 would have been coming to the state last year but was withheld because we did not come across with our share of the appropriation. This would automatically have secluded us had it not been for the action of Senator Kellogg and Congressman Steenerson. The latter managed to attach a provision to the postoffice appropriation bill extending the time in which states such as Minnesota—where an extensive road program comes up for decision at the election this fall—would be permitted to secure their share of the money later on in case the conditions were complied with. If this is not done this year this enormous sum will be lost as far as the state is concerned.

There is only one way in which Minnesota can meet the requirements of the Federal government in this matter and that is by the passage of Amendment No. 1 at the coming election. By no other plan can nearly three million dollars be raised for road purposes—and unless it is so raised this money will be lost.

Get behind the amendment and boost. It likely means more than you have heretofore had any idea of.

MORE HUNDRED DOLLAR LAND.

Another sale of Pennington county land was this week made at $100 per acre. Such occurrences are becoming almost too common to merit notice and are of interest chiefly for the effect the news is liable to have on acreage that does not yet command anywhere near this sum. There are many sections of the country where hundred dollar land can still be purchased but only a few in which land worth that much can now be secured for a great deal less.

It is not so very long ago that the farm which this week brought this amount could have been bought for perhaps fifty per cent less. At that price it found no buyers. There are thousands of acres in this county in the same position right at this time. The land can be purchased now for from $30 to $60 per acre. Over night it may bounce to $100. This fact should interest the homeseeker from sections where farm values have reached unheard-of figures or have at least arrived at a point which places them beyond the reach of the beginner. This section still holds out opportunities that are denied in the older settled regions. The hundred dollar farm is the exception today, but in a very short time will be the rule. The young man who looks to the future cannot do better than to cast his lot here while this condition obtains. He will be getting into a region with a certain future. His farm will make money for him if he does nothing but hold onto it and will furnish certain independence if he makes it his home and uses even a moderate amount of intelligence in its management.

The Grygla Eagle is 18 years old. The Eagle has seen many startling changes take place in its territory during the time it has watched over the progress of the citizens theraway, but these are as nothing compared to what is in store during the next year or two. Editor Mussey has boomed his section in season and out and surely has done his full share in making Grygla the "Biggest Little Town on the Map." The Eagle is well patronized and deserves it.

Now the women reformers will take a hand in politics, which was bad enough as it was.

With women suffrage on the menu it looks as if we are to have more silk stocking politicans than ever.

The old high cost of living won't worry Beltrami farmers as long as their land is thickly populated with $300 an acre clover crops.

Maybe women don't know how to vote, but our bet is that a girl that can eat dinner with one lad while flirting with another, and get away with it, can do anything.

The Mayor of Cork has discovered the only sure way to beat the high cost of living. He is starving himself to death.

Flour and sugar are coming down, but it won't help us much. The railway thugs are raising passenger and freight rates again.

The trouble with a lot of these reformers is that they are never satisfied to allow other people to be satisfied.

Are the Best Tires too good for the Small Car Owner

EVERYBODY agrees that it is generally desirable for merchandise to be graded.

A good principle that often comes out at the wrong end for the car-owner—the man with the upkeep on his mind—the tire bills to pay.

He feels that tire economy should be a personal contract with the tire-user. Not a transaction with his car, whether it be big or small.

Reasoning tires in human terms instead of trade custom has written this policy for the United States Rubber Company—

Build all tires to one standard and let the tire user choose his own size.

When the oldest and largest rubber manufacturing concern in the world focuses all its resources upon one grade, one quality, it makes one client—and that is the whole public.

This single ideal is visible in any U. S. Tire factory, at any U. S. distributing branch, in any U. S. dealer's store.

Policies are harder to make than tires.

Probably the deepest reason why U. S. demand keeps always ahead of the number of tires the U. S. makers can supply.

Listen, good friends, and you shall hear why some Cigarettes are so all-fired dear

SOME cigarettes are packed in pretty boxes that certainly don't grow on trees. Next, they're dolled up—and flavorings are sure getting expensive. And then, they're priced a bit high so they'll seem "exclusive." But read how Spur Cigarettes offer the highest possible quality at the lowest possible price:

If there are any finer tobaccos from the Orient and the good old U. S. A. than those selected for Spurs, they must be a secret that the world has never heard. And when we got these combined in Spur Cigarettes, what do you suppose was the result? Just the best taste and aroma that any cigarette could give, and Willie Doll-up or Freddie Flavoring hadn't a thing to do with it.

Spur is "class" all through—even to the smart "brown-and-silver" package, triple-wrapped, that keeps Spurs fresh and fragrant. Try out a package of Spurs. You'll say "made and priced for popularity."

LOCAL FACTORY RESUMES WORK; ORDERS PILE UP

Times Company Makes First Shipment of Lonson Coin Boxes Since January.

Factory Rushed to Catch Up on Back Orders—Demand Steadily Growing.

The Times Printing and Manufacturing company of this city this week shipped out approximately 50,000 Lonson Coin Boxes, a utility owned and controlled exclusively by the company. This was the first shipment since fire destroyed the plant last January and represents about one-third of the orders accumulated in the interim. No attempt has been made to secure business since it become impossible to supply the boxes and the total of 150,000 demanded within a period of seven months in spite of the fact that this utility, manufactured only in Thief River Falls, is gaining wide popularity. From now on the boxes will leave the factory in a steady stream but even at that it is probable that the force and manufacturing facilities will have to be increased in order to keep up with the demand.

St. Paul Sales Office.

The retailing of the Lonson coin box, the Lonson utility box, and the Lonson currency container, all patented articles, has been placed in the hands of the Lonson Manufacturing company of St. Paul, of which O. T. Rishoff is president. This concern looks after all the details of marketing, leaving to the Thief River Falls plant the manufacturing end alone. Mr. Rishoff states that he is ready to send salesmen on the road to introduce the utilities as soon as he is convinced that the factory can keep up with the demand and has already begun a systematic campaign for calling the attention of the country to this new method of coin and currency handling. When the results of this step are felt the present capacity of the plant will be taxed to the utmost, even though the back orders have by that time all been filled.

In Use Everywhere.

Coin boxes have this week been shipped to practically every state in the Union. The devices are found to be so much of an improvement over all previous methods employed for handling, shipping and storing coin and currency that they sell on sight. Banks, large mercantile houses, theatres, street car companies, and all other concerns handling coin in considerable amounts find the Lonson box just what they have been looking for, while the currency container provides a convenient and safe method of shipment. The utility box is made for the accommodation of wrapped coins and is of particular value where storage is the end desired. The field is practically unlimited and it will not be long before the local product can be found in every city and village in the United States. Samples of the boxes have also been sent to foreign countries at the request of interested parties and agencies in Canada and Mexico are probabilities of the near future.

Considerable Crew Employed.

This branch of The Times company's business is destined to become an important factor in the industrial development of Thief River Falls. At this time the factory employs 12 hands and this number is being steadily increased.

The delay in getting under way has been due entirely to inability to secure machinery and materials. Now that these essentials are again available the manufacture of the boxes and containers will be carried forward without interruption.

RESULT OF CHICAGO WOOL POOL EVIDENT

Prices Mounting Upwards and Farmers Stand Chance of Getting Fair Price.

A communication received at University Farm from George McKerrow, who is representing Minnesota wool growers who have stored their wool with the National Wool Warehouse & Storage company in Chicago, says that eastern men are bidding 42 and 43 cents a pound for the quarter blood staple and 45 to 46 cents for the three-eighths. Mr. McKerrow and the National Wool Warehouse people believe they will eventually get a higher price and refuse to sell at this time. It is estimated that the prices offered would have netted the wool growers 38 cents a pound or more as against the 14 to 25 cents they were offered before they co-operated in the plan to store their wool.

The co-operative movement among farmers saved members of co-operative organizations $5,434,000 last year, according to figures of the United States Department of Agriculture. Co-operation in pooling and storing wool, under the auspices of the Farm Bureau and the extension division of the college of agriculture, seems likely to make a pretty saving for wool growers of Minnesota.

Mayor Fined Twice For Violating Liquor Laws

Dr. Murdoch, mayor of Rainy River, Ont., who a few days ago was fined $2,000 and sentenced to ten days in jail for violation of the temperance act, has again been fined $2,000 on a similar charge. Dr. Murdoch was found guilty of aiding residents of the United States in procuring liquor in Manitoba for export. It is said the prosecution of the mayor comes largely through the political enmity of local officials and it is claimed by many that some of them are using this method of "getting even" with the mayor.

SUGAR PIRATES ARE FORCED TO UNLOAD STORES

Refusal of Credit By Banks Causes Break—Public Gets Satisfaction.

The sugar hogs are the first to get hit and the public is taking much satisfaction as it gets all the sugar it wants at reduced prices, while the profiteers are now scrambling and trying to protect themselves.

The sensational drop in sugar prices is the talk of the country and while the profiteers have been making heroic efforts to corner the supply in order to bolster the market, so much sugar has been received from unexpected sources like Java and other countries, that the speculators have not been able to buy it up as fast as it came in. On top of this, the government reserve banks have issued orders not to loan a dollar to speculators. This has caught the pirates where they could not get credit. Thus with enormous stocks stored away to be doled out to the people in small quantities so as to keep the prices up, the banks calling their loans and immense shipments of sugar coming in from other countries, the profiteers have had to unload and the result is a drop of approximately ten cents per pound within three weeks and the market still dropping.

No Sugar Shortage.

There has always been plenty of sugar in the country, but speculators have gobbled it and cornered the market. The first break in their program came when the government banks refused to make loans for speculative purposes. This shut off their credit and compelled them to sell in order to raise money to pay their notes. The very greed of the profiteers is what proved their undoing. The high prices they forced the American people to pay were so attractive that hundreds of thousands of tons of sugar from distant Java sought an outlet here, while other thousands of tons, which had been bought in Cuba last year and shipped to England, were shipped back to America and sold here. These large shipments tended to supply the local markets and the speculators got scared. Then about the middle of November the American crop for 1920 is going to be available and the government reports indicated it would be larger than usual. The combination of all these things started the break, the speculators got scared and began dumping their stores on the market, which started things some more, and the result is that sugar is getting back again to normal.

Small Dealers Suffer.

In this speculative venture unfortunately the legitimate dealers have suffered. The speculators have not been the store keepers, as their stocks are always small, but the speculators have been large concerns, many of them not even remotely connected with the grocery business. Sugar has been a good thing to speculate with and so gamblers of all descriptions have taken a fling at it. An exchange tells of an instance of where a store keeper, unable to buy sugar at any price from his regular wholesale houses, was told that a firm could supply him with what he wanted if he could pay the price. Inquiry revealed the fact that the firm that had the sugar stored away was a machine company. The company had seen a chance to make money in sugar, went into the market early last year, bought several thousand tons and simply stored it. This sort of thing was done in many sections of the country. The result was a forced shortage, legitimate dealers were unable to buy and the price went up.

Gamblers Getting Hit.

But it seems that the break has now come and the gamblers are getting hit hard. There will be few tears for them. The experience, however, is not without its compensating benefits. The public is suspicious that what happened to sugar is the same thing that has happened to most everything else it has to buy and it knows now how to correct the evil. There is every reason to believe that there is no actual shortage of shoes, clothing, and other necessities. Present prices without doubt, are due largely to speculation. The Federal Reserve banks must therefore observe strictly the rule that not a dollar be loaned anywhere throughout the United States for speculative purposes. This will head off the man who is looking for capital with which to corner markets and will effectively prevent a recurrence of what has been happening in our country since the war.

Citizen of St. Hilaire Dies of Heart Failure

Alfred J. Larson, who moved into St. Hilaire several months ago after selling his farm west of that village, died suddenly last Wednesday. Mr. Larson had not been ill nor was he afflicted with chronic ailment of any kind and the cause of death is attributed to heart failure. He had assisted with harvesting for a few days and it is thought he over-exerted during that time, which likely aggravated the heart trouble. He felt slightly ill in the evening and along toward morning grew worse, when a doctor was called. Mr. Larson seemed to improve slightly but a few hours later suffered a sudden attack which resulted in death. Deceased had been a resident of this section for many years and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. The funeral services were conducted at St. Hilaire Friday afternoon.

These two sketches are from photographs of Signor Friscoe's amazing act, now being billed over the Keith and Affiliated vaudeville circuits.

Then the curtains of the back-drop part. The New Edison is revealed. It has taken up Signor Friscoe's performance and is RE-CREATING it alone.

You can hear it in our store

—the phonograph that is featured in Vaudeville's strangest act

Perhaps you've seen it—Signor Friscoe's "Magic" Xylophone Act.

It's the hit of vaudeville's "Big-Time."

Signor Friscoe's "magic" is an Official Laboratory Model of the New Edison. We have one exactly like it.

Signor Friscoe's instrument is an exact duplicate of the original Official Laboratory Model, which cost Mr. Edison three million dollars to perfect. Our instrument is also an exact duplicate of this famous three million dollar original. We guarantee it to be able to give the same marvelous RE-CREATIONS of music, which Signor Friscoe's Official Laboratory Model gives in vaudeville.

Come in and test the astonishing realism of this instrument for yourself—in Mr. Edison's Realism Test.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

You've read how the New Edison has proved its perfect realism. Four thousand tests have been given, in which more than 50 different artists compared their art with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. Leading newspapers conceded that there was no difference between the two.

Has any one suggested to you that these comparison tests are "faked"—that the artist imitates the New Edison?

Signor Friscoe's performance makes such an assertion positively ridiculous. Every week, 20,000 people see his hammers ripple over the xylophone keys. Suddenly he holds them aloft—still.

The rippling music continues.

Slowly, the gorgeous curtains of the back-drop part. The audience gasps. The New Edison stands revealed. It has taken up Signor Friscoe's performance, and is now RE-CREATING it alone. The effect of this extraordinary magic can rest upon only one fact: No one can distinguish any difference between Signor Friscoe's performance and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. Signor Friscoe could not possibly imitate the New Edison, because the xylophone can not be made to imitate any other instrument, so as to deceive its hearers.

Signor Friscoe's act is not an Edison enterprise. He has simply been clever enough to use the New Edison for what it is worth. Why don't you?

PRICES

The price of the New Edison has increased less than 15% since 1914. This includes the War Tax.

Mr. Edison has staved off price advances by personally absorbing more than half of the increased cost of manufacture.

Because of the exceptionally high quality of materials and workmanship demanded by the Edison Laboratories, and the continued scarcity of both, it may be necessary to advance prices. But rest assured that this will not occur, unless Mr. Edison is forced to it.

Our Budget Plan—the thrift way of spending—will help you buy now. Let us tell you about it.

Gasoline Prices Follow Crude

"What," asked a customer recently, "has caused the sharp advance in the price of gasoline?" And our answer was substantially as follows:

The advances in the selling price of gasoline which have occurred since January 1st, were due primarily to the increased cost of crude oil. The market on all grades of crude took an upward trend during the latter part of 1919, and has been climbing steadily since that time.

During 1919 gasoline prices remained stationary, the refiners absorbing the increased cost of crude as long as it was possible to do so. In January, 1920, gasoline prices generally were advanced to meet the increasing cost of raw material.

Another factor was the practical exhaustion of gasoline reserves brought about by the unprecedented demands for this fuel. During the first months of this year the consumption of gasoline greatly exceeded production.

But the primary reason was the constantly increasing price of crude oil.

Still other reasons for the mounting prices are the greatly increased cost of labor, of steel, and of other items used in manufacture; also the constantly advancing cost of marketing and distribution. Everything that goes into the refining of petroleum is very expensive today.

But the primary and controlling reason is found in the increasing cost of crude.

In keeping with its well-known policy, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been able to maintain low prices for gasoline in the face of advancing prices for crude oil because of its large scale operation in refining, and its complete and economical system of distribution. And, also, because of its advanced facilities for obtaining a maximum quantity of gasoline from a given quantity of crude.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is straining every fibre of its highly specialized organization to meet this demand.

The Trail That Was Blazed From a Wyoming Town

Back in 1902 he started. Many said: "It cannot be done." But, he did it.

Inspired with the idea that a fair, square and above board service to the people would win, he established a little store in a town on the Wyoming frontier.

A few hundred dollars was his capital. With high ideals and steadfast purpose he started his store in a shambling building of twenty-five by forty-five floor space.

The Golden Rule was his policy. He was content with small profits. One cash price to everybody. All prices marked in plain figures. No fancy fixtures. No deliveries.

At that time, these were pioneer and revolutionary business methods.

This man was then twenty-six years of age. He was married; had two children. Even with the household cares, his good wife managed to do much to help that little store succeeded. The beginning was small. The outlook was big.

Already a trail of unbroken faith has been blazed to two hundred and ninety-seven thriving towns. That first store in Kemmerer, Wyoming, is the mother of its namesake in this town. From that humble beginning you today are continually benefitting by the service you receive from this Nation-Wide Institution.

WE NEVER HAVE "SALES"

With a J. C. Penney Company store near you—there is no need nor wisdom in waiting for "special sales" to buy at lowest prices.

We never hold "sales" or "cut price events." "Sales" are either a disposal of undesirable merchandise or else the prices have been marked too high at first so as to stand a "mark down" at the end of the season. Think it over! Who pays the big profits when "sales" methods are used?

You can buy from us at the beginning of the season, when the goods are newest, at prices generally as low as the so-called "after-season-clearance-sales."

Surely then you will welcome this store where you can buy what you want when you want it at a price you are very willing to pay.

ONE PRICE TO ALL

And that price bed-rock bottom always. We never discriminate in prices at which we sell merchandise.

One price to everybody—that's the real spirit of the J. C. Penney Company.

Every dollar you spend here has the same purchasing power as your neighbor's—isn't that your idea of correct business methods? We are sure that such a method has the approval of every man and woman because people always approve fair dealing, and that is the way we are conducting our business.

SATURDAY September 4

New Merchandise Always

Our low margin or profit assures rapid selling—that results in constant replenishment of our stock. You are thus assured that you have new goods to select from at all tmes in our store.

Furthermore, we never buy bankrupt stocks or undesirable merchandise of any sort. The pick of the nation's best goods only and always.

BEMIDJI STATE NORMAL OPENS TUES., SEPT. 7

Regular Four Years of High School and Standard Normal Courses Maintained

The new state normal school at Bemidji recently closed its first year with a total attendance beyond all expectations. Since the opening of the school in June, 1919, five hundred students attending one or more terms each, have been enrolled. Notwithstanding the fact that the school is only a year old several students who entered with advance standing were graduated in June from the two-year advance course.

Regular High School Department.

For those who live in communities without high school advantages, or for those who desire to do high school work in connection with normal school work, a full four year high school department is maintained, open to any student who has successfully completed the work of the eighth grade. Those who have partially completed a high school course will be admitted receiving proper credit for work already done.

Five Year Course.

Students who have completed the eighth grade may earn the normal school diploma in five years by taking the high school work in the normal school in connection with certain other courses required for teacher training. Last year twenty-five students were enrolled in this course.

For students who are graduates of standard four-year high schools an advance course is maintained, giving the pupil the diploma at the end of two years or when twenty-four credits beyond high school have been earned.

College Courses.

A number of courses of junior college rank are also offered, depending upon the demand and classes that can be formed.

The diploma from both the five-year and the two-year courses becomes a life certificate after two years of successful teaching and the holder is eligible, without examination to teach in rural, graded, consolidated or city schools. A graduate of the two-year course is also eligible to the principalship of a consolidated school after six weeks additional work in the state school of agriculture.

Persons desiring to teach before completing the normal school courses may receive a second grade certificate for one year, when two years of the five-year course have been completed or a first grade certificate, when one year of the advanced course, or three years of the five-year course have been completed.

Graduates from the two year course will be admitted without examination to the school of education in the state university with junior standing. A graduate from the five-year course will be admitted to the college of education with one year's standing.

Living Accommodations.

Maria Sandford hall, recently completed, will provide rooms for 50 girls and boarding accommodations for 125. This building is fire-proof, sanitary and modern in every respect and is an ideal home under the management of Mrs. Grace B. Thacker, who, during the past year was director of Willard Hall at Northwestern university.

Each student's bedroom will be furnished with a dresser, study table, three chairs, and two single (3 ft) beds, each having a good mattress, pillow 18x25, and a pair of heavy woolen blankets.

In order to be sure of accommodations in the women's building, it is necessary to make reservations early by depositing $2.00. This will be refunded if notice is given one week in advance of the opening of school that the student finds it impossible to attend.

A list of approved rooming and boarding places in private families will be found at the school. Students should not engage room and board in homes not on the approved list.

Democracy of the Dead.

In the democracy of the dead all men at last are equal. There is neither range nor station nor prerogative in the republic of the grave. At this fatal threshold the philosopher ceases to be wise, and the song of the poet is silent. Dives relinquishes his millions and Lazarus his rags. The poor man is as rich as the richest, and the rich is as poor as the pauper. The creditor loses his usury, and the debtor is acquitted of his obligation. There the proud man surrenders his dignities, the politician his honors, the worldling his pleasures; the invalid needs no physician, and the laborer rests from unrequited toil.

Here at last is nature's final decree in equity. The wrongs of time are redressed. Injustice is expiated, the irony of fate is refuted; the unequal distribution of wealth, honor, capacity, pleasure and opportunity, which makes life such a cruel and inexplicable tragedy, ceases in the realm of death. The strongest there has no supremecy, and the weakest needs no defense. The mightiest captain succumbs to that invincible adversary who disarms alike the victor and the vanquished.

FARM BUREAU WILL TAKE UP NEW WORK

To Probe Activities of Stock Salesmen Operating Among Farmers of State.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation it was decided to establish a bureau of investigation as a part of the program of the County Farm Bureau and State Federation.

The purpose of this bureau will be to investigate and obtain information of all enterprises for which the sale of stock is being pushed among farmers of this state. It will also be the purpose to investigate and eliminate any and all purebred livestock selling schemes which are not operating on a basis to the best interest of both the farmer and purebred breeder. Promotion schemes not under the jurisdiction of the state security commission will be investigated, and reports furnished to anyone desiring them.

The need for this bureau has been shown by the inquiries continually coming into the office of the federation from farmers and county agents, relative to stock promoting schemes, also schemes for the sale of purebred livestock, which are going on thruout different counties.

The plan of operation of this bureau will be as follows: Questionnaires in blank form will be kept at all farm bureau offices. All farmers are to be informed of this investigation bureau and advised that before they subscribe for stock in any way to any new enterprise under promotion that they first make sure that the promoter has filled out in duplicate this questionnaire, a copy of which will be kept on file at the County Farm Bureau office, a second copy to be given to the promoter. This promotion proposition, after being carefully investigated will be approved or disapproved by the County Farm Bureau executive board, the action taken being indicated on the questionnaire. In case further information is desired than can be furnished by the promoter, investigation will be made by the State Federation.

The Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation aims to be absolutely fair to all enterprises which are being promoted. Those that are working for the welfare of the farmer and the development of agriculture will be helped along.

BUICK

POWER, sturdiness and dependability have been qualities of Buick Valve-in-Head Motor Cars from the time that the name Buick first became linked with the automobile industry. Today, in equal measure as in the past, the Buick Motor Company is dedicated to a continuance of the policy that has caused the Buick car to occupy the position it holds in the public mind.

To all that the name Buick has meant in twenty years of automobile history, the new Nineteen Twenty One Buick brings that grace of movement, that refinement of every line and feature, that sheer beauty of design which inspire a pride of ownership in a fine motor car.

The new Buick line comprises seven models, one for every possible demand. Each has the famed Buick Valve-in-Head Motor, as rugged and powerful as ever, yet refined into a mechanism of unusual quietness.

The improved radiator, hood and cowl lines give a finished touch of trimness to the body, yet without any sacrifice of Buick individuality.

A more resilient spring suspension gives these new Buick models a riding comfort as delightful as their exterior appearance is pleasing.

Each of the seven models has its own value particularly adapted to a distinct class of service. All possess those inherent Buick qualities that assure the owner the uninterrupted use of his investment.

HIGHER RATES FOR SHORT RAIL LINES

Permission is Granted the Smaller State Roads to Increase Freight Charges.

Freight increases of 35 per cent and an increase of 20 per cent in milk and cream rates were on Saturday authorized on the application of short line railroads operating in Minnesota by the railroad and warehouse commission. The rates are to be effective ten days following the filing of tariff. In granting the increase the commission states each of the companies making application presented figures showing an increased cost of operation and the necessity for additional revenue.

The Minnesota Northwestern Electric railway operated between Thief River Falls and Goodridge is included in the increase grant and the new rates will be established on this line at once. This makes rates on all railroads in the state, large and small, uniform in all respects.

It also stated the increased cost of operation shown by the exhibits by the Class One companies was clearly reflected in the increased cost to the short line roads and if anything the short line roads had the larger burdens in proportion to their ability to bear them and their necessity for increased revenue was clearly justified to the extent granted to other lines.

Field Trials Near Warren to Be Held Next Month

Warren sportsmen are making preparations for the entertainment of a large number of visitors on Sept 9, 10 and 11, when the ninth annual field trial of the All-America Trial club will be held there. Some of the most prominent owners and breeders of bird dogs in the United States and Canada will bring their dogs to participate in the field contest. Reservations have already been made for practically all the available rooms at hotels and indications point to one of the best trials in the history of the club.

The excellent hunting grounds in the vicinity of Warren have for years been the favorite fields of many hunters and owing to the closed season of which this is the second summer, prairie chickens are now more numerous than ever, offering exceptional opportunities for working the dogs.

RED CROSS TO GIVE FREE AID AT FAIR

Accidents and emergency cases of illness at the Minnesota State Fair will receive free treatment at the Red Cross Hospital which will be maintained on the Fair Grounds during the week of September 4 to 11, under the direction of Dr. Mabel S. Ulrich, director of health service for Northern division.

An entire building will be occupied by the hospital. There will be two wards, containing twenty-five beds, and a porch which will be used as a sun-parlor. Dr. L. A. Calkins, of the University Hospital in Minneapolis, will be in charge, with Dr. S. B. Solhaug as his assistant. Captain G. R. G. Fisher, first aid expert for the Northern Division, will be on the ambulance which has been provided by the Red Cross. Other members of the staff are Miss Frances Grannis, a trained nurse from the Children's Preventorium of Ramsey county, two ambulance drivers, and any other volunteer helpers that may be found necessary.

Last year, the State Fair association had charge of the emergency work, with Dr. Calkins as superintendent. The large number of cases of heat exhaustion, faintness, and accidents of various kinds which came up during the week made it seem advisable to make more extensive preparations for the work this year. The Northern Division of the Red Cross volunteered its service, and through the efforts of C. S. Thompson of the health department all arrangements have been made to care for practically any case of an emergency nature which may arise.

"CAN'T BE BEAT" DECLARES FARMER

Eight Years Trouble Ended By Tanlac and He Can Work as Well as Ever.

"Yes, sir, Tanlac has put me in the very pink of condition and I can do as big a day's work as ever," was the statement made a few days ago by William Hinkemeyer, a prosperous farmer living at Hopkins, Minn.

"My troubles all started from my stomach after it got out of order about eight years ago, and I have been going down hill ever since. Nearly everything I ate went against me and caused me to fill up with gas something awful. I had terrible pains around my heart and in my chest and sometimes these attacks laid me out so badly and I was unable to work for two or three days afterwards. Many a night I suffered so with my stomach I had to get out of bed and walk the floor trying to get easy. My nerves were all upset and as a result what sleep I managed to get was so restless it did me little or no good. I was also troubled with constipation and often had severe nervous headaches. I lost considerable weight and felt fagged out and good-for-nothing all the time.

"But now I am a different man and feel as fine as I ever did in my life and Tanlac is the cause of it all. My appetite is so good that my biggest trouble now is trying to satisfy it. And no matter what or how much I eat it all agrees with me. In fact my stomach was never in better order. I am no longer bothered with constipation or headaches, my nerves are steady and I sleep like a log every night. I am back to normal weight, one hundred and eighty pounds, feel as strong as an ox and never have to miss a day from work. Tanlac is something that can't be beat and I don't hesitate one minute to recommend it."

Burglars Getting Bolder.

Somebody in Thief River Falls is evidently bent on committing a successful burglary before giving up in disgust. Several attempts have during the past week or two been made to gain entrance to various business buildings and residences but the would-be thief invariably runs into some obstacle which keeps him from making a haul. The work seems to be that of an amateur burglar who is well acquainted with local conditions, but a little more experience and a streak of better luck may put him in the professional class—that is, if he isn't nabbed in the meantime and put behind the bars.

Bureau office on Friday, Aug. 27. A large number of interested potato growers were present, who hope to make the association one of the most successful of its kind. WOOL THE BANNER CROP FOR SEASON

Two Hundred Per Cent Better Than Usual—Other Yields Above Average.

According to the crop report sent to the United States department of Agriculture by County Agent J. J. McCann under date of Sept. 1, the general situation in Pennington county is highly gratifying. Wool is the banner product of the year, both in volume and in comparison with previous seasons, being 150 per cent over that of 1919 and 200 per cent better than the usual production.

No figures are given as to the yield of grains but condition reports are very good. Wheat is put down as 75 per cent of normal, corn 90, oats 110 and barley 96 per cent. Flax promises to be the best crop in the county when compared with previous years, being given a rating of 99 per cent.

Tame hay is stated to have averaged two and one-half tons to the acre with a percentage mark of 98 on condition. Wild hay production is placed at one and a half tons and condition at 96 per cent.

The hogs on hand for fattening is placed at 80 per cent of last year's number and 85 per cent of the usual amount.

Clover seed is 30 per cent better than last year and 40 per cent better than the average, while in condition it is placed at 98. Timothy is given as yielding two tons per acre of a quality five per cent better than last year and 15 per cent better than usual. Alfalfa went three and one-half tons to the acre, which is ten per cent more than usual. Millet and pasture conditions are given as 98 per cent.

Other crop conditions are as follows: Millet 98, pasture 98; field peas 105, field beans 98, tomatoes 110, cabbages 97, onions 90. The sugar beet crop is placed at 100 per cent.

THREE MILLION AID FOR GOPHER ROADS

Minnesota Must Use Its Share of Federal Apportionment or Other States Get It.

Nearly three million dollars of Federal money is available for road building in Minnesota as soon as that state provides an equal sum, the Department of Agriculture announced Monday. The total is $2,842,089 of which $2,131,567 is provided in the 1919 appropriation bill and the remainder in the 1916 act.

For North Dakota there is available nearly $1,500,000 and for South Dakota a little more than $1,600,000. All this money became available July 1.

For the entire country the amount of Federal aid for road building is $100,000,000. From this sum is deducted $3,000,000 for use by the government.

The department calls attention to the fact that new legislation must be passed by the next Congress if the program of Federal aid is to be continued.

Thomas H. Macdonald, chief of the bureau of public roads, who formerly was state engineer in Iowa, states that previous apportionments have been taken up, and it is not likely that the state will fail to absorb this last apportionment. To do so, however, will mean that the states must survey, plan and let contracts for at least $200,000,000 worth of Federal aid construction in the next two years.

If the states continue to pay more than 50 per cent of the cost, as they have in the past, the cost of the roads constructed with this last apportionment may reach $250,000,000.

In 1915 the expenditure for all the roads in the United States constructed under state supervision was only $80,000,000.

PUBLIC FORUM

Secretary Submits Facts in Union Label Argument

An item in the Tribune of last Friday relative to the use of the label of the International Typographical Uniol seems to require a little explanation. To put the matter straight before the public the following facts are submitted:

Wage scales and agreements, signed by Thief River Falls employers and officers of the local typographical union, were on July 1 submitted to International officers of the union for approval. Such approval is necessary in order to secure the use of the union label and general benefits coming from membership in the organization. So far so good. The agreements were not approved, however, making it necessary to add two minor amendments to conform with International requirements. The official union labels were held by the International secretary pending the approval and signing of the amendments by the local parties concerned.

Local union officers submitted the amendments to Thief River Falls employing printers. The Times company signed the amendment without argument, thereby conforming with all requirements and becoming a union shop in every sense of the term. The manager of the Tribune, although repeatedly asked to sign, refused to do so. The amendment, carrying only the signature of the Times manager, was submitted to the International secretary and approved. The labels were immediately forwarded and The Times given the privilege of using the union insignia in its issue of last Thursday.

At that time the Tribune management had not yet signed the amendment, which was imperative in order that the shop be classed as a union establishment and entitled to the use of the label. The signature of the Tribune management was not affixed to the amended agreement until Friday morning, Aug. 27, which makes it obvious that the statement of The Times concerning the union label was, at that time, correct in every particular. As soon as the manager's signature was affixed to the amendments, the Tribune immediately became a strictly union shop and the union officers are pleased to recognize it as such. The Times last Thursday was the only strictly union newspaper in the city and said so. Friday morning the Tribune establishment also became a full-fledged union shop when its manager signed the amended agreement, and was immediately granted the use of the label.

This explanation is published to set the matter straight and to relate the facts as they really occurred.

A KIEWEL PRODUCT

Fordson

There are many Tractors clamoring for the patronage of the farmer. The very air is charged with the noise of claims. One would think that all the farmer had to do was to buy a Tractor and he would enter into the Millennium.

Well, consider this fact—there are a great many different makes of Tractors. Tractors have been on the American market for twenty years. In that time some three hundred thousand Tractors have been sold to the farmers in the United States. The Fordson Tractor has only been on the market two years, and in that time more than one hundred thousand Fordson Tractors have been sold to the farmers of the United States.

Two and two make four. Two and two always will make four. If the Fordson Tractor had not delivered more more good work, more satisfactory work, than any other farm Tractor, it would not have sold in the ratio of anywhere from five and more to one. "The proof of the pudding is in the eating." The proof of the superior merits of the Fordson Tractor is in its larger sale and use.

The Fordson Tractor then asks you to buy it because of what it has done for your neighbors. It asks you to buy it, Mr. Farmer, because you have use for it every day in the year. All the uses for the Fordson Tractor have not yet been uncovered because new places where machine power can take the place of human power, where machine power can supplant horse and mule-power, are being found every week, and wherever such discovery occurs, the Fordson Tractor will fill the bill more satisfactorily than any other form of power.

The Fordson is simple in design, and it is very strongly made of the highest quality of iron and steel. It is the product of the greatest mechanical genius the world has ever known, and it is most economical in first cost and after expense. The Fordson Tractor on your farm will increase the value of every foot of ground in that farm. It will put more dollars and cents into every hour you put into the farm.

Now why not have a Fordson right away? Take up the subject with us. Come in and get the details, and all the particulars. It is only a matter of time until you buy a farm Tractor—that is sure. So don't put it off when it means money to you to act promptly.

BETTER ROADS WILL SOON BE A REALITY

Opposition to Babcock Amendment Reported Rapidly Dissolving in State.

Senator Leonard H. Nord, executive secretary of the Minnesota Highway Improvement association this week said that reports from all sections indicate that opposition to the good roads amendment to the state constitution is disappearing as rapidly as the plan is explained and correctly understood.

Senator P. H. McGarry, president of the highway improvement association, this week is continuing a successful series of daily meetings for Amendment No. 1 in Minnesota counties.

The senator is explaining the purpose of this legislation to permit the state to take over, improve and maintain 7,000 miles of main traveled highway and to raise motor vehicle license fees to provide necessary funds. The plan, he adds, will enable the counties and towns to build and maintain good laterals or feeder roads with the funds raised by taxation as at present.

HUSEBY SECRETARY OF CROP EXHIBITS

John Huseby, professor of animal husbandry at the Northwest School of Agriculture, was elected secretary of the Red River Valley Live Stock Association at a meeting of the board of directors held Tuesday. Mr. Huseby will fill the position made vacant by the removal of W. V. Gousoff to Illinois. The new secretary was formerly county agent of Marshall county and is well acquainted with the work his new duties as livestock secretary will require.

The board voted to appropriate $250 toward the Junior Live Stock Show, which is to be held by the members of the boys and girls clubs in the live stock pavilion during the second week of November.

It was agreed by the board that a limit should be placed on the number of animals that can be sold at the winter show and sales by any one person or firm, and that the custom being adopted at all large sales of requiring that any and all animals entered for sale must be for actual sale without any reserve bids on them. Other action by the board had to do with the rotation of the days upon which the various classes and breeds of animals would be sold. The plan contemplates an arrangement whereby a system of rotation would be followed each year so that the kinds sold the forepart of the week one year will come in on later days the next year, thus establishing an equality of days all around.

W. E. Morris, assistant state leader of the farm bureaus was in attendance at the meeting as were directors and officers from various sections of the valley. The 1921 winter show and sale dates are February 7 to 11.

YOU NEED THIS FAMOUS CTX GANG

With its strong one-piece frame, ideal foot lift, high wheels, self-adjusting parallel rod, adjustable hitch, short bails and hangers, etc., you have a plow, in the Rock Island No. 8 Gang, that for strength, ease of operation and light draft cannot be surpassed.

The frame of the No. 8 is the stoutest ever put on a plow—a heavy one-piece frame, opening at the right hand corner of the front, where the least strain is. The two ends are bolted together—the strongest construction possible.

HIGH WHEELS—LONG WHEEL BASE

You will notice all of the wheels are higher, the big land wheel 36 inches, and the front and rear furrow wheels, 24 inches.

The No. 8 Gang is very light of draft, for it has a long wheel base, yet a short hitch. The long wheel base steadies the plow and holds it to its work, and at the same time makes it possible to seat the driver well back over the rear wheel. Seated in this position he can see the work being done while the ground is being turned over.

"CTX" BOTTOMS

Add to these features the famous "CTX" Bottom and you have the best plowing outfit on the market. "CTX" Bottoms go into any soil and turn the furrow slice clear over, saving the moisture for the hot, dry days—which means saving your crops from drought.

SMALLER WHEAT ACREAGE BUT GREATER VOLUME IS REPORTED

In 1919 the wheat acreage in North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Montana, the grain growing states of the ninth federal reserve district, was 17,731,000 acres. In 1920 the acreage was 14,949,000. Despite the reduction, however, accordingly to the monthly report of crops and business conditions announced today by the Ninth Federal Reserve bank, the total production in 1919 was 132,227,000 bushels while in 1920 the production increased to 181,950,000 bushels. Similar increases are noted in oats, barley, rye, flax, corn and hay.

As compared with a year ago, says the report, these states are producing an excess of 198,000,000 bushels of small grains and 3,000,000 bushels of corn, or a total of 613,000,000 bushels, representing a traffic requirement of approximately 521,000 cars. In this connection, it is interesting to note that a large number of country elevators reporting in May showed that they had received an average of 2.12 cars for the month. In June there was some improvement, and the average of reporting elevators was 2.22 cars for the month. In July, the same list of elevators averaged only two cars per month, or a less favorable average than either of the two preceding months. The situation at terminals has improved, however, due to the energetic efforts of the Interstate commerce commission and the railroads. The latest figures still show 7,350,000 bushels of grain of the old crop in 4,900 elevators in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, and 8,500,000 bushels of the old crop still left on the farms.

Much of the new crop has already reached market. The samples give evidence of spotted conditions. While there is a large amount of very good wheat, there is also considerable grain that is shrunken and lacking in weight. Over the district as a whole, there is ample evidence that properly prepared and sufficiently cultivated lands have given good returns.

Money Conditions Tight.

The slowing up of business which was noted during the month of June has been offset to a considerable extent during the month of July by the rising tide of business confidence based very largely on the favorable prospects for the crop. Statistical indices for the month exhibit mixed tendencies. The volume of grain, flour and cattle transported has declined and only by rigorous measures was an increase in coal receipts secured. Debits to individual accounts and postal savings deposits exhibit declines. The buying power of the public appears to have reached a limit. Stringent money conditions prevail. Liquidation of merchandise has progressed very slowly. On the other hand, there has been an increase in the volume of traffic through the Soo Canal and in the valuation of new building permits. Collections generally are good. Some food prices have fallen. Flour milling and copper mining companies report decreases and lumber and iron mining companies report increases in the volume of production. There has been no shortage of labor to handle the crop; and labor conditions have improved among the industries. It appears that general business was better at the end of July than at the end of June, but this improvement was based upon the expectation that the crop would be promptly shipped and converted into cash as in past years. Transportation conditions during the next few months are the keystone to the business situation in the near future.

Farmers Hold Cattle.

Bankers report a tendency to withhold cattle from market in the hope of better prices by many farmers with five to twenty head each in the states of Minnesota, North Dakota and northern Wisconsin. In parts of Montana and South Dakota cattle are being withheld from market in order to convert the prevailing grass into weight. Montana shipments will be lighter than in former years as many herds were depleted last year. Thruout the district, wool is being stored by the growers in the hope of a better market. "No buyers" is the prevailing report. More wool has been consigned by Montana growers than elsewhere.

Prices Decline Substantially.

During the month of July, prices declined substantially for the primary products of this district, including all the grains, flour, beef, lambs, butter, potatoes and garden produce. There was a moderate increase in hogs, veal, eggs and hens at wholesale. Dun's review reports that the following products were quoted at lower prices on August 1st than a year ago: copper, hogs, hides and wool.

Collection conditions in the Ninth Federal Reserve District on the whole are good. Investigation has shown no increase in bad debts. Business men are optimistic as to the future. It is significant that business is dull in many lines, particularly in leather and automobiles and auto tires. There has been very little overstocking with consequent inability to settle obligations promptly. The majority of firms felt a tightness of money in the spring months, varying according to the trade from April to June. Collections fell off then but in most lines recovered in July. Some report July collections as normal or the best in years. Retailers who allow sales on open account report collections normal, but where longer credits are granted on contract, the slowing up of collections is marked. Wholesalers report collections good in dry goods, hardware and farm implements. The automobile trade, on the contrary, notes a great decline. Business men, though optimistic, admit frankly that their collections for the year depend on a good crop and transportation.

No Sign of Easy Money.

Interest rates continue very firm. There is no sign of easy money in the immediate future, and it is likely that the present level of money rates will continue throughout the fall and early winter. Some authorities look for changes in commodity prices before spring, which will probably affect the money market, and current reports give some support to the view that the shortage of production will be overcome in some measure during the next six months. Still goods seem to be scarce. During the month, the Federal Reserve Bank issued a notice to all borrowing member banks that it will expect liquidation with the movement of the crop, and that as farm products seek their markets, creating a flow of money in the country, it will depend upon its members to proportionately reduce their obligations, and put themselves in shape as against spring planting time, and the demands of the coming year.

Tight money, high wage rates and the level of prices for all building materials has created very bad housing conditions in practically all the centers of the district. There is no sign of any general resumption of normal building operations although the building program that has been deferred is larger than any this district has ever had in prospect. Much the same conditions are true as to other lines of activity that tend toward business and industrial expansion and the development of the resources of the district. Not much relief along these lines can be expected until there has been a more substantial break in prices than has yet occurred.

American Legion Notes

In order to prevent the mulcting of the next-of-kin of men who died in the war by unscrupulous swindlers the American Legion has started a campaign among its 9,600 posts to warn against such practices and to arrest and prosecute all offenders. A personal canvass of all gold star mothers and relatives of those who died in service will be made in every community where there is a Legion post and they will be fully informed of the means taken by the swindlers to obtain money. One such confidence man already has been arrested after he had sent a telegram to a mother in the name of her missing son, asking for funds. Offers to provide details of soldiers' deaths and information as to the location of their graves for payment are the usual lure held out by the swindlers.

Le Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux of the American Legion has laid plans for attending the Cleveland convention in force and will make the trip in a novel vehicle. American box cars bearing the sign "40 Hommes, 8 Chevaux" will carry the Philadelphia members to the Ohio city and many other voitures of the society in the West and South are planning to follow the example of the parent body.

Trips by water to the Legion convention at Cleveland, Sept. 27, 28, and 29, are rapidly springing into favor. The Charles S. Learned Post of Detroit will bring 1,000 Legionnaries to Cleveland on a specially-chartered boat and Chicago Post has arranged for two boats to accommodate between 2,000 and 3,000 Legionnaries. A movement is on foot to have every big city on the Great Lakes charter at least one or two boats, as in this way the problems of transportation, meals and housing will be solved for Legionnaries at a single stroke.

The Department of Minnesota leads all others in the number of units of the women's auxiliary according to reports received at National headquarters of the Legion. Approximately 5,000 women are members of its 93 units.

Eighteen French orphans already have been adopted by Legion posts throughout the country in their drive to take care of the suffering children of France. The record in adoptions so far is held by Gertrude E. Craig of Springfield, Ill., a former naval reserve nurse who has taken two orphans and announces that she intends to care for them for more than a year—the usual period of adoption.

It is now possible for members of the American Legion to obtain tents free from the government. Under House Joint Resolution 11, and an amendment approved July 26, 1919, the loan of tentage (no cots or blankets) is provided for. Applications should be addressed to Major Reese, chief of clothing and equipage, 1236 Munitions Building, Washington, D. C.

A reception and ball, theater parties for delegates and a sightseeing trip by special train to Tia Juana, across the Mexican line, were on the program of the second annual convention of the Department of California, held at San Diego.

The Vincent B. Costello Post of Washington, D. C., following out the Legion's plan of caring for wounded service men gave an excursion and athletic carnival at Chesapeake Beach at which thirty-five patients from the Walter Reed Hospital, forty-five from the Navy Hospital and ten from Fort Myer Hospital, were present as guests.

HARDING GLAD AMERICANS ARE A FREE PEOPLE

EUROPE HAS EVEN NOW QUIT WILSON'S LEAGUE

Yet Democratic Party Leaders Would Have Us Bound by Original Pact With No American Safeguards.

> "Mindful of our splendid example and renewing every obligation of association in war, I want America to be the rock of security at home, resolute in righteousness and unalterable in security and supremacy of the law.
> "Let us be done with wiggling and wobbling.
> "Steady America! Let us assure good fortune to all."

Marion, O. (Special.)—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for President, in a speech delivered to a delegation from Indiana which called on him here to pledge the support of Indiana Republicans, declared that twice President Wilson had an opportunity to obtain ratification of the League of Nations covenant and that he put ratification aside because he would not accept reservations designed solely to safeguard American rights. Senator Harding said:

"I greet you in a spirit of rejoicing; not a rejoicing in the narrow personal or partisan sense, not in the gratifying prospects of party triumph; not in the contemplation of abundance in the harvest fields and ripening corn fields and maturing orchards; not in the reassuring approach of stability after a period of wiggling and wobbling which magnified our uncertainty—though all of these are ample for our wide rejoicing—but I rejoice that America is still free and independent and in a position of self-reliance and holds to the right of self-determination, which are priceless possessions in the present turbulence of the world.

"Let us suppose the senate had ratified the peace treaty containing the league covenant as submitted to it by the president in July of last year, what would be the situation confronting our common country today? To my mind there is but one answer. Before this day we would have been called upon to fulfill the obligations which we had assumed under Article 10 of the league covenant, to preserve the territorial integrity of Poland 'as against external aggression.'

Sympathy for Poland.

"I shall not now attempt to measure the boundless sympathy for the just aspirations and restored independence of Poland. Our present concern is the international situation which Poland has brought to our attention.

"The council of the League of Nations would have reasoned, and reasoned correctly, that the United States could furnish the munitions and, if necessary, the men to withstand the hordes advancing from Russia far more easily than could the exhausted nations of Europe. Moreover, inasmuch as this would be the first test of the scheme of world government which was formulated and demanded by the President, speaking for the United States, the fact of a special responsibility, resting upon our shoulders, manifestly would have been undeniable. Undoubtedly the league council, in 'advising upon the means' by which the obligations to Poland should be fulfilled, as provided in the covenant, would have so held, and probably the conscience of America, certainly the opinion of the world, would have sustained that judgment.

"The conclusion that our country might now be confronted by such a situation, if the senate had ratified the league covenant, requires no stretch of the imagination. None can deny that it is possible. To many candid minds, as to my own, such a distressing situation will seem highly probable. Let us assume that the ratification had taken place. Let us assume, further, that the performance of the alloted task required the waging of war upon the Russian people, as, of course, it would, what would result; what would of necessity have to result? Nothing necessarily, we are glibly informed, since only the Congress can declare war, and the Congress might reject the appeal of the executive. But would the Congress do that? Could the Congress do that without staining indelibly the honor of the nation?

Answer Is "No."

"'I answer 'No,' and I say it not on my own authority alone. Back of my judgment stands the President of the United States. Upon that point there is first-hand information. In the course of the discussion which took place at the meeting of the President and the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations I raised the question by stating a hypothetical case precisely analogous to that which I have depicted, and then inquired whether we might not rightfully be regarded as a perfidious people if we should fail to contribute an armed force, if called upon to do so. The President first replied, as I thought somewhat evasively, that we 'would be our own judges as to whether we were obliged in those circumstances to act in that way or not. Pressed further, however, in response to a query incorporating the assumption that 'the case provided for and prescribed had arisen' and that 'the extraneous attack did exist precisely as it does exist today in Poland,' the President admitted specifically that 'we would be untrue if we did not keep our word.'

"Replying further to a question which perhaps I ought not to have considered necessary, the President pronounced a moral obligation 'of course, superior to a legal obligation' and of 'a greater binding force.'

"What, then, becomes of the argument that Congress, not the President, in this instance at any rate, might 'keep us out of war?' Technically, of course, it could do so. Morally, with equal certainty, it could not do so nor would it ever do so. The American people would never permit a repudiation of a debt of honor.

"Am I not right, my countrymen, in saying that we needed only the outbreak of war between Poland and Russia to make us realize at least one of the things which, in the words of Secretary Lansing, we would have been 'let in for,' but for the restraining hand of the senate, and to fetch home to us the danger of committing our country in advance to causes that we know not of?

Not Our Purpose.

"One can have no quarrel with those who have convinced themselves that our underlying purpose in entering the great conflict was to create a league of nations. The fact remains, however, that no such intent was officially acclaimed, no allusion, nor even a suggestion to that effect appeared in the joint resolution of Congress which declared the existence of a state of war between this country and Germany. For myself I left no room for doubt of the motives which led me to cast my vote in favor of that resolution. It so happened that I made the concluding speech upon the war resolution, from my place in the senate, on the night of April 4, 1917. These were my own words at that time:

"'I want it known to the people of my state and to the nation that I am voting for war tonight for the maintenance of just American rights, which is the first essential to the preservation of the soul of this republic.

"'I vote for this joint resolution to make war, not a war thrust upon us, if I could choose the language of the resolution, but a war declared in response to affronts; a war that will at least put a soul into our American life; a war not for the cause of the allies of Europe; a war not for France, beautiful as the sentiment may be in reviving at least our gratitude to the French people; not precisely a war for civilization, worthy and inspiring as that would be; but a war that speaks for the majesty of a people properly governed, who finally are brought to the crucial test where they are resolved to get together and wage a conflict for the maintenance of their rights and the preservation of the covenant inherited from their fathers.

"We have given to the world the spectacle of a great nation that could make war without selfish intent. We unsheathed the sword some eighteen years ago for the first time in the history of the world, in the name of humanity, and we gave proof to the world at that time of an unselfish nation. Now, whether it is the fate, or fortune, or travail of destiny, it has come to us to unsheathe the sword again, not alone for humanity's sake—though that splendid inspiration will be involved—but to unsheathe the sword against a great power in the maintenance of the rights of the republic, in the maintenance which will give to us a new guaranty of nationality. That's the great thing, and I want it known, Mr. President and senators, that this is the impelling thought with me for one, when I cast my vote.'

For Same Guaranty Today.

"It is for that same 'guaranty of nationality' that I stand today, and shall continue to stand inflexibly, so long as I shall be permitted to live. The independence of our great republic is to me a priceless and sacred inheritance. Time was when an American did not hesitate to proclaim himself a patriot. To do so now, I am well aware, is sometimes to invite the sneers of cynicism. But why should any true American not be free to say: 'I am a patriot, wholly devoted to my country, which I hold to be God's best inspiration to man for higher attainment and the promotion of the world's best civilization?'

"But I have a special reason for making this reference today. I challenge the statement that the patriotism which holds America first comprehends either narrowness or selfishness, or as implying tacit suspicion and jealousy of other peoples.

"To assert, as some have asserted heedlessly, that those of us who honestly believe that America can best serve all mankind as America, free and untrammeled, rather than as one in a pitiable minority among many states in merged world government, lack consciousness of the rightful demands of humanity, is to utter a gross and unpardonable libel. To attribute meanness to those of us who, in the performance of our public duty, refused to participate in what we sincerely regarded as a betrayal of our own country in the interest of others, is to discredit the intelligence and discrimination of the great mass of American people who directly, by their votes, put us in our positions of trust. For myself, I yield to no man in willingness, aye, in eagerness, to render the greatest conceivable assistance to the stricken peoples of Europe. I include all of them and speak with a genuinely sympathetic heart, whether it is to mention devastated France, or sorely-tried Italy, or nobly-struggling Poland, or distracted and misguided Russia, or gallant little Belgium, or pitiably deceived Austria, or the ruthless invader, Germany, which came to the supreme tragedy through a leadership which brought disaster to her misguided people.

"It was with that feeling of sympathy and desire to serve, that most reluctantly and with grave misgivings, as I announced at the time, I with reservations designed to preserve our essential liberty of action. The record is made, and under the same conditions, confronted by the same alternative, I should vote now as I voted then.

Conditions Have Changed.

"But the conditions have changed. Experience has brought enlightenment. We know now that the league constituted at Versailles is utterly impotent as a preventive of wars. It is so obviously impotent that it has not even been tried. The original league, mistakenly conceived and unreasonably insisted upon, has undoubtedly passed beyond the possibility of restoration. The maturer judgment of the world will be that it deserved to pass for the very simple reason that, contrary to all of the tendencies developed by the civilizing processes of the world, it rested upon the power of might, not of right.

"The assertion is made frequently that through the surrender of our nationality we might have saved the life of the covenant—that is to say, that, although twenty-eight nations could not make it function, one added to the twenty-eight would have achieved a glowing success, provided, always, that the one were America.

"This pays to America the tribute of exceptional influence, but I suggest that if the world is dependent upon our action to bring about the supreme realization, then we ought to have the say about our own freedom in participating therein. But let us consider what is meant by this reliance upon America. What can it signify if not that it is to the United States, and to the United States alone, that the other twenty-eight nations look for the bone and sinew, the money, the munitions and the men to sustain the entire organization, not as an agency of peace, but as an armed force?

A Telling Admission.

"A few days ago a delegation of an organization which calls itself a Society for the Prevention of War appealed to the premier of Great Britain to unite and use the powers of the world in defense of Poland, Armenia and the Dardanelles. The British premier replied, according to his remarks quoted by the newspapers, to the effect that, while the formation of 'an international army' would be 'an ideal solution,' it could not be accomplished because the European nations could not furnish the troops and the United States had 'withdrawn from co-operation'—a polite and diplomatic phrase and more exactly meaning, of course, that the senate of the United States had not completed the partial obligation assumed by the President to do that very thing—that is, to 'furnish the troops.' Could a clearer indication of what would have been expected of this country as a member of the league be desired? Hardly. Some, too, think, or say they think, that this extraordinary service should be rendered. I do not agree with them, but, assuming that they are right, I venture to note that nothing stands in the way of performance. The President has only to call upon Congress to declare war, and to confer upon him specific authority to raise armies for the protection of the powers which, though recently associated with, are still foreign to our own republic.

"It is reasonably safe to assume, however, that the President will not pursue this course. Fortunately, he is under no 'compelling moral obligation' under the league to do so. His recent unhappy experience, moreover, in asking Congress to send American boys to Police Armenia would hardly encourage repetition of a request already courteously but quite firmly declined by the Congress. What then, in like circumstances, would be the answer of the British premier himself? In his own words, addressing a meeting of the Coalition Liberals on August 12 last, according to the press reports, he said:

"'When the terrible question of peace or war has to be decided, our first duty as a government is to the people, who trust us not to commit their treasure to any unjustifiable adventure. Nothing but the most imperative call of national honor, national safety and national freedom can justify war. Before this country is committed to it, even in the most limited form, we must be satisfied that these are in peril.'

"I quote these telling words, my countrymen, with the utmost satisfaction, because with one amendment they express to a nicety my own position. I take for granted that the prime minister meant to include in 'treasure' the greatest treasure of all but, for myself, I should leave nothing to be inferred. Foremost and above all else to be safeguarded by those of us who hold the trust of the people, it goes without saying, but cannot be too often repeated, is the manhood of the nation.

Will Not Misuse Power.

"Now, it may appear to you that I have been speaking chiefly in the negative. I make the admission. What is more, I might continue to do so almost indefinitely without disadvantage to our cause. So many things have been done by the present expiring administration that no power on earth could induce me to do, that I cannot even attempt to recount them. I may remark, casually, however, that if I should be, as I fully expect to be, elected President of this just and honorable republic, I will not empower an assistant secretary of the navy to draft a constitution for helpless neighbors in the West Indies and jam it down their throats at the point of bayonets borne by United States marines. We have a higher service for our gallant marines than that. Nor will I misuse the power of the executive to cover with a veil of secrecy repeated acts of unwarranted interference in domestic affairs of the little republics of the western hemisphere, such as in the past few years have not only made enemies of those who should be our friends, but have rightfully discredited our country as their trusted neighbor.

Will Submit to No Wrong.

"On the other hand, I will not or shall not, as you prefer, submit to any wrong against any American citizen, with respect to either his life or his property, by any government. This statement is made in all solemnity, with enmity for none and friendship for all. If it particularly applies to Mexico, the application has been directed by the robbery and murder of hundreds of our own people in that unhappy country who were lawfully there and were entitled to protection. One must admit that these outrages upon Americans are largely the consequences of the wiggling and wobbling the supine waiting of our own government, though the admission neither helps the hurt, nor gives the hope of security for the future while the present administration remains in power, or when one in 'complete accord' succeeds it.

"This admonition is not directed exclusively toward our next door neighbor to whom we would gladly hold forth a helping hand, and whom primarily, certainly in preference to far off peoples in Europe, Asia and Africa, it is our manifest duty to serve with a whole heart and generous tolerance. It is intended for a plain notice to every government on the face of the earth that the entire resources of this nation are pledged to maintain the sacredness of American lives and the just protection of American properties.

Line of Demarcation Plain.

"The line of demarcation between our attitude and that of our political opponents is perfectly plain. The president has made his position clear by his acts no less than by his words. Twice there came to him an opportunity to obtain ratification at the hands of the senate and twice he put the opportunity aside, because he would not accept reservations designed solely to safeguard American rights. He still holds Article 10 to be the heart of the covenant. So does the Democratic platform. So does the Democratic nominee. To assume that the nominee would accept the reservations rejected by the President and denounced by the party platform is to impugn his integrity. To insinuate, as those who in proclaiming themselves for the Democratic candidate and 'the league with reservations' do insinuate that he would pursue such a course in seeking ratification is not to pay him a compliment, but rather to challenge his sincerity.

"For myself I do not question for a moment the truth of what the Democratic nominee says on this subject. He has flatly said he is 'in favor of going in' on the basis announced by the President. I am not. That is the whole difference between us, but it is a most vital one, because it involves the disparity between a world court of justice supplemented by a world association for conference, on the one hand, and the council of the league, on the other.

The Difference.

"The difference between a court of international justice and the council created by the league covenant is simple but profound.

"The one is a judicial tribunal to be governed by fixed and definite principles of law administered without passion or prejudice. The other is an association of diplomats and politicians whose determinations are sure to be influenced by considerations of expediency and national selfishness.

"I do not mean to say, nor do I mean to permit any such construction, that I would decline to co-operate with other nations in an honest endeavor to prevent wars. Nobody living would take that position. The only question is one of method or of practicability within the bounds prescribed by fundamental principles.

"There are distinctly two types of international relationship. One is an offensive and defensive alliance of great powers, like that created at Versailles, to impose their will upon the helpless peoples of the world. Frankly, I am opposed to such a scheme as that, and I speak knowingly when I say that the associated powers, with whom we fought the war, were reluctant to accept such a proposition.

"I am opposed to the very thought of our republic becoming a party to so great an outrage upon other peoples, who have as good a right to seek their political freedom as we had in 1776 and have the same right to developing eminence under the inspiration of nationality as we held for ourselves.

The Other Type.

"The other type is a society of free nations, or an association of free nations, or a league of free nations, animated by considerations of right and justice, instead of might and self-interest, and not merely proclaimed an agency in pursuit of peace, but so organized and so participated in as to make the actual attainment of peace a reasonable possibility. Such an association I favor with all my heart, and I

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

Does Business On Other Men's Coin

(Copyright)

It is a mighty nice thing to be able to do business on the other fellow's money, but there are few people who can do it. Probably the only business men, who, as a class, are able to do this, are the mail order men in the big cities.

Did you ever stop to think—you who have ordered goods from a mail-order house and there are probably few who have not done that at some time or other—that you are supplying the cash upon which the mail order man is doing business? You are well aware of the fact that your cash must go with your order if you expect to receive the goods, but have you ever stopped to think what that means? Do you realize that you are supplying the capital for a business which is running in direct competition with your home merchants, upon whose prosperity you and your fellow townsmen are dependent for a livelihood?

The majority of mail order houses do not carry large stocks of goods. They do not have to. When the mail order man gets your order, accompanied by the cash, of course, he can take a part of your money and go to the manufacturer or the wholesaler and buy the article that is wanted. The rest of the money he can put down in his pocket after paying his operating costs, which are light when compared with those of the merchant who must carry a large stock of goods to meet the demands made upon him.

In Class by Themselves.

There is absolutely no other class of men who do business on the capital furnished by their customers. Even the retail store which sells for cash only cannot do this for he must carry a large stock and in most cases must pay cash for it in order to get prices that will enable him to make lower prices to his customers than can be made by the merchant who gives credit to his customers.

The mail order man doesn't need to have any of his own capital invested in his business—or any large amount of it, at least, in proportion to the volume of the business which he does. He does not have to pay interest to the banks on money borrowed to help him finance his business. The mail order man figures that about one-half of the amount he receives on any order goes to the wholesaler or manufacturer in payment for the goods ordered. Of the remainder a part goes for postage, printing, maintenance of office and plant, insurance, etc. What is left, which is by no means an insignificant part of every dollar received, goes into dividends to stockholders in the mail order corporation. All this has been done without any capital other than that which may be required to pay office expenses.

Suppose for a minute, that you did business with the local merchants on the same plan. Suppose that they did not carry any goods in stock, that when you wanted to buy something you should go to one of your home merchants, look in his catalogue and pick out an article that seemed to be similar to the one that you wanted, hand over the price as shown by the catalogue and tell him to order it for you. The merchant would take your money and you would wait for your goods until they arrived from a distant city.

Not So Anxious.

But the people who make up any community are not nearly as anxious to furnish capital to the home merchant—the man who helps "make" the town—as they are to the mail order man in the far distant city, who does nothing and cares nothing for the people who furnish him the money on which to do business. They insist that the home merchant shall carry a large stock of goods from which they can select what they wish, when they think it is to their interest to buy from him. They insist that he shall stand back of the goods he sells and make good any defect that may appear in them. They insist that he shall sell them what they wish and wait for the money until they get ready to pay it. They insist that he shall sell goods at the same price or lower price than the mail order houses charge for goods of poorer quality. And finally, they insist that the home merchant shall furnish the large amount of capital that is required to conduct a business on this plan.

The mail order buyer may say that he has the right to spend his money anywhere he pleases and he has, legally. But he probably has never stopped to reflect on the fact that he is supplying the capital for the operation of a concern which is in direct competition with enterprises in which he is directly interested, for every man, woman and child in town is directly interested in the success of the business enterprises in that town. If these business enterprises are not prosperous, the town cannot be prosperous. To supply capital to your competitor is not very good business.

EVANGELIST HOLDS STIRRING MEETINGS

An interesting service was held at the auditorium Sunday evening by Evangelist Frank Lindblad of Portland, Ore., and staff of workers. Despite very little previous announcement and the rain, a fair crowd was present. Especially interesting was the spirited singing, led by Arthur F. Berg and wife, of Minneapolis.

The evangelist spoke on the need of a definite experience of salvation and how that many, honestly trying to know God, still lack this. He also mentioned that many are trying to reach God by other ways than through Jesus Christ. Special emphasis was laid upon the fact that Jesus is the Way, the Truth and the Life, and no man cometh to the Father but by Him.

The meetings at the auditorium will continue every evening this week at 7:45, including Sunday, and possibly the week following. The evangelist has a clear and powerful message and does not hesitate to speak the truth as he sees it. The meetings will bring forth messages on topics that are worth while hearing. Most of the churches of the city were represented Sunday evening, and the co-operation of all the Christian people of the city is invited.

WELL-KNOWN YOUNG WOMAN IS CALLED

Miss Zella Zeh, 21 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil E. Zeh, died at the Physicians hospital on Wednesday morning of peritonitis. She was suddenly taken ill about a week previous and her condition was not considered serious until a short time before her death. A consultation of the doctors on Tuesday afternoon resulted in an operation being hastily ordered. The patient failed to rally and died at two o'clock Wednesday morning.

The funeral which was private, was held from the family residence this morning, only the immediate relatives being present. Rev. R. L. Barackman of the Presbyterian church conducting. The pall bearers were Alvin Holzknecht, Haaven Lindberg of Detroit, Jordan Penney, Rufus Barackman, Elmer Tandberg and Carl Sundahl—all with the exception of Mr. Lundberg being classmates of the dead girl during the time she attended Lincoln high school.

Seldom has a death occuring in this city struck deeper sorrow into the hearts of the people. Born in this city on Oct. 12, 1899, Zella Zeonah Zeh spent all her life here with the exception of the time she was attending the university. Never was a young woman more highly regarded, her acquaintanceship extending to practically every person in the city of which her parents are pioneer residents. After completing her school course she attended the university of North Dakota, taking a commercial course. Returning to this city she was engaged as teacher of shorthand and typewriting at the Lincoln. She was junior class advisor last year and had entered upon a contract to continue her services for another term. She was vice president of the Girls' Community club and prominent in all social activities of the city, giving particular attention to music, of which she was an enthusiastic student and herself a vocalist of great promise.

The casket was literally buried in flowers when conveyed to the cemetery this morning, many tributes coming from friends at a distance.

There are left to mourn her loss besides the parents, one brother, Ernest, and her aged grandfather, Milton Forder. The entire community is deeply moved over the loss of one so generally loved and admired.

Eli Weston of Valley City, N. D., to whom the young woman was engaged, arrived in the city yesterday and was the only out-of-town person present at the funeral.

THRIFT EXHIBIT TO GET WIDE SHOWING

The espousal of thrift during the war by the various governmental departments, and more recently by the U. S. Treasury department, met with warm response in this city as is evidenced by the recent display of thrift work under the auspices of the local Woman's club at the Pennington county fair, and at the annual meeting of the woman's clubs of the Ninth congressional district at Warren, at which place the local club won the prize for the best exhibit.

Officers of the state federated club who saw the display at Warren were so enthusiastic over it that they asked that it be sent to Minneapolis. Here it attracted the attention of Miss Hester Pollock, chairman of the Woman's War department of the Ninth Federal district, who took it to the various meetings of woman's clubs in the southern part of the state during the month of July. The exhibit came in for much favorable comment everywhere it was shown. The treasury department heads feel that the exhibit is so good that it would be of much help if it also be shown at the state meeting of the federated clubs at Northfield Sept. 1 to 3, and accordingly it has been sent there.

Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, president of the local Woman's club the past two years, is state chairman of the thrift section of the federated clubs of Minnesota, and is in attendance at the meeting at Northfield. She has been succeeded by Mrs. Daniel Shaw as president of the home club while Mrs. E. M. Stanton, who served as secretary last year, is the present county chairman of thrift.

Treasury department officials in the Twin Cities have recently become much interested in the movement as undertaken by the various clubs throughout the state and are now requesting that after the exhibit is shown at Northfield it be sent to the state fair, where it will be on display in the Woman's building from Sept. 4 to 11 in a booth especially provided and where it will be in charge of members of the federated clubs who will be on hand to explain the features of the display. Among these will be Mrs. Froehlich of this city.

CATTLE PRICES GO SLIGHTLY UPWARD

Best hogs made some recovery in prices the closing days of the week but at that the net loss was reckoned at 50c to 75c. Choice light lights continued to sell around $15 but bulk of the run cleared at $13.50 to $14 with low end at $12.75. Prices generally were the lowest of the summer. Stock pigs ranged from $8 to $13.50 with boars at $5 to $7.50. Receipts totaled 14,000.

The cattle market closed on a little stronger basis than a week ago despite the setback on Monday. Trade was given a little impetus Thursday when some dry-fed loads topped at $13.50 to $14.50, but on most days $10 to $10.25 were the stopping places for butcher steers. Plain to fair Canadian steers sold at $6.25 to $8.75. Bulk of she stock cashed at $5.50 to $8 with occasional sales at $9 to $10 on choice lots. Canners and cutters closed at $3.75 to $5.25 mainly while bulls brought $4.50 to $6. Veal calves advanced to $14. Stocker and feeder trade showed a little boom with prices rated fully steady and in some cases 25c to 50c higher. Most dairy cows are going steady and in some cases 25 to 50c higher. Most dairy cows are going at $70 to $100 with choice springers at a higher figure. Receipts were around 30,000 and about the same as the previous week.

Sheep and lamb trade advanced to a higher level when best lambs scored a gain of $1.75 for the week and sheep about 75c. Best natives were quoted up to $12.50 with ewes at $2 to $6.50; wethers $4 to $7 and yearlings $7 to $9.50. The call for feeders and breeders was rather light. Receipts showed a gain, totalling 22,000.

Warren Woman Meets Death Through Strange Accident

Mrs. Bernhard Engelstad died at the Warren hospital last Monday. A terrific wind blew all day Tuesday and about 10:30 in the forenoon of that day it wrenched the top of the windmill on the Engelstad farm southwest of town from its tower. Mrs. Engelstad chanced to be near by at the time and the heavy mill struck her and bore her to the ground, injuring her so badly that she could not rise and return to the house. Her husband was away threshing and did not return home until seven o'clock in the evening, so she lay upon the ground helpless all those long hours, exposed to the pitiless sun and wind. Mr. Engelstad at once brought her to the that she was paralyzed from the waist down. From the first her case was pronounced serious and last night the grim reaper came to end her sufferings.

BIG RACE MEET SHOWS GRIT OF MOTOR DRIVERS

Many Remarkable Records Made in Spite of Unfavorable Track Condition.

Receipts Sufficient to Pay Expenses and Also Leave Balance For Promoters.

The automobile and motorcycle races staged on Sunday and Monday by the American Legion and Central Labor Union came up to expectations in every particular. Sunday proved to be the banner day in point of attendance although a fair crowd was present on the second day. Gate receipts for the two days amounted to nearly $1,000 and this will leave a nice balance after all expenses are paid.

High Class Racing.

The racing program put on was of high order and furnished plenty of thrills for everyone. The soft dirt track was soon cut up to such an extent that clouds of dust were raised by the racers, making it very difficult for them to negotiate the turns without going through the fence. Dewey Kiewel of Crookston carried off the honors in the motorcycle races, winning every event on both days. Kiewel is a rider of more than ordinary ability and hung up some nice time records here considering the dangerous condition of the track. In one race, he took a bad header but still managed to right his machine and remount in time to win the race. Nearly all of the motorcycle riders flirted with the fence at one time or another but managed to escape without serious injury.

Fast Auto Races.

The two leaders in the auto races were Lee in an Elgin Six and Harkins in an Essex. Both men are good drivers and showed great skill in negotiating the dangerous turns. Two Ford-Specials, driven by Jones and Gerdts, drew much applause from the crowd for their plucky efforts to contend with the larger cars. Jones went through the fence and twisted his steering gear so badly in the second race Monday afternoon that he was unable to take part in the final event. Gerdts, however, entered in the seven-mile race and made a brilliant showing. He ate dust and followed closely upon the two big cars until the 12th lap, when he lost his bearings and went through the fence.

Injuries Not Serious.

After skidding through the fence and about a hundred feet beyond, Gerdts was thrown from the car, which then rolled over and over. The driver was picked up unconscious and taken to the hospital, but aside from a severe shaking up did not suffer sever injury. He was able to leave the hospital the following day.

The car was almost a complete wreck and a lot of tinkering will be necessary before it can be used in another race. Gerdts' motorcycle was badly damaged the day before, so that he will be unable to take part in another race until a lot of repairs are made.

Given Small Donation.

Considering the tough luck experienced by Gerdts and the nerve he exhibited in the races, members of the Legion and Central Labor Union got together Tuesday afternoon and voted to make him a present of $50 to show their appreciation of what he did to make the program a success. His accidents kept him from getting into but a very small amount of money at the races and the local boys felt he was entitled to a little help. This consideration was naturally much appreciated by the plucky racer.

Event Complete Success.

From every angle the races of Sunday and Monday were a complete success. The drivers in all events went in to win and some remarkable records were hung up considering that the track is only half a mile in length and covered with dust which enveloped the riders in veritable clouds. Spectators expressed themselves highly pleased with the performance in every particular.

Financially the local backers of the races will come out on top of the heap. It is estimated that nearly $200 will be left after all expenses are paid and this sum will be divided between the American Legion Post and Central Labor Union.

DUCK HUNTING WILL BE LEGAL SEPT. 16

Closed Season For Prairie Chickens—Partridges May Be Shot After Oct. 15.

The season when it is permissible to shoot ducks and other water fowls with no fear of violating game laws will open on September 16th to continue until December 31st. The ban on shooting partridges will be lifted a month later or October 15th and, for the following six weeks sportsmen may train their guns on these little game birds which are said to have multiplied at a surprising rate during the several years that they have been under protection. There is no open season for the shooting of prairie chickens this year.

The bag limit for ducks is fifteen per day and forty-five in possession, geese, five per day with five in possession, partridges, five per day with twenty in possession.

Lands Flooded Last Year Yield Better Than Ever

The floods which last year destroyed a considerable portion of the crops in the eastern end of Pennington and Marshall counties were not an unmixed evil, it would seem. The lands at that time overflowed have this season carried exceptionally fine crops and in many instances the weeds formerly infesting the fields have entirely disappeared. John Philip, residing north of Mavie, was one of those drowned out. This year he has threshed out 38 bushels of rye to the acre on the same land and his wheat crop, which turned out very well, would have been a bumper had not rust caused a certain amount of damage. C. G. Klockman, Frank Kainz and William Wayne, all residents of that neighborhood, have practically the same report to make. Oats is the banner crop there this year although everything turned out very well.

CLOSE CALL FROM HEAVY FIRE LOSS

The timely arrival of the fire department Sunday night prevented a serious fire in the City Bakery. A blaze, evidently resulting from defective wiring, had a good start under the stairway when discovered but was extinguished before making much headway. The only damage resulted from smoke and water and it is difficult to estimate just what this will amount to.

The bakery had been closed for the night but a few minutes when a passerby noticed the smoke and immediately turned in the alarm. The location of the fire and the fact that all basement lights were out made it difficult for the department to do effective work. After a few minutes, however, the flames were discovered and quickly brought under control.

Dense smoke filled the building and this naturally caused considerable damage to the stock. The basement was literally flooded with water but fortunately contained very little stock at the time and the damage is comparatively slight. It was a close call and a serious fire was narrowly averted.

METHODISTS MAKE BIG IMPROVEMENTS

Church and Parsonage Treated to General Overhauling and Substantial Repairs.

The Methodist church of this city is undergoing extensive repairs. A new roof has been put on, the walls and ceiling have been beautifully, yet simply decorated, a new furnace is being put in, and a coat of paint will be given the outside of the building. These improvements will add greatly to the value and beauty of the building and the board of trustees are to be congratulated on their enterprise in the matter.

In addition to this the parsonage has been beautified with paint and paper internally, and is shortly to have a coat of paint externally. When all these improvements are completed, the Methodists will have one of the most desirable pieces of church property in the city, and in condition excelled by none. The live-wire Ladies' Aid has enthusiastically seconded the board of trustees in their plans.

Base Ball Lads Are Royal Entertainers at Banquet

The members of the local baseball team royally entertained a number of their friends at the banquet and dance given last Thursday evening at the Evelyn hotel. About twenty couple were present and at the conclusion of the banquet the floors were cleared for action. Dancing was indulged in until after midnight and everyone present will testify that the baseball boys know a thing or two about entertaining.

The ball team recently disbanded for the season and found that it had a little balance left in the treasury. This money the lads decided to spend in entertaining their friends. The affair was a complete success and everyone present had a good time.

Congressman Steenerson Pays City Flying Visit

Congressman Halvor Steenerson was in the city for a short time last Saturday enroute to his home in Crookston after having visited his constituents in the northern part of the district for a few days. Mr. Steenerson was very much pleased with the action taken by those present at the Warren meeting in getting behind the movement for a road to the Red Lakes and promised to do everything in his power to help the good work along.

The congressman had no time to talk politics but as usual did not seem greatly concerned over the outcome—at least so far as this has any bearing upon his own future.

FIRST MEETING OF COMMERCIAL CLUB IS CALLED

Initial Gathering of Local Organization Set For Eight O'Clock Tonight.

Many Important Topics to Be Brought Up For Consideration By Members.

Regular Meetings to Be Held Twice Monthly Following Summer Vacation.

Now that the summer season is drawing to a close the officers of the Thief River Falls Commercial club have decided it is time for the organization to get busy on a constructive program. The first get together meeting will be held this evening at the club rooms at eight o'clock and it is expected a large majority of club members will be present to help get things started.

Much to Consider.

A number of things will be brought up for discussion at the meeting this evening. Much has been said about inaugurating noon-day luncheon meetings and this is one of the things which will be threshed out. Then there is the general run of business which has accumulated since the last meeting—and the secretary says there is a lot of it. Anyone with an idea is welcome at this meeting and will be given free opportunity to express it. Members of the club who have a kick coming will also be welcomed and given place in the deliberations.

Important Work Ahead.

One of the most important things which the club expects to get behind is the road to Red Lakes. This is a live topic and one which the club members can well afford to spend considerable time in bringing to a reality. A good start has already been made in the road matter and the commercial club most assuredly can add impetus to the movement.

Two regular meetings will hereafter be held monthly and it will be up to those present this evening to decide whether they wish these to be in the form of regular evening meetings or noon-day luncheons. It is time for the commercial club to take on a new lease of life and it looks as if this will come to pass without further delay.

Found Road to Red Lakes in Much Better Condition

Outing trips to the Red lakes are going to be common pretty soon if interest in this wonderful body of water continues to grow. Since the pioneering party of 35 returned and reported a couple of weeks ago one hears on every side of intentions on the part of others to make the same journey.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bottleson were the pilgrims. They found the corduroy section from the mill to the ridge greatly improved and had no trouble in negotiating the three miles. Between the ridge and lake workmen had been grading the road and it was consequently soft, but could be traversed by careful driving.

The party spent the night at Redby and visited the points of interest about the agency the next morning. They also went out on the lake with the Indians to take in their nets, which contained between fifteen and sixteen hundred pounds of fish. There is at present being shipped out one carload of feed fish every day from the section about Redby.

The entire trip covered 178 miles but a considerable part of this distance would be cut off by a road straight east from Thief River Falls. This would bring one onto the lake at a point about two miles north of the narrows.

NORTHWEST ALUMNI PLAN BIG MEETING

A meeting which is occasioning considerable interest among the alumni, former and present students of the Northwest School of Agriculture in the vicinity of Thief River Falls, is scheduled to be held at Valhall hall near the Engelstad farm, four miles southeast of Thief River Falls and six miles north of St. Hilaire, on the afternoon of Sept. 19.

A member of the agricultural school faculty from Crookston will be the speaker for the occasion. Arrangements for this event are in charge of a committee of alumni and students of that school. The gathering is in the nature of a reunion of all former and present students, who with their parents and friends will enjoy the afternoon. The addresses will be along educational lines.

The general public is cordially invited to attend. As there are nearly 1,500 students of the school in this part of the state it is expected that annual gatherings of this kind will be held in the future.

Gasoline Stove Explodes; Serious Damage Averted

The explosion of a gasoline stove in the kitchen of the L. L. Cohn home, 410 Duluth avenue north, Saturday morning came near causing a serious fire. Mr. Cohn managed to smother the flames by means of a large rug and was quite severely scorched. No cause could be given for the explosion as no leak had been noticed. The stove blew up without warning, throwing the burning oil all over the interior of the kitchen in an instant. The fire department made a record run to the scene but all danger was past before its arrival.

Pastor Called to Serve Eastern End of County

Rev. E. O. Sabo, for some years a resident of Grygla, has accepted a call extended by four congregations in the eastern part of Pennington county and will soon enter upon his duties. Included in this call are the congregations at Mavie, Silverton, Germantown and Kratka. Rev. Sabo will make his headquarters at Mavie where the Hruby home has been purchased for his accommodation.

YOUNG LADY RIDES ON AIRPLANE WING

Ruth Law and the other "queens of the air" had better look to their laurels. Thief River Falls has a young lady who not only is not afraid to ride in an airplane but is willing to show the world that going out on the wings of one of these contraptions while 700 feet above terra firma is not a performance that should cause anyone to hesitate.

Miss Onata Stopple had never been up in an airplane until a day or two ago, when she made a short trip with Lieut. E. A. Alton of Grand Forks, who was here with the air circus staged by the American Legion. Miss Stopple liked the journey out along that she would enjoy going out along the wings while the machine was in the air. Lieut. Alton told her that this had been attempted by only two or three women in the entire country and offered to lay a wager that she would not even make the attempt. He was taken up.

Yesterday morning, according to agreement, he called for the young lady. He found her dressed in riding knickers and otherwise fully equipped for the expedition. The start was made from the fair grounds and an altitude of 700 feet reached. At this height Miss Stopple calmly walked out onto one wing of the plane, traversed it to the very tip and returned without batting an eye.

Lieut. Alton says that he has been flying for seven years and would hesitate to make the trip undertaken by Miss Stopple. The latter, however, says that the only concern she had was that she might step between the stays and through the light fabric covering the machine.

THIEF RIVER HELPS FAIR AT GOODRIDGE

Local People Give Generous Financial Aid to Help in Footing Expenses.

A committee representing the management of the Tri-County fair at Goodridge last week called on business men and others in Thief River Falls for donations to help in putting the fair over. The Goodridge men met with a very generous response and secured about $200 in the city. This, with the money already available, insures the success of the fair. The people of Goodridge are making plans for a hummer fair this fall. Last year's fair was a good one but whatever shortcomings were in evidence will be done away with this year. A large number of high-class free attractions have been secured and there will be plenty of entertainment for everyone. There is promise of banner exhibits in all departments and the fair gives every assurance of being a success.

The country to the east of Thief River Falls is improving by leaps and bounds, much more rapidly than is generally realized. The fair last year was an eye-opener to visitors from other sections and gave a large amount of favorable publicity to Goodridge and vicinity.

Head-on Collision Wrecks Two Cars on West Road

A Buick car containing Richard Hornseth and a young woman companion ran head first into a Ford driven by Ibsen Flann on the state road west of town about 11:30 o'clock Saturday evening. Both cars were badly used up but none of the occupants were hurt. The accident occurred near a culvert on a narrow part of the road and it is maintained that the fault lay entirely with the Buick driver. Flann turned out as far as possible to permit the other to pass but the woman, who was driving, must have lost her head as she steered squarely into the path of the lighter machine. Lights on both cars were working in proper shape and no other reason can be given for her taking the wrong side of the road.

DRIVER OF FORD HITS TRAIN; IS BADLY INJURED

Jos. Althoff Drives Directly Into Great Northern Passenger Train on Crossing.

Suffers Severe Cuts and Bruises But is Now Making Very Satisfactory Recovery.

Car is Smashed to Bits By Force of Collision—An Unusual Accident.

Jos. Althoff, an employe on the V. C. Noper farm west of Thief River Falls, narrowly escaped death Tuesday afternoon when the car he was driving collided with the south bound Great Northern passenger train on the crossing near the fair grounds. The young man was immediately removed to the hospital and at last reports is said to be making a satisfactory recovery.

A Peculiar Accident.

Young Althoff was on his way to the city to secure some repairs for a tractor and was driving at high speed. He apparently did not notice the approach of the train as he struck the baggage car squarely without having reduced his speed a particle, according to eyewitnesses of the accident. The train, which was approaching the station and therefore traveling at a comparatively low rate of speed, was brought to a stop and the injured man taken on board. He was unconscious and bleeding profusely from cuts about the face and head.

A physician was summoned and the injured man removed to the hospital, where an examination showed no serious injury. Except for a bad cut over the left eye, some bruises about the head, face and back, he showed no marks of the accident. He soon regained consciousness and unless something unexpected happens will be able to leave the hospital within a few days.

Car Completely Wrecked.

The car figuring in the accident was a Ford which Mr. Noper had been using as a milk delivery wagon. The force of the collision smashed the car into a thousand pieces, some parts being found several hundred feet from the scene of the accident. It struck the trucks of the baggage car and obviously got the worst of the argument. The same Ford figured in an accident some time ago, after which it was found necessary to transform it from a sedan into a delivery wagon. The last escapade puts it on the scrap heap for keeps.

Checks Sent to Winners at Recent County Fair

Secretary G. Howard Smith last week completed the task of sending out premium checks to the winners at the recent county fair. Any errors in the awards must be reported to the secretary before Sept. 15 in order to be rectified. The annual meeting of the board of directors will be held soon and all affairs for the year brought to a close. At the annual meeting of the directors plans for next year's fair will be started. A number of new buildings and other improvements are under contemplation for next year and the directors intend to get busy at once to start the ball rolling.

BOOZE PEDDLERS IN JAIL AT CROOKSTON

This is the open season for booze smugglers and Crookston is on the main line between the source of supply and the most clamorous demand. One day this week the peculiar actions of two men driving a large touring car aroused the suspicions of Crookston's chief of police and he escorted the twain to the city bastile. Here it was discovered that over one hundred quarts of booze were stored in the car, besides a good supply which the men already had under their belts.

The men admitted, it is said, that the booze was bought in Winnipeg and that a market for it had already been found in Minneapolis. They expected to realize something like $4,000 for the lot. Instead of making money on the deal, however, the men will lose the booze, forfeit their car, and if convicted will likely go to Fort Leavensworth for quite a spell.

The two men gave their names as Ed. Brunelle and David Beauregaard. They are being held in the Polk county jail pending word from the United States Attorney at St. Paul. Beauregaard, the authorities claim, is a brother of Sam Beauregaard, who was arrested recently on a similar charge.

The Roseau Drainage and Conservancy district has been duly organized. The first board of directors as appointed by Judge Watts at Crookston are Martin Nelson, of Roseau, Halvor Johnson, of Greenbush, and H. P. Konzen of Halleck. A formal organization of the board was effected at Roseau last week. Martin Nelson is chairman, A. O. Hagen, secretary, Carl Von Rohr treasurer, James Deneen engineer and M. J. Hegberg, attorney. The board has charge of all drainage projects that may be started within the area outlined within the district.

Three Children Sent to Owatonna State School

At a hearing conducted Tuesday morning before Judge of Probate I. C. Richardson three minor children of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Amundson were ordered sent to the state school at Owatonna. The children are aged 4, 9 and 11 years and at the hearing it developed that they had been getting very little care from their parents, who reside on Duluth avenue north. Two older children have recently secured employment and will likely be able to care for themselves.

Conditions have been bad in the Amundson home for some time and several complaints have been registered by neighbors. The authorities decided at the hearing Tuesday that the parents are obviously incompetent of bringing up their children and the tots were remanded to the care of the state school, where they will at least have an opportunity of acquiring an education in moral and sanitary environment.

MERCHANTS TO OPEN SEASON ON TUESDAY

The first fall meeting of the Thief River Falls Merchants association is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, Sept. 14. It will be held at the Evelyn hotel and will be in the form of a banquet, with speeches and other things necessary to make it a big success.

F. P. Mann of Devils Lake, N. D., known all over the country as the most successful merchant in North Dakota, will be here Tuesday evening and will deliver the leading address at the banquet. Mr. Mann undoubtedly will have a message of much importance and local business men stand a chance of getting many valuable pointers. Local speakers also are scheduled to appear on Tuesday evening's program and it is planned to make the fall opening meeting a real hummer.

The association of local merchants has planned a very active season, realizing there is a large amount of work which needs to be done. With concerted effort on the part of this organization much good may be accomplished.

Tuesday evening's affair will open with the feed at 6:30 and this feautre being under the personal supervision of Julien Provencher it is safe to say that it will be some feed.

MISTAKE OFFICIALS FOR BOOTLEGGERS

City Representatives Halted Twice on Return Trip From Winnipeg on Sunday.

Uncle Sam's sleuths will simply have to be more careful. The number of mistakes already marked against them forms a long list but they have finally reached the limit.

Last Friday a delegation of city officials from Thief River Falls went to Winnipeg on business connected with the paving matter, although the trip was made at their own expense. In the party were Councilmen O. L. Ihle, Severn Brandon and John Dahl, together with Ole Legvold, superintendent of water and light; Alfred Adolph, electrician, and E. J. Fehr, looking after water main alterations for the Bradley Engineering company. A finer or more distinguished set of city representatives would be hard to find.

They found upon their arrival in the Canadian city that there is a strict watch for suspicious-looking characters along the border. Their cars were stopped and they were questioned narrowly as to where they came into possession of one of the machines. It developed that a warning had been sent out to watch for certain parties in a Reo and one car of the Thief River Falls men answered the description. No trouble was experienced in convincing the officers that they were on the wrong track.

The visitors had a fine time in Winnipeg and started back, glad they had made the visit. A short distance on this side of the border they were stopped by Uncle Sam's watchmen who searched the automobiles and occupants for contraband booze. They found none, of course, and the party was allowed to proceed. Twice more did the same thing happen. Government officials would take nothing for granted and conscientiously searched every pocket in which a bottle might be concealed. The proceeding got to be something of a joke but the tourists are of the opinion that anyone who tries to smuggle liquor into the country via the auto route, will find it no laughing matter.

MAY NOT BEGIN ACTUAL PAVING BEFORE SPRING

Contractors Fear Cold Weather May Set in Before Safety Point is Reached.

Will Commence Work of Putting in Curbs and Gutters This Coming Week.

Stand Ready to Hold City Warrants Until Bonds Can Be Sold Advantageously.

There is very little likelihood of any street paving being done in Thief River Falls before next spring. Officers of the Bitulithic Contracting company of Winnipeg, the concern having the job, say that there could in any event be such a small amount of work done this fall that it is hardly worth while taking the chance. The bitulithic surfacing has often been put down in the middle of winter without any damage resulting, but the crushed rock base cannot thus be handled with safety. While it is quite probable that no trouble would ensue even though freezing weather should overtake the contractors while engaged on this part of the job, yet they believe it best to await the coming of warm weather before making the start.

The work of putting in the curbs and gutters will be begun at once with a view to finishing this part of the contract this fall. Machinery and supplies have already been shipped, it is understood. Representatives of the company will be in the city the last of the present week and actual work will at once be begun. The bond of the company has been filed and all other preliminaries attended to.

Will Hold Warrants.

The Northwestern Trust company and Capital Trust company, under agreement to take the city's certificates of indebtedness in the sum of $300,000, the approximate amount needed for this paving job, have repudiated their contract and refuse to be bound by its provisions. There is not much that can be done about this without going through a long and tedious legal process, the outcome of which would at best be problematical. The Bitulithic Contracting company has therefore agreed to take the city's warrants and hold these until such time as a bond issue can be floated or other arrangement made for taking them up. It is understood that another twin city concern stands ready to relieve the Northwestern and the Capital of their contracts and to furnish the money needed at approximately the interest rate agreed upon with those concerns.

No Further Delay.

While it will not be possible to lay any paving in Thief River Falls this fall everything will be in readiness for an early start next spring. Every obstacle has now been removed. The work has been delayed somewhat but outside of this no damage is done. All parties concerned are now certain of their ground and will go ahead without any danger of being halted by any kind of an intervention.

THRIFT EXHIBIT IS DECIDEDLY POPULAR

Attracts Attention at Northfield and Also at State Fair This Week.

A letter to The Times from Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, who spent last week at the Northfield meeting of the state federation of women's clubs, conveys the information that the thrift exhibit from the local woman's club, of which Mrs. Froehlich has charge, was very popular.

Mrs. Froehlich says the exhibit was conducted in a room just off the convention hall. Thief River Falls was given three first prizes and two seconds in the awards. Friday morning was thrift morning and instead of her report as state chairman of thrift, Mrs. Froehlich put on a real made-over style show, which was very well received. Twelve living models were used in showing the styles, no dress costing more than $1. A feature of the exhibit was a kindergarten group composed of a little girl wheeling a doll, a boy on a kiddie car and mother all dressed in thrift garments.

The same thrift display is given this week at the state fair with Mrs. Froehlich in charge. Here, in addition to the thrift display, are shown many time and labor saving devices. Among these is a popular carpet sewing machine without needle, thread or shears. The crowds viewing the exhibit at the state fair are immense and much interest in the work is evidenced everywhere.

Says He Did Not Resign.

Andy Smith, former night patrolman, wants The Times to make a correction of the article appearing last week wherein it was stated that he had resigned from the position. Mr. Smith wants it understood that he did nothing of the kind but was discharged, as he claims, without cause, by the council. He maintains that certain members of that body as well as a number of business men in the city have been "bucking" him ever since his appointment.

BANKERS URGED TO FAVOR THE FARMER

Need of preferential credit for agricultural purposes was emphasized as one means of remedying enforced marketing of young cattle by breeders of the Northwest at a meeting of business men and bankers of St. Paul and South St. Paul. A large number of young breeding cattle is being received at markets and threatens the industry in the Northwest, it was said.

Livestock dealers told the bankers that many farmers are forced to liquidate loans made to them by banks and have to sell their immature herds to do so.

"The financial condition of the country today is simply one of supply and demand," said E. G. Quamme, president of the St. Paul branch of the Federal Farm Loan bank. "There's not enough credit to go around. Credits have been grouped according to the industries demanding them. These industrial groups are competing with each other and up to now it has been a case of credit to that group which offered the highest rate of interest to the bankers.

"But it is plain that our agricultural industry must be placed in the first rank, and the bankers of the country must give every preference to the farmer."

RUNNING TRUE TO FORM.

The Times feels constrained to offer an apology to the people of Warren and Marshall county for an article appearing in a Pennington county publication last week anent the proposed road to the Red Lakes. We wish to assure our neighbors that the people here are practically a unit in their desire to see this highway put through exactly in accordance with the program announced at the Warren meeting. The only discordant note in the chorus thus far heard is that above referred to and no attention whatever is paid to it here. The author is a discredited Iowa politician who has chosen northwestern Minnesota as a suitable point for seeking to rehabilitate himself, and his fulminations are simply to be regarded as the natural outgrowth of a soured disposition.

A FINE PROGRAM.

The women voters of Minnesota, without regard to party, have a few ideas of their own with reference to what laws should be passed by the next legislature as well as the program to be followed by the incoming administration generally. At a meeting in Minneapolis last week they went on record for the first time and it must be admitted that they showed a pretty clear knowledge of just what they want. A convention of men might have endorsed similar propositions but it is safe to say that they would not have made them the bases for a program of action. Those who feared that the women would begin by demanding all sorts of revolutionary and impossible things might read over this partial list of recommendations with a view to easing their minds:

Pledging the influence of the federation to obtain increased appropriations for the state board of health, to increase the scope of health instruction in the grade and high schools.

Urging the incoming governor to appoint women on all state boards, and instructing the federation's department of social and industrial relations to work for such appointments.

Furthering the use of pictures as an educational medium.

ON THE WRONG TRACK.

The action of bankers in the financial centers of the country in denying credits for the purchase of automobiles does not look like a particularly wise move. It is perhaps only fair to say at the outset that country banks in general have had nothing to do with this proscription, their officials being in a position to realize more fully than do those residing in the large cities that the automobile and its allied utilities, the truck and tractor, have long since passed out of the luxury class and taken rank with the necessities, particularly as concerns the farmer.

The automotive industry is now the second largest in the country and anything done to injure its stability or progress is bound to be felt throughout the entire industrial fabric. Rather than inaugurate a policy which will inevitably have the effect of curtailing output it would seem to be the part of wisdom to do everything possible to at least maintain its present position.

It is undoubtedly true that many automobiles are purchased by persons who do not need them and whose only purpose in their acquirement is the pursuit of pleasure, but this holds good in hundreds of other cases as well. There is also no denying the fact that automobiles are too often bought by those who cannot afford them, but again the same situation applies in hundreds of other directions.

Denying a farmer, for instance, the credit which will enable him to secure an automobile, certainly is not assisting his progress. Anyone who believes that he wants the machine only for the enjoyment his family will get out of it has but to note the number of autos coming to town every day loaded down with milk cans, eggs and farm produce of every kind, to realize his mistake. These commodities must reach market and nothing furnishes such cheap and convenient transportation as the auto. The machine will naturally carry the farmer's family to town or church, but this does not in any manner detract from its commercial usefulness. The same rule applies to many people living in small towns and cities. Their time represents money and they find the auto a time-saver.

Deflation is undoubtedly necessary but it is hard to understand why the automobile should have been picked out as the place at which to begin. There are hundreds of things for which people spend money that can be gotten along without much more easily. Naturally if no money is spent on automobiles it will be available for something else, but will this something else be more essential? Crippling one industry in order that others may thrive is not very good policy, particularly when the one to suffer is among the most important in the country.

It is probable that the barbers would be pleased to see the manufacture of safety razors prohibited, but such proceeding would interfere with the comfort and convenience of millions, hence is not to be thought of. Placing obstacles in the way of prospective automobile purchasers is not much different.

HERE'S WHERE WE ALL AGREE.

No movement of a public nature inaugurated in this section for a long time has met with such enthusiastic and unqualified endorsement as that having for its object the providing of a highway to the Red Lakes. Not only are the people of Thief River Falls and Pennington county behind this move to a man but other communities are prepared to help the matter along in every way possible.

Nowhere else in the country would such unexcelled natural recreation point have remained thus long unknown. This is not so much the fault of our people, nor even of the Indians residing on the reservation, as of circumstances which neither have been able to control.

The matter is being gone about in the right way. It would be useless for the citizens of this district to attempt anything of this kind without the support of the Indians. The latter are in fact first and foremost to be considered if the project is ever to amount to anything. Their enthusiastic support has been enlisted and there is no danger of any objection from that quarter.

The trouble is that these attempts generally start out with a great flourish of trumpets and then gradually interest dies out. Right here in Thief River Ralls we have started projects enough of one kind and another to keep a half dozen good sized communities busy for a quarter century. A few have survived but the majority have fallen by the wayside. The same is true of all other growing towns.

The surest way to have this road matter die on our hands is to quit talking about it. It does not so much matter what we say so long as we say something. Indifference is more dangerous than active opposition. In the latter case public opinion may be depended on to set matters right while if no one cares what the outcome is the end is reached.

For this reason every person residing in this section of the state should become a booster for the road. Not for a day or two, but right along until the highway is an acknowledged fact. Congressman Steenerson says he will do everything in his power to see that congress and the Indian department views the matter in the right light and expects to experience no difficulty on this score. We all want this thing to go through. Let's act as if we were in earnest.

TO FIGHT THE SOW THISTLE.

The Northwest Experiment station issued a sow thistle bulletin a few years ago. In it the farmers were warned against the weed and told how it could be combated. An illustrated poster was distributed. Frequent meetings were held. Additional legislation was earnestly advocated in order to prevent the spread of the sow thistle to new sections that were not then infested.

This is the year 1920. The sow thistle has moved up in the Red River valley and has even reached the Minnesota valley. Legislators and others who scoffed at the control and eradication plan proposed in 1916 are now beginning to see that perhaps after all the laws similar to those in effect in Canada were necessary and helpful. It begins to look as if the time will be ripe in 1921 to secure the necessary legislation without which the fight against the sow thistle cannot be successfully made.

Will the farmers practice the necessary farm management plan and in addition demand legislation that will give them a chance to combat the sow thistle?

If the farmers demand that something be done it will be done. The sow thistle is unique in that its seeds are distributed broadcast by the wind. Its eradication lies in community as well as individual action. Community action under centralized leadership properly financed can come only through legislation. The case against the sow thistle demands a 100 per cent attack. Scattering fire is worse than useless in that it costs as much and accomplishes nothing.

If you believe that something ought to be done to secure a real sow thistle law, say so. Tell your neighbor. Tell your county agent. Have the county farm bureau take the matter up in earnest and agree on a plan that will work. Committees from the various counties can meet later to formulate a Valley plan. A legislative committee can then be appointed to draft suitable legislation and present it to the legislature. There is sentiment for a law even in southern Minnesota now.

The county weed inspection law is of no avail. County commissioners have not seen fit to appoint county weed inspectors. The law says they "may" and they haven't felt the call. More concerted action is necessary. It rests with the farmers themselves.

The Manitoba farmers approve the law they are working under. They are accomplishing results under their law. Greater and better results can be secured here. The Valley farms are smaller. The number of live stock is increasing steadily. It is only the determination to make a concerted attack that is lacking.

Shall we say, "This can't be done," or shall we unite and make really true the Valley slogan, "It MUST be done"?

"FOR EXCLUSIVE USE."

All newspaper men—little as well as big—have their patience tried by the space grafter. He is the fellow who is all the time trying to get notice of himself, his product or his ambitions printed without any outlay on his own part. These folks are common and publishers know just what to do with their gratuitous contributions.

It has remained for a New York concern, however, to go this gentry one better. The Times is this week in receipt of a communication from an outfit extending us the privilege of publishing a "prediction" made by a New York stock broker to the effect that Mr. Harding will be elected president of the United States—provided three dollars is paid for the use of the article. Upon payment of this sum The Times will be given the exclusive right of publication in Pennington county.

We have no particular fault to find with the gentleman's "prediction." In fact it is quite probable that a majority of the American people will agree that his predictor is in excellent working condition, Times readers among others. This is, however, quite a number who will doubt the infallibility of this stock broker's foresight and in deference to these we must decline the unusual offer.

The prediction differs in no way from other political propaganda and would not be worth noticing were it not for that three dollar demand. The Times may feel most kindly toward the Republican candidate and, when occasion arises, give its reasons for this feeling. Should this prove to be the case we would very much like to do so without paying some New York grafter $3 for the privilege.

Then again we are somewhat doubtful of the value of a wall street stock-broker's prediction when applied to Senator Harding's cause. Our people are a hard-headed lot and in no great danger of growing hysterical in their admiration of anything eminating from Wall street. In fact did The Times wish to injure the chances of Mr. Harding in this neighborhood a sure way of doing so would be to print this "copyrighter's" attempt at space grafting.

It is perhaps only fair to state that Senator Harding, being himself a newspaper man, would be the last to sanction any such proceeding in behalf of his candidacy.

Getting More Gasoline

DEMAND FOR OIL GROWING FASTER THAN PRODUCED

Washington, D. C., June 29.—[Special.]—Production of gasoline increased 1,339,800 gallons daily, or 15½ per cent during the first four months of 1920, according to a statement issued today by the bureau of mines. As against this increase in production, however, the domestic consumption of gasoline increased 2,148,980 gallons daily, or 35 per cent.
—(From an article Chicago Tribune, June 30, 1920.)

THIS epitomizes the situation accurately. It also indicates how great is the task of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

But fuel for automotive power must be supplied. Especially is this true in the territory served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), because in this area — the bread-basket of the nation — so large a percentage of the gasoline is consumed in producing food.

Take away — even cripple — the automotive power on the Middle West farms and food prices will soar because of decreased production.

The power-driven tractor is the only means by which the farmer can cope successfully with the shortage of man-power.

By extensive research and intensive application the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has increased the yield of gasoline from crude to the greatest degree yet known. But it is not satisfied.

The Company is striving to further increase the yield so that the use of the tractor, truck, the automobile, and the stationary gas engine may be used freely and without restriction.

It is apparent that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) by increasing the yield has exerted, also, a downward influence on the price of gasoline.

DEPOSIT WITH A STRONG BANK

THE MODERN WAY

You can't judge a man by the clothes he wears; nor by the amount of cash he carries. It's out-of-date to "flash" a roll of bills.

Successful men in Thief River Falls and community carry only a few dollars for "pocket-money" and keep the rest in a checking account. They know the safety, convenience and economy of paying bills by check.

Start a checking account at the Citizens' State Bank and see for yourself that it is the modern way—the best way to handle your money.

BUICK

Emblem of Satisfaction

POWER, sturdiness and dependability have been qualities of Buick Valve-in-Head Motor Cars from the time that the name Buick first became linked with the automobile industry. Today, in equal measure as in the past, the Buick Motor Company is dedicated to a continuance of the policy that has caused the Buick car to occupy the position it holds in the public mind.

To all that the name Buick has meant in twenty years of automobile history, the new Nineteen Twenty One Buick brings that grace of movement, that refinement of every line and feature, that sheer beauty of design which inspire a pride of ownership in a fine motor car.

The new Buick line comprises seven models, one for every possible demand. Each has the famed Buick Valve-in-Head Motor, as rugged and powerful as ever, yet refined into a mechanism of unusual quietness.

The improved radiator, hood and cowl lines give a finished touch of trimness to the body, yet without any sacrifice of Buick individuality.

A more resilient spring suspension gives these new Buick models a riding comfort as delightful as their exterior appearance is pleasing.

Each of the seven models has its own value particularly adapted to a distinct class of service. All possess those inherent Buick qualities that assure the owner the uninterrupted use of his investment.

American Legion Notes

When the convention of the American Legion meets in Cleveland on Sept. 27, to run for three days, the [illegible]tion of the entrance of the veter[illegible]s' orgnization into politics is certain to come up for discussion according to reports gathered from various states by the American Legion Weekly. California Legionnaries have advocated placing a legion ticket in the field and unofficial reports from Oklahoma and Tennessee have told of the activity of individual Legionnaries in the campaigns of candidates for state and national public offices. The attention of the Legionnaries in these campaigns has been focussed on the candidates war records.

Friendly rivalry between various cities for the 1921 convention of the Legion now is being manifested. Bids for next year's meeting will be advanced by at least four big cities through their delegates. San Francisco, Detroit, Kansas City and New Orleans already are in the competition and many other cities are expected to follow their lead.

The novel experiment of bringing an orchestra to town for a dance by airplane was tried out successfully by Spiers-Dennis Post of Olathe, Colo. The orchestra, which was composed of former service men, flew to the [illegible]llroom from Montrose, a neighbor town.

A number of secret orders have sprung up in the American Legion as a side issue to the work of the organization. Among these is the Amalgamated Order of Hard-Boiled Eggs. Post No. 1 of this society, located in El Paso, Tex., chose Friday the thirteenth of August as the date for one of its meetings.

Ex-service men of the Boston Fire department have banded together to form a Legion post composed exclusively of "smoke-eaters." It is known as Boston Fire Department Post and is now engaged in recruiting more members from among the firemen of the state.

Notice that the body of the war hero for whom it was named soon will arrive in this country has been received by Stephen B. Whalen Post of Cynthiana, Ky. The post will conduct the funeral with full military [illegible].

A statute recently passed by the West Virginia Legislature providing that on recommendation of twenty per cent of the voters of a county, the county court can make a levy of five per cent on taxable property for a memorial building has been taken advantage of by the Welch Post. A $10,000 house and lot has been bought by McDowell County court and turned over to the Legion for a home.

A definite downward trend in the price of sugar in many localities is being attributed in part to the campaign inaugurated by the Palm Beach, Fla., Post for 15-cent sugar and the establishment of 15-cent sugar clubs in all parts of the country.

The first issue of permanent charters to Legion posts whose applications have been approved by their respective department headquarters recently was made from National Headquarters. The charters bear the signatures of the National Commander, [illegible]tional Adjutant and of the Depart[illegible]ent Commander and Adjutant.

The American Legion Weekly has brought to the attention of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance and other Government officials several cases in which red tape and delay have inflicted serious hardships upon disabled ex-service men and their relatives. One man who had a large sum of money due from the Government died penniless and almost destitute before it could be paid, and before the Bureau could settle the case and make any payments to the widow, she also died.

The "fraternity of Peoples" was depicted as the goal toward which veterans of the world war in all countries are striving in an address by Arthur W. Kipling, adjutant of Paris Post, before the annual convention of the Union Nationale des Combatants. Mr. Kipling greeted the French veterans in the name of the veterans of America. Andre Lefevre, French Minister of War, presided at the gathering.

ROSEWOOD

Consolidation Plat is O. K.'d by State

According to information received from County Superintendents David Johnson of Warren and Gunderson of Thief River Falls, the plat drawn out by these men and submitted for the approval of the State Department of Education concerning the consolidation of the Willowdale, Rosebank, Busy Bee and Prichard school districts, has been returned with the department's O. K. and the districts may now proceed with the necessary details for the materialization of the plan. The first step necessary is the securing of at least twenty-five per cent of the signatures of the freeholders within each district, and upon presentation of which the county superintendent will call special elections within each district to vote upon the matter. At this election all persons eligible to vote at the regular school meetings may have the opportunity to cast their vote. Petitions to secure the bona fide signatures are at present being circulated by different men in the districts and without doubt the necessary number will be had in a few days, and the public will then be called upon to determine whether the one-room schoolhouses shall still exist for some time, or if the more modern and without gainsay for the coming generation more advantageous consolidation plan shall be inaugurated.

This Medicine Recommended by a Doctor

DR. J. H. WAGNER

When a doctor uses a medicine himself besides prescribing it to his patients, he must know that it has merit.

This is what Dr. J. H. Wagner, a prominent physician of Skate, Kentucky, has to say about Dr. Hartman's well-known remedy, PE-RU-NA: "I have used PE-RU-NA myself for catarrh and have given it to others for catarrh, bloating after eating and other ailments. It has proved a success in all cases with old and young men and women. All speak well of PE-RU-NA. It is the best of all tonics."

Dr. Wagner, out of the fullness of his own personal experience, for the good of all sick and suffering, recommends a medicine which he knows to be good. You may be sure a doctor would not endanger his professional reputation by endorsing PE-RU-NA unless satisfied beyond a doubt of its value.

Whether your trouble be a cough or a cold, or a more subtle catarrhal affection of the stomach, bowels or other organs, give PE-RU-NA a trial. The immediate improvement which you will see will satisfy beyond a doubt that PE-RU-NA is what you need.

PE-RU-NA may be purchased anywhere in tablet or liquid form.

Spur Cigarettes

YOU can't do better. After you've smoked through a pack of Spurs, you won't want to go back to other cigarettes. You'll find your old kind sort of flat and uninteresting, like last year's politics.

For Spur's good tobacco taste can't help but win you for keeps. There's rich, mellow Turkish, flavorful Burley and other home-grown tobaccos blended in a new way that brings out to the full the al round goodness of this top-notch cigarette.

And Spurs top all—all ways. They're crimped. That means slow burn, smooth taste—no paste. The smart "brown-and-silver" package is three-fold to keep Spurs fresh and fragrant.

Twenty cents will prove that Spurs are your kind of cigarettes—top-notch quality at rock-bottom price. The sooner you try them the gladder you'll be.

Facts You Know About Certain-teed

Certain-teed Roofing has made good everywhere. When you buy Certain-teed you know exactly what you are getting.

You don't have to take anybody's word for it. You don't have to taste it or smell it or twist it or tear it. Those tests are pure bunk anyway.

All you have to do is to see the name Certain-teed on roofing to know that it is good roofing.

Certain-teed Roofing has never been known to wear out on the roof. It is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight. It is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof.

Now, what do you know about private brands? You don't even know who made them.

Don't Take a Chance

Why guess on the merits of private brand roofing? It may be alright, but can you afford to take a chance?

If you are willing to buy cheap roofing, get it at a fair price. We make a third-grade roofing, called Guard Roofing, which gives satisfaction where long life is not required. It is priced and sold strictly on the basis of third-grade roofing—and it looks as good as any.

Any responsible dealer can get either Certain-teed or Guard for you quickly from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or jobber. He gets it when he wants it and he gets what he wants. He can afford to sell you at a fair price.

SUGAR BEET LAND IS AT A PREMIUM

Pennington County Man Finds Beets the Principal Crop Colorado.

J. B. Conner and family arrived on Monday from Denver where they had been residing during the summer. Mr. Corner left for the southwest last April, making the trip by auto, Mrs. Conner and children following in June. He has associated himself with the Midland Cereal company, a million dollar concern organized for the purpose of manufacturing flour and allied products. Mr. Conner has been traveling in Colorado and adjacent states as a stock salesman and has been very successful. He returned on Wednesday to take up his duties while Mrs. Conner will remain in the city until their son has completed the school year.

The section in which the family has been spending the summer is a fine one, says Mr. Conner. Grain growing is carried on extensively but the main crop is sugar beets. Beet land is worth from $200 to $500 per acre he says, whereas the ordinary farm land can be bought for from $50 to $75 per acre. There are 86,000 acres in sugar beets in the immediate territory where he is located and this has stimulated stock raising to a marked degree, the stock feeders paying as high as $30 per acre for the beet tops which are used for fattening stock in conjunction with grain.

The past winter was very severe in Colorado, says Mr. Conner, the thermometer sometimes going down to 40 degrees below zero. This extreme cold was responsible for a considerable loss to the cattle owners, very little in the way of shelter being provided for the stock.

FIRE DESTROYS BIG HOTEL AT BEMIDJI

Hotel Dining Hall, Cottage and Smaller Buildings Go Up in Blaze.

The dining hall, pavilion and palatial hotel building of the Birchmont summer resort at Bemidji was entirely destroyed by a fire of unknown origin early Thursday morning. The guests were forced to flee in their night clothing, and the Bemidji fire department, after a run of five miles to the resort, was powerless to save the buildings.

Of the resort, one of the largest and most elaborate in the entire West, nothing but the cottages remain. George Cochran, proprietor, has made no announcement as to his plans for the future.

At about five o'clock Wednesday afternoon the smell of smoke was detected in the kitchen by the occupants and a hose was turned on the place where the fire had been in the morning and everything thoroughly drenched, it was thought. Again at eleven o'clock, before retiring, the night engineer turned the hose on the same spot in the wall to make sure there was nothing left burning. No indications of fire were noticed after that until about five o'clock when Mrs. Ellington, whose rooms were over the dining hall was awakened by the reflection of fire on the lake and immediately gave the alarm.

The hotel was built in 1915 and had been operating for six seasons. It had been practically closed for the season and almost all of the guests had left.

It is estimated the loss will amount to $100,000 with insurance on the entire property including the summer cottages of $40,000.

The main building was a three-story structure, the dining room, two stories and a kitchen a modern one-story building. The hotel had its individual light and power plant which was destroyed.

New Feeding Stuffs Law Gets Results in State

The Minnesota feeding stuffs law, which went into operation less than a year ago, is designed to protect the people from buying misbranded and adulterated livestock feeds. Under its provisions no concentrated commercial feeding stuff can be exposed for sale without having attached to the bag or sack a statement of the ingredients, the net weight and the name and address of the manufacturer. A tag bearing the signature of the state commissioner must be attached to each package of feed to show that it has been registered. According to the report of Chris Heen, state dairy and food commissioner, 2,049,500 pounds of feed found below par have been removed from sale and the inspectors have visited 550 towns, 928 feed stores and 137 flour mills. Thirty feed manufacturing plants have been inspected and numerous complaints investigated. Nearly a thousand samples of feed have been submitted to the department's labatory for examination. About one-half of these samples were classed as legal, the others being below the guarantee for protein or fat or above the guarantee for fiber.

ANOTHER NURSE PRAISES TANLAC

Mrs. Alice Minnick, who has been a professional nurse for thirty-six years and resides at 1815 Twenty-third Ave. Seattle, Wash., adds her voice to the hundreds of others in this profession who have already indorsed Tanlac.

"Since I began taking Tanlac I have not only gained twenty pounds in weight, but for the first time in sixteen years I am free of pain and enjoying good health," stated Mrs. Minnick. "I constantly had cramping, gnawing pains in my stomach all these years, my appetite was extremely poor every meal my food began to ferment and sour almost at once, I would bloat up with gas, and those terrible pains would get so bad I could hardly stand them. I became badly run down, lost weight and strength, and felt so tired and worn out all the time I could hardly get around. I had pains in every part of my body just about all the time, but they were especially bad in the small of my back. I also suffered with severe headaches and dizzy spells, and my nerves were so badly upset I could get but little sleep, often lying awake all night long.

"I had heard so much of the good Tanlac was doing others I decided to try it myself(and it proved to be the very thing I needed. I began to improve right away, it was only a few days before my appetite returned and I can now eat anything I want without having a particle of trouble afterwards. Those terrible gnawing pains that had troubled me so many years have entirely disappeared. I never have a headache or become dizzy, and the pains that were throughout my body have all gone. In fact, my whole system has been built up by Tanlac. I have regained my strength so I can do my work as a nurse, which keeps me on my feet for hours, day and night, without a particle of trouble. Several of my patients have taken Tanlac, and it has proven beneficial in every case. After what Tanlac has done for me I can never say enough for it."

Back From Montana.

Ed. Korstad, who had spent several months looking after his farming interests in Montana, returned to Thief River Falls this week. Mr. Korstad states that crops were almost a total failure in many sections of Montana this year, due to the drouth and prevalence of grasshoppers. People in his neighborhood considered themselves fortunate if they secured enough to pay for the seed. Ed. has come to the conclusion that Montana is no place for a farmer, this being the third consecutive year of almost total failure.

Enjoyable Picnic.

The weather last Monday was ideal for picnic purposes and the joint picnic staged at Squaw Point by the Masons and Eastern Star was a complete success. Counter attractions cut down the attendance somewhat but those who were there enjoyed themselves to the utmost. Plenty of good things to eat and numerous races and other sports made the day pass all too quickly. It was an enjoyable outing in every sense of the term.

Johnson-Noper.

Simple but beautiful in all its appointments was the marriage of Miss Blanche Thodora Johnson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson of this city, to Ross Emerson Noper of Good Hope, Ill., last evening which took place at her parents' home, Burr Oaks Farm. About sixty guests were assembled in the spacious living room to witness the ceremony. At 8:30 o'clock the bridal pair descended the stairs, unattended, to the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. Harold Page Miller of Crookston, a friend of the bride, and took their places at an improvised altar of ferns and pink and white asters. Rev. R. L. Barackman, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, read the impressive service. Immediately afterward Mrs. Irma Mallory Fisher sang, "Beloved, It is Morn" which was followed by "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning," sung by Miss Ella Miller.

The bride was handsomely attired in a gown of white charmeuse and wore a veil caught in cap effect. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The veil is owned by Mrs. G. W. Walker of this city, seven other brides having worn it previously. Her only adornment was a beautiful string of pearls, a gift from the groom.

During the reception violin and piano selections were offered by Misses Ausilga Sorenson, Laura Ferdig and Doris Halvorson respectively. The tray service was used in serving the sumptuous lunch.

The bride is a very popular young lady and a highly talented musician, having been engaged as instructor of piano in this city for a number of years. She was graduated from the West Aurora high school and later completed a course in music at Columbia conservatory. Since that time she has resided with her parents, who moved to this city seven years ago. Her many friends offer hearty congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Noper will leave the latter part of the week by car for Good Hope, Ill., where Mr. Noper is a prosperous farmers. They will be at home after November 1. The out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Miller, of Crookston; C. H. Chamberlain, also of Crookston; Mrs. Lewis Noper of Good Hope, mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. James and family, also of Good Hope, and Stuart McLeod of Goodridge.

Erickson-Fitzgerald.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Methodist Episcopal church parsonage on Friday evening at 5 o'clock uniting Miss Marie Erickson of this city and William Fitzgerald of Orleans, in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. J. B. Smith was the officiating clergyman. Miss Bertha Erickson acted as bridesmaid while Charles Ryan, also of Orleans was the best man. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the bride's home where a sumptuous wedding dinner had been prepared. The bride is a popular and highly esteemed young lady and is well known to local people, having grown to womanhood in this city. In 1911 she was graduated from the local high school. Since that time she has been engaged in teaching school in various towns near this city having at one time taught in Orleans. After a short honeymoon which will be spent in attending the state fair they will be at home to their many friends at Orleans where the groom is manager of the elevator.

CcCrum-Noyes.

Announcements have been received by relatives of the marriage of Miss Margaret McCrum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCrum, residing on a farm near this city, to Elmer Marden Noyes of Chicago, on Aug. 24 at the above named city. Miss McCrum is well known locally having lived in this vicinity practically all of her life previous to the time when she was graduated from the local high school in 1911. Since that time she has been engaged in teaching school until a few years ago when she took a course in nursing. Since the close of the world war she has been connected with reconstruction aid.

Aasland-Olson.

Thales E. Aasland and Miss Lillian Olson, both of Thief River Falls, were united in marriage on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock at the Aasland home, 416 LaBree avenue. Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Johnson acted as witnesses. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served to immediate relatives and friends. The newlyweds left the same evening on a wedding trip to the southern part of the state.

Banks-Stubs.

On Tuesday evening at the parsonage of the Trinity Lutheran church occurred the marriage of Arne O. Banks of Fordville, N. D., to Miss Barbara Stabs of Michigan, N. D. Rev. T. E. Sweger, pastor of the local church, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Banks will reside in Fordville where the groom is a popular young business man.

Entertain for Miss Johnson.

Thirty of the former pupils of Miss Blanche Johnson held a party at her home, Burr Oaks Farm, in her honor on Friday afternoon. The young folks enjoyed games of various kinds until the supper hour when a sumptuous spread which had been brought by the guests was served on the lawn. As a token of their appreciation and esteem Miss Johnson was presented with a beautiful gift of silverware consisting of six salad forks, six tea spoons, a tomato server and cream ladel in the patrician design. The party was chaperoned by Mesdames H. O. Loken, Geo. Nicholson, John Cronkhite and Mrs. Hermanson.

Bouillon Party.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Protzeller were hosts to twenty of their friends at a bouillon dinner on Sunday noon at Tindolph park. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Akre, Dr. and Mrs. O. F. Mellby, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Lampert, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mogensen, Mr. and Mrs. John Bratrud, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ross, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Booren, Mrs. G. Howard Smith and E. High School Progress

The people of the town have gen-rously opened up their homes or the teachers so that living condi-ions are much more satisfactory this ear than they were last year.

School has started out with a Rush nd a Roar and a Bang!. There is an tmosphere of sincerety very appar-nt in the students. They know why hey are going to school. In these ays of strenuous times with condi-ions ever changing about, students eem to realize why they are in chool. This is going to be a great ear.

A preliminary teachers meeting was alled Monday morning at ten o'clock. uperintendent Ziegler went over omewhat the plans for the year. The main feature of his talk was an ap-peal that the teachers should realize n earnest what schools are for. In heso times of constant change, chools are changing just as much as nything else. The whole purpose of chooling is being focused about the dea that school should be a place for reparation for life. Teachers will reak away from the old traditional, idebound type of teaching school nd will make the school rooms scenes f interesting activity rather than the monotonous hum-drum, doleful dron-ng out of recitations. The entire eaching force has been filled. A orps of most efficient instructors has een engaged.

The Library has been turned into a ecitation room. There wil be four ecitations there and the rest of the ay will be devoted to library work on he part of Miss Levitt, who will help oth teachers and students in the matter of reference reading.

A detailed report of the enrollment nd the number of non-residents will e given next week.

Miss Zella Zeh.

The students and teaching staff of he Lincoln high school were indes-ribably shocked at the death of Miss Zella Zeh. It is utterly impossible to ealize the startling truth that she is one. She was with us for one short ear, during which her superior wom-nly qualities made themselves mani-fest to everybody who even remotely ame in contact with her. She was he Junior Class Advisor last year and his year's Senior Class looked for-ward to a most pleasant renewal of elationship. Her wholesome charac-er made itself strongly felt in life. Although she is dead her influence is still with us. She built stronger than he knew.

We shall never forget you Miss Zeh. Your wonderful influence shall e potent in molding our lives al-hough you are gone from us.

The present school year promises o be most active and vital. It is rea-ized that fundamental school changes are occuring rapidly every year in the United States. It shall be the inten-ion of these columns to keep the pub-ic posted. There will be a number of uotations from school journals. We ask the public to watch this page in order that they may learn as far as possible what some of these funda-mental changes are. Schools are no onger today what they were and the public should concern itself about hese changes.

Those who are working for high school credits will be given credit for the time spent in this course. Boys of the age of 15 or over will be admitted to this course. For particulars see Supt. Ziegler or Mr. Schmitt, Supervisor of Industrial Education.

Taxes are high and burdensome, but maintenance of the public schools and the proper compensation of those who teach in them must come ahead of any consideration of economy. If we must retrench, it must be done elsewhere than in the public schools. They must have more money, a great deal of it, and it must be provided.

So vitally important are they in the building of the Hawaii of the future that the needs and necessities of the public schools should have first place in the consieration of the Legislature—first place over harbors, docks, highways, public buildings, and everything else. They are the corner stone on which we must erect a 100 per cent American Hawaii.—Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Saving For A College Education.

A "college education policy" is offered by one of the largest life insurance companies of the South. The policy may be purchased when a child is 1 year of age or begun any year thereafter; payments are made on the same plan as Christmas savings. The policy can be paid for like tuition during the time the state gives the boy and girl free education, and upon graduation from high school it will be possible to have a paid-in-advance college education. In a recent report of the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Browne, the State chairman, says: "The success of school savings assures us that this plan is absolutely feasible, with 80 per cent of the 50,000 children in public schools saving."

Schools Our Greatest Security.

The future of America today rests as never before upon America's great system of public schools. Our schools are our greatest security against the unseen perils of the future and we should make them worthy of our growing national life.—Henry J. Allen, Governor of Kansas.

Poor, Indeed, Without its Schools.

Money spent for education is sure to yield large dividends in the intellectual, moral, civic, physical, and vocational equipment of our citizens. The Nation would be poor, indeed, if it were not for its schools. They must be fostered and encouraged by all forward-looking men and women. —E. I. Edwards, Governor of New Jersey.

Proposes Campaign of Public Enlightment.

Assuming that the failure on the part of teachers to take their work seriously, our special problems in Alabama are typical for the country. I am convinced that our most hopeful avenue of relief is a Nation-wide intensive campaign of public enlightment of such scope and dignity as will win the interest and support of the public and develop a keener sense of professionalism on the part of teachers and be reenforced by such necessary legislative enactments as will insure adequate financial support wisely disbursed.—Thomas F. Kilby, Governor of Alabama.

Essentials in American Life Wait on Education.

There must come to our people a fuller realization that an educated public interest or sentiment is the supporting agency of a true democracy where an intelligent public opinion habitually rules. The essentials in our American life and Government wait on school education, and its efficiency and effectiveness rest almost solely on the type of instruction given in the schools.

We must not forget the maxim, "The teacher is the school." For their proper education and training the boys and girls of our land demand the best poised and most talented manhood and womanhood for the teaching profession. We know the price we must pay for this kind of service and it is wise economy to pay it.—Albert C. Ritchie, Governor of Maryland.

Home For Teachers.

Exhorbitant prices and uncomfortable living quarters do not exist to lessen the classroom efficiency of the teachers of McAllen, Tex. The city board of education has just finished the erection of a teachers' club that will house 32 teachers and furnish meals at cost to as many more.

The building is complete in every detail, and is so arranged that it can be easily enlarged by extending the wings down the side of the court. Every room is an outside room. There are bedrooms for 32 teachers, servant's room, hostess-manager's room, four bathrooms, kitchen, large dining room, reception room and lobby with tile floor, an elegant parlor, and five screened-in porches, four of them being on the court. Every bedroom has running water, a built-in dressing table, dresser, and a large clothes closet. The furnishings throughout are in keeping with the excellence of the building.

A rental will be charged to each roomer, which though reasonable will largely take care of the interest and sinking fund on the bonds, and in the course of 40 years will nearly pay for the building. The school district will not pay any considerable sum of money on the project. Although the dining room will not be conducted on the cooperative basis, the meals will be furnished approximately at cost.

Stenographers Needed.

The United States Civil Service Commission has just issued a notice that stenographers are still urgently needed in the government service at Washington, D. C. Examinations are held every Tuesday at a large number of offices in this district, and concerning which full information and the required application blank (form 304) may be secured upon request from the secretary of the Eighth Civil Service District, Post Office, St. Paul, Minn., or Local Secretary, Thief River Falls, Minn.

That is one reason, perhaps, why more attention is being paid to tires—why tire costs are being figured closer and people are beginning to look for better tires.

We believe that people are entitled to better tires—the best they can get.

We represent U.S. Tires for that reason—because their policy is the same as ours—every tire as good as you can get it, regardless of the size of the car it is to go on.

It was that policy which led to the introduction of the straight side automobile tire, the pneumatic truck tire.

And you can't beat it.

ED CORN TIME BEGINS ON FRIDAY

ection and Storage of Seed Corn at This Time is Urged.

ed corn time for Minnesota be- Friday, Sept. 10 and ends Mon- Sept. 20.

is is the time every year when farmers of Minnesota are urged elect and store their seed corn. he reason for choosing this period at it gives farmers a chance to their seed corn in before the time killing frosts, and a chance to eir seed corn well cured and dry before freezing weather comes, thus putting it out of danger of injury.

That it pays to select and store seed corn in Seed Corn Time is shown by the experience of certain corn counties in southern Minnesota last spring. The farmers in the counties referred to postponed the picking of seed corn in Seed Corn Time last fall. They finally made their selection of seed ears at husking time. Meanwhile there had been a hard freeze. The result was that when they came to test their seed corn last spring much of it would not germinate and they had to buy supplies at high prices. The postponement of seed corn selection, therefore, proved costly.

Good Roads Needed.
(Minneapolis Tribune.)

Residents of Red Lake, Pennington and Marshall counties are organizing to construct a motor highway to Red Lake which shall open that beautiful body of water to more extended uses as a summer resort. As Red Lake's area is 440 square miles and its beaches, fishing grounds and cruising stretches are ample, Minnesota's "ten thousand lakes" will score a marked addition through the accessibility which this construction will provide. In these motoring days it is only their difficulty of access which has held back such large bodies of water as Red Lake and Mille Lacs lake. Indeed, the wonder is that they have not been made more accessible before now. Adoption of the Babcock good roads amendment by the voters of Minnesota will give the state such an impetus as to establish it as the great summer playground of the Central West.

Smith Undergoes Operation.

G. Howard Smith left Friday evening for Minneapolis, where he went for the purpose of having his tonsils removed. At the time Mr. Smith was in the army it was found that this operation was necessary and after much red tape and many delays he finally was given orders last week to appear before the army physician to be operated upon. The operation might just as well have been performed in Thief River Falls at a saving of considerable expense to the government but those in charge evidently seem to care little for economy.

AMERICAN LEGION GROWING IN STATE

The annual report of S. G. Iverson, of St. Paul, state historian of The American Legion, shows that 328 posts were organized throughout Minnesota, from January 1 until the Duluth convention closed the fiscal year.

"We have 470 posts with 60,000 enrolled members," said Mr. Iverson. "Within the past eight months, 100 women's auxiliaries with a membership of upwards of 5,000 have been organized. Minnesota leads the country in organization of auxiliary units. There are still upwards of 60,000 service men to be enrolled in The Legion."

Mr. Iverson has not completed his list of Minnesota legionnaries who have died during the past year. Statistics obtained from Washington, showed that Minnesota's war casualties totaled 7158 enlisted men and 165 officers. Total deaths were 2138, including 50 officers.

Bad Place in Jefferson Highway Now Improved

Traffic along the Jefferson highway will no longer be diverted because of a bad stretch of road between Clearbrook and Bagley, because the road is now in fairly good condition and will be properly marked, according to a report coming from Red Lake Falls, given out by a committee representing the Red Lake County Automobile club and consisting of L. E. Healy, chairman of the good roads committee; E. G. Buse, George F. Hennings and S. E. Hunt, accompanied by County Engineer H. E. Palmer. This party went over the route between Red Lake Falls and Bagley Monday and Tuesday and held meetings with business men at Gonvick, Clearbrook and Bagley. The old markings between Clearbrook and Bagley had not been changed to the new road, which has recently been constructed between these two towns and which is in fair condition. The new route was designated by General Manager J. D. Clarkson of the Jefferson Highway association last fall after considerable controversy with Clearwater county people, but it appears that the new road was never marked prior to this week.

Express Companies Parasites.
(Warren Register.)

Now it is the express companies that are demanding a big increase in rates. Absolutely, they are not entitled to it. Moreover, they have no moral right to exist, anyhow. The express business should be taken over by the railways, as they furnish the actual transportation. The express company is simply a barnacle that has fastened itself upon the public and added to the cost of doing business. If you don't believe this, read the history of the origin of the various express companies operating on the railroads of the northwest.

How Women Are Often Cheated Out Of Their Best Years
Physician Explains How Many Women Undermine Their Health and Wreck Their Happiness by Letting the Iron in Their Blood Run Low
Tells How Organic Iron, Like Nuxated Iron, Helps Strengthen The Nerves, Put Roses In The Cheeks and New Vigor and Health in The Veins Of Pale, Careworn Women.
Lack of iron robs the blood of its power to make firm and healthy tissue, brain, and muscle out of the food we eat and the oxygen we breathe, and turns a woman with rosy cheeks, sparkling health and boundless energy into one who is pale, run-down, tired and hopeless. Her thin, watery blood, lacking strength-giving iron, under-nourishes her body and brain and robs her of her natural energy and cheerfulness. She loses interest in life and cannot enter into the normal healthy pleasures of those about her. She is literally cheating herself out of the best years of her life, when she might, in most cases, quickly regain her strength and vitality by feeding her blood with organic iron —Nuxated Iron.
The alarming deficiency of iron in the blood of so many women of today has been explained by a number of doctors as being due to the abnormal worry and strain of modern life, as well as worry and overwork, and our refined, unnatural diet. These all tend to drain the natural iron from the blood faster than the body can replace it without assistance. Under these conditions we should feed the blood with organic iron, and Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and Westchester County Hospital, explains below why organic iron, like Nuxated Iron, is administered to nervous and run-down women to make them stronger, healthier, and happier.
"Every woman has the right to years of vigor and health. But many a woman cheats herself of her best years by allowing lack of iron in her blood to undermine her health.
"To me the saddest feature of modern life is the number of unhappy, careworn women who might so easily regain happiness and health. Doctors' offices are filled with women who are constantly tired, pale, sickly, uninterested in life. I am convinced that many such women, by simply putting iron in their blood, might readily build up rich red blood, increase physical energy, and get themselves into a condition to ward off the millions of disease germs that are almost continually around us. To put the necessary iron in the blood, I have prescribed Nuxated Iron many, many times, and I have seen frequent instances where it gave renewed strength and energy, increased power of endurance, steady nerves, and the rosy bloom of health in about ten days or two weeks' time. I consider Nuxated Iron one of the foremost blood and body builders—the best to which I have ever had recourse."
Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which is recommended above is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. Each tablet of genuine Nuxated Iron is stamped as follows: N I and the words Nuxated Iron are stamped into each bottle, so that the public may not be led into accepting inferior substitutes. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

"Where Are My Best Years Going?" asks many a woman who sits indoors, too tired to play, too listless to enjoy the good things of life. Dr. Sullivan in the accompanying article explains how women may quickly regain their health and happiness by the use of organic iron—like Nuxated Iron.

Grand Forks Man Killed When Run Down By Auto

Ernest Walker of Grand Forks died Friday from injuries received the preceding day when he was struck and run over by an automobile driven by Henry Hendrickson of East Grand Forks. Eyewitness reports say Walker had just parked his car in front of his home and was alighting from it when Hendrickson's car run into him, knocked him down and ran over his body. Walker's machine was reported to be on the wrong side of the street.

Sold Plain Rainwater.

The story comes from Spooner about an Iowa man who had motored up that way and before returning to his native state decided to load his car with "good Canadian booze" in order to give the boys back home a taste of the "real stuff." He arranged to purchase two cases from an enterprising salesman along the international border and the liquor was cautiously smuggled across the river to a safe hiding place and paid for in good U. S. money at the going price of $20 per quart. Then the man thought he was entitled to a drink himself after going to all this trouble. One bottle was opened, consternation confronted, it was plain rain water. Another bottle was opened with the same result. All the others were opened and all of them contained water. The Iowa man is now touring the border looking for the water salesman.

Some operatic artists are better singers than they are actors, some are the reverse, and some can neither sing nor act. It is just to say that not only can Antonio Scotti do both, but that he is one of the greatest singing actors on the stage at the present time. In this respect he bears comparison with Plancon and Maurel, the two great Frenchmen who once adorned the European operatic boards and who were prominent at the Metropolitan. Today Scotti has no equals and few who can be regarded as rivals as a singing actor. In certain roles he stands alone, notably Scarpia in Tosca and Chim Fang in "L'Oracolo," parts which he has made peculiarly his own, and in which he will be seen at the auditorium with the Scotti Grand Opera Company, which makes its first appearance on Sept. 17 at Grand Forks in "Madam Butterfly" a pleccinis beautiful opera.

A number of Thief River Falls music lovers have signified their intention of hearing the Scotti Grand Opera company at the Forks on above date. The mail order sale of seats is now open, the prices, inclusive of war tax being as follows: $5.50, $4.40, $3.30, $2.20 and $1.65. Check and self-addressed stamped envelope should be to the Poppler Piano company, Grand Forks, for reservations.

Backus Starts Farming.

Baudette Region: The work of making a modern 500-acre farm out of the former Engler mill property is progressing rapidly. Mr. Johnson, foreman for E. W. Backus, has about 175 acres cleared and under cultivation and this week he started on another sixty-acre plot, which will be plowed this fall. It is estimated that at least 235 acres will be under cultivation this fall, and the balance of the 500 acres will be cleared next year. A set of modern farm buildings, unsurpassed in Minnesota, will be built next year, and by September 1921, Baudette will have one of the greatest farms in the state right on the edge of the village.

HOGS SELL HIGHER AND SHEEP LOWER

Bulk of hogs were selling on a slightly higher basis at the close last week but top and range remained about the same and the general market was rated about steady for the week. Closing sales showed bulk at $14 to $14.25 with top at $15 for choice sorted lots and low end $13,-50. At the high time, top was $15.-25 with bulk at $14.25 to $14.50 but the market weakened later. Best pigs were in sharp demand up to $15 with most sales at $13.50 to $14.50. Receipts were still light, totalling around 13,500.

The cattle market closed about steady at the earlier decline of 25c to 50c on most grades. Late trading showed nothing choice in the pens but the best sales of the season were scored Tuesday when some 1200 lb. Dakota steers brought $13. Best sales at the finish ranged from $10.-50 to $12 with bulk at $6 to $10. Good steers showed little change but others were lower for the week. She stock reflected the week's decline with sales ranging from $6 to $9 largely. Canners and cutters were priced at $4 to $5 mainly with bulls at $4.50 to $6 and veal calves at $5 to $15. Stocker and feeder trade held about steady with a fair demand all week. Good feeders were quoted around $9.50 to $11 for 1000 to 1100 lb. stuff while cow and heifer trade was ticketed at $4 to $5.50. Dairy cows were slow and steady at $70 to $115 mostly. Receipts were around 31000.

Sheep and lamb trade suffered a setback, lamb prices dropping $1.25 for the week and sheep about 50c. Current quotations are: Lambs $7.-50 to $11.25; yearlings $7. to $9.50; wethers $4 to $6.50; ewes $2. to $6. Western feeding lambs are quoted at $10 to $11 with ewes at $3.50 to $4.-50 and yearlings at $8 to $8.50. Receipts totalled around 24,000.

Public Forum

Help the Mail Carrier.

There is no one thing that is of greater benefit to the farming community than the star and rural route postal system. All the extra expense the farmer is put to is the erection in a convenient place of the required mail box.

You receive and send your mail every day in the year from a point near your home. You can buy stamps, send money orders and transact any other business you may have with the postoffice department through the mail carrier as he goes by. He is obliged to deliver any package up to 70 pounds to you free of charge other than the regular postage.

How many half-day trips to town does this save you? If you are interested in the public issues of the day you can keep as well posted as the man living in the city. Nearly all carriers must travel from 20 to 40 miles every trip. It is a tiresome job at best. Good roads are necessary in order to make the round in safety.

Are you, patron, doing your share to help out for this favor? Do you scrape and repair the roads—which are as much for your benefit as for the carrier's? Do you cut the brush on either side of the road to stop the snow drifting and blocking the road in winter? Do you drive the carrier's road in the winter to help keep it open? How many times do you cuss the carrier because he don't get to your box over a road that you could not be hired to put teams over?

Think of the carrier as a friend and not as a necessary evil. Help him out. Cut the brush, repair the road, treat him as you would like to be treated and all will feel better and be happier.

Child Bitten By Rat.

Warroad Pioneer: Tuesday evening, while the little daughter of Otto Miller was sleeping on her bed, a rat entered the house, jumped on the bed, biting her on the wrist, cutting one of the arteries. The mother at the time was at a neighbor's near by and hearing the cries of the little one ran home and was horrified to find her baby in a pool of blood. Dr. Elliott was called at once and gave the necessary medical aid. The affair might have been a serious accident but as it is the little one is getting along nicely.

DAILY PAPER IS POSSIBILITY FOR THIS CITY SOON

Times Will Be Published Daily if Public Sentiment Demands it.

Arrangements Made to Secure Complete Service of the Associated Press.

Investigation to be Made at Once and Decision Reached In Next Two Weeks.

Has Thief River Falls arrived at the stage in its progress where it can support a daily newspaper? This is the question that is confronting the management of The Times today and a thorough canvass of the field is to be made at once to determine whether or not a daily newspaper will receive sufficient support in the city and vicinity to warrant its establishment.

Discussion Started.

The idea has been up for discussion among the business men of the city and The Times has been asked to go over the situation at once and ascertain the possibilities. The matter will be thoroughly gone into from all angles and everything possible in the way of useful information obtained.

Subscriptions and Advertising.

The first important step will be that of ascertaining just how large a subscription list can be obtained for the daily. Return postal cards will be mailed to all Times subscribers within the next day or two with place provided thereon for a one year's subscription for the daily. The manner in which the proposal is received by the subscribers will be a strong determining factor in the course to be adopted. It will, therefore, be very important that all subscribers express themselves on the cards received at once and immediately return them to The Times office. The business men will then be interviewed on the matter of advertising. If this leads to satisfactory results The Daily Times will be assured to the people of Northwestern Minnesota.

A Model Daily.

If it is found that conditions are favorable for starting the daily it will be the aim of The Times management to make the paper a model in every respect and one that may be pointed to as the leading small city daily of the northwest; in fact it will stand in the same relative position as a newspaper as the weekly Times does today.

Associated Press Service.

Arrangements have already been made for securing the complete telegraph service of the Associated Press, which is acknowledged as the greatest news gathering agency in the world today. A thorough and complete world, state and local news service will be maintained at all times and Thief River Falls will have a real daily newspaper.

During the time that the necessary investigation is being conducted The Times will welcome a public discussion of the proposition in its columns and will be glad to receive expressions of opinions from all its subscribers.

Agricultural Picnic Next Sunday to Be Real Hummer

A gathering held under the auspices of the Northwest School of Agriculture graduates, former and present students is planned for 2 o'clock next Sunday afternoon at Valhalla Hall, near Engelstad's farm, Thief River Falls. Professor A. M. Foker of the agricultural school will give an address. An invitation to attend is extended to everyone, young and old, as the gathering is open to all and is not limited to the agricultural school alumni.

RESULT OF TRAFFIC CENSUS GIVEN OUT

Count Kept at Four Points Near City Furnishes Many Interesting Figures.

Some interesting facts are brought out through the traffic census which was completed here last week. The work was done for the purpose of determining the travel on the various highways checked, this information to be used by the highway department in future road construction and repair.

Four points in and near the city were used in compiling the census. Station No. 1 was located on the Jefferson highway at the fair grounds corner, station No. 2 on the same highway at the city limits on the south, station No. 3 at the Squaw Point bridge, and station No. 4 at the south end of Bridge street near the bridge.

The count was kept up for eight days and at station No. 1 the following figures were recorded: Automobiles, 3,642, carrying 11,230 passengers; of these 231 were foreign cars, carrying 705 passengers; 258 trucks, carrying 391 passengers; 219 heavy teams carrying 290 passengers, and 97 light rigs, carrying 210 passengers.

Station No. 2; 2,662 cars and 7,354 passengers. Of these 70 with 198 passengers bore foreign license tags. Trucks, 48, with 62 passengers; heavy teams 117, and 158 passengers, while the light rigs totaled 69 with 107 occupants.

Station No. 3, the Squaw Point bridge, showed the following results: Cars, 3,501, with 9,767 passengers, of which 43 cars carrying 128 passengers belonged outside the state; 172 trucks with 245 passengers; 162 heavy teams, 212 passengers, light rigs 129, with 246 passengers.

Bridge street showed by far the heaviest traffic. At this point 6,917 automobiles passed during the eight days, and the count showed 17,696 people occupied the machines. A very small part of these were foreign cars, only 67, or less than one per cent, bearing the license tags of other states. The foreign cars are credited with 185 passengers. Of trucks there were 646, with 1,091 passengers, while 442 heavy teams carrying 623 passengers passed this point. A total of 322 light rigs and 573, occupants was noted at this place.

The heaviest traffic enumerated at any one point in a single day was on Bridge street, where 1,220 automobiles were counted on Sunday. People traveling on the road near the fair grounds evidently believe in observing the Sabbath as not a single draft team or wagon was noted on that day.

NEW CENTRAL UNION PLANS BIG MEETING

Geo. W. Lawson, Secretary of State Federation, to Be Present at Gathering.

Organized labor in Thief River Falls is planning a big meeting for next Monday evening. The different unions got together some time ago and formed a temporary organization to be known as the Central Labor Union and made application for affiliation with the American Federation of Labor. This application has been granted by Federation officials and the meeting next Monday evening will be for the purpose of forming a permanent central union.

The meeting Monday evening will be held at 8 o'clock at the Commercial club rooms and Geo. W. Lawson, secretary of the State Federation of Labor, has promised to be present to assist with the work of getting properly started. A constitution and bylaws for the new organization will be adopted and a permanent set of officers elected.

Five local unions, including the electricians, carmen, retail clerks, carpenters and printers held the preliminary meeting and made application for the charter, but these forces likely will be augmented by the addition of two or three more unions at Monday evening's meeting. It is the intention to get every available union man to affiliate with the central body and all of them are therefore urged to be present.

All members of labor unions in the city are requested to attend the meeting at the Commercial club rooms Monday evening. There will be room enough for everybody and it is highly important that a good start be made with the new organization. Mr. Lawson has had a great deal of experience in such matters and will see to it that the local union gets the right kind of a start.

Hicks Granted Permit.

H. M. Hicks was granted a permit by the council Tuesday evenig to place an additional door in the rear of the building occupied by his furniture store.

Elks Meet Tomorrow.

There will be a regular meeting of the Elks lodge tomorrow evening. It is particularly desired that all those who have applications for membership, present them at this time in order that they may be acted on before the big initiation takes place in October.

BOTH CANDIDATES LOSE IN SEVENTH

Kvale and Volstead Disqualified in Race For Congress By Supreme Court.

Affirming the disqualification of Rev. O. J. Kvale as republican candidate for congress in the seventh district the Minnesota state supreme court on Saturday also eliminated A. J. Volstead as the nominee. Volstead had been declared the candidate by the district court.

Rev. Kvale, who served the Norwegian Lutheran church at Benson, defeated Congressman Volstead for the nomination in the June primary election. A group of voters in the district contested Kvale's nomination on the ground that he had violated the state corrupt practice act.

Judge Albert Johnson of Red Wing, who heard the contest, held the act had been violated when Rev. Kvale declared Mr. Volstead an atheist. He disqualified Kvale and declared Volstead, the runner-up in the election, the nominee. Rev. Kvale appealed to the state supreme court. The supreme court affirmed the decision after modifying it by eliminating the clause declaring Volstead the nominee and said the reason for this conclusion would be stated in an opinion to be filed at a later date.

This ruling, in the opinion of state officials, leaves the naming of the congressional nominee in the seventh district to the republican congressional committee there. If the district committee is unable to decide on the nominee the state republican committee could act, it was said.

STEPS THROUGH THRESHER TOP; BADLY INJURED

John Malafa of this City Meets With Serious Accident in North Dakota.

Left Leg Amputated and Doctors Fear Righ Limb Cannot Be Saved.

Injured Man Bears Up Well and Prospects are Bright for Speedy Recovery.

John Malafa, 314 Tindolph avenue south, is lying in the hospital at Park River, N. D., in a critical condition as the result of an accident which occurred on Monday while he was at work threshing near Pisek, a small village south of Park River. His left leg has been amputated above the knee and the right limb is so badly lacerated that the doctors have little hope of saving it.

Falls Into Separator.

Malafa was on top of the separator when in some manner one of the doors or lids covering the top of the machine gave way and he slipped into the moving machinery with both feet. As soon as the machine could be stopped he was helped out of his plight, with his limbs mangled and bleeding.

A doctor was summoned and the injured man taken at once to the hospital at Park River, where he has since been cared for. Examination disclosed the seriousness of his injuries and the doctors found immediate amputation of the left leg imperative. This operation was performed the same day and John bore up well under the shock. Although the right leg also is terribly mangled, hope is held out that it may be possible to save it unless complications set in.

Sympathy is General.

Mr. Malafa is well known in Thief River Falls and has numerous friends who will be sorry to learn of the accident. He is well liked by everyone and has always been an industrious, hard-working man. It had been his custom for a number of years to work in North Dakota during the threshing season and he had charge of a separator at the time the accident occurred. He is married and his family consists of his wife and three small children.

Mrs. Malafa left immediately for Park River upon being apprised of the accident and is now helping care for her husband. The injured man is a member in good standing of the W. O. W. and the local lodge is taking steps to be of whatever assistance it can.

CLUB PROPOSES RUN TO GOODRIDGE FAIR

Committee From Commercial Body Chosen to Arouse Interest in Event.

Believing that the Tri-County fair at Goodridge next Monday and Tuesday is of benefit to this city, it was deemed advisable by the Commercial club members present at the meeting last Thursday to have as many as possible from Thief River Falls attend the fair. To that end a committee consisting of Daniel Shaw, John Morgan and Abe Sapero was named by President E. M. Stanton to complete such arrangements as are necessary to have a good turn-out on Tuesday of next week, Sept. 21.

Much interest attaches to the fair on that day due to the fact that Senator Schmeckel of Renville county will be present to explain the benefits of the Babcock amendment.

The club will start holding noonday lunches next week, Thursday, Sept. 23, and Mrs. Strupp has been secured to oversee the serving of the meals. It was thought by the club members that once a week is sufficient to start with and that Thursday will be the most satisfactory day of the week. The first lunch will be served at 12 o'clock sharp and will be in the nature of an experiment, so that the directors may get an idea of how the lunches will take and what the people will be willing to stand in the way of cost. The charge for the first lunch will be 35 cents and it is proposed to have hot meat sandwiches with gravy, potatoes, a relish and coffee.

Two Cuttings of Alfalfa Yield 2½ Tons to Acre

Fred Cuno, residing near Grygla, has this season cut 4½ tons of alfalfa in two cuttings on a ten-acre plot. The first cutting went 2½ tons to the acre and the second 2 tons. The third crop is now about 20 inches in length and would furnish another cutting of excellent hay, but Mr. Cuno will allow this to return to the soil, believing that this process will prove the most profitable in the long run.

Alfalfa has been a remarkably good crop everywhere in this vicinity this year and will enter more heavily into the feed rations during the coming winter than ever before. Those who have tried raising this wonderful fodder are convinced that it will in time prove one of the mainstays of the section.

Henry S. Johnson Wanted.

Henry J. Johnson, whose address is given as 322 Conley avenue south, Thief River Falls, is requested to get in touch at once with G. Howard Smith, adjutant of the local post of the American Legion, in regard to compensation insurance.

Share in Cafe Sold to Brother By Hal Stanton

A deal was closed last Saturday whereby E. M. Stanton purchased the interest of his brother, H. S. Stanton, in the Thief River cafe. The Stanton boys have conducted this popular eating place for the past two years and have enjoyed a splendid patronage. Ed. does not contemplate any radical change in the business but will continue along the same lines as formerly.

Hal Stanton left this week for Minot, N. D., where he has been offered the management of a large restaurant. If things out there are to his liking he will make that city his home.

ASK TO DISMISS ACTION AGAINST PAVING PROJECT

Appellants Withdraw Case Brot on Appeal Before State Supreme Court.

Drop Matter on its Merits, Which Precludes Further Action Under Same Head.

Object of Appeal Achieved and All Hampering Will Cease, Says Attorney.

The action brought by a number of citizens of Thief River Falls asking that the city be enjoined from paving certain streets in the business section has been withdrawn on its merits by the appellants. This means that the subject cannot be reopened under the same cause of action. Theodore Quale of this city, attorney for appellants, says that so far as his clients are concerned no further effort will be made to hold up the proceedings.

Object Achieved.

This action was carried to the supreme court after Judge Grindeland of the district court had ruled adversely on the application for an injunction. Among the reasons presented why the city should be stopped from proceeding with the work the principal one was that the law of 1919, giving municipalities the power to undertake improvements such as paving without a vote of the people, was unconstitutional. A recent supreme court decision declared the law valid. Another contention was that the streets were not in shape for paving this year. Appellants say that this objection has been automatically removed inasmuch as it is now too late in the season to begin the work and that by next spring the streets will have settled sufficiently to make paving safe. They maintain that it has at no time been their intention to oppose the improvement, their aim being simply to force a postponement until such time as in their opinion the streets were in condition to permit of the work being properly done.

Last Barrier Removed.

The withdrawal of this action removes the last barrier to paving and it is expected that from now on the work will be carried forward without interruption. There is no possibility of any actual surfacing being undertaken this fall, but the gutters and curbs can be installed and the storm water sewers constructed. As soon as the weather permits in the spring the main job will be undertaken, according to representatives of the contractors, the Bitulithic Contracting company of Winnipeg.

City Attorney H. O. Chommie, who has from the first maintained that the application for an injunction could not be made to hold, believes that no further attempts will be made to thwart the purpose of the council in this matter.

Reception to Teachers at Auditorium Friday

The usual reception at the opening of the school, at which time parents and others are invited to meet the teachers in the city schools, will be held at the auditorium on Friday evening, Sept. 24, according to the plans of the school board. In the past it has been found that this function has severely taxed the capacity of the high school auditorium and as the gathering is every year becoming more popular it was considered best to secure the larger hall.

At the board meeting on Monday evening the wooden building on the south side of the high school grounds was sold to the Oakland Park Sanitarium commission for $200. The structure will be moved out to the park and used as a chicken house.

It was decided to take out the partition in the office of the Knox building and convert the room into a kindergarten, there being no quarters available for this purpose on the East side.

NARROW ESCAPE AS BOY SHOOTS AT CAR DRIVER

Harry O. Warner of Thief River Falls Wounded by Bullet From Rifle.

Frank Rohr, 14 Years Old, Admits Shooting and is Placed On Probation.

To be shot through the shoulder while driving an automobile on the public highway was the experience of Harry O. Warner of Thief River Falls last Sunday evening. The shooting occurred in Cloverleaf township and Frank Rohr, the boy who did the shooting, was apprehended the following day by Sheriff W. J. LaBree. The lad was given a hearing yesterday morning before Ira C. Richardson, judge of the juvenile court, and was placed on probation for one year. He is required to make a report each month to Sheriff LaBree and will be allowed his liberty pending good behavior.

Wound Not Serious.

The wound inflicted by the bullet is not serious, though Mr. Warner can consider himself mighty lucky to get out of it as easily as he did. The pellet struck in the fleshy part of the shoulder and penetrated to the shoulder blade, which deflected its course upward and out through the muscles. Had it not been for the fact that Mr. Warner was stooping forward at the instant to adjust something about his car, the bullet would likely have struck his body at a lower point and resulted in much more serious injury.

Mr. Warner felt the sting of the bullet just after passing two lads on the road. One of the boys carried a small rifle and the wounded man naturally placed the blame upon him.

Shot Just For Fun.

After being taken into custody the boy was questioned and at first denied all knowledge of the matter. He finally owned up, however, that he had fired the shot and said he did it just for fun. The lad does not appear to be very strong mentally and did not seem to realize the seriousness of the charge against him. His parents were at a loss to understand why the boy fired the shot, claiming that he never before had attempted to do anything out of the way.

Mr. Warner did not care to press his case against the boy and the court decided the interests of all would best be served by placing the lad on strict probation instead of sending him to the reformatory.

SCARCITY OF FISH TO BE LOOKED INTO

Claim Made That Finny Tribe is Prevented From Passing Up and Down River.

Local fishermen have long been of the opinion that there must be some reason for the scarcity of fish in Red Lake river. It has been claimed by some that the outlet at Red Lake is obstructed by nets and screens in such a way as to make it impossible for fish to travel down the river from the lake. Others maintain the scarcity of fish is not caused at the outlet but by obstructions at points farther down the stream. One Thief River Falls man, who has made several trips up and down the stream during the past few months, claims that at several points nets have been placed and are kept set in such a way as to effectually prevent fish from passing in either direction.

Investigation also has brought out the fact that power dams along the river are not provided with fish runways as required by law. This is said to be true of the dams at Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls and Crookston. It is claimed most of the fish which should find its way into the stream in these parts would come from Canada by way of the Red River of the North if no obstructions stood in the way. As matters stand no fish can possibly pass by Crookston owing to the dam.

The matter was brought up last Thursday evening at the meeting of the commercial club and discussed at some length. It was decided that immediate action is necessary and the first step will be a letter of protest to Carlos Avery, game and fish commissioner of Minnesota. If this results in fish runways being placed in all dams and in other obstructions being removed between here and Red Lakes, it should make a vast difference in fishing along Red Lake river.

Will Open Gymnasium For the Season on October 1.

G. A. Fallness has decided to again open his gymnasium in the basement of the Citizens Bank building and has set the date for Oct. 1. There has been but little activity along this line during the summer months but with the coming of cooler weather, many will be glad to again take advantage of the facilities for healthful exercise afforded by Mr. Fallness' equipment.

The gymnasium has been rigged out with additional peraphernalia during the summer, more boxing gloves having been secured and another punching bag added. The remainder is the same as last season.

Just what program will be followed has not been decided upon, this being left for the members to determine after things are in running order. The main point now is that all old-timers should show up on the opening date as well as those who may wish to join. Boys' and ladies' classes with the proper instructors will be added later if the demand warrants such proceeding.

Injured Man Improving.

Joseph Althoff, the young man employed by V. C. Noper as a milk driver and who was last week injured when he ran his car into a moving Great Northern train, is rapidly recovering at the Physicians hospital. He received a number of bad bruises and was otherwise severely shaken up but is mending in a very satisfactory manner.

Auto Too Noisy.

Ed. Aga last Thursday paid a fine of $5 in municipal court after pleading guilty to the charge of running his automobile on the streets with the cut-out wide open. The complaint was sworn to by Chief of Police E. O. Erickson.

F. P. MANN SPEAKS AT MERCHANT BANQUET

Discusses Advertising; Declares Times Is a Wonderful Newspaper.

The business men of Thief River Falls spent a pleasant and highly profitable evening on Tuesday of this week when they listened to an address by F. P. Mann of Devils Lake, North Dakota, following a banquet served at the Evelyn hotel.

Mr. Mann is the head of a large mercantile establishment at Devils Lake, president of the North Dakota Retail Merchants' Association, and is regarded as one of the leading authorities in the entire country on modern merchandising methods. He has addressed hundreds of gatherings of business men in all parts of the country and is constantly in demand.

He has developed a wonderful retail business in the North Dakota city, his establishment at the present time doing a business of approximately $700,000 a year. He says that the basis of his whole success is advertising and lots of it, backed by quality merchandise and upright business methods. He talks advertising in a very forceful manner, being able to back his statements with illustrations of his own experience.

During his remarks Mr. Mann paid The Times a number of very fine compliments. He stated that in his travels throughout the various states of the country he came in contact with thousands of merchants and hundreds of newspapers as he always made it a point to visit and inspect the leading newspaper plant in every city that he was in. He referred to the plant and equipment of The Times as a remarkable printing establishment developed to a high state of efficiency and said that among all the country newspapers that he had seen the Thief River Falls Times stood out as a model of perfection. He complimented the merchants on the remarkably fine appearance of their advertising and said that it was distinctively high-class and showed the result of careful preparation.

The speaker enumerated the various kinds of advertising employed by his store and gave the local merchants some very valuable information. The evening proved to be a highly profitable one for those present and Mr. Mann will always find a warm welcome in Thief River Falls.

SEWER CONTRACTOR WANTS MORE MONEY

Higher prices all along the line, together with the recent increase in freight rates, make it impossible for Carl Knutson, who last spring was awarded the contract for installing the storm sewer system in conjunction with the paving project in Thief River Falls, to do the work at the price stipulated in the original contract.

Mr. Knutson was present at the council meeting Tuesday evening and explained his position in the matter. He stated that it would cost him approximately ten per cent more to do the work now than early in the summer and said that in order to make it possible for him to proceed with the contract at once it would be necessary for the council to grant him a bonus of $1,200. The amount of the original contract is $12,389.

After considering the matter at length the council decided the better way out of the difficulty would be to advertise the job once more and leave it to competitive bidders. Bids for the work will be opened at a special session of the council to be held on Thursday evening, Sept. 30.

The financing of this part of the work is expected to present no difficulty. It can likely be handled through local banks or temporarily drawn from other funds of the city, to be replaced when the bond issue for the major part of the paving job is made.

GOODRIDGE FAIR NEXT WEEK WILL BREAK RECORDS

Speakers Have Been Secured to Discuss Babcock Amendment Pro and Con.

Ball Games and Other Sports on Program—Something Doing Every Minute.

Next Monday morning the gates of the Tri-County fair at Goodridge will be thrown open to the public. Preparations for the big event have been under way for several weeks and those in charge feel justified in saying that it will be a hummer.

Barns and sheds for the housing of stock have been built, while other exhibits will be placed in the school house. The school building is large enough for this purpose and everything will be arranged in fine shape so as to be easily accessible to view.

Fine Speaking Program.

An exceptionally good program has been prepared for the entertainment of visitors. Several well known speakers have been secured, among whom are Senator Schmeckel of Renville county, J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture, and former Senator D. P. O'Neill. It is also likely that M. J. Dowling of Olivia will deliver an address on the second day of the fair.

The senator from Renville county, representing the highway improvement committee, will touch upon the same subject. The Babcock amendment is a live issue and these gentlemen are well qualified to explain its good and bad qualities.

J. H. Hay, who needs no introduction to the people of this section, will deliver the leading address on the second day of the fair. Mr. Hay's subject has not been announced but everyone may rest assured the speech will be well worth hearing.

Grain Grades Explained.

A representative of the Minnesota grain inspection department will be on hand with suitable equipment to demonstrate and explain the workings of the state and national grain grading laws. This is a subject of much interest to farmers and no doubt farmers and others will be on hand to learn more about this highly important subject. The same exhibit was given at the Pennington county fair and created a great deal of interest from all quarters.

Many Other Attractions.

A fine sports program is in course of preparation and there will be something doing every minute of the two days. Among other numbers are two base ball games, wrestling matches, dances in the bowery and many other attractions. In addition will be a variety of foot races, potato races and other contests of particular interest to the kids.

While the exhibits at last year's fair were a revelation to visitors, it is expected the showing this year will far surpass the previous attempt. A bumper crop of everything has been raised in the territory from which the fair draws its exhibits and the opportunity for securing high class samples could not be better.

TWO BREAK WRISTS WITHIN SAME HOUR

Peculiar Coincidence Brought to Light at Physicians Hospital Friday.

Two accidents, almost identical in their results, occurred within an hour at two different points in this immediate neighborhood on Friday afternoon. As a result Mrs. John Berglund of Plummer and Earl Peterson of Hazel, needed the attention of surgeons at the Physicians' hospital at practically the same time.

Earl Peterson was the first to be brought in. He is the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Peterson of Hazel, and he had broken both wrists by falling off a shed on his father's farm. This was at 6:30 o'clock in the afternoon. At 8 o'clock Mrs. Berglund was brought in. She also had both wrists broken, having fallen off a load of hay. Besides she had a bruise over the right eye and several loose teeth.

Allowing for the difference in the length of time it must have taken the parties to reach the hospital it is figured that the accidents took place at nearly the same time. The doctors say that the coincidence is rather unusual.

Streeter Buys Home.

G. S. Streeter, manager of the Peoples Auto company, this week closed a deal whereby he became the owner of the Mousley residence property located just south of the garage on Main Ave. This is a highly desirable piece of property and will make a good home for Mr. Streeter and his family, who expect to move into it within a few days. Mr. Mousley still owns the residence adjoining this property on the south, which for some time has been undergoing extensive repairs.

LOKEN BROTHERS - Thief River Falls, Minn.

EDITORIAL

Why it is that people living within one hundred miles of Thief River Falls will send their money away to a mail order house two or three weeks before they get the goods, pay postage, money order costs, express or the high freight rates, is more than we could ever understand. It looks like poor business to us when we have right here better merchants, better stores and larger stocks of merchandise than can be found in any other town the size of Thief River Falls in the United States. Further, we have here very much lower selling costs per dollar than is the case with the large city stores.

This page advertisement is just crowded with comparisons and if we could afford it we would buy this entire edition of the paper and fill it with items just like these. But we have not the space at our disposal and have selected items here and there at random in order to prove without the shadow of a doubt that we do sell the same merchandise for less money than do the largest catalogue retail houses in the country. We do not claim that we can undersell catalogue houses and all other retail concerns under the sun on each and every item, but we do claim that the thousands of loyal customers who buy all goods in our line from us do, in the aggregate buying covering a year's time, get better merchandise for less money than they would receive from any mail order house with which we are acquainted.

Besides this, they see what they are buying, selecting from a big range of always new goods, new styles and new patterns, receiving service at the hands of our salespeople that is both helpful and valuable. And this good service, large stock and well-kept store is here for you to use as you see fit—and it doesn't cost you a cent.

Why, for instance, buy 10 yards of goods because the catalogue house will sell it only that way, when you know seven yards is all you need for the dress you wish to make? We are here to serve you and will gladly sell you our highest grade American Calico at 18 cents per yard while Sears, Roebuck & Co. want 25 cents per yard for the same goods—and you must buy ten yards of one pattern in order to get it at this price. They offer you nine patterns to choose from while we offer a hundred or more. If you want to make a crazy quilt and only need a quarter of a yard from 20 different pieces you are welcome to buy it that way, paying 18 cents per yard for it. We are here to serve you in the manner in which you wish to be served.

Then, again, we are right on the ground, doing all we can to make this a better place in which to live. We pay out hundreds of dollars in taxes every year and give employment to quite a number of persons. Our donations also run into the hundreds of dollars every year, all of which goes toward the betterment of different institutions and individuals.

This is only a small part of it, but compare even this much with what the community receives from catalogue houses to help in building up Thief River Falls and the country in its neighborhood.

Catalogue houses say: "Buy from us, save the retailer's BIG profit and put the difference in your own pocket." This might be good advice if there were any difference left to put in your pocket, but instead you are actually a looser by sending to them. It costs you more in dollars and cents to deal with them than with us. Then why be such a good friend to a total stranger whom you do not know and who cares nothing whatever about you? Why keep unsatisfactory merchandise and say nothing just because these people sent the goods to you, when, in case an occasional item from our store turns out wrong, you can TELL THE WHOLE WORLD? Why not be loyal to your friends, the merchants of Thief River Falls, who will do anything within reason for you under any and all circumstances? They are not the robbers, thieves, profiteers and other objectionable things that a certain class of newspaper propaganda would have you believe. Throw away your hammer and buy a horn and you will find that there is nothing wrong with Thief River Falls, its merchants, its stores or its people, but that it is a white man's town and a good one to live in.

That we are on the right track has been proven by our large gains in the volume of business transacted each and every year. Last year our gains in sales was over 50 per cent and this year so far it has reached 68 per cent. This goes to prove that a majority of the people are finding out the truth and that they have discovered the right place at which to do their trading.

TWO IMPORTANT FAIRS.

It is very much to be regretted that notice of the Red Lake Indian fair was not received in this city in time to make arrangements for a delegation to be present from here. The display closed yesterday after three very successful days of exhibition. Our non-partisan was an oversight that should not be permitted to happen again.

Thief River Falls is the traditional trading post for the Indians on this reservation. Following the only watercourse leaving the lake, the Indians called the town their headquarters in the early days before railroads made other points more easily accessible. Now this city rarely sees an Indian and hardly a trace remains of the very important commercial intercourse once existing. When the direct road now contemplated is an actual fact much of this trade will be restored and it would have been the part of good business as well as neighborly consideration for the city to have its representatives present when the Indians' big show for the year was in progress. It is too late to do anything about this now. By the time another fair is held our people may have awakened to the fact that they are overlooking something worth while.

Next week the Goodridge fair will be held. The eastern end of the county has had a very good season and the products displayed will prove it. The exhibit last year—when the short time and insufficient funds handicapped the attempt—was the talk of the section for a long time. The exhibits showed what the region was capable of producing even under unfavorable circumstances and the show this year should be very much better.

Eastern Pennington county is rapidly settling up and the farmers there are as a general rule prosperous. They are steadily working toward a safe stock raising policy and some of the best cattle and sheep in the Northwest are to be found on the farms there. In general soil products there are also making rapid strides, both quality and variety showing the effects of intelligent selection and careful management.

It would be a good idea for the Commercial club to sponsor a regular excursion to Goodridge either on Monday or Tuesday—preferably the latter for the reason that all displays will then be in place. It should not be a difficult matter to get twenty or more automobile loads to make the trip and it is certain that the visitors would be made most welcome. These are our own people and it is no more than proper that we should show our interest in their progress.

BACKING THE AMENDMENT.

During the past two weeks the Babcock Good Roads Amendment has gained a lot of decidedly worth-while support. The State Federation of Women's clubs has gone on record as endorsing the project without one qualifying note. This means that a large percentage of those who will this year cast their first vote will not fail to file their approval of the good roads program.

This is not surprising. Being inclined to weigh every proposition coming up for consideration on its own merits and not having—as yet, anyway—learned to regulate her opinions by party dictum, a woman thinks in a straight line and is not likely to be swayed from a course that seems right and proper by superficial arguments or a fear that things may not turn out as well as expected. She realizes the need of good roads and sees in the Babcock Amendment a way of securing them.

Another acquisition to the good roads forces is found in the attitude of certain prominent socialists. One of the leaders of the party, a resident of Two Harbors, has come out flat-footed in his advocacy of the plan and others are rapidly falling in line. He argues that of all improvements that can be undertaken the building of good highways is the one that will benefit the laborer and farmer most. He rightly maintains that roads are the one thing necessary in order to enable the man making a home in a new section to look toward the future with some encouragement. Without roads such a man is helpless and almost hopeless.

Gradually the original opponents of the Babcock plan are coming to see their mistake. There still remains those who withhold their support because they fear that only a few of the main lines in the state will be benefitted, but even these are being won over. Others object to a plan of providing cement pavements on all these highways, believing that this matter has already been settled. Nothing has as yet been decided as to the surfacing to be employed, that being a matter for some future legislature to determine. The Babcock Amendment simply provides the machinery for hard surfacing our roads, leaving details to be taken care of as circumstances may dictate.

NOON DAY LUNCHES.

The Commercial club made a good move at its last meeting in deciding to inaugurate a series of midday luncheons during the fall and early winter. These luncheon meetings will take place every Thursday beginning on Sept. 23.

This plan has been followed with marked success by many municipalities in Minnesota and elsewhere. The idea is to bring the club members together under circumstances that will permit of an informal discussion of matters pertaining to the community's general welfare. It will provide a sort of hatching ground for propositions to be taken up later at regular meetings of the organization and will also have the effect of eliminating notions which on their face are impracticable, thus saving annoyance when the time for action comes.

The success of this innovation will depend entirely upon the interest shown by the members themselves. If they make it a point to attend and give voice to their plans and opinions it will be the best thing that the club has undertaken. On the other hand, if they decide that they can do nothing of value by being present and make up their mind to stay away the entire program will fall flat.

There never was a time in the history of Thief River Falls when so many matters of importance invited the best consideration of our people. The Commercial club is the proper medium through which to give expression regarding your own attitude toward these subjects, and these luncheons provide the opportunity.

It is to be hoped that every member of the club will be present at this first luncheon. Upon the interest shown at this time will to a large extent depend the success or failure of the plan.

BECOMING A NUISANCE.

While it is not likely that any more contrabrand liquor is coming into Thief River Falls than is the case with other cities and towns in this section, it is a known fact that too much is arriving. This would be so even if the amount were just a little more than none at all.

It is admittedly a hard matter to keep liquor out of the country while there are those willing to take a chance on shipping it in and disposing of it after it gets here. The profit must be something out of the ordinary in order to induce persons to take the risk of a prison sentence and heavy fine in order to break the law. Men who would not ordinarily stray far from the straight and narrow path evidently believe that running the whisky blokade is not in the same class with other crimes and even seem to consider the act rather a creditable performance. They apparently will not take a lesson from what has happened to others and intend to continue the criminal practice until the long arm of the law places them where they belong.

There is hardly a question as to the ultimate outcome. Luck may attend bootlegging attempts for a certain length of time, but sooner or later the man who plies the trade will be found out. He is a criminal and even those with whom he has trafficked have no sympathy with him after he is caught. He is despised by his partners in wrongdoing.

Officials—national, state and local—may be doing all in their power to stamp out the nuisance, but if so their efforts are not meeting with any signal degree of success. At some points, Thief River Falls among others, a little greater vigilance might not be misplaced.

Scotti at Grand Forks.

A considerable number of the Thief River Falls music lovers will go to Grand Forks tomorrow afternoon for the purpose of hearing Scotti and his company in Madam Butterfly. Scotti is admittedly one of the greatest artists on the American operatic stage and it is seldom that people in the smaller cities have the opportunity of hearing him. He will undoubtedly be greeted by a capacity house at Grand Forks and those who have not already done so, should telephone for seat reservations without delay.

SAVED HIS SON'S LIFE, HE STATES

According to the testimony of the multiplied thousands who have used it, there is nothing more invigorating than Tanlac to persons suffering from the after effects of influenza, typhoid, la grippe, pneumonia, operations, bronchial troubles, or who are in a run-down condition from any cause.

Another striking instance in connection with this fact is evidenced by the statement of Joseph Litch, 4043 Emerson street, Minneapolis, Minn., regarding the results of Tanlac in the case of his young son, Robert, who seemed unable to recover his strength following a severe attack of pneumonia, until he began taking the Master Medicine.

"On November fourth," said Mr. Litch, "Bobby was taken with measles, later pneumonia set in a special nurse was in constant attendance and I was told that my son had only a fighting chance of getting well. The whole family had given up hopes of his recovery, as his vitality seemed almost entirely gone and nothing did him any good.

"After lingering for some time with no sign of returning strength, my wife, who had been keeping up with the testimonials being published for Tanlac, suggested that we try that medicine. This idea was strongly opposed, but we began anyway giving Bobby Tanlac. At the time he started on it he could take no food and could drink nothing except water. The second day after the use of Tanlac was begun he asked for some beef broth. His appetite gradually increased and on Christmas day he was able to get out for a little walk. Well, after the holiday vacation he started to school again and is filling out and building up right along. I am glad to recommend Tanlac because I honestly believe it saved my son's life, and neither my wife nor myself will ever stop praising it."

They arrived over the Soo railay and after viewing various secons of the surrounding country by to took the Great Northern for reenbush and Roseau, where Mr. awney is interested in local banks. rom there they proceeded to Warad and International Falls and on Duluth before returning to their mes in Winona.

On Thursday E. E. Shepard, assistt cashier of the Winona Deposit nk, and Paul Baumgartner, Jr., asstant cashier of the Deposit Trust mpany, reached Thief River Falls auto, having toured from the uthern part of the state and for the st week since arriving here have vered a large part of eastern Marall and Roseau counties. Narrow Escape.

Warren Register: Dr. and Mrs. ward Bratrud had a narrow escape m serious injury Saturday aftern. They had driven up to the Soo d crossing near the Swedish urch and stopped there ight train was switching and was at the moment ing still with one of the cars y a few feet from the crossing. e of the brakemen was standing r by and signalled to Dr. Bratrud go ahead, which he did. The engineer either did not see the brakeman's signal or misinterpreted it, for he immediately put his train in motion and backed it up over the crossing, with the result that the rear car struck the auto before it had got safely over the track. The auto, which was a Dodge Sedan, had a wheel broken, the windows on one side smashed and was otherwise pretty badly used up, but both the occupants escaped with nothing more serious than a lively shaking up and a shock to their nerves.

REPUBLICAN CLUBS DISTRICT HEAD FOR

G. Howard Smith of This City Chairman for Northern Minnesota District.

Harding-Preus clubs will be formed in every county in the state and the work of organization is to be undertaken at once. G. Howard Smith of this city has been named organizer for the district comprising all the northern counties and is only awaiting final instructions before getting busy.

Mr. Smith will at once get in touch with the central committee chairmen in each county with a view to learning the sentiment of the different neighborhoods, and dates for meetings will be arranged as soon as possible. The work will in all probability take Mr. Smith away from the city a good deal between now and election.

All details of procedure have not yet been perfected but it is certain that there will be separate clubs for the men and women voters. At the St. Paul meeting it was suggested that one organization be made to answer for the men, women and young men, but this was so energetically objected to by the ladies that it was quickly dropped. The new voters want to carry on their own campaign in their own way and do not intend to stand for either dictation or interference. Mr. Smith states that it is perhaps needless to add that they will, as usual, be given their own way.

Due to Wrong Addresses Premium Checks Returned

A number of premium checks have been returned to G. Howard Smith, secretary of the fair association, due to deficiency in address. A list of these is given below and the owners are asked to notify Mr. Smith at once in order that they may receive their checks without delay:

Miss May Docken, Clearbrook; Miss Annie Anderson, Erie; Luella Peterson, Goodridge; Clara Berg, Ruth Sorenson, Emma Randall, Olga Johnson, Ruben Stenvick, Clarence Burgstrum, T. J. Tillevold, Mildred Peterson, Josie Hagen and Alice Anderson, all of Thief River Falls.

No name has been given in connection with 1st prize Raffia basket No. 1863. Check will be forthcoming when this number is presented.

Drives Racer to Duluth.

The racing car smashed up last week when Erling Gerdts went through the fence at the fair grounds, was repaired at a local garage. Clarence Hean, an employe of the garage, drove the car to Duluth, leaving here on Monday, and expects to find out whether or not the car has any real "pep."

Proven By Comparison.

An advertisement of unusual interest in The Times this week is that of Loken Brothers. They have taken a number of items found in the latest catalog of one of the greatest mail order houses in the country and set out to prove that the people of this vicinity can do better by trading right here at home. The figures quoted are in no manner specials, being in every case the price asked at all times. The advertisement makes decidedly interesting reading and proves that trading at home is not only the best policy but that it means an actual saving in the amount of money spent. Loken Brothers guarantee that in each and every instance the goods offered by them are fully up to those sent out by the mail order house and will refund the money paid to any person who finds that such is not the case.

Another Cut in Price.

C. S. Simonson has decided to make special inducements on Saturday in order to call general attention to his line of coffees. As will be seen by his advertisement in another column, he offers a number of leading brands at what amounts to a cut of ten per cent. In these days of high prices an item of this kind is worth while paying attention to.

PHOSPHATE PROVES FERTILITY OF PEAT

Remarkable Results Obtained This Year at Golden Valley Experiment Station.

Again it has been proven that peat lands will under proper treatment, produce crops in abundance. It is now thoroughly established that what this class of soil needs is phosphate and that where this is applied there is no question of the result.

At Golden Valley this year the state has experimented with crops on the worst kind of bogs, the peat being in some instances four feet deep where the work has been carried on. Oats were planted on plots having received four different kinds of treatment, with the result that whereas the soil without any treatment whatever made a very unsatisfactory showing, manured ground produced a fair yield and a mixture of manure and phosphate showed a good average, the plot treated with phosphate alone yielded 75 bushels of high grade grain to the acre. The same proportionate result was noted in all other kinds of grain except flax. The phosphate treatment seemed to have no effect on this particular crop.

A number of experiments were this year made on high lands near Goodridge and these proved that the value of phosphate treatment is not confined to peat lands. It was found that whereas rust had to a greater or less degree invaded almost every wheat field, none was found in the stretches where phosphate had been applied.

The cost of applying this kind of fertilizer was found to be about two cents a pound. Where placed the heaviest it was about $8 per acre. As one treatment is effective for at least three years the average cost per acre as compared with the increased yield can very easily be figured out.

Congressman Halvor Steenerson was at Golden Valley on Saturday for the purpose of acquainting himself with the work being done there. He was very much surprised at the fine crops found growing on lands considered by many to be worthless and will keep close watch for anything new that may develop, particularly at Washington, to give further aid in the reclamation of this class of soil.

"The Million Dollar Doll."

"The Million Dollar Doll in Paris," Harvey D. Orr's big, new third edition of the "Doll" series, will be the offering at the auditorium Thursday, Sept. 23. It has proved one of the greatest successes in the season's musical offerings. The book by Gregory Adams, the lyrics and music were written by Louis Weslyn of New York City, who is the successful writer for such well known artists as Rock & Fulton, Lulu Glazer Marion Bent, Eva Tanguay and many others.

Mr. Orr in presenting this new version of the "Doll" series has given this attraction one of the most elaborate productions ever sent on a tour. The costumes, stage settings and light effect are beautiful and enchanting. The company is one of the largest and best on the road this season and is well worth the large patronage accorded it since the opening date.

FAMOUS STAGE STAR APPEARS HERE SOON

Beautiful Edna Goodrich, herself, the only star of nation-wide reputation to go on a transcontinental tour this season, will appear at the Auditorium, Thief River Falls, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 22. Although the day of the traveling star seems to have passed there still remains the desire to see a beautiful woman whose photograph appeal has been felt through the movies and in the present instance theatre-goers will have the opportunity to see an actress whose co-starring tours with Nat. C. Goodwin won her international fame and whose engagement in pictures with the Mutual endeared her to thousands who follow the photoplay. The management guarantees that Miss Goodrich will personally appear here and that the original production of "Sleeping Partners," which was used during the run of seven months in New York, will be seen in the local presentation. There are no "number two" companies of "Sleeping Partners." Miss Goodrich has bought the exclusive right for the United States and Canada and will cover the most important cities this season. After that she may leave it to another star.

"Sleeping Partners" is now a substantial success in Paris, London and New York. The translation into English is by Seymour Hicks, who is still playing in the London production. It had a record of seven months of success at the Bijou theatre, New York, and has never been seen in this country outside of that city and Chicago. It is said to be very French, somewhat risque, full of daring lines, which the translater has dared to retain in the American text. Yet it is never offensive and in all teaches a wholesome lesson that a girl of seventeen or eighteen can safely expound to her grandmother.

The car was somewhat smashed up, the fenders, windshield and top coming in for the most damage. It was brought to this city and tinkered up sufficiently at a local garage to make the trip to Warren under its own power the same evening.

BROWN COUNTY BOY BEST CORN GROWER

Frank Parr of Argyle Takes First Premium For Corn in Northern Section.

Clarence Schultz of Sleepy Eye, Brown county, was awarded first honors in the club boys' corn-growing contest at the state fair. Coming from the southern section or zone, consisting of Lincoln, Lyon, Redwood, Brown, Nicollet, Le Seur, Rice, Goodhue and all counties south, he won first prize for white dent, the sweepstakes for best samples of white dent and the grand sweepstakes for the best ten ears. Of other exhibitors of white dent in the southern section, Bennie McCarger of Nicollet was second; Marvin Schultz of Sleepy Eye, a brother of Clarence, third; Clyde McCormick of Garden City, fourth; and Otto Peterson of St. Peter, fifth. Of exhibitors of yellow dent in the southern section, Thomas Hosken, Jr., of North Redwood was first and he also carried off the sweepstakes for the best samples of yellow dent. Raymond Guentsel of Eagle Lake was second; Waldemar Floe of Blue Earth, third; Melvin Osted of St. Peter, fourth, and Charles Turrittin of Kasota, fifth.

Exhibitors of the white dent from the south central section who won positions were: First, Iver Barnall of Sacred Heart; second, Arnold Beckman of Cokato; third, Raymond Heckel of Motordale; fourth, John Ederer of Morton; fifth, Conrad Sigfriedson of Cokato. Yellow dent prize winners were: First, Ellsworth Anderson, Cokato; second, Melvin Peterson, Cokato; third, Carl Lauken, Hutchinson; fourth, Joe Kerchell, Hutchinson; fifth, Louis Reinmuth, Howard Lake.

Elmer Davis and Harold Egedusen, both of Cormorant, Becker county, were awarded first and second prizes for yellow dent corn grown in the north central section. Honors for any other varieties of corn in this section were taken by Louis Shepard of Detroit, first; Harold Cox of Swanville, second; Ralph Phillips of Detroit, third; Clarence Meilke, of Richville, fourth; and Ernest Wagnes of Richville, fifth.

Awards in the northern section were made for any variety of corn, as follows: First, Frank Parr, Argyle, Marshall county, who also won the sweepstakes for any other variety; second, Oscar Nordine, Lancaster, Kittson county. Cash premiums offered by the fair for this contest totaled $304. Nearly 100 entries were made.

Clarence Schultz, who won the highest honors, has been growing corn for the club boys' acre yield contest for several years and has won prizes before. Through the interest taken in this and other club work by him and his brother, Marvin, their father declares that conditions on his farm have been greatly improved, and that a new and enlarged outlook has come to all members of the family. Not content with having the best corn, the boys are moving for the best livestock.

RAISING MONEY FOR LIVESTOCK PAVILION

Drive to Raise Balance For Crookston Building to Be Resumed Next Month.

The May-June Campaign for the Red River Valley Live Stock Pavilion netted $11,950.00. Frequent showers seriously interfered with the drive so that it was not quite completed by the time the busy season of harvest arrived. The county quotas that remain to be secured are as follows: Polk, $5,000; Marshall, $2,250; Kittson, $150; Roseau, $750; Pennington, $750; Red Lake, $1,250; Norman, $1,100; Becker, $750; Clearwater, $750.

At a meeting of the association directors held on August 30 it was decided to resume the drive October 1—15. It is probable that some counties will complete their campaign before that time as plans have been made to do so.

In the June drive Polk county raised two-thirds of its quota of $15,000, Norman county one-half of its quota of $2,250; Kittson county two-thirds of its remaining quota of $500 and Mahnomen county two-thirds of its quota of $750.

Annex 2 is completed. On account of the shotage of cement, the floors in the basement of the pavilion in Annex 1 have not yet been laid. It is hoped that a sufficient supply of cement will be secured to do this work.

Additional space amounting to 6400 square feet will be provided by covering the alley space between the pavilion building and annexes 1 and 2. This will give 55,000 square feet of floor space for the 1921 Winter Show and Sales.

The remarkable growth of this organization has been made possible by the loyal financial support and work of over 1500 men and women who are share owners in the Red River Valley Live Stock association. The 1921 Shows and Sales will be bigger and better than ever.

This association has a place in the live stock development of the Valley. It still needs an extra lick or two of work before the present buildings are paid for. Quotas totalling $14,000 remain to be raised. Here is another instance of the desirability and value of team work. Last year an early snow storm drove the live stock army indoors. This year the drive must not drag along. The amount needed is not large. It should be secured in every county by October first.

POULTRY RAISING BUSINESS GAINING

College of Agriculture Lends Material Aid to Encourage Industry in State.

Increasing development in Minnesota of the business of growing standard bred poultry is shown in the figures of state aid paid each year to county poultry associations as premiums on exhibits at county fairs and other contests.

N. E. Chapman, of University Farm poultryman with the extension division of the college of agriculture, says that in 1916 the sums so paid to the counties by the state amounted to $6,888; in 1917 more associations had been organized and the amount paid to them was $7,991.43; in 1918 it was $11,756.96, and in 1919 it was $18,549.90. This shows a constant and steady growth in the business of poultry raising on Minnesota farms.

The sum of $23,116.56 is available for 1920 out of the state's appropriation and the amount carried over. Poultry associations in 75 counties received state aid with which to pay premiums last year. The maximum amount allowed a county is $400.

Educators to Meet.

The Northwestern Educational association will hold its next annual meeting at Warren on Oct. 21, 22 and 23, instead of in September as originally announced through error. A number of the most prominent educators in the state and nation will take part in the convention.

GIRL WINS STATE PIG CLUB CONTEST

A girl is state champion pig raiser among Minnesota boys and girls pig club members. Her name is Anna Truog, and her home is at Swanville, Morrison county. The state wide contest, which is promoted as a feature of general junior club work by the agricultural extension division of the University of Minnesota, culminated at the state fair when 118 boys and girls entered their pigs in the competition. Anna Truog exhibited a Poland China pig and her score card was marked 94.5, the awards being made on a basis of conformation of type, cost of gain, daily rate of gain, and an original story of, "How I Helped Uncle Sam by Growing a Pig." Of premium money of $200 offered by the state fair board, the girl prize winner gets $20 in cash and in addition wins a gold medal and a free trip to the International Livestock show at Chicago.

Leo Eaton, of Bertha, Todd county, with a Duroc pig, and Haysen Bulfer of Garden City, Blue Earth county, with a Poland China pig, tied for second place with a score of 94 points each. Other awards were: Third, Stanley Peterson of Madelia, Duroc, 93.2; fourth, Willet Stoskopf of Preston, Poland China, 93.1; fifth, Jay Seymour, of Eyota, Olmstad county, Chester White, 92.9; sixth, Clayton Benson, Worthington, Duroc, 92.7.

Archer Nelson of Brownton, McLeod county, exhibited the highest scoring pig, a Duroc, over all breeds, and won the right to a free trip to the boys' and girls' short course at University Farm, April next. The Durocs predominated in the state contest. There were 87 Durocs, 21 Poland Chinas, 8 Chester Whites, one Hampshire and one Berkshire. Various breeding associations offered premiums aggregating $350. The state fair board, in addition to giving premium money of $200 made an allowance of $625 for transportation and for feeding and caring for the pigs of the young club members.

(By Quinn-Shepherdson Co., Minneapolis.)

Grains without exception are displaying for the present an undercurrent of strength. Based on the theory of relative cheapness of corn and oats and on the fact of world's shortage of wheat and rye, sentiment for the most part has reversed its bearish attitude.

In plain words, there is a world's shortage of wheat approximating one hundred million bushels, based on reported current world import requirements and surpluses.

Europe this year has no choice in placing her purchases of wheat. She must come to North America. After reducing the spring wheat estimate twenty five million bushels, the government report this week gives the U. S. combined spring and winter wheat yield as seven hundred and seventy million. Our own requirements are estimated to be over six hundred million. We have already sold for export close to one hundred and fifty million. Our surplus this year is about forty million—less—than last year, and last year Europe imported six hundred and fifty million.

Car receipts to the primary markets are reported running about sixty per cent less than the corresponding time a year ago. In August, 1919, Minneapolis total receipts of wheat, corn, oats, barley, rye and flax were 20,469,960. In August, 1920, under very favorable harvesting conditions, the total receipts were 13, 632,324.

The significance of the lighter receipts is not in transportation failure. The fact is that the producer is not selling. His farms are now paid for, surplus earnings are invested, he can and is choosing his own time in marketing.

In the corn and oats situation there is no denying that the crops are bumper ones and must eventually reach the markets. With an oats crop of 1,442,000,000 and a Canadian yield 100,000,000 in excess of last year and a U. S. corn production well over 3,000,000,000 there is unquestionably a surplus in the country that must be an effectual bar to permanently higher prices.

There are many who believe, however, that corn and oats are cheap enough and relatively too cheap when terminal quotations reflect a figure to the producer less than $1.00 and 55c respectively for corn and oats. The quality of the new corn is undoubtedly adversely affected by the continued cold, wet weather. Grades under No. 3 and a large proportion of soft corn will likely result in the initial movement.

Present reported European import needs of small grains can and likely will be very much reduced under the pressure of ascending prices. There is an economic limit, and necessity may bring at least a partial reversion to the 1917 policy of rationing.

County Teachers to Hold Institute Here Sept. 20

To Pennington County Teachers:

After applying for a date for a teachers' institute, the week of September 20-24 has been selected by the state department of education, as Teachers' Institute Week for Pennington county.

This institute is held in compliance with the school laws, Sec. 1020 and for your information is quoted in full and reads as follows:

"The county superintendent may hold county institutes for teachers in different parts of the county not to exceed two days for each such institute in any one year; or he may hold one annual institute not to exceed five days, and require the attendence of all persons teaching in the county schools except those in high or graded schools at any of such institutes. Teachers who have been in regular attendance during the entire time of such institute designneds by the county superintendent shall receive from him a certificate of attendance which shall entitle such teacher to full pay for the time her school has been closed on account of attendance at such institute and the county commissioners shall allow bills for personal expenses for the county superintendent in holding institutes not to exceed the sum of fifty dollars in any one year."

By reference to this law you will notice that teachers will be allowed full pay for perfect attendance at this institute. As you all are aware, all teachers' applications for renewal of teachers' certificates has amongst its numerous questions, this question: "How many teachers' institutes have you attended? "By this question it is implied that your chances for renewal are better with the possession of several Institute Attendance Certificates then without them. This alone is one good reason why you should be present at this institute.

At the time of last year's institute, programs were sent out in advance of the institute. This year I have had no chance to confer with the instructors, Miss Coral Osborne and Miss Margaret Bierie. These instructors plan on having this attended to on Saturday, Sept. 18th, to be in readiness for the opening day, Monday morning, Sept. 20, at 9 a. m. We are in advance alloted one hour per day to take up the reports of the officers of last year's Teachers' Patriotic League, discussions of local problems confronting us as rural teachers and to ask any questions regarding our work as such.

The institute will be held at the Lincoln High School Gymnasium at Thief River Falls, Minn. The institute will open promptly at 9 a. m., Monday, Sept. 20th, continuing for five days and closing Friday at 4 p. m.

For your information and observance the following paragraph taken from the Departments' Announcement to me, is given below and reads as follows: "Plan to open the institute when all teachers are present and keep accurate record of attendance throughout. The teachers should feel a decided responsibility in the matter of attendance. Right habit and attitudes in the institute will go far toward getting right habits and attitudes in our schools."

With the hope of seeing every rural teacher in the county in attendance at the Pennington County Institute and that this institute of 1920 may do much for the progress of the rural school work in Pennington County, I am,

Very sincerely yours,
GEO. M. GUNDERSON,
County Superintendent of Schools.

Butterfat Flow Runs Into Many Millions of Dollars

The Minnesota dairy cow keeps on [illegible] the freight. Two hundred one [illegible]erative creameries in different [illegible]s of the state paid an average [illegible] of 63.3 cents a pound for butterfat brought in by dairymen during the month of June. The average pounds of butterfat received per creamery for the 30 days was 19,727, or a total of 3,965.127 pounds.

Only the 2001 of the 640 co-operative creameries in the state reported to A. J. McGuire, of the agricultural extension division, University Farm. Mr. McGuire is calling on buttermaking co-operators to work together "in a big way." They must make a more uniform grade of butter, he says, build up the weaker creameries, go out for more adequate laws promoting the manufacture of only good butter, and, last but not least they should develop the most efficient and profitable system of marketing.

Co-operative creamery men are reminded by Mr. McGuire that they can help to start this work by making monthly reports to him.

The Rising Tide

DURING the month of May, 1920 (latest figures obtainable), the gasoline production in the United States was 381,079,291 gallons, a daily average of 12,292,880 gallons, the highest on record. (Bureau of Mines.)

The rising tide of petroleum consumption may be taken as an indication of increased industrial activity and of the extension of power farming.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), serving eleven Middle Western states where both agricultural and industrial production are high, is bending every effort of its vast and experienced organization to produce sufficient gasoline to meet the rapidly rising demand.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) refineries are working intensively to obtain the maximum of gasoline from every gallon of crude oil. Not only are the methods in use by the Company the most modern known, but they are carried on with that maximum of economy attendant upon large-scale operations.

Has the Small Car Owner A Right to Good Tires

THIS much is certain—that the small car owners of this country have as high quality standards as any other class of motorists. Whenever you want to see this proven out, you have only to watch how they come to good tires, when they are given an opportunity to get at them.

What some dealers seem to overlook are the reasons which have led most of the small car owners to buy their cars.

In building tires for the small car, the United States Rubber Company exercises as much care, as much thought, as much supervision, as if they were intended to go on the most expensive cars in the country.

Devoting an entire factory to their manufacture. Putting the whole weight of its varied experience behind them.

SOCIALIST LEADER URGES GOOD ROADS

St. Paul and Minneapolis Labor Men Told Highway Facts By Ernest Strand.

Vote "yes" on Good Roads Amendment No. 1 to make automobiles and trucks pay to build and maintain highways or let the roads go to ruin any day heavier property taxes to make them merely passable—that was the alternative put up to St. Paul and Minneapolis socialists and labor leaders yesterday by Representative Ernest G. Strand of Two Harbors, a candidate for re-election on the Socialist ticket in Lake county.

The State Federation of Labor has indorsed Good Roads Amendment No. 1 but a radical minority in the Socialist party and in labor circles is attempting to stir up dissension over it. Representative Strand is in the city to see the State Fair, but particularly to warn against opposition to Amendment No. 1.

"Automobile traffic in Lake county and all along the north shore of Lake Superior, and including a large percentage of St. Paul and Minneapolis cars, has been so heavy this summer that our roads are worn out," said Representative Strand.

"We must adopt the good roads amendment and let the car owners help carry the burden of building and maintaining the roads. Otherwise they will be badly run down even before we can increase taxes to get the necessary road funds. I studied the amendment when it was before the legislature and have heard it discussed since, and I know that it deserves the support of every voter."

"Automobile and truck owners generally are satisfied that the saving on car upkeep, tires, gasoline, and so forth, possible on good roads, will amount to more than the increase in the license fee and they will gain in other ways. They are helping to get the facts about the good roads amendment before the people that it may receive the majority of all votes cast on November 2."

SHOULD EXCHANGE TEMPORARY BONDS

Federal Reserve Bank Advises Holders How to Collect Interest When Due.

The Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis has sent notice to local banks asking that holders of first, second and third liberty loan bonds held in Thief River Falls and vicinity be immediately presented and exchanged for permanent bonds. The letter from the Federal Reserve bank follows:

"We are advised by the Treasury department that there is a large number of temporary bonds of the First, Second and Third Liberty loans that have not yet been exchanged for permanent bonds, and which are still outstanding. The next semi-annual interest payment date on bonds of the First Liberty loan is December 15, 1920, the Second Liberty loan November 15, 1920, and the Third Liberty loan September 15, 1920. All coupons have now matured on temporary bonds of these issues and holders of such temporary bonds will not be able to collect the interest due on these dates, unless the temporary bonds have been exchanged for bonds in permanent form with coupons to maturity attached.

"The Treasury department has informed us that because of unavoidable delays in preparation of permanent bonds of the Fourth issue, sufficient stock will not be on hand by October 15, 1920, to enable them to commence deliveries on that date. As soon as the date for commencing such deliveries can be definitely determined, appropriate announcement will be made but it is improbable that this will be prior to January 1, 1921."

American Legion Notes

A party of Sioux Indians, all members of the Legion, greeted National Commander Franklin D'Olier on his arrival at Watertown, S. D., last week on the homeward swing of his tour of the United States. Many of the young warriors brought their fathers, blanketed and feathered braves of another day, to Watertown to meet "the Chief," as Mr. D'Olier is called out in those parts. At Livingston, Mont., the National Commander was initiated into Park Post No. 23 of the Legion which contains about 50 members who are employes of Yellowstone Park.

America's "bravest of the brave" have been invited to attend the national convention of the Legion which opens at Cleveland on Sept. 27 as the joint guests of the Legion and the city of Cleveland. These are the fifty-four living men who won the Congressional Medal of Honor for valor, the rarest military distinction in the world. Of the seventy-eight men awarded the Medal of Honor, twenty-four gave their lives in performing their feats which under conditions governing the award of the medal must be "over and beyond the call of duty."

Published reports that a part of the American Legion in Bronx county, New York, intended to "picket" meetings held by certain socialist candidates have been investigated by New York department headquarters and pronounced unfounded. "The American Legion," said Hugh W. Robertson, assistant to the department commander, "does not intend to impair its greatest asset, namely, goodwill and public confidence, through any reckless or overt acts. Any feeling Legion members as individuals may have toward the socialist speakers will be settled in orderly fashion at the polls on election day."

President Wilson, who is a member of the Legion, has written a letter of greeting to the organization which will be published in the official program of the National convention, which convenes at Cleveland on Sept. 27.

The Louisiana Department at its state convention at New Iberia endorsed the four-fold optional compensation bill sponsored by the Legion and which passed the House of Representatives last spring. It will be brought up in the senate on the reopening of congress.

At their recent convention, Legionnaries of the Department of Panama voted to interrogate the Governor of the Panama Canal regarding the promotion policy with respect to Canal employees who were furloughed to the military or naval service during the World War. If the Governor makes a ruling unfavorable to ex-service men, the secretary of war will be appealed to for relief, according to the convention's decision.

A Legion post at Downer, Ill., scored a victory over anti-cigarette reformers recently by a referendum in which the "smokes," sale of which had been prohibited, were restored to the shelves of Downer Grove stores by a majority vote of nearly two to one, and more women are said to have voted for the restoration than against it.

A committee of the William T. Fitzsimons Post of Kansas City, Mo., has completed a fund for the erection of a memorial tablet in honor of the medical corps lieutenant for whom the post was named and who was first American officer killed in the war.

A cable from Honolulu to the American Legion Weekly announced the sailing of the Hawaiian delegates to the national convention at Cleveland. The island members carry instructions to vote for the exclusion of Japanese from the United States, but to defend the right to citizenship of American born Japanese.

The County Court of McDowell county, W. Va., has purchased a $40,000 residence and grounds and given it to the public as a home for the American Legion post at Welch, W. Va. The donation was made under a statute recently passed by the West Virginia legislature, which provides that if twenty per cent of the voters of a county recommend the procedure, the County Court can make a five per cent levy on the taxable property of the county for a memorial building. Many West Virginia Legion posts are working on the proposition.

The sun never sets on the American Legion. Ex-service men in the island republic of San Domingo have formed Edward C. Fuller Post No. 1.

LARGE COLONY OF MENNONITES LIKELY TO SETTLE NEAR THIEF RIVER FALLS IN NEAR FUTURE

Group Comprises 20,000 People Who Plan to Emigrate From Canada Soon—Look With Favor Upon Lands in Northwestern Minnesota.

Mennonites Are Excellent Farmers and Have Lived in Manitoba Colony Since 1873—Canadian Authorities Interfere With Education.

A movement is under way by which it is hoped to induce 20,000 Mennonites now residing in colonies across the border in Manitoba to emigrate to this state. It is planned by Gov. Burnquist and the state immigration department to provide the Mennonites with a solid block of land some distance northeast of Thief River Falls upon which to establish the proposed new colony.

W. J. Brown of this city, personally representing the govenor and immigration department, has been at work upon the proposition for some time. He has visited the Mennonite colony in Canada and conferred with its heads, and also has interviewed the Canadian authorities on the subject.

Mennonites Favor Move.

While no definite decision has yet been made in the matter, it is understood the Mennonites are very favorably impressed with the offer made to them by the Minnesota authorities. A committee of three from the colony arrived in Thief River Falls the first of the week, attended the Goodridge fair, and from there proceeded north [illegible]nd east to make a thorough investi[illegible]tion of the district in which it is [illegible]oposed their people locate. Upon the report of this committee largely rests the decision of the colony as to whether or not it will adopt this section as its future home.

Means Rapid Development.

If this colony of 20,000 people can be persuaded to settle in the virgin region northeast of Thief River Falls it will mean a great deal in the development of this vast territory. Several townships will be required to accommodate the colony and these industrious workers will in a short time make a wonderful transformation of the section in which they settle.

It means the extension of the electric line in the near future as the Mennonite settlement would make it imperative that transportation facilities be provided without delay. It will prove the opening wedge in the complete settlement of an undeveloped empire.

A Peculiar People.

There are approximately 20,000 members in the Mennonite colony which has concluded to emigrate from Canada. The Mennonites are a religious denomination which arose in Switzerland in the 16th century. Their religious creed and beliefs are somewhat peculiar. They believe in nonresistance to violence and are religiously opposed to war or its support. They repudiate law-suits, oaths, civil office-holding, infants' baptism and bearing of arms.

After enduring much persecution and wandering about in various countries of Europe for many years, the Mennonites finally emigrated to Canada, where they settled in 1873 after having secured eight solid townships in southern Manitoba. They were granted certain immunities, among which were religious freedom and the right to educate their children according to their own ideas.

Canada Breaks Argeement.

The complaint these people have of their treatment in Canada is in respect to their schools, feeling that their religious freedom is interfered with. They claim that regardless of the agreement with the Canadian government, in which they were given the privilege of managing their own schools without molestation or restriction, teachers chosen by the civil authorities at Winnipeg are being placed in their schools. They fear this will lead to interference with their religious beliefs and have decided to seek a new home in which they may retain the religious freedom which they so highly prize.

The Canadian government takes the position that those who made the original agreement with the Mennonites did not have the authority to do so and therefore insists upon taking a hand in the education of Mennonite children.

Colonists Widely Sought.

Minnesota is not the only place which is offering inducements in the hope to secure the Mennonite colony. Quebec is offering great inducements to them but the Mennonites hesitate to accept the Quebec proposition for the reason that the same authority would pass on a violation of the Quebec agreement which passed upon the so-called violation of their Manitoba agreement. Mexico, Honduras, Paraguay and several other South American countries are offering inducements to the Mennonites. The Mennonites themselves, however, prefer to reside in the latitude and under conditions which are familiar to them, and are now chiefly interested in the movement into Minnesota.

Our Laws Satisfactory.

The school laws of Minnesota have been thoroughly explained to the Mennonites, and they have expressed themselves as willing to live up to these laws in every detail. The state immigration department has taken a great deal of interest in the matter and after a thorough investigation of the facts, the governor has extended an invitation to these people to settle in the state. The state officials consider it highly desirable that these people be brought to settle the vast expanse of vacant land in northern Minnesota.

Desirable Citizens.

The Mennonites are intelligent, well-read, and a peaceful, law-abiding class of people. Their outward appearance and demeanor does not differ from any other people. They are some of the finest farmers in the world, and farm the land thoroughly and well. The result is that today they are nearly all wealthy and well-to-do. Their religion forbids them to engage in other pursuits than that of farming. Their preachers and bishops and others high in their order are all farmers actually engaged in tilling the soil, and they serve their church without pay.

There are already large numbers of the Mennonites in Minnesota, and several colonies also are located in Iowa and South Dakota. Wherever known they are considered high class and desirable people. The total number in the United States at present is approximately 55,000.

WOMAN SPEAKER TO DISCUSS POLITICS

Mrs. C. A. Severance of St. Paul Will Expound Republican Doctrine Here.

An event of more than ordinary interest to Republicans in Thief River Falls and vicinity will take place at the Evelyn hotel tomorrow, Friday, when Mrs. C. A. Severance of St. Paul will be the speaker at a noon-day luncheon. Mrs. Severance is a speaker of national reputation and comes here to discuss national issues from the Republican viewpoint.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop, vice chairman of the state Republican women's organization, is responsible for Mrs. Severance's appearance here at this time. The local Women's Republican committee is naturally pleased to have the opportunity of entertaining the noted speaker, and its members are very anxious that a large number of people turn out to the luncheon tomorrow. Mrs. Severance will arrive in the city over the Great Northern from the south at 11:15 and will leave on the afternoon train over the same road.

Mrs. Severance is Republican National speaker and has organized all the Northwestern states for the National Republican committee. She is a writer as well as a speaker, having written "Guide to Citizenship," and "Guide For Women Voters." She is president of the Ramsey county Republican club, and besides her political activities is a very prominent club woman in the state; is chairman of the Ramsey County Child Welfare board; has collected the Indian legends of Minnesota; was chairman of the Ninth District Liberty Loan and vice chairman of the National Defense for the state. Mrs. Severance was chairman of the Division of the Red Cross and was decorated by the king of Belgium for her war work. She has recently returned from the battle fields of Europe, where she spent several months investigating conditions among war victims.

Those who expect to be present at the meeting should notify their ward chairmen without delay. These are Miss Marie Nelson, first ward; Mrs. L. H. Lawrence, second ward; Mrs. Andrew Bottelson, third ward, and Mrs. T. P. Anderson, fourth ward.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETS TOMORROW

The next regular meeting of Elmer J. Eklund Post, American Legion, will be held at the commercial club rooms on Friday evening, Sept. 24, at 8:30 p. m. Quartermaster Provencher announces that chow will be served at 10:30, and he promises a real feed for the service men.

The object of the meeting is the presentation of a number of important resolutions, together with a quantity of other business which has accumulated since the last meeting. Reports will be rendered by the dance committee of Aug. 20, and a complete report of the recent race meet will also be presented.

Notaries will be present at this meeting for the purpose of filling out applications for Victory medals. All those wishing to apply for medals will please bring their discharge papers. Monday, Sept. 27, has been named Medal Application Day. The local post has made arrangements with all four banks in the city and they have offered the services of notaries, who during that day will fill out applications for medals.

A number of local service men have already received their medals, and they are a very desirable memorial of the great war. All service men and next of kin of deceased service men are entitled to medals and may receive them upon application. Medals are issued in almost every instance within two or three weeks from the time application is made. An urgent invitation to secure medals is extended to all service men, whether they are members of the American Legion or not.

Small Blaze at Library.

The fire department was called to the library Tuesday morning to extinguish a blaze which resulted from embers rolling out of the fireplace and getting between the cement blocks in such a way as to ignite the joists below. A few blocks in the floor were torn up and the fire put out without serious damage.

FIFTY DOLLARS FOR FLASHING REVOLVER

Two Others Pay Ten Dollars and Costs For Being Drunk and Disorderly.

Too much Canadian hooch, Cologne water and other concoctions was the cause of three transients getting into the clutches of the law in Thief River Falls last Friday. As a result Chas. Thompson paid a $50 fine and left a perfectly good automatic revolver with the authorities, Andy White paid $10 and costs, while Ed. Slattery, the third member of the group, was up before the court twice and each time drew $10 and costs. All of the fines were paid and the prisoners released.

The three men, after they had imbibed sufficient hard liquor to make them reckless, proceeded to raise a rumpus in the southwestern part of the city. Thompson is said to have flashed the gun promiscously and threatened to shoot his companions and others who passed by. Chief of Police E. O. Erickson soon rounded them up and Saturday morning they were given a hearing before Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant, with the results above stated.

Slattery evidently ran afoul of another consignment of hooch for he was discovered Saturday evening in a badly pifflicated condition and lodged in the calaboose for the night. Sunday morning he paid another ten for his fun.

The three men were on their way to the lumber camps after having spent the harvest and threshing season in North Dakota. They had plenty of money and started out to have a good time. Being unable to judge the strength of the brand of liquor acquired here they carelessly took on an overload and got in bad.

CONNECT UP WITH ROAD FROM OKLEE

Commissioners Let Contract For Mile and Half to Line of Red Lake County.

A short but important link in the highway system from Thief River Falls southward was provided for last week when the commissioners contracted with Peter Lund of this city for the building of a mile and a half of highway in the town of Mayfield to connect with the excellent road now running from Oklee northward to the county line. The contract price was $5,000 and work is to begin on Saturday.

There has long been a demand for this piece of road in Thief River Falls as well as by the farmers along the line. It will make it possible for the people residing in the vicinity of Oklee to reach this city by a direct route and over an excellent highway. The road to the line in Red Lake county has long been in fine shape but a long detour was necessary after leaving its terminus.

The contract for grading the road between Hazel and St. Hilaire was also let. The work is to cost $12,000 and was awarded to Peterson & Noro of Newfolden. They will begin work on Oct. 1. The distance is four and a half miles.

Pastor to Be Installed at Grygla Next Sunday

Rev. S. T. Anderson, formerly of Katherine, N. D., will on Sunday be installed as pastor of the Lutheran church at Grygla. Rev. I. T. Aastad, the district president, is unable to be present and has requested Rev. T. E. Swenger of this city to officiate in his place. As there will be no services at the Lutheran church here because of the absence of the pastor, it is likely that a number of the parishioners will go to the neighboring village to witness the installation ceremony.

County Agent on the Job.

County Agent J. J. McCann is back on the job after nearly two weeks spent at the state fair and in visiting relatives in southern Wisconsin. Mr. McCann spent an entire week in the live stock and agricultural divisions of the fair, besides attending several important meetings of the farm bureau federation. He enjoyed the short respite from routine work and is back on the old job with renewed vigor.

J. A. O. PREUS, Republican Candidate for Governor.

STATE LEADERS OF REPUBLICANS TO SPEAK HERE

J. A. O. Preus and Louis L. Collins to Deliver Talks October 2.

First Big Political Rally of Present Campaign For Thief River Falls.

Prominence of Speakers and Importance of Issues Insures Record Crowd.

The first big political meeting of the present campaign insofar as Thief River Falls is concerned will be held at the auditorium on Saturday evening, Oct. 2, at 8 o'clock. J. A. O. Preus, Republican candidate for governor, and Louis L. Collins, candidate of the same party for lieutenant governor, are scheduled for speeches. Interest in the state and national campaigns is growing rapidly and this fact, together with the prominence of the speakers at the meeting next week, no doubt will bring out a record crowd.

First of Campaign.

The Thief River Falls meeting is one of the first this fall at which Mr. Preus and Mr. Collins are the speakers. From now on, however, the battle will be carried on in earnest and the candidates expect to be kept extremely busy until election time.

The seating capacity of the auditorium is 1,200 and this should provide sufficient room for the large number who plan on attending the meeting. Both Mr. Preus and Mr. Collins have numerous personal friends in Thief River Falls who will see to it that a large number of voters, both men and women, will be on hand to greet them upon their appearance here.

At Red Lake Fair.

Before coming to Thief River Falls Mr. Preus and Mr. Collins will deliver speeches at the Red Lake county fair, Red Lake Falls, during the afternoon. The candidates also expect to appear at several other points in this section of the state while on the tour.

This being the first campaign in which the women take a part it is urged that as many of the ladies as possible turn out to hear the political issues of the day discussed by two leaders of the Republican party. In previous campaigns the men folks have carried the brunt of the burden but this should be a thing of the past. In order for the newly franchised voters to cast an intelligent ballot it is necessary that they acquaint themselves with the political situation from every viewpoint.

FEDERATION FORMED BY LOCAL WORKERS

New Central Labor Union Comprises Membership of Six Organizations.

The Central Labor Union of Thief River Falls was formally inaugurated at a meeting held Monday evening. A large number of members of the various labor organizations in the city were present at the meeting and it was a very successful affair from every point of view.

Geo. W. Lawson, secretary of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor was present at the meeting. Mr. Lawson gave a very interesting talk, explaining in detail the development, aims and objects of organized labor. The speech was full of good common sense and every union man present went away with a better understanding of the situation. Chas. W. Cullen of Danbury, Conn., a member of the United Hatters of North America, also was present and favored the meeting with a brief speech. Mr. Cullen has been identified with the labor movement for many years and his remarks were highly interesting and instructive.

The new central union is composed of six local labor organizations and has a membership of approximately 300. The organizations comprising the central union are the retail clerks, railway clerks, carmen, carpenters, electricians and printers. It is likely the union will soon be augmented by the addition of two or three other local labor organizations which are now making preparations to enter.

The following officers were elected at the meeting Monday evening: President, O. J. Erickson; vice president, John Collins; recording secretary, M. A. Mattison; financial secretary and treasurer, Morris LaSalle. These officers, together with Alfred Adolphs, Albert Larson and Peter Kolden, were chosen as the executive board. Regular meetings of the new central labor union will be held on the third Monday of each month in the I. O. O. F. hall.

IMPLEMENT FIRM IN NEW QUARTERS

Rambeck & Stone Company Purchases Part of Prichard Building on Horace Avenue.

In order to meet the demands of its rapidly growing business the Rambeck & Stone company has found it necessary to secure larger quarters. A deal was consequently closed up this week whereby a part of the former Prichard implement building becomes its property and the concern will be ready for business there on Sept. 25.

The property acquired has a frontage on Horace avenue of 63 feet and is 80 feet in depth. The place was formerly used as a machine sales room and equipped for that particular purpose. It will provide a most satisfactory location for the business and permit of greater display as well as the carrying of a much larger stock.

The Rambeck & Stone company started in business last spring and has been very successful. The company is the sole representatives here of the Emerson-Brantingham line of farm machinery and implements and handles everything from tractors and separators to the smallest parts.

M'GARRY-SHERMAN SPEAK HERE SOON

Will Explain Babcock Amendment at Two Meetings in Pennington County.

The people of this neighborhood will have an opportunity to learn all about the Babcock good roads amendment next month. Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker, one of the most able and consistent good roads boosters in the state, will be one of the speakers, while Fred Sherman, formerly state immigration commissioner, will be the other. A meeting will be held in the auditorium, Thief River Falls, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 12, and another at Goodridge the following evening. These gentlemen are accompanied by Col. Sam Badger, civil war veteran and champion snare drummer of Minnesota, and William Patton, a regular army fifer. These will furnish music of the kind that "stirs 'em up." There will also be a moving picture film showing road building in actual progress under different conditions.

This will be the first opportunity our people have had of hearing advocates of the Babcock amendment explain its provisions and those who are opposed to the measure will be as much interested in what these men have to say as those who favor it.

It is expected that later in the season Senator Herman Schmechel of Renville county, a member of the Nonpartisan league, will be in Thief River Falls to speak in favor of the amendment.

School Superintendents Select Uniform Text Books

Superintendents of the different schools within the county met last Friday evening at the office of County Superintendent G. M. Gunderson for the purpose of selecting the text books to be used in the institutions under their control. Besides Mr. Gunderson there were present W. A. Ziegled of the Thief River Falls schools, Supt. B. O. Norby of Goodridge, and Supt. S. L. Johnson of St. Hilaire. It was decided that the schools would be best served by the employment of uniform text books and these will be ordered all at one time. The books to be used were selected at another meeting held at the same place last evening.

LOCAL GUERNSEY AT BIG CHICAGO SHOW

Ciff, F. B. Conklin's Prize Winning Cow, Entered in National Dairy Event.

F. B. Conklin's prize winning Guernsey cow, Ciff, started out last week on an extended trip. The first destination is the Blue Earth county fair at Mankato, where the animal will be placed on exhibition against some of the best Guernseys in the Northwest. From there Ciff will be shipped to Chicago to appear at the National Dairy show from Oct. 7 to 16.

Ciff is the cow which captured every first prize on the tour made this summer of the county and state fairs in this section. The high quality of the animal came to the attention of Leslie Wilson and W. A. McKerrow of the University farm school and they prevailed upon Mr. Conklin to enter the Guernsey at the Mankato and Chicago shows. These gentlemen are fully convinced that Ciff will measure up with the best of them at Chicago and admit they will be sadly disappointed if she does not return with her share of blue ribbons.

If Mr. Conklin's cow makes a good showing at the Chicago show it is very likely that more Pennington county cattle will be entered at future events. The marks made wherever these animals have been shown during the past season encourage the owners in the belief that they have a good chance of being recognized in the state and national shows. There was some talk of entering several Pennington county Guernseys at the state fair this year but the owners, due to the busy season, found it impractical to place them on exhibition.

Return From Vacation.

Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Newell returned last week from a vacation trip of six weeks. They spent the time traveling in their automobile and visited relatives and friends at many points in southern Minnesota and northern Iowa. Fine roads and ideal weather were the rule and the tourists enjoyed the outing to the utmost. D. K. Bryant had charge of the drug store during their absence.

LABREE NAMED ON STATE COMMITTEE

Will Look After Interests of Republicans Here During Present Campaign.

W. J. LaBree of this city has been named as member of the Republican state central committee from Pennington county. This appointment, while highly satisfactory in every way, comes as something of a surprise even to Mr. LaBree's most intimate friends as it was not known that he was even being considered.

The choice has fallen upon a man in every way worthy of the honor and one who will do everything in his power to insure success for the ticket in the coming election. He is popular, a good mixer and a staunch adhereat of the principles annuciated in the party platforms.

The new committee member expects to get actively into the campaign from now on, getting into personal touch with the voters as far as possible and allowing nothing to interpose that may in any way dampen their enthusiasm.

General satisfaction is expressed by leading Republicans over the selection. Mr. LaBree has kept out of factional differences and starts with a clean slate. He has the good will of everyone and the value of his work will be recognized when the results are noted.

Northwest Aggie Grads To Picnic Next Sunday

The graduates of the Northwest School of Agriculture who are residents of this neighborhood will hold a picnic at Valhalla hall in Rocksbury township next Sunday. The date for this event was originally set for last Sunday but unfavorable weather made a postponement necessary. All former students of the school are particularly invited to be present and urged to bring a picnic basket. C. E. Brown, one of the instructors in the school will deliver an address.

GOODRIDGE FAIR AGAIN SURPRISES VISITING CROWD

Display of Products That Would Be a Credit to Any Section in State.

Livestock Exhibit Failed to Correctly Represent Progress Lately Made.

The second annual exhibition of the Tri-County Fair association at Goodridge on Monday and Tuesday was an unqualified success from every point of view. The products were even finer than a year ago and the attendance much better. Not only did the people residing in the neighborhood of Goodridge turn out to the last person, but other sections were well represented. On Tuesday a special trip was run over the Minnesota Northwestern and the car was filled to capacity with people from Thief River Falls who were anxious to pay a visit to their hustling neighbors.

One feature failed to make as good a showing as last year. This was the livestock division and the neglect is greatly to be regretted as in no department has the region made more decided strides. The management is unable to account for the lack of interest in this important matter and will give special attention to it before another fair is held.

Good Speakers Present.

The speaking program was perhaps the best and most interesting of any at a fair in this section. On Monday Ex-Senator D. P. O'Neill of this district and Senator Gustav Schmeckel of Renville county were the speakers. Mr. O'Neill made an address at the dedication of a new flag pole on the village square that was an inspiration to those who heard it. He was at his best and the large audience responded to his mood in a highly gratifying manner. Senator Schmeckel spoke on the Babcock Good Roads amendment and succeeded in proving to the entire satisfaction of a large number of those present that it is the one thing that will solve the road problem of the farmer. There is no ques-

ARE INTERESTED IN DAILY PAPER HERE

Times Readers Express Views on Subject—Majority So Far Favorable.

One of the principal topics of conversation during the past week, particularly in Thief River Falls, has been the article appearing in The Times last week announcing that a daily paper would be started if the public indicated a demand sufficient to make its success probable. The matter has hardly progressed far anough to warrant the forming of an opinion, as will be seen by the following account of what has been done to date.

On Tuesday 2500 reply postal cards were sent out from The Times office, these going to present subscribers of the paper in Thief River Falls and on the rural routes. It was the aim to secure the opinion of those residing in the immediate neighborhood first, as these would naturally be the most interested. Up to noon today 416 replies had been received, the vote standing as follows: For a daily paper, 266; against, 150.

This is a very small percentage of the answers expected and can hardly be taken as showing what the final result will be. By next week something more definite will have developed. One thing is certain: Unless the reading public and business men give unmistakable evidence of wanting a daily, none will be started.

It is interesting to note the different viewpoints expressed on this subject. Even in the city the demand for a daily paper is by no means unanimous. On some of the cards expression such as "Just what the town needs;" "Would prove an excellent thing," "Will give it all the support in my power," and similar indications of approval are found. On others the opinion voiced is just as decided the other way. One banker writes: "We have now the BEST weekly in the state; let's not have the poorest daily."

The Times publishers are simply interested in finding out the sentiment of the public. Starting a daily paper in times like the present is not to be thought of unless there is a well defined demand for it. For this reason it is hoped that all who received the postal cards will indicate their views on the return section of the card. It only takes a signature and the postage is already paid.

In the new photogravuer section of the Minneapolis Tribune last Sunday appeared an illustration showing the Minnesota delegation at the home of Senator Harding at Marion. Standing next to Louis Collins, candidate for lieutenant governor and head of the delegation, is noted M. W. Halloran, brother-in-law of R. H. Ross of this city, who visited here for a week early in August.

NEW HARDING-PREUS CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Local Body Formed This Week to Spread Republican Campaign Gospel

A meeting attended by a considerable number of local Republicans was held at the Brumund hotel Monday evening. The meeting was called for the purpose of organizing a Harding-Preus club and such a club was duly launched. G. Howard Smith, recently chosen organizer for this section of the state, called the meeting to order and briefly explained its purpose.

A permanent organization was formed and the new Harding-Preus club manned with a full set of officers. These are L. H. Lawrence, president; Oscar Smith, first vice-president; H. F. Booren, second vice-president; W. H. Akre, treasurer; Geo. W. Werstlein, secretary. The following executive committee also was chosen: First ward, R. B. McWilliams; second ward, W. H. Akre; third ward, Harry Roberts; fourth ward, S. C. Coumbe; at large, Harold Provencher and H. W. Protzeller.

It is the intention of the new organization to open club rooms and R. M. Sheldon offered free use of the rooms below the First and Peoples' State bank. Committees were appointed to arrange for furniture and care of these rooms.

Regular meetings every Tuesday evening are planned until after election and a definite program will be mapped out to spread Republican gospel among the voters. Former Senator D. F. O'Neill was present at the meeting Monday evening and favored the assemblage with one of his characteristically entertaining talks. He has been a war horse in the Republican ranks for many years and is not yet through by any means.

ANNUAL MEETING OF FAIR STOCKHOLDERS

Most Successful Year in History of Agricultural Society to Be Reviewed.

The Pennington County Agricultural society will hold its annual meeting at the commercial club rooms on Saturday evening, Sept. 25. This is the most important meeting of the year and it is expected that a large number of stockholders and other interested people will be present.

Election of officers for the ensuing year will take place at this meeting, and the secretary's annual report will be rendered. The past year has been a very successful one from every standpoint and the secretary's report no doubt will contain some pleasing information for the stockholders of the association.

A general plan of operation for next year will come up for consideration at the meeting Saturday evening. New buildings and many other improvements at the fair grounds no doubt are badly needed and the question of providing these things will be thoroughly gone into at Saturday evening's meeting. The Pennington County Agricultural society has reason to feel proud of its accomplishment during the past year, and starts out with excellent prospects for another banner season. The recent county fair was the most successful ever held in this section of the state and plans are already under way for a bigger and better fair for 1921.

LOWER FORD PRICES EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

Establishment of pre-war prices on all products of the Ford Motor company effective immediately was announced on Tuesday by Henry Ford. The price reductions range from approximately 14 per cent on motor trucks to 31 per cent on small automobiles. In announcing the decision of the company Mr. Ford in a formal statement said:

"Now is the time to call a halt on war methods, war prices, war profiteering and war greeds. It may be necessary for everybody to stand a little sacrifice but it will be most profitable after all because the sooner we get the business of the country back to pre-war conditions progress, prosperity and contentment will occupy the attention of the people. For the best interests of all time a real practical effort must be made to bring the business of the country and the life of the country down to normal. Inflated prices always retard progress."

The announcement said the price reductions would be made despite unfilled orders for 146,066 vehicles. There will be no reduction in wages at any of the Ford plants, it was announced.

EDUCATORS TO MEET IN BIG CONVENTION

Teachers and School Men of Northwestern Minnesota to Meet at Warren.

The annual meeting of the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association will be held at Warren, Oct. 21, 22 and 23. Warren was selected as the meeting place at a recent meeting of the executive committee of the association.

Educational men and women from over the north western section of Minnesota will be present at the gathering. Several good speakers have been arranged for and a number of sectional and rural round table sessions are planned.

A hearty reception to the visitors is planned by Warren. During the meeting officers for the coming year will be elected. Present officers are: President, N. A. Thorson, Crookston; vice-president, H. L. Bleecher, Stephen; secretary-treasurer, W. A. Ziegler, Thief River Falls. These with G. Holmquist, Warren; M. C. Hayes, East Grand Forks and I. S. Hoy of McIntosh comprise the executive committee.

One of the more important matters up for consideration at this convention is the determination whether or not this association will affiliate with the Minnesota Educational association.

CROOKSTON LAD IN CLUTCHES OF LAW

Sheriff W. J. LaBree, carrying a warrant issued by the authorities at Crookston, on Tuesday drove to Espelin postoffice, 13 miles northeast of Grygla, and brought back with him Oscar Evans, wanted at Crookston for abduction. The girl in the case, minor daughter of a prominent Crookston business man, was with Evans when the sheriff arrived and also accompanied the officer on the return trip. Upon their arrival here they were met by Sheriff Bolstad of Polk county, who took them in charge and left immediately for Crookston.

Evans and the girl are both minors but decided to get married in spite of parents' protests. They left Crookston last Thursday and proceeded to Middle River, where they were married by a clergyman after the young man had made a trip to Warren and secured the necessary license. From Middle River they went to Espelin, near which place the young man's father resides on a claim.

The young folks had decided to get married and didn't propose to let a little thing like parental objection stand in the way. In order to get the license it was necessary for Evans to perjure himself when giving their ages but even this didn't prove a serious obstacle. Evans will likely find before he is through, however, that he was a trifle indiscreet in his haste to marry the lady of his choice.

Malafa Improving.

John Malafa, who last week stepped through the top of a threshing machine near Park River, N. D., and suffered injuries which made it necessary to amputate one of his legs above the knee, is reported to be making a satisfactory recovery. Present indications are that he will be allowed to leave the hospital in about two weeks.

Thief River Falls Fire Chief Back From College

Paul Midderigh, chief of the Thief River Falls Fire department, returned the first of the week from St. Paul, where he had been in attendance for several days at the firemen's college conducted under the supervision of the state fire marshal.

These colleges are conducted annually for the purpose of acquainting fire fighters of the state with the latest methods of combating flames, and also to test out new apparatus and appliances. Mr. Midderigh says the attendance at the college was not as large as its importance warranted but that much good should result. The only criticism the fire chief from Thief River Falls has to offer is that nearly all of the time was taken up in showing how to fight fires in skyscrapers of large cities, and these wrinkles naturally do not apply in the smaller cities of the state.

Plummer Will Hold Fourth Annual Market Day Friday

The business men of Plummer are announcing that the fourth annual market day and auction sale will be held in their village on Friday, Sept. 24. The premium list contains a goodly number of valuable prizes that will be paid by the several business firms of that village. A free auction in connection with the day will be held from 10:30 a. m., to 12:30 p. m., and a program of sports and dance in the evening are also announced.

CHEAPER GROCERIES AWAY BACK IN 1910

Strong evidence of the rapid rise in the cost of living was furnished this week when a business man at Clearbrook, in looking over some old papers, discovered a sales slip made out by a Clearbrook store in 1910. The slip was handed to Ferdie Brown, traveling salesman for the Thief River Grocery company, who in turn submitted the interesting relic to The Times.

Although the slip does not contain a larger number of items, enough are given to demonstrate that people at the present time are up against something entirely different when it comes to buying necessaries than were those who bought groceries ten years ago; every item on the bill has risen from one to three hundred per cent during the past decade, the price of sugar showing the greatest difference.

Here are the items as enumerated and charged on the slip above referred to: 100 lbs. granulated sugar, $5; 50 lb. keg 3-H Norway herring, $2.50; 50 lbs. [illegible], $6.13; 50 lbs. 70-80 prunes, $5.25; 80 lbs. silver leaf lard, $8.60; 1 bushel beans, $2.50, and one ordinary grain sack, 25 cents.

The same articles purchased at retail today would cost more than three times as much money anywhere in the state, according to Mr. Brown, who points out that the figures given above are not in any sense sale prices but regular retail prices which prevailed all over the country ten years ago.

ASK FEDERAL AID TO PAY TEACHERS

Shortage of Instructors Creating Serious Situation in Rural Districts.

The teacher shortage remains a menace to the public schools according to preliminary reports made public by the National Education association. Replies to questionnaries sent out by the association have come from all sections of the United States. These reports show that in places where teachers' salaries have been increased one hundred per cent or more the situation is nearly always satisfactory. But such places are comparatively few, and in localities where salaries have been increased fifty per cent or less the teacher shortage is commonly greater than a year ago. Rural communities are hardest hit. Signed reports from superintendents of many counties indicate that a third of their rural schools cannot open for want of teachers. Tens of thousands of schools will be in charge of teachers who have had no professional preparation and whose academic training barely exceeds that of the children they teach.

Relief from this serious situation, which imperils the stability of American rural life, will be sought from the next session of congress. Renewed efforts will be made to obtain the passage of the Smith-Towner bill, which creates a department of education with a secretary in the President's cabinet and provides federal aid of $100,000,000 for education.

NORTHWEST SCHOOL PLANS GREAT MEET

Dedication of Memorial and Opening of New Road Set For October 5.

The dedication of the Northwest School Soldiers and Sailors Memorial, opening and dedication of new $125,000 dining hall, and opening of the first piece of hard surfaced country road in northwestern Minnesota on Tuesday, Oct. 5 promises to make that day one of the most eventful in the history of the school, particularly if the weather man is kind and provides weather that will permit of automobiling.

The alumni of the school have raised the entire funds for the erection of the memorial among themselves as a token of appreciation to those of their fellow attendants at the school who answered the country's call in the great war, and particularly to those whose fortune it was to go to the great beyond in the performance of their service. Appropriate services will mark the unveiling and dedication.

The new dining hall will add the facilities to the institution that will enable it to enroll a material number more of students and thus serve the Red River valley to fuller extent. It has to the present been necessary to make use of the lower floor of one of the dormitories for dining room purposes. An increase in attendance from 31 the year of opening of the school to 299 in 1920 clearly indicates the measure in which the school is extending its service and the need of the additional facilities.

The opening of the new roadway, now named University Road and extending from the school to the city limits of Crookston will be made the occasion for commemorating the advancement of the good road movement in Minnesota. On this roadway each county of the territory the school normally serves will have a section assigned to it for the occasion and arrangements are already under way by committees in the majority of the counties for displays that will portray some of the outstanding claims of the respective counties. A monster motor parade is being arranged which will pass over this road on its way to the school. Positions on the roadway have been given the various counties by lot drawings; so that the parade will, in effect, pass through one county after another on its triumphant way to the Northwest School.

Elks Make Preparations For Big Meeting Oct. 15

The meeting held by the local lodge of Elks last Friday evening was largely attended. One candidate was initiated into the mysteries of the order. It was determined that in addition to the regular meeting of Oct. 15 a special meeting will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 8, for the purpose of permitting the introduction of applications for membership so as to accommodate the applicants in the big class which will be initiated on the evening of Oct. 15.

Elaborate plans are being made by the refreshment, entertainment and initiation committees to make the meeting of Oct. 15 a great success. It will be a hummer and all Elks should make plans to be there.

Local Agricultural School Qualifies For Federal Aid

B. M. Gile, state director of agricultural vocational education, visited the Thief River Falls schools last Friday. Mr. Gile came for the purpose of finding out whether the schools at this place are operating in conformity with the federal law, and to determine whether they can qualify for federal aid. He went into a thorough examination and expressed himself as being highly pleased with the work as carried on here. He stated there was no doubt but what federal aid would be forthcoming as every requirement is fulfilled here.

The federal apportionment for this city amounts to $1,588 for this year, which comes as a very timely aid to the school government. F. A. Tripp, agricultural instructor, was highly complimented by Mr. Gile for the efficient way in which this department is conducted, who stated that it was the equal of any in the state and superior to many.

Important Decision Given in Big Forest Fire Cases

The judges of district court sitting en blanc this week, handed down a decision in favor of the plaintiffs in the famous Cloquet fire cases against United States Railway Director General W. D. Hines, as war time manager of the Great Northern railway. The decision gives damages to 278 plaintiffs and involves in round numbers $3,000,000 resulting from the forest fires of October 12, 1918. The decision is looked upon as of still greater importance because it fixes the liability and origin of the fires in the Cloquet district and will have a direct bearing on other suits which involve about $10,000,000.

LET US Reason Together

The increase in railway freight rates and passenger fares could not have been delayed with safety. If the railroads of the country are not prosperous, general industry will suffer. If they are conducted in a profitable way, and expand and grow, the entire nation will benefit. Higher rates, affording greater revenues will enable the roads to increase their facilities and therefore in the immediate future it will work actually to reduce the cost of living.

Good and adequate transportation will serve the people of the people of the country at large in DOLLARS, where a freight rate increase is measured in CENTS.

One of the surest ways to stop profiteering is to restore natural competition. This can only be brought about by good transportation which will afford a proper distribution of raw materials as well as the finished products.

Every citizen is vitally interested in this subject; whether he be shipper, traveler, employee, or part owner of any railroad. This improved service, however, cannot be had as if by magic. It will require time to secure engines and more cars, and to construct additional and enlarged facilities. Much hard work confronts the railroad managers before the transportation machine can be put into complete repair so that it can meet the demand placed upon it by our ever-growing industries.

Every effort is being made to expediate the bringing about of service which will meet and satisfy all the requirements of our patrons, and we ask only for that spirit of fairness and forbearance which is characterized of the American people.

We welcome SUGGESTIONS and give prompt attention to all COMPLAINTS because we know that co-operation and friendly help are obtained only where there is a basis of mutual understanding. We are ready at any time to meet our patrons MORE than HALF WAY.

Exclusive Agencies Usually Charge More

Do you want to pay more for roofing simply because your dealer has an exclusive agency on it?

Certainly not.

But that is the usual result of the exclusive agency policy.

The dealer has no local competition on his brand and can take all the profit he can get. He usually has to send a long distance for supplies and so carries a large, expensive stock.

Certain-teed does not believe that such practices are fair to you. So Certain-teed sells to any reliable dealer.

With what result? Each dealer gets only a reasonable profit from each sale, but his total return is larger because of increased sales, quicker turn-over, and lower operating cost.

Certain-teed Is Highest Quality

But that isn't all. When you buy Certain-teed Roofing you get roofing that gives real protection. It is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof.

Certain-teed Roofing gives long service. It is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight. And Certain-teed has never been known to wear out on the roof.

Certain-teed is highest quality roofing and you can get it at a fair price.

Any responsible dealer can get it for you quickly from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or jobber. He gets it when he wants it and he gets what he wants. He can afford to sell you at a fair price.

After Thorough Trial a Detroit, Mich., Man Endorses Pe-ru-na

The following letter written from Detroit, Michigan is no snap judgment expressed on the merits of Pe-ru-na, the well-known catarrh remedy, but rather a mature, sober opinion formed after a full year's trial.

This is the way Mr. Michael Fako of 906 East Palmer Avenue, in the Michigan Metropolis, writes: "After using PE-RU-NA for about one year will say I have found it a very good medicine for catarrh. It has helped me a great deal and I am very well satisfied. I have gained in weight, eat and sleep well, my bowels are regular and better color in my face.

"PE-RU-NA has done wonders and to me is worth its weight in gold. I shall continue to use PE-RU-NA as long as I live and recommend to my friends who are troubled with catarrh."

Nothing can be more convincing than an endorsement of this nature from an actual user. There are many people in every community whose experience, in using Pe-ru-na, has been identical with Mr. Fako's. It is the standby for coughs, colds, catarrh, stomach and bowel disorders and all catarrhal conditions.

Confidence

Have you ever stopped to think what a wonderfully large part confidence plays in our daily intercourse with one another? It is the thing for which the business man strives above everything else. It matters not how large his stock, how low his prices or how satisfactory the service at his store, if the public has not confidence in his word and in the goods he sells all his attempts to establish himself in their favor are doomed to failure.

Confidence is what we have tried for unremittingly every minute we have been in business in Thief River Falls. We want people to understand that when we make a statement it can be relied on absolutely. We want them to know that when we say they must be satisfied with our goods and prices or we will return their money without question we mean just what we say.

It has taken years of effort and a large sum of money to secure this confidence. Could we now do anything to lessen this feeling of good will? Could we afford, even though the transaction would mean a temporary profit to us, to do something that would in the slightest degree detract from the reputation we have so laboriously built up? It stands to reason that we could not.

The public is in a certain sense our business partner. Whenever in our trips to the large marketing centers we find an article that looks like a good bargain the thought that enters our mind is: Here is something that our people will want when they see the price at which it can be secured. The profit its sale will bring is a secondary consideration with us, as it must be with any merchant who values his standing.

Does any such consideration enter into your transactions with a mail order house? Their moto is: Get the money. They have nothing in common with you. Your disappointment is nothing to them. You never meet these men personally in the ordinary walks of life. You may howl your head off and they would not be in the least affected. With your home merchant it is different. The manner in which you receive the goods bought from his store is of vital importance to him. He cannot afford to have you dissatisfied. He must keep his prices down in competition with every other merchant or the fact that he is not so doing will soon be known all over his trading territory.

Does it not seem reasonable to you that he will do everything in his power to keep your good will and consequently your business?

When we say that in the ordinary year's business we will undersell the mail order houses it means that we must do it or forfeit a part of the confidence the public has in our statements. We dare not take the chance. The confidence of the public is what has made this store the principal trading point for goods in its line in this section of the country. The confidence of the public is our most valuable asset—more important than banking credit and more indispensible than anything else connected with our business.

Does anyone think we would jeopardize this confidence by making promises we will not or cannot carry out? It would be business suicide to do so.

You are justified in believing implicitly every statement we make. When we say that you are losing money by sending to mail order houses for your supplies we can prove it if you will allow us to do so. We cannot do more than this.

tion but that he made a large number of converts in a section that has heretofore viewed this piece of proposed legislation with considerable hostility. On Tuesday Mr. O'Neill delivered an address on the same subject, touching upon certain matters in connection with the proposed bill that Senator Schmeckel had overlooked.

Best Region on Earth.

J. H. Hay, assistant commissioner of agriculture of the state of Minnesota was the principal speaker on Tuesday. A recent trip through the cut-over regions to the east had convinced him, he said, that the Pennington county farmer was most fortunately situated. Neither rocks nor stumps barred his progress and the land was ready to produce abundantly almost at a touch of his hand. Drainage, he admitted, was something of a problem but the farmer in Eastern Pennington, western Beltrami or western Marshall counties who believes that he has all of the troubles there are would quickly be convinced that such is not the case if he were to follow the speaker around for a short time. Others have many disappointments to contend with and when these are all compared it was the belief of Mr. Hay that the people here will be found particularly well favored.

Stick to livestock, said Mr. Hay. Seek the aid of your county agent and the advice of those who have made a success of their farming. You have the best country on earth to begin with and it will repay intelligent treatment a thousand fold.

Mr. Hay devoted considerable time to explaining the work of the department with which he is connected. He told of the success of the cooperative potato marketing movement and stated that a similar agency will soon be in effect for the marketing of the farmers' grain. He did not believe in the state owning elevators and having control of distribution, but was very emphatically in favor of the farmer being given something to say as to the handling of the products he has raised after these leave his hands. This can be brought about by marketing associations organized under laws now in preparation and which will be introduced at the next session of the legislature, he said.

Dairyman a Speaker.

L. Jensen of Clearbrook, one of the best known dairymen in that section and a candidate for the legislature in this district, spoke briefly on the subject in which he is most interested. Dairying, he said, would prove the salvation of any region in this section of the country. It is the one certain winner where followed with intelligence and with a view to constant improvement. Mr. Jensen made a very favorable impression.

The Livestock Division.

The entries of livestock were few but of high quality. James Crosby of Goodridge showed a purebred Shorthorn bull and cow that brought forth admiring comment from all visitors. Fred Cuno of Grygla exhibited a Holstein bull for which he recently paid $1000 and which took fourth prize at the state fair. He also had two cows for which he paid $1200 each among the entries.

The Guernsey display of Stuart McLeod, consistinig of two cows, two two-year-olds, a yearling and a calf, was one of the best in the building. F. B. Robinson was also an important exhibitor in this class, showing a purebred bull and heifer. John Kusmack exhibited a fine grade bull and cow.

The boys' and girls' club exhibits were particularly good, Gorman Thompson took first prize with the calf which received third place at the county fair. Henry Lien, Ethel and Dan Vaughan, Anna Aakre, Henry Fairhagen and Henry McDonald were also exhibitors in the boys' and girls' division, showing calves, sheep and pigs.

Grain and Vegetable Division.

The corn exhibit was without question the finest ever seen in this section. Every variety grown with any degree of success in Minnesota was represented and the quality of the ears and size of stalks furnished another proof that corn can be successfully produced in Pennington county.

Of the fodder crops alfalfa and clover were in the lead, although there were bundles of timothy over three feet in length.

Grains were also good, the oats showing perhaps to best advantage. Different varieties of wheat were shown, as well as barley and rye of different varieties.

Much interest was indicated in the potato exhibit, which was without question the best ever seen in the county. There were a number of varieties, the Burbanks and Early Ohio being the leaders.

Fine School Exhibit.

The school exhibit would have been creditable for a town four times the size of Goodridge. The map work and drawing were exceptionally fine as were also the penmanship samples. The thrift exhibits consisted of garments made over from worn articles of clothing and proved a most interesting part of the display as did the work done by girls from 15 to 19 years of age attending the rural schools in the neighborhood.

The judging in this department was done by seven Thief River Falls ladies, as follows: Schools, Mrs. H. W. Froehlich and Mrs. Daniel Shaw; fancy work, Mrs. J. Q. Cronkhite, Mrs. H. O. Loken and Mrs. G. L. Biddick; cooking and canning, Mrs. E. M. Schutt and Mrs. G. A. Penney. County Superintendent Geo. M. Gunderson was the judge in the school department, and Prof. Smith of the Northwest agricultural college, judged the vegetables.

The officers of the fair association, to whose efforts the success of the venture is largely due are: Stuart McLeod, president; Morgan Vaughan, vice president; B. O. Norby, secretary; Nick Bundhund, treasurer.

Butter and Eggs via Motor Express

IN addition to over a million farmer-owned automobiles, 18,000 farmer-owned trucks, and approximately 100,000 farm tractors, there are 519 motorized Express Companies doing business in the states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and this number is growing day by day.

Automotive Industries for 1920 declares "Trucks are operating on railroad schedules, and have proved more dependable, on a time basis, than the steam roads have ever been. Their use to replace the freight car for certain classes of freight has proved a marked success."

The Smithsonian Institute, United States National Museum Bulletin 102, says, "In respect to prompt delivery of farm produce, whether to railways or directly to towns, the motor truck has an exceptionally useful opportunity."

It is these motor trucks, tractors and farmer-owned automobiles that are largely increasing gasoline consumption, particularly in the Middle West.

During the first four months of 1920, the production of gasoline increased 13½%, while during the same period, domestic consumption of gasoline increased 38⅓%. This excess of consumption over production has been a potent factor in the advance of gasoline prices, but the dominant underlying reason has been the increase in the cost of crude oil.

The service rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) lies in manufacturing and distributing to the tractor, the truck, and the automobile a dependable supply of gasoline and lubricating oils; and selling them at a fair price. The latest refinery methods are producing a continually increasing percentage of gasoline from each barrel of crude oil. While large-scale production and distribution assure maximum economy in this industry, the savings effected by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are utilized to hold down gasoline prices despite the rising tide of demand for petroleum products.

September Reduction on Prices of Ford Products

The War Is Over and War Prices Must Go

Effective at once, Ford Cars, Trucks and Tractors will be sold F. O. B. Detroit at the following prices:

Touring Car, regular	$440
Touring Car, with starter	$510
Runabout, regular	$395
Runabout, with starter	$465
Chassis	$350
Coupe, with starter and demountable rims	$745
Sedan, with starter and demountable rims	$795
Truck with pneumatic tires	$545
Fordson Tractor	$790

All prices F. O. B. Detroit

The Ford Motor Company makes this reduction in the face of the fact that they have on hand immediate orders for one hundred forty-six thousand sixty-five cars and tractors. The company will suffer a temporary loss while using up the material bought at high prices. They are willing to make the sacrifice in order to bring business back to a growing condition as quickly as possible and maintain the momentum of the buying power of the country. Henry Ford says that the war is over and it is time war prices were over. There is no sense or wisdom in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values. For the best interest of all it is time a real practical effort was made to bring the business and life of the country down to regular pre-war standard and quotations. We are at your command with regular Ford efficiency and service and eagerness to fill your orders.

UNDERSTAND IT BETTER.

Two excellent addresses on the Babcock good roads amendment have been delivered in Pennington county during the past week—one by Senator Gustave Schmeckel and the other by D. P. O'Neill. The latter is holding a responsible position under the present state administration while Senator Schmeckel is a member of the Nonpartisan league. These two have ordinarily widely divergent opinions as to what is best for the people of Minnesota, but on this topic they are agreed.

Senator Schmeckel is a farmer first and foremost and discussed the questions from a farmer's standpoint. His arguments were so sound and convincing that he made numerous converts to his way of thinking among those who were inclined to look askance at the good roads proposition. He delivered an avalanche of telling blows for the cause and those who heard him went away with a fuller knowledge of what Amendment No. 1 will mean if adopted.

Mr. O'Neill was among his neighbors and friends and spoke as one of them. He particularly impressed upon their minds that this talk of cement paving for the entire state at one time is foolish and the idea impracticable. He did say, however, that every road selected as a Babcock highway would be put in such shape that when the time came for paving everything would be in readiness.

It is hard to understand how any citizen of Minnesota—and particularly any farmer—can find it possible to oppose this amendment. It will forever solve his road problem, and this is one of the most vexing with which he has had to contend. The state needs nothing so much as good roads and this amendment provides the machinery for getting them.

And that is all it does. There is nothing stipulated as to what kind of pavement is to be used; nothing to indicate that cement was even thought of. Cement may be the material employed but this will be decided by some future legislature. Circumstances will have to guide the men who finally act on this particular part of the program.

All that Amendment No. 1 does is name the roads to be included in the system and provide the means for raising the money necessary to carry on the work. Details will come later and there will be much left to be said on this subject when the proper time arrives. But if you want to help lift Minnesota out of the mud, vote for the amendment.

THE GOODRIDGE FAIR.

The Tri-County Fair association's second annual exhibit at Goodridge was all that could have been expected. The only criticism to be found with the entire show was the small number of cattle entries. This department failed to give the correct impression of the importance to which cattle raising has attained in the section represented by the fair. For this failure the stock raisers are themselves solely to blame.

It is safe to say that no better display of grains and vegetables could be found in the state, while the industrial and school departments were remarkable for their general excellence and completeness.

One gratifying feature connected with this fair was the interest displayed in its success by the people outside of the district immediately affected. Thief River Falls sent a large delegation on the second day and there were visitors present from practically every other section of the county at some time during the exhibition. All were enthusiastic in their praise of the show in general and of the excellent manner in which the management handled things in particular. The speaking program was perhaps better and more varied than has been the case at more pretentious fairs, the subjects being in every case such as will prove of value in the future.

Taking it all through, the event was a success. The people of Goodridge are deeply grateful to their neighbors for the assistance extended in putting the fair across and promise to reciprocate whenever an opportunity offers.

The country around Goodridge and Grygla is fast settling up with a most desirable class of farmers and the products at the fair showed what they are capable of doing. With a little encouragement in the way of flood prevention—which is now an assured fact—this region will become one of the most prosperous in the entire Northwest.

LET'S HEAR THEM ALL.

J. A. O. Preus, who may be the next governor of Minnesota, and Louis Collins, whose chances for becoming lieutenant governor seem particularly good, are to speak at the auditorium in Thief River Falls on Saturday, Oct. 2. Not only will these be the first addresses to be delivered here by actual candidates in the present campaign, but these gentlemen practically open their speaking tour here.

They should be greeted by a full house. It does not so particularly matter whether you agree with everything they say or not. In fact if what they say does not agree with what you think, all the more reason for your being present. Only by hearing both sides can any person come to an intelligent conclusion and every voter owes it to himself to gain all the information he can.

Both these gentlemen are good speakers. They are among the foremost citizens of the state and have been selected by a majority of their peers as leaders. Their attitude on questions of the hour should be of interest to every man and woman in the state and nowhere can a knowledge of their views be gained so satisfactorily as by seeing and hearing the men themselves.

Other speakers will be here, no doubt—some of them opposed to the candidacy of these two men. Go and hear them also. After you have seen the different candidates and heard what both sides have to say you will be in better position to cast your ballot intelligently.

POSTPONEMENT IS COSTLY.

Advocating anything further in the way of public improvements just at this time may be a little unpopular, but there is nevertheless considerable agitation in favor of the purchase of a park site by the city. Everyone seems to realize that it will not be long before all the available sites will be taken up for other purposes or will have become so high in price that their acquisition by the city will be out of the question. Therefore, in the opinion of many, it is high time something were done.

As a matter of fact it is already too late to secure the land for a large park so located that it will be of benefit to the general public, but small plots are still to be had. The city council has from time to time taken the matter up but nothing definite has ever come out of these deliberations. This is not the council's fault so much as that of the citizens. If the latter would take the trouble to let their wishes in the matter be known there is no question but that results could be obtained. The council does not care to purchase a lot of property and make provisions for its improvement if by so doing the members are to be criticized and blamed. It is only natural that they should look for something in the way of backing by public opinion before committing themselves in an undertaking of such importance.

It really does not so much matter what plot is selected—Squaw Point, Tindolph Point, Lovers' Lane—any one will do to begin with. The main thing for the city to do is to fasten onto one or more of these properties while they may still be had at a comparatively low figure.

It may be that Henry Ford has started something again. Yesterday morning dealers everywhere were notified that there would at once be a return to pre-war figures in the price of Ford automobiles and a heavy cut in Fordson tractors. Whether or not this will prove the beginning of a general slump all along the line remains to be seen, but the action of this great concern is at least cheering. It is to be hoped that the drop will not be so sudden as to upset conditions, but the people have become so tired of paying exhorbitant prices for everything that they are almost ready be so sudden as to cause a rout, things if it will promise eventual relief.

The selection of W. J. LaBree as state-central committeeman by the Republican candidates, will prove most acceptable to the party members. Mr. LaBree is very popular personally and there has never been a doubt concerning his regularity as a party man. He enjoys to a remarkable extent the confidence of his fellow citizens and will prove a most valuable asset to the organization in this section.

It is to be hoped that the next senate will be of the same political complexion as the president. While it is doubtless true that a house divided against itself cannot stand, it has been most definitely demonstrated in this country during the past two years that a government divided against itself is unable to move.

Potatoes Coming Crop.

(Roseau Region.)

One of the crops, if not the crop, which will spell success for the Roseau county farmers, in the potato. The Red River Valley proper, which long ago became famous for its grain crops, has also added the potato to its list, so that Red River Valley grown potatoes have a reputation and command a better market in the south and the potato has added enormously to the wealth of those farming communities. We believe that if the Roseau county farmer but awoke to the fact that this section can better the valley proper when it comes to potato raising and go into raising of this crop on a systematic and scientific basis it will bring results which make the present farm returns look like a mere pittance in comparison. And to make make the combination complete, add a flock of sheep. That combination will also just about settle the sow thistle and other foul weeds problem.

Hunters Escape Injury as Ford Car Goes Into Ditch

A hunting party composed of Sheff Johnson, Roman Paulson, Herbert Johnson and Arthur Johnson came to grief Sunday evening near Hazel when their Ford skidded from the grade and went into the ditch. Aside from a few bruises and scratches none of the occupants was seriously injured, for which they may well think their lucky stars.

The car, which belongs to the City Bakery and has been used as a delivery wagon, was badly smashed up in the fracas, and had to be left where it landed until the following day. Two broken wheels, a shattered windshield, bent fenders and other damage was noted. The rain of Sunday had left the road very slippery and for this reason the driver proved unequal to the task of holding the Ford on the grade.

Accountants Needed.

The United States Civil Service Commission states that there are more than 100 vacancies in high-grade accounting positions under the Interstate Commerce Commission paying salaries ranging from $2,100 to $3,900 a year. The positions are principally in the field. When employees are absent from headquarters an allowance for subsistence is made. Until further notice the Civil Service Commission will receive applications for positions of examiner of accounts to fill these vacant positions. Applicants will be rated on their education, training and experience. Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or from its representative at the post office or customhouse in any city.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

The recent slump in foreign exchange has again emphasized European purchasing limits. This fact, together with ideal corn-maturing weather and increasing evidence of over-sufficient domestic requirements in all grains precipitated a sharp decline in everything on the list.

Wheat figures, on a world basis, unquestionably show quite a material shortage and place this commodity in a technically strong position, but it might be considered that these figures are subject to change, for cheap European money and higher U. S. prices may materially change present statistics. The price is important. What Europe may estimate she will require and what she will buy depends mostly on the price.

Canada this year has a wheat crop reported as 262,338,000, against 193,260,000 a year ago. On private estimates the U. S. carry-over of old wheat is 150,000,000. The Canadian exportable surplus should run 100,000,000. Her visible wheat supply now is reported 6,404,000 against 2,855,000 last year. Argentine and Australia, however, are not seriously considered as having any surplus.

The corn crop is fast maturing under greatly improved weather conditions. A frost in all probability will overtake some of the crop, but the quantity will not be reduced and it is quantity that makes the price. Soft corn is the kind that is marketed the earliest, and No. 4 corn is deliverable on December contracts.

Country houses are free sellers of old corn, and new corn is offered at prices ranging from 90c to $1.00 basis shipping stations. At these prices the producer evidently considers that corn is, or will be, an unprofitable feed.

In view of wheat deficiency, Europe can be expected to substitute rye. The discounted price is further inducement. Most of Europe has only an average rye crop and to date foreign inquiries and purchases are said to be persistent and heavy. The U. S. rye crop this year is estimated close to 78,000,000 bushels, or about 10,000,000 under the final 1919 production and approximately 27,000,000 above the average 1913 to 1917.

Bumper crops of both corn and oats is rather unusual. A superabundance of feed makes it difficult to conceive high prices. Corn and oats, of course, have intrinsic feeding value that may uphold prices on a fair maintenance of hog and cattle prices to the past five year average. Sharp upturns, however, can be expected on slow receipts occasioned by producers holding tendency and decreased shipping facilities.

Henrik Johnson Lindberg.

At three o'clock Saturday afternoon Sept. 11, Henrik Lindberg passed away at his home on 417 LaBree avenue north. Mr. Lindberg was born at Sodra Finnskoga, Vermland, Sweden, in May 1856, being 64 years of age at the time of his death. In 1879 he immigrated to America and after staying at Renville, Minn., for some time, he came to Marshall county and settled on a farm five miles southwest of Alvarado, where he resided until about a month before his death, when the family moved to Thief River Falls.

In November, 1886, deceased was united in marriage to Miss Ellen Lundell. To this union eleven children were born of whom seven passed away in infancy and four survive.

Mr. Lindberg was a true Christian and was highly regarded by all who knew him. He was a member of the Swedish Mission church at Higdem township near Alvarado. He also served for about twenty years, as assessor in the town of Higdem. He is survived by his wife, two sons, David and Hjalmar and two daughters, Miss Elin J. Lindberg, a missionary, stationed at Maracaibo, Venezuela and Miss Hilma, who is staying at home. There are also two brothers and two sisters beside a large number of other relatives and a host of friends.

The remains were shipped to Alvarado where the funeral services were held from the home at two o'clock, Thursday afternoon. Interment was made in the Swedish cemetery at Higdem.

"Granny" Chamberlain

Everybody's friend when they have coughs and colds and their children have croup and whooping cough.

Most everyone knows me. I have been going from home to home for nearly fifty years—always welcome, too, for I never fail in their hour of need.

I have helped young mothers whose babies were choking with croup, and been the comfort of parents whose children tramp to school through the wet winter weather. Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped through the anxious moments of whooping cough. I have come to the aid of mothers and fathers when they had colds and influenza, and have been a relief to old folks suffering from bronchitis and asthma.

I have had a most varied experience; I go everywhere—among the rich and the poor, in cities and the country.

Now don't forget "Granny" Chamberlain! You will see me often now, for I am going to tell you of my experience and what can be done in your home with

HIGH SCHOOL PROGRESS

(Published by Class in Journalism, Thief River Falls High School.)

A continuation of the high school paper, published in connection with the "Times" last year, will be made this year. As before, the journalism class will have charge of the edition of this page, and it is our intention to make it snappy and peppy and just brim full of the right kind of high school spirit. We hope to solidify the school to such an extent through the columns of our sheet, so as to gain, and preserve, that feeling of unity and co-operation between the different classes of the high school that has heretofore been so difficult to maintain.

In short, we shall work for the best of the school, stand behind every good movement, and endeavor to make Lincoln High School of Thief River Falls the best one of its size in the state.

It's Uu to You.

The duty of every Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior to the high school Progress is that of contributing articles toward the enlarging and bettering of our school paper. Each and every one must feel that he is a part of the paper and each take a share of the responsibility. Co-operation is the key to success—leaving it to "John" will never do. Pride yourself in seeing your article in print. Let "stictuitivness" be your aim—if your first article is not published, try, try again. Every article will not be published but the best will be. The success or failure of the High School Progress lies wholly in your hands—you decide its fate—none else. Your loyalties to the school will be judged through your activities.

Constitution Day.

On Friday morning chapel was held for the purpose of pausing a few moments in remembrance of the signing of the Constitution of the United States.

Just one hundred and thirty-three years ago today the constitution was finally completed and signed by all of the great men who were members of the constitutional convention which met for the purpose of drawing up a constitution which would form the thirteen colonies into a united country. This meeting opened in June, 1787, and came to a close on September 17, 1787.

The meeting this morning opened with the song "America," sung by the student body. This was followed by an address by Supt. Ziegler on the formation of our constitution and our relation to its upholding.

"We must realize," said Mr. Ziegler, " that we are in school for a definite purpose; to become factors in the nation's success and progress."

The passage of the 19th amendment was briefly reviewed.

Teachers' Reception at Commercial Club Monday

The reception to city teachers given by the school board will take place at the commercial club rooms on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. It was at first intended that this function should be held at the auditorium on Friday evening but it seems that the larger hall will not be available and that things could not be gotten in readiness for that date.

This reception is always looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by both teachers and parents. It will afford an opportunity for our people to meet the "bunch" and besides furnish an evening of good entertainment. Parents are particularly invited to be present at this time as it is for their benefit the affair is staged.

America's Greatest Need.

One great trouble with the average American is that his life is too easily satisfied. He is content if he can but grasp a few shallow superficialities, and he greets with a vacant stare anyone who mentions or suggests the personal acquisition of the sterling values of life. His look is bent downward, and he passes by the great avenues leading to true nobility, scarcely noticing them. He spends all his precious time and invaluable energy seeking temporary satisfaction in transitory things. I refer especially to money and non-recreation amusements. Due to America's unprecedented material expansion a large percentage of her people are permeated with an ultra-physical and grossly materialistic view of life, excluding the development of the highly intellectual, deeply spiritual, or broadly cultural.

America's greatest need is a renaissance of ideals; so that her people will cease their wild, yes mad, chase for ephemeral satisfaction, excitement and pleasure, and instead earnestly seek those higher values which will permanently ennoble their minds and souls and enrich their lives. —The Manitou Messenger.

Cleverness.

Morris: There's something the matter with my Adam's apple.

Harold S.: Probably the stem or the core got stuck.

"Did you say my train would be 'long in 'bout ten minutes?" queried Old Uncle Abe.

"Yes Uncle."

"I just axed youh, suh, 'cause I hain't got mah rabbit's foot with me, an' dat dere bulletin boahd say, all trains on time 'cept one an' I was jes' a figurin' dat one would be mine."

"All trains are on time, Uncle," was the pleasant rejoinder, "but if some one's been tamperin' with that bulletin board—" rushing out excitedly and anxiously viewing the board. Presently his features relaxed into a broad grin. The bulletin read: "All trains on time—Sept. 1"—The Fun Book.

Tommy Learned Something.

The reading lesson was droning on its most unhappy way and when Willie Smith's turn came to spell out his paragraph he stumbled over the word "heirloom."

The kindly teacher put him right as to the pronunciation of the word when up shot Tommy Johnson's hand.

"P-please teacher what is the meaning of 'heirloom?' " inquired that hopeful and somewhat inquisitive youth.

"Oh Tommy," was the reply, "I am glad to see you take such an interest in your lesson. 'Heirloom' means something that is handed down from father to son—in other words, a relic."

"Oh, replied Tommy, thoughtful, "that's the funniest name ever I heard for a pair of pants."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

Athletics.

The first football game of the season will be played at Grafton, N. D., on Saturday, Sept. 25.

This game will be a fast one because Grafton usually has a fast team and the report is that it is exceptionally so this year. Our men have been practicing every night and will be prepared to meet any kind of team. With the spirit in the boys and the spirit of the whole school, the first game of the season can be ours.

Where Classics Are Popular.

Minnesota is a corking big state. But maybe you didn't know it was so great as to have spots of culture, and others where there is some question about culture.

By culture in this connection we don't have any reference to the quality of knowing when to eat with a fork or when with a spoon. It's the study of so-called classics, the dead languages, we have in mind; reflection on such a subject coming up at this time, we suppose because school has just started again.

'Way down in the extreme southwestern part of the state in a town whose name is no matter; they're having a hard time rounding up two dozen high school students who want to study latin. That is the irreducible minimum determined upon by the superintendent.

'Way up in the extreme northeastern part of the state, in Hibbing, with its twenty-six nationalities, ninety per cent of the high school students take the latin course. It is doubtful if Boston itself could boast a better showing.

This will not be made the occasion for any discussion of the practical utility of studying the classics. But the opportunities cannot be passed to observe that culture, like other less stiff and formal things plays some queer pranks. — Minneapolis Daily News.

Had One Coming.

"You love long rambles in the country?" asked the vivacious girl.

"Yes, indeed," responded the young man in the green hat with the purple band and buckled shoes. "When I go out in the country all nature seems to smile."

"Gracious! I don't blame her. It's a wonder she doesn't laugh outright!" —Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Physical Training Classes.

As soon as the students have arranged their programs, the physical training classes will begin. These classes will meet twice a week for forty minutes. This subject has been made compulsory for every student. Mr. Tommeraasen will be in charge of these classes. It is expected that every student will arrange his program to include this work.

As She is Spoke.

The Pennsylvania Dutch have their own way of saying things, and generally they manage to make their meaning clear, although sometimes in unconventional language.

Over the bell on the front door of a house in a little town near Gettysburg, was affixed a card reading: "Button doesn't bell. Bump."—American Legion Weekly.

Personals.

We can't help but wonder just why Morris Mabey likes Room 101 so well. There's a reason for everything they say.

Ernest Zeh has been on the casualty list at school this last week. We wonder if the duck hunting season has anything to do with it.

Harold Smithers is one of Mr. Pierce's star performers in Public Speaking class. We predict that Harold will be a second "silver-tongued orator."

Marshall Race arrived here the early part of last week to resume his Senior studies at the high school.

Marguerite Burns and Leland Schuster expect to leave Monday for Grand Forks where they will attend the University.

Lelant Schuster, Ernest Zeh, Ernest Barzen, left Thursday on an extended hunting trip.

Anna Majeres was taken to the hospital Sunday and underwent an operation for appendicitis. It is reported that she is recovering rapidly.

Pearl Shetler spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in the country.

Cora Swanson, an alumni, who teaches near Hazel, returned from there Friday and will remain here for a week to attend the teachers' institute.

No Personalities.

Two soldiers, one white and one black, were hopelessly lost out in No Man's Land. After darkness had fallen the white soldier cautiously stuck his head over the edge of the shell hole to take a look.

"Whatcher see, Boss?" inquired the other.

"You can't see your hand before your face, it's so dark."

"Look-a-here now, white man," expostulated the Negro, "Dis ain't no time for pussonalities, Ah ain't askin' yoo what Ah kain't see, Ah's askin' you what you can see."—American Legion Weekly.

MR. SCHUSTER COMES TO THE FRONT.

Tells His Friends and Neighbors of His Experience.

Every Thief River Falls resident should read what Mr. Schuster says, and follow his example. He has used Doan's Kidney Pills and speaks from experience. Is there any need to experiment with imitations or untried kidney medicines?

Chas. Schuster, 622 St. Paul Ave., Thief River Falls, says: "From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I can say they are just as advertised. My back has been bothering me for a long time and I couldn't bend over without pain across my loins. Some mornings I couldn't get out of bed my back was so sore and stiff and I was obliged to get up nights on account of kidney weakness. As soon as I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills I had relief and I have felt better ever since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Schuster had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—adv.

H. S. Enrollment.

The high school enrollment for the first week was about three hundred. This is more than in the corresponding week a year ago. A great many of the boys are at work threshing, picking up potatoes; etc. The extremely liberal salary paid by the farmers is very enticing. These folks will come back to school very shortly in large number.

THE HIGH CRANK "Easy to Run" SEPARATOR

The GREAT WESTERN—not only a close skimmer, but so convenient. It is so easy to fill the low tank, even a rather short person can easily fill the tank of the GREAT WESTERN. But a low tank isn't the whole thing unless accompanied by a high crank.

You can stand and turn the crank of a GREAT WESTERN without tiring yourself, and if you want to, you can sit down. The crank is not so high but what you can easily turn it when sitting at the side.

Farmers who use the GREAT WESTERN say separating is the most pleasant part of the day's work.

Stop in and we will show you the advantages of the GREAT WESTERN bottom outlet bowl, chain drive, full ball bearing equipment, and enclosed gears.

It's a separator that has earned its reputation of being "The World's Best."

TITLE TO MUD LAKE FARMS QUESTIONED

Government Tries to Retain Title to Drained Land—Residents Also Claim It.

Papers were filed in the United States court at Fergus Falls last week in a case brought by the United States government against P. A. P. Sandstrom, the Holt State bank and 36 other property owners, whose lands border on what was formerly Mud Lake in Marshall county.

This lake was a shallow body of water, of considerable size, and was meandered. It has recently been drained by a judicial ditch and the area free from water amounts to approximately 3,000 acres. The ditch constructed to drain it is assessed up to property benefited in such cases and the people of the neighborhood, having paid for the ditch, are now claiming title to the land which has been reclaimed through the drainage process.

The government brings suit to quiet title in its name. The outcome of this suit will be watched with much interest as many similar conditions exist in various parts of this section.

HOG PRICES REACH YEAR'S HIGH POINT

Good Cattle Rule Steady and Sheep Market Shows Very Little Change.

Union Stock Yards, South St. Paul, Sept. 20.—Hog prices continued to advance last week and reached the highest point of the year, best porkers selling at $16.75 at the close. This was a straight $1 advance over the week previous. The range narrowed some and in-between grades looked even higher. Bulk closed at $16.25@16.50 with no sales below the $16 line. Stock pigs were quoted at $8@15.50 with boars at $5@8.50. Receipts were around 12,000.

Good cattle ruled about steady all week but some of the plainer grades cashed 15@25c lower with the market a little easier on this kind. Best steers sold up to $13 with bulk of sales at $7@11.75 on all grades. Occasional sales on the stock were made up at $9 but the majority cashed at $5.50@8. Canners and cutters were unchanged at $3.50@5 while bulls ruled steady at $4.50@6.25. Veal calves advanced 50c, closing at $15.50. Good stockers and feeders were in demand at steady prices but the plainer kind were a little slow and 25c@50c off. Dairy cows were quoted $5 lower for the period. Receipts were 39,000.

Sheep and lamb trade did not show many changes for the week and values ruled about steady. Prices were a little stronger if anything with top lambs at $12 and Westerns at $13.50. Fat ewes sold at $2@6 for natives with Westerns at $6.50. Western feeders were rated up to $11 and native feeders at $8@8.50. Receipts were 31,000.

Interesting Photographs For Our Returned Soldiers

The commercial club has turned over to the American Legion a number of photographs taken at the picnic dinner which was given at Squaw Point two years ago in honor of the men who were departing for army service at that time. These are very clear photographs and show plainly all of the service men seated at the tables.

Any service man who appears on the picture and who desires one of the photographs may have it free by calling on Adjutant G. Howard Smith of the local Legion Post or by appearing at the regular meeting of the Legion on Friday evening.

Bank at Lengby Looted By Robbers, Who Make Escape

Twelve thousand three hundred dollars, three hundred dollars of which are negotiable, was the loot of a robber or robbers when the safe of the Ferdinand Hardware & Implement company at Lengby was cracked early Saturday morning. No trace of the culprits has been found by Sheriff O. K. Bolstad and deputies.

Entry to the building was made through a rear door to a warehouse and thence through a window to the store proper. The front door of the safe had been unlocked by the inner door of the safe was blown open.

The robbers obtained $200 in coupons from liberty bonds; $5,000 in registered United States bonds; $7,000 in notes and $100 in thrift stamps.

One year ago the Farmers' State bank of Lengby was robbed. This is the first burglary in Polk county this fall.

Governor Cox Approves Development of Library

Governor James M. Cox, Democratic nominee for president, has expressed his hearty approval of the library development in America which is being promoted by the American Library association. In a letter to Carl P. Vitz of the Cleveland Public Library, who is Ohio State Director for the "Books for Everybody" movement, Governor Cox declared his eagerness to assist the furthering of popular education through libraries and the establishment of library service for sixty million Americans now without access to libraries.

Governor Cox wrote: "I recall quite well the report of the Committee on the matter of the Enlarged Program of the American Library association. At the time the report was made I gave my hearty and whole approval of the plan. I now want to reiterate that approval most emphatically and welcome this opportunity to lend every possible encouragement."

"The growth of the Library associations in the United States has been remarkable but I fear it has been altogether too localized to be of the utmost value. We do not need to increase the encouragement of reading good books so much as we need to find the means to furnish proper literature to those who desire to read. This point is one of the most potent factors considered by the American Library association in their work. I want to help in every way I may."

Do You Get Your Share of This Nine Million?

Uncle Sam is passing out almost $9,000,000 to his friends in the Ninth Federal Reserve district, including the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana and parts of Wisconsin and Michigan. Did you get your share? You will if you bought—and held—Liberty Bonds of the third or fourth issues. The third issue interest date was September 16. The total amount of that issue for the Ninth district was $160,892,100 so that holders received on September 15 interest money totaling $3,843,957. On October 15 owners of the fourth issue will have distributed among them $5,143,483 as interest money the total sale of that issue in this district having been $242,046,050. The Government Savings Organization suggests that persons receiving Liberty Bond interest money reinvest in War Savings stamps or Treasury Savings certificates, these securities, tax exempt, are interest bearing and are redeemable, plus accrued interest, at any time.

Miss Gena Larson and mother, Mrs. F. G. Larson, were the guests of friends between trains on Thursday evening enroute from Fordville, N. D., where they had spent a week visiting friends, to their home at Badger.

MANY ARE GRANTED LICENSES TO HUNT

Nearly Three Hundred Pennington County Men Join in Chase For Ducks.

Nearly three hundred residents of Pennington county were granted hunting licenses during the past two or three weeks by County Auditor T. P. Anderson. If all of these men got the limit allowed by law it means that a considerable slice was cut from the available supply of ducks during the first few days of the hunting season. But not all of the hunters got the limit—in fact many of them didn't get any ducks at all. Reports from all sections indicate that hunting was decidedly poor.

Following is a list of the nimrods who were granted licenses to shoot ducks and other game birds during the season of 1920:

Look at the roads for twenty miles around on a Sunday

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

II

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

III

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

IV

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

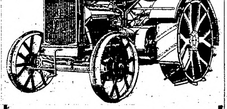
SAMSON



Plow Now!
After Harvest

The Department of Agriculture tells you that the sooner you plow after the crop is harvested, the better your crop the following year will be. Early plowing will make a difference in the yield of from 3 to 6 bushels per acre in corn or grain. Multiply this by 50, 100, or 150 acres and you can very easily figure out for yourself how an efficient tractor like the Samson will soon pay for itself.

The Samson will help earn its cost in many other ways too. It isn't a seasonal machine. It's a three-hundred-and-sixty-five day worker. Its utility is limited only to the inclination of its owner.

It will pay you to own a Samson. And the sooner you buy one, the more it will earn for you in better work done more quickly, more easily and at less expense.

What You Can Do With a Samson

Run your ensilage cutter and blower (up to 14 inches.)
Run your wood-saw.
Run your 4 to 6 hole corn sheller.

EMPLOYES ASKED TO GIVE GOOD SERVICE

President Pennington of Soo Says Public is Entitled to Courteous Treatment.

Soo Line employees are called upon in a personal letter issued this week by Edmund Pennington, president, to "put into intensive operation the principles of the golden rule" and to give in return for the recent wage increases the best and most courteous service and loyal co-operation.

"At home and across the sea," said Mr. Pennington's letter, "you did loyal and effective service during the war; and I am confident that your service will be equally loyal and effective during the stress of the present economic condition, the period of readjustment and in the days to come, and that no element of discord or discont will prevail against your better judgment, conservatism and fidelity to duty.

"The new wage scale is now effective, giving to each employee a substantial amount over his former wage, the burden of which is borne by our patrons and the public by an increase in freight and passenger rates. I have no doubt but that they will willingly bear this additional burden if, in exchange therefor, they receive better service and courteous treatment. This it is their right to demand and our duty to make every possible effort to give. Such effort, to be successful, requires the loyalty and cooperation of us all.

"In our intercourse with patrons and the public, let us be accommodating, polite, courteous, living a life of service in their behalf. This costs little and yields much, and is the oil that lubricates and lessens the friction of everyday life."

CONTRACTOR GIVES FACTS TO PUBLIC

Says Tanlac Rid Him of Long-standing Trouble and He is Now a Well Man.

"Tanlac has put an end to troubles that had been pulling me down for ten years, and I am now a well man and feeling as spry as a boy," was the statement made a few days ago by Axel Elogren of St. Paul Park, St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Elogren is a painting contractor and has lived in St. Paul Park for the past twenty nine years.

"My troubles started in 1910 and ever since I have been gradually getting worse. My kidneys were all out of order and I had a continual pain across the small of my back, which sometimes felt like it would break in two. I had a bad case of indigestion, a poor appetite and suffered every time I ate anything. Gas would form on my stomach and fill me up so I had to fight to get my breath. At night I often suffered so with my stomach I would get up and pace the floor, trying to get easy. My nerves were all on edge all the time and I was subject to severe, dizzy headaches. I was weak and all run down and almost unable to work and just seemed to have played out altogether.

"But now I don't feel like the same person. In fact I am a different man because of the way Tanlac has fixed me up. My kidneys are in the finest kind of shape and my back never hurts me at all. My digestion was never better and I have a ravenous appetite and enjoy everything I eat. My nerves are as steady as a rock and I am entirely rid of those dizzy headaches. I go to sleep as soon as I hit the bed and get up of mornings feeling fine and ready for work. I am in tip-top shape and feel stronger than I have in many years."

Pastor Suffers Stroke.

Paper Prices.

A country paper not far from here explains the present high price of paper as follows: "Please do not call at this office and ask for a nickel's worth of typewriter paper. For a nickel we let you look at it. For a dime we let you feel of it, but you don't get any. For fifteen cents you get enough paper to write a letter or two on. For fifty cents or a dollar you have a little package to carry home."

Committees Named.

The following special committees have been named by the recently organized Harding-Preus club in Thief River Falls:

Publicity Committee—R. B. McWilliams, chairman; George Werstlein, Perl Mabey, S. C. Coumbe, John Bratrud.

Finance Committee—P. J. Keating, chairman; Thomas A. Way, F. H. Herrick, C. L. Hansen, Robert McGinn.

Market Day at Grygla.

Grygla is advertising its first market day and auction sale. The date has been set for Saturday, Oct. 2. This hustling Marshall county burg, without a railroad but living on the promise of one before long, is setting an example to other communities similarly situated. The people there are a unit when it comes to anything that will benefit their town and it is certain that their market day will be a hummer. The probabilities are that a good delegation from this city will be on hand, making the trip by auto.

LOCAL GUERNSEY WINS PRIZES AT BIG STATE SHOW

Animal From Herd of F. B. Conklin Declared Grand State Champion.

Now at Waterloo, Iowa, and Will Also Be Shown at Chicago Within Few Days.

That Ciff, the prize Guernsey cow belonging to F. B. Conklin, is an animal of much more than ordinary quality is being demonstrated once more in the tour which the animal is now making among some of the leading stock and dairy shows in the country.

Ciff made a wonderful record during the past summer when shown at various fairs in this section in competition with the best animals of Northwestern Minnesota, North and South Dakota. On this trip she carried away all the first prizes in sight, thus giving evidence of her extraordinary qualities.

Wins at Mankato.

On the present trip the first stop was made at Mankato, where Ciff was placed in competition with some of the best Guernseys in the entire state. Word from there bears the pleasing news that the animal took first and sweepstakes in her class. This means that Ciff is the best cow in the state of Minnesota as she has been selected to show with the state herd, and winning at this show places her in a class by herself. The Guernsey state herd is composed of the first prize winners in each class shown at the Minnesota state fair in 1920, which leaves no question as to Ciff's standing among the Guernseys of Minnesota.

To Compete in Iowa.

The next stop for Ciff will be at Waterloo, Iowa, at the Dairy Cattle Congress. Here she will be placed in competition with the best Iowa has to offer as well as a large number of high grade animals from outside the state. Judging from her performances in the past, Ciff will have very little trouble in holding her own against most of her competitors at any rate.

On this tour Ciff is in charge of Leslie Wilson and W. A. McKerrow of the university farm school and it was these gentlemen who induced Mr. Conklin to place the animal on exhibition at the larger shows.

At National Show.

Before being returned to the Conklin farm Ciff will also be placed on exhibition at the National Dairy show in Chicago early next month. Here she will be forced to compete with a number of the very best animals in the entire country, including the following champions: Empire Princess Bergere 38,704, national champion 1916-17 and grand champion at Waterloo 1919; Imp. Prospect Rose Des Hourds, national grand champion 1919, and which was sold recently for $17,700, record price for the breed. Another important competitor at this show is McKerrow's state grand champion, Imp. Mildred II of Les Godaines, winner of second prize at the Chicago show last year.

Much local interest attaches to the record being made by Mr. Conklin's prize Guernsey cow and news from the Waterloo and Chicago shows will anxiously be awaited.

PURCHASE BONDS TO PAY SOLDIER BONUS

New Plan Inaugurated in State to Hurry Payments to Former Service Men.

A plan for speeding up the payment of the state bonus to soldiers who have not received the money because of shortage of funds provided for that purpose through the sale of bonds, has been set in motion in various parts of the state with considerable success. Bonds bearing interest at 5½ per cent are issued by the state and sold to provide funds for the soldier bonus. Not enough of these have been sold, however, to cover anywhere near the bonus payments and it is estimated that nearly two-thirds of the returned service men in the state have not yet received their money.

In many communities banks, business houses and private individuals are purchasing the bonds with the understanding that the money be used in paying bonuses to soldiers residing in that particular community. This works out to the satisfaction of everyone as the soldier gets his money and it remains in the neighborhood from which it came. In many counties of the state it is said enough of these bonds have been purchased to take care of every bonus claim in the county.

It has been proposed that an effort be made to sell bonds in Pennington county to help secure bonuses for the large number of service men who are still waiting for their share of the state allotment. Only about one-third of the soldiers in the county have so far received their money and the remainder are naturally anxious to get theirs. The buying of these bonds will be of great assistance to the soldiers, besides being a gilt-edged investment bearing a fair rate of interest.

J. A. O. PREUS

Republican Candidate for Governor.

LARGE REPUBLICAN MEETING SATURDAY

J. A. O. Preus and Louis Collins Slated to Deliver Principal Speeches.

Every indication points to a record crowd at the Republican political rally to be held at the auditorium in Thief River Falls next Saturday evening, Oct. 2. The principal speakers on this occasion will be J. A. O. Preus, present state auditor and Republican candidate for governor of Minnesota, and Louis L. Collins, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

The prominence of the speakers and the desire of everyone to hear state politics discussed from all angles assures a large attendance. This year the women also are entitled to cast their ballots at the fall election and a special invitation is extended to the new voters to be present at the meeting. It will give them an opportunity to hear important topics discussed by leaders of Republicanism in the state.

The meeting Saturday evening is one of the very first in the present campaign in which Mr. Preus and Mr. Collins appear as speakers. They deliver talks in the afternoon at the Red Lake county fair, Red Lake Falls, and following the meeting here have planned an extensive campaign throughout all parts of the state. Interest in the campaign is intense because of the three-cornered fight for the governorship and all factions will from now on be making strenuous bids for the support of the voters.

MUST STAND TRIAL FOR SHOOTING DOG

Transients Bound Over For Killing Valuable Dog Belonging to Farmer.

E. C. Frederickson and Paul Morrison, two young men canvassing among farmers for a portrait firm, were on Tuesday bound over to the district court by Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant. A cash bond of $100 was furnished and the young men are now at liberty.

Morrison and Frederickson were arrested on the charge of having shot and killed a valuable dog belonging to Theodore Tollefson of Highlanding township Monday evening. It is alleged the dog was found dead in the road just after the defendants left the place and four witness testified at the preliminary hearing Tuesday afternoon that wounds on the dog's body plainly indicated that it had been shot. The defendants, when placed on the witness stand, denied having fired shots at the dog and claimed they did not have firearms with them at the time. They admitted, however, that the dog had followed them out of the barnyard as they drove away and had run around the sides and in front of the car, barking and snapping at the front wheels. They also admitted that the car might have run over the dog but owing to the rough road they did not notice an extra jolt or jar to indicate that such had been the case.

After considering the evidence introduced Judge Tarrant concluded there was reasonable cause to believe the defendants guilty as charged in the complaint and bound them over to the district court under $100 bonds, as above stated.

A Gentle Reminder.

The weather man this week has given the people of Northwestern Minnesota a gentle hint of what may be expected from him with more or less regularity from now until next spring. Fires in furnaces and heaters have proved mighty comforting and none but the most reckless have appeared on the streets during the past three or four days without their overcoats. There is little likelihood, however, that the cool weather will remain for very long. Many weeks of pleasant weather may reasonably be expected before winter arrives in earnest.

Fair Association Meeting.

The postponed meeting of the stockholders of the Pennington County Fair association will be held at the commercial club rooms tomorrow, Friday, evening, at 8 o'clock. Much unfinished business remains for attention at this time and a large attendance is urgently requested.

CITY TAX LEVY FOR NEXT YEAR $7,000 HIGHER

Total of $52,000 Required For Various Funds According to Estimate.

Current Fund Reflects Rising Costs and Comes in For Raise of $7,000.

Local Improvement Enjoys Distinction of Being Only Estimate Reduced.

Although reflecting to a certain extent the rise in the cost of living the tax levy for next year in Thief River Falls as fixed by the council Tuesday evening shows a very modest upward trend. A total of $52,000 is considered necessary to meet the city's expenses for next year as compared with $45,000, which was the amount of the levy last year.

This does not mean that taxes will not be a great deal higher, however, as public school expenses are far in excess of previous years and the two increases will make an appreciable difference in the tax burden.

Current Fund Raised.

The current fund of the city seems to be hardest hit by the high cost of living. While $8,000 was considered a sufficient sum for this fund last year, the councilmen figured $15,000 would be required to keep it from becoming exhausted during 1921.

It is estimated that an additional $1,000 will be required to run the auditorium next year, the sum apportioned for this purpose being $3,000 as compared with $2,000 a year ago. The library fund also comes in for a raise of $500, being placed at $3,500 for next year.

Care of the poor is proving more expensive than formerly and $3,000 was allowed for this purpose as compared with $2,500 a year ago. It also was found necessary to make the interest fund $3,000 instead of $2,000 as last year in order to keep it from going "into the red."

One Fund Reduced.

Only one fund in the entire list comes in for a smaller sum this year than last. This is the local improvement fund, which was placed at $15,000 for next year. Last year this department of the city's activities required $18,000.

Funds which remain unchanged from last year are as follows: Sinking fund, $1,000; cemetery fund, $1,000; hydrant rent, $2,000, and street lighting, $5,500. The charges against these funds are quite well established and vary but little from year to year.

Half Mill For Music.

A tax of one-half mill was ordered levied for the purpose of providing for music in public buildings and on public grounds during the year 1921. The proceeds from this levy will be used to help support the band and is unquestionably the best means yet devised to give a boost to this popular local musical organization.

It has heretofore been the custom to make a direct donation to the band once a year but this will be unnecessary hereafter as the half-mill levy will insure a permanent fund for this particular purpose.

ROBBERS GET $130 AND COVER TRACKS

J. F. Farr's soft drink establishment was entered by burglars some time Saturday night and cash to the amount of approximately $130 stolen. Entrance was gained through the man-hole in the sidewalk on the south side of the building, through the basement and cellar door. The burglar had no trouble getting out as the rear door is fastened with a spring lock and can be opened from the inside without a key.

The burglar left no clue which might be used in establishing his identity except a number of foot prints near the basement door, which indicate that he wore a number seven shoe. That the job was done by someone well acquainted with the building is evident, and the further fact that most of the money stolen was concealed in several places some distance from the cash register would indicate that the man who did the job had been hanging around the place and sizing up the situation pretty thoroughly before carrying out his purpose. The cash register also was carefully searched and everything removed with the exception of pennies, nickels and dimes. This small change, evidently because of its bulk, was left behind.

As a general thing Mr. Farr is not in the habit of leaving much money in the building over night, but on account of the illness of his wife he did not get around to his place of business Saturday evening to check up. All the circumstances indicate that the burglary was committed by someone thoroughly conversant with all the facts in the case and officials believe some local party is responsible for this as well as a number of other burglaries and attempted burglaries pulled off in Thief River Falls within the past few weeks.

City Not to Establish Park on Tindolph Point

The proposition of purchasing a tract of land on Tindolph point for park purposes was on Tuesday evening voted down by the city council. Alderman Andrew Ness cast the only vote in favor of purchasing the property and explained his vote by stating that the tract is worth much more than the price asked and that a park of some kind is an absolute necessity. Alderman Ole Ihle, speaking against purchasing the tract, stated that it was too small to be of any use as a park and also claimed that a number of the lots described as belonging to the plot must be located beneath the waters of Red Lake river as he had been unable to find a trace of them after a careful survey of the tract.

This action leaves the city just where it was before as far as the park question is concerned. Everybody wants a park but nobody seems to know how best to get one.

YOUNG WOMEN ON LONG HIKING TOUR

Arrive in City This Morning From New York Enroute to San Francisco

Miss Emy Clauss and Miss Edith Twilliger of New York City are not exactly afraid of the cars but they disdain using this modern mode of conveyance in getting across country. They are hiking from their home city to San Francisco and arrived in Thief River Falls this morning, having to date covered approximately 1800 miles of their journey.

The young ladies are childhood playmates of John Ward of this city and notified that gentleman of their arrival at Erskine. Mr. Ward boarded the Soo flyer last evening, met the girls at the junction town and brought them here on the northbound Soo train, arriving at 2:30. This was the first time a railroad had been called into service since the travelers started out on July 22. They admit to accepting an occasional lift in farmers' autos and wagons along the way, but these breaks have come but seldom, aggregating not more than 250 miles out of the total traversed.

The long-distance pedestrians are not making the trip on a wager or anything of the kind. They simply started out to see the country, and as time was no particular object they decided to go on foot. They will remain in Thief River Falls for about a week as guests of the Ward and C. M. Wilson families.

ANOTHER POLITICAL RALLY ON TUESDAY

N. E. Thormodson, Candidate For Congress, and Claude Townley to Speak.

Another political meeting of more than ordinary interest will be held in Thief River Falls next Tuesday evening, Oct. 5, when N. E. Thormodson, candidate for congress in the Ninth district, and Claude Townley, lecturer for the Nonpartisan league, are scheduled to appear at the auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Political issues in the state and congressional district will be discussed from the standpoint of supporters of the Nonpartisan league movement and it is to the interest of every voter, man and woman, to hear both sides discussed. Mr. Thormodson was defeated in the primaries by Halvor Steenerson, present congressman and regular republican candidate for reelection, but has been placed on the ballot as an independent by petition. He is making an aggressive campaign and his speech here next Tuesday evening will be well worth hearing.

Claude Townley, a brother of A. C. Townley, president of the Nonpartisan league, will deal largely with state issues from the standpoint of the farmer-labor side of the political fight in the state, and his speech no doubt will be highly interesting. In order for voters to form an unbiased opinion it is necessary that they hear both sides of the political argument and the meeting next Tuesday evening affords a splendid opportunity for everyone in this section to get first-hand information from two leaders in the Nonpartisan league.

Checks Undelivered.

Secretary G. Howard Smith of the Pennington County Fair association still has a number of premium checks which he is unable to deliver because the addresses of the owners are unknown. If any of the following will call on him or make known their addresses the checks will be forthcoming without delay: Annie Anderson, Esther Larson, Luella Peterson, Emma Rendell, Clara Berg.

Victory Medals.

The banks of Thief River Falls will continue until further notice to give free notarial service in the matter of securing victory medals for soldiers. They may also be had upon application to G. Howard Smith, adjutant of the local Legion post. This applies to all service men, whether members of the American Legion or not.

Attending Convention.

Dr. O. F. Mellby left Tuesday evening for St. Paul to attend the annual convention of the State Medical association. Dr. H. W. Froehlich expects to leave this evening with the intention of attending the remaining sessions of the convention.

ROAD QUESTION TO BE SUBJECT AT BIG MEETING

Senator McGarry and Fred D. Sherman Scheduled For Speeches October 12.

First Opportunity For Pennington County People to Hear Highway Authorities.

Proposed Babcock Amendment to Be Explained in Detail For Voters' Benefit.

Good roads boosters in Pennington county are making big preparations for the meeting to be held at the Thief River Falls auditorium on Tuesday evening, Oct. 12, when Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker and Fred D. Sherman, former state immigration commissioner, will be the leading speakers.

The question of good roads is one of the most important confronting the voters at the coming election and it is important that everyone be thoroughly informed regarding the proposed amendment to the state constitution, known as the Babcock amendment.

Authorities on Subject.

The speakers at the meeting to be held at Thief River Falls are authorities on the road problem and strong boosters for the Babcock amendment. Those who are opposed to the amendment are particularly invited to be present at the meeting in order that they may be thoroughly enlightened upon the subject.

Senator McGarry is widely known as a booster for better roads in the state and during his term of service in the legislature has taken a leading part in all movements looking toward highway improvement. He stood sponsor for the Babcock amendment when it was considered by the senate two years ago and there is probably not a man in the state who knows more about the provisions and workings of the proposed amendment than he.

Added Attraction.

The speakers will be accompanied to Thief River Falls by Col. Sam Badger, a veteran of the Civil war and champion snare drummer of Minnesota, and William Patton, a regular army fifer. These gentlemen will furnish music with pep in it and will add largely to the enjoyment of the proceedings.

Another thing which should throw much light on the road building question is the moving picture film to be shown in connection with the speaking program. This film shows road building in actual progress and is said to be highly interesting and instructive.

Meeting at Goodridge.

The people residing in the eastern part of the county will be given an opportunity the following evening to hear the speakers. A meeting has been arranged for Wednesday evening, Oct. 12, at Goodridge and friends of the amendment in that community are making arrangements to care for a large crowd.

CARGO OF WHISKEY SHIPPED FROM HERE

Canadian Goods Confiscated By Federal Revenue Men and Sent to St. Paul.

Thief River Falls people were given evidence on Saturday that occasionally revenue men capture a whiskey runner and occasionally they confiscate the wet goods found in his possession. A large consignment of Canadian whiskey, something like 150 quarts, was brought to this city that day by revenue men, boxed up and shipped to St. Paul. The booze had been captured the day previous at Lancaster when Harry Leslie, former deputy sheriff of Hennepin county, and Harry Anderson, also of Minneapolis, were intercepted in their effort to reach the twin cities with their valuable cargo.

Leslie and Anderson were placed in jail at Hallock and the contrabrand goods brought to this city. The car and whiskey were taken possession of by the revenue men. The prisoners have been arraigned and bound over to the federal court.

Leslie is under indittment for complicity in the Weisman-Martinson whiskey smuggling deal at Minneapolis some time ago and explained to officials that he was trying to make enough money on his present cargo of booze to pay the fine which he expected to draw for his connection with Weisman and Martinson.

It is alleged the attention of revenue men was attracted to the car when it stopped at a Lancaster filling station through the fact that a case of whiskey was tied to the running board of the machine. Another story is to the effect that the two men became intoxicated in the Kittson county village and this led to suspicion and search of their car.

New Adding Machine.

A new electrically driven adding machine of the very latest model was on Tuesday evening purchased by the city council for use in the city clerk's office. The old machine, while in good condition, proved inadequate for the work required of it in the clerk's office and the necessity of securing a larger machine has been obvious for some time. The J. C. Penney company purchased the old machine for use in its store.

LOUIS L. COLLINS

Republican Candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS GOING INTO ACTION

Form Live Organization For the Purpose of Boosting Party's Candidates.

Pennington county Democrats evidently have no intention of allowing the election to get by without their making an effort for the candidates of the party. A well-attended meeting was held at the office of E. M. Stanton on Monday evening and plans for a vigorous campaign were talked over. The unanimous opinion of those present was that the party voters should stick to their own men in this campaign as, according to a number of those present, nothing had ever been gained by helping others out of their difficulties. E. M. Stanton, state central committeeman for the county, acted as chairman, A. S. Sapero secretary. Local chairmen will be appointed. A regular organization meeting will be held at a later date at which time local chairmen will be appointed in every precinct in the county and a regular campaign of education carried on.

It is the intention to hold at least one big rally before election and an attempt will be made to secure Lawrence H. Hodgson, candidate for governor, and Mrs. Peter Olsen of Cloquet, as speakers. The meeting will be widely advertised and it is the intention to make it the banner Democratic rally for this section of the state.

VALLEY'S DAIRYMEN MAY CONVENE HERE

Thief River Falls Has Excellent Chance of Being Named For Meeting.

Thief River Falls has a good chance of again entertaining the annual convention of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association this year. This is a highly important meeting as it is estimated that nearly five hundred delegates will be in attendance. The excellent treatment accorded the delegates attending the dairymen's convention here four years ago has not been forgotten and for this reason Thief River Falls stands an excellent chance of being named as the convention city.

The convention naturally should go to Detroit this year but the fact that the state convention is held at Fergus Falls precludes such a possibility. The commercial club is discussing the matter at its noon-day luncheon today, and Secretary Scott Laird of the club is now endeavoring to close arrangements for the convention with the officers of the association.

OPINION IS DIVIDED AS TO DAILY PAPER

Readers Favorable to Plan Still Lead But There Are Many More to Hear From.

Out of the 2,500 inquiries sent out to subscribers of The Times asking whether or not they would support a daily paper in Thief River Falls if The Times decided to put one in the field, about 1,800 have been returned. Those favoring the project have as yet the best of the count but are not so far in the lead but what those remaining outstanding can easily overcome them.

The Times has no other object in going to the expense of sending out these cards than sounding public sentiment on the subject. Launching a daily paper is a matter of decided importance and is not to be undertaken unless there is some prospect of the venture being successful. The Times has the equipment and could begin issuing a daily edition on very short notice, but whether or not it is done is entirely up to the readers and advertisers. If the demand is sufficiently emphatic there will be a Daily Times published in Thief River Falls before many weeks have gone by. For this reason it is hoped that all who have not returned the postal cards will do so at once. The postage is paid and the only requirement is the signature of the sender. There are spaces provided for those who are not in favor of the move as well as for those who are.

HERBERT FULLER IS AGAIN NAMED FAIR PRESIDENT

Albert Johnson and Fred Beerbower Also Stay on Board as Vice Presidents.

G. Howard Smith Declines Re-Election as Secretary—No Successor Chosen.

Association in Good Shape Financially After its Most Successful Season.

At the annual meeting of the Pennington County Agricultural society, at the commercial club rooms on Saturday evening Herbert Fuller was reelected president without opposition. This will be the fifth term Mr. Fuller serves in this capacity in spite of the fact that he declined the honor and A. J. Andersen was elected last year. The latter moved from the city shortly after taking over the office and Mr. Fuller was drafted. It is generally conceded that no better man for the place can be found and his willingness to again serve will be greeted with general satisfaction by everyone in any manner connected with the work of the fair association.

Albert Johnson and Fred Beerbower, present vice presidents, were reelected without opposition, their work in the past clearly entitling them to this honor.

Smith Declines Re-election.

When it came to the choosing of a secretary there was an unexpected hitch. The matter of salary proved the stumbling block, G. Howard Smith, present incumbent, maintaining that the present stipend of $300 per year is entirely inadequate and does not begin to pay for the actual work done. He made the suggestion that the pay of this official should not under any circumstances be placed at a lower figure than at present and that it should not be finally decided until the end of the year. The figure was fixed in 1914, at which time the total business of the fair association did not aggregate more than $4000 per annum and that had the pay kept pace with the increase in work the amount received by the official would now be at least $500. Even at this rate there would be a vast amount of work to be done for which no pay would be received.

The discussion was devoid of results and wound up with the nomination of Mr. Smith by L. H. Lawrence. The nomination was declined and the name of Mr. Lawrence was placed before the meeting by Albert Johnson. Mr. Lawrence also refused to accept. It was finally decided to lay the matter over until Saturday, Oct. 9, when another meeting will be held at which three delegates to the session of the state federation of county fairs will also be named.

The committee appointed to audit the books of the secretary and treasurer reported that the accounts and records were found correct and everything in a highly satisfactory condition. The committee was composed of L. H. Lawrence, L. A. Lampert and W. H. Akre.

Closes Successful Year.

The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand at the close of the year of $866.25, which is a gain of $851.25. The total receipts for 1920 were $9,492.31, as compared with $7,801.82 for the year previous. The disbursements footed up $8,626.06 for 1920 and $7,772.31 a year ago. The gate and grand stand receipts totaled $5,271.95, an increase over a year ago of $1,726. This excellent showing was made in spite of the higher prices paid for practically everything needed by the association. For instance the necessary labor at the grounds cost $1,537.73, nearly twice as much as a year ago. Music and attractions also ran into a great deal more money, costing $1400 in 1919 and $2,832.50 this year.

The associations assets exceeds its liabilities by more than $10,000 at this time, as will be seen by the following financial statement.

Spuds Run About Thirty, Or Four Hills Per Bushel

E. C. Reamor, who lives in what is known as the Horseshoe just southeast of the city, is probably the champion potato grower of the county, so far as size of the fruit is concerned. He dug up ten specimens from four hills and found they weighed an aggregate of 20 pounds, the largest tipping the scales at 2½ pounds. While these specimens were undoubtely the largest found, yet Mr. Reamer's patch of one-quarter acre yielded 150 bushels, or at the rate of 600 bushels per acre. He found seven and eight of these big fellows in every hill he excavated.

PENNINGTON CATTLE CLEAR OF DISEASES

County at Present Holds National Record For Number of Accredited Herds.

Six Federal veterinarians, in charge of Dr. J. N. Holzer of Minneapolis, have been busy during the past two weeks in Pennington county testing cattle for tuberculosis. A total of 106 herds have been given the test during the period and a number still remain to be treated. It is not likely that all of the work can be finished at this time and the remaining herds will be looked after upon the return of the veterinarians at a later date.

Pennington county now has approximately 110 accredited herds, which is a greater number than any other county in the United States can boast of at the present time. More than 80 live stock breeders of the county have requested tests this year but due to the limited time and the scarcity of federal men all of these herds cannot possibly be taken care of at this time.

It will not be long until there is not a herd remaining in Pennington county which has not been subjected to the tuberculin test and the county will as a result have a clean bill of health as far as tuberculosis in cattle is concerned. Only six reactors have been found this year in herds which had previously been tested, which shows that it is possible to eradicate tuberculosis in live stock and that Pennington county is rapidly eliminating diseased animals from its herds.

PENNINGTON PLANS SHOWING IN PARADE

Crookston is planning a big time for next Tuesday, Oct. 5, which has been set apart as dedication day. The new paved road from the city to the school of agriculture will that day be opened to traffic. This is the first paved road in the Red River valley and therefore of more than ordinary interest. It is planned to make the affair a big one in every respect.

Briefly, the plan involves a parade and decorating the roadway, and a very creditable parade is already assured. In it will be a division for county good roads boosters and it is hoped to secure a motion picture machine to photograph the padare. This film will be shown in hundreds of places in the state and therefore the advertising value to each county taking part will be considerable.

It is hoped that a committee from each county will do something to show that their county is alive. Without doubt this group of counties from Clay to Roseau have people with sufficient pep and enthusiasm to make an outstanding showing. The committee for Pennington county is composed of J. J. McCann, Olaf Ramstad and C. L. Hansen, who are making arrangements to see that this county is properly represented in the parade.

Signs depicting the excellence of the soil, the superiority of its crops or stock, its greetings on the occasion of the Northwest School celebration, good roads boosting, etc., will be appropriate. It is an ideal chance for the Red River valley to secure some highly desirable publicity and the opportunity should be taken advantage of to the greatest extent possible.

Opens Barber Shop.

William Poirier, who has worked at different shops in the city for some time, has opened a place of his own in the basement of the Dalquist building on Third street. The room has been neatly fixed up and Mr. Poirier has an attractive set of fixtures. His wide acquaintance in the city will prove an asset and he will no doubt get his share of the business.

Busy Forming Republican Clubs in Nearby Counties

G. Howard Smith of this city, in charge of forming Harding-Preus clubs in the counties of northwestern Minnesota, left Monday morning for Warren where an organization was perfected that same evening. Before returning Mr. Smith will organize clubs in Kittson, Roseau, Norman, Mahnomen, Red Lake and Clearwater counties similar to the one perfected in Pennington county last week.

BUSY TIME AHEAD FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Meeting to Outline Program Will Be Held Next Monday Afternoon.

The first meeting of the present season for the Woman's club will be held next Monday afternoon in the commercial club rooms. This will be a social session and no set program has been provided, according to the president, Mrs. Daniel Shaw. The work for the year will be outlined and a plan of procedure discussed, however, and it is greatly desired that all ladies who take an interest in the aims of the organization be present at this time.

A regular program is in process of preparation and will be ready for distribution at the meeting in printed form. The selection of subjects for discussion as well as the general order of work proposed shows careful consideration on the part of those who have had this matter in charge and will provide ample scope for every kind of activity in which the organization sees fit to interest itself.

The Thief River Falls club is recognized as one of the most active and progressive in the entire state, having received many compliments on its excellent accomplishments from the highest sources. The new season starts out with the promise of greater interest in the organization than has ever before been shown. The new president and other officers are energetic and have acquired a vast amount of experience through their long connection with women's work. They will set a pace that other clubs will find it hard to follow.

the manufacturing price, selling on the basis of purchase. We now sell you on the market value.

MR. FARMER: You may imagine that when you buy from a mail order house you are getting the same quality of goods at less money than you do from us. Stop to consider, Mr. Farmer, if you were no nearer a good market town than you are to the

MAIL ORDER HOUSES

WHAT WOULD BE THE VALUE OF YOUR FARMS?

You're getting back on the enhanced value of your farms vastly more than the small profits merchants charge you on purchases made from them.

Think This Over

MR. WORKINGMAN: You can buy your merchandise cheaper from your own merchcants than from the mail order houses. In addition you add to the growth of your own local retail stores. Prosperous retail stores mean a prosperous growing community, and a prosperous growing community offers continually wider fields for labor. For instance, in improvements alone we have spent thousands of dollars in the last few years which have gone directly to the workingman.

Service

Here at Lokens' we don't talk about "Our Store." We refer to it as "Your Store." We realize that we cannot exist without you—The Buying Public.

The first principle that we instill into our salespeople is that their "boss" is not our president or merchandise manager, or department head, but you, the customer.

Your interests come first, because we realize that we must truly serve you and give you a little more than you expect in the return for your expenditure if we are to grow and prosper.

The most important rule in this store is that you must be satisfied in every transaction. In order to insure your satisfaction and to serve your interests fully, there are two fundamental principles that are a part of our store policy.

First,—the merchandise must be right and it must live up to all claims we make for it. It must represent full dollar for dollar value. That is why we have the exclusive sales franchise for nationally known branded lines such as Printzess, Wooltex, Sterling, Hoveland and Palmer suits and coats; LaMerrit, Sterling and College Princess dresses, Jack Tar middies, Warner and Nemo corsets, Queen Quality ladies' fine shoes, Buster Brown children's shoes, the Budd Baby shoe, Elsie Dinsmore and Little Sister girls' wash dresses, Lampher-Skinner furs, Skinner's silks and satins, and dozens of other nationally known brands.

Second,—The sales person must be able to study your requirements and see that you secure the article best fittted to these. In our garment department, for instance, we send our girls to the large Eastern markets. Right through the factories they go, where they see and learn from first hands how the garments we sell are styled and manufactured. This is done so they may know the fundamentals of style, materials and colors, and be able to advise you intelligently on the gowns that will best express your individual personality.

These two factors—a good article plus intelligent service—are the basis of every transaction between this store and the customer.

Now compare this, if you please, with the service you receive from any mail order house. Of course there is no comparison, because they don't give you any service. You look only at a picture in their catalog, decide you want it, make out the order, buy a money order and a stamped envelope, which you pay for. You are furnishing the service, not them. Then when they receive your money and your order they grab a box off the shelf, put your address on it and express it to you. Suppose we sold goods that way to you. Suppose you came in here and said to us: "I wish that dress," (pointing to a dress pictured in our catalog). We pull out a box with this dress in it in the size you asked for and say, "$24.95, please." Would you be contented to take that box home with you without even looking what we gave you? YOU WOULD NOT. Why, you would be insulted at such service. Yet you are allowing a total stranger to do this very thing to you every now and then.

Think it over and you will soon understand why this store is growing so rapidly. H. O. LOKEN.

Loken Brothers' Department Store, Thief River Falls, Minnesota

MUCH INTEREST IN NEW CLUB DINNERS

First Noon-Day Gathering Presages Success of New Commercial Club Venture.

Considerable interest in the Thursday noon-day lunches of the commercial club was manifested last week when nearly thirty enjoyed the first "feed" put on by the club as part of the fall and winter activities. Indications today are that a still larger number will be on hand for the luncheon. It is in the nature of a cafeteria lunch and is served at 12 o'clock sharp. At the conclusion of the meal the business before the club is disposed of and adjournment taken at 1 o'clock.

Former Senator D. P. O'Neill was the speaker of the day last week, taking as his subject the matter of good roads. He explained in an able manner the many advantages of the highway system proposed under the Babcock amendment. R. A. Pretchett, a farmer of Ward county, North Dakota, also spoke to the club members, telling of the good results to be derived from a better community spirit.

Daniel Shaw concluded the program by urging the members of the club, all business and professional men and all owners of automobiles to contribute to the fund now being raised by the club for the carrying on of the Minnesota Highway Improvement association. This city is one of the last in the state to do its share in this matter and the following committee is very anxious to get the matter cleaned up without further delay: G. W. Connell, M. T. McFarland, W. B. Fuller, H. C. Johnson, Robt. McGinn and E. K. Ansen.

SIGNAL HONOR FOR THIEF RIVER MAN

The name Thief River Falls will be brought to the attention of citizens and visitors at Fort Wayne, Indiana, in a rather unusual manner and for a long time to come. A tree recently planted in honor of Abraham Lincoln at Foster park in that city bears the following inscription on a tablet of imperishable bronze:

"This Abe Lincoln Cedar commemorates the first memorial and prepetuates our homage to Lincoln's stirling virtues. It is given by E. M. Bennes, Thief River Falls, Minn., salesman for the Lincoln National Life Insurance company of Fort Wayne."

Mr. Bennes became sponsor for this memorial in a competition in which more than 2000 agents participated. The Lincoln insurance people had decided to honor the great man after whom it was named by planting a tree at Fort Wayne and offered to make the agent writing the largest amount of business during the month of April its donator. Mr. Bennis topped all his associates, leading the man next him by about $3000, and thus will have his name associated with that of the great emancipator upon a bronze tablet in a state far from his home.

In this connection it may be interesting to note that the first memorial to Lincoln was a cedar tree planted by one of his friends at Gentryville, Indiana, in 1830, just after the Lincoln family had moved to Illionis. It was called the Abe Lincoln Cedar and was a tribute to the abilities and honesty of the young man as he had impressed himself upon his early friends.

FOOTBALL CONTEST HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Red Lake Falls City Team to Be Taken on By Strong Squad of Local Players.

The first football game of the season to be played in Thief River Falls this season is scheduled for Athletic park next Sunday at 3 p. m. The first Thief River Falls city team will at that time take on the Red Lake Falls city team and an interesting contest is looked forward to.

The local team is composed of former college and high school stars and is starting out with a determination to win the championship of this section. The boys have been doing some preliminary work and practice and those who have witnessed the performances of the team claim that it is one of the fastest aggregations ever assembled here.

Just about the same thing is true of the Red Lake Falls team. It is composed of players who have starred on former college and high school teams and promises to be a formidable contender for the district championship. Those who desire to see a real football game should make arrangements to be on hand at Athletic park next Sunday afternoon. Republican Noonday Luncheon.

A social event of more than ordinary importance was the noonday luncheon given by the Republican women at the Evelyn hotel on Friday. Mrs. C. A. Severance of St. Paul, national committee woman for the Republican party and a speaker of national prominence, spoke about political issues affecting the welfare of women. In her address, Mrs. Severance laid emphasis on the fact that women were going to play an important and active part in political affairs. She showed how women have wonderful powers of organization—one thing that wins and will save our country. She also pointed out how cooperation between men and women would lead to a betterment in politics. She explained in detail the necessity of belonging to a political party. Explanation for the strong opposition to the League of Nations was also made. She spoke commendably about J. A. O. Preus and Senator Harding. She also complimented Mrs. J. M. Bishop on the splendid work she is doing at the Republican headquarters at St. Paul. Miss Effie Hurry, county chairman of Republican women deserves worthy praise for her manner of leadership, and Ward Chairmen Miss Marie Nelson, Mrs. T. P. Anderson, Mrs. L. H. Lawrence and Mrs. A. Bottelson ably assisted in making this event a success. Mrs. Severance's visit was greatly enjoyed and local women feel benefited by her impressive talk.

Jacobson-Teal.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride, 215 South Duluth avenue on Monday afternoon, Sept. 27, uniting Hubert L. Jacobson and Miss Pearl E. Teal in the holy bonds of matrimony. Only immediate relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. R. L. Barackman, pastor of the local Presbyterian church. After a brief wedding trip which will be spent in visiting friends in Grand Forks the newlyweds will return to this city to make their home. Mr. Jacobson is employed as train inspector on the Soo. Their many friends offer congratulations.

Teachers' Reception.

The reception for the teachers, which is an annual social function, was held in the commercial club rooms Monday evening and was well attended. This event afforded a pleasant opportunity for the teachers and parents to become acquainted. Dr. H. W. Froehlich, president of the school board and W. A. Ziegler, superintendent of the local schools, made speeches while Mrs. Guy Halvorson and Miss Dora Holmen delighted the guests with vocal numbers which were very well received. Light refreshments concluded a most enjoyable evening.

For Mrs. Berg.

An informal affair of the afternoon was held at the home of Mrs. Bredesen, Arnold avenue, on Friday, when she entertained a number of ladies in compliment to Mrs. Inga Berg, who left on Sunday evening for Minneapolis where she will spend the winter. The hours were devoted to knitting and conversation. At five o'clock a delicious lunch was served. Mrs. Nyhus, Mrs. John Dahl, Mrs. Geo. Larson, Mrs. J. Vold and Mrs. Inga Berg were the guests.

RENEWED TESTIMONY

No one in Thief River Falls who suffers backache, headache, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Thief River Falls woman's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Thief River Falls resident can doubt.

Mrs. Geo. Williams, 412 Main Ave., N., Thief River Falls, says: "I used many remedies for kidney trouble and backache but had no permanent relief until I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Curtis' Drug Store. This remedy not only cured my back but made me feel better in every way. I am only sorry that Doan's didn't come to my attention sooner."

OVER SEVEN YEARS LATER Mrs. Williams said: "During the past seven years Doan's Kidney Pills have done the work whenever I have used them for kidney weakness. I hold Doan's in the same high estimation as when I first endorsed them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Williams had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—adv.

No Change in Nash Prices

TO NASH DEALERS:

We have just received the following letter, over the signature of Mr. Voorhis, Vice-President and General Sales Manager of The Nash Motors Company, Kenosha, Wisconsini, touching on this important question of prices. We feel it is best to extend his letter to you verbatim. We ourselves want to emphasize the last paragraph of Mr. Voorhis' letter.

Yours very truly,

Kenosha, Wisconsin, Sept. 25, 1920.

NASH SALES COMPANY,

GENTLEMEN:

The reduction in the price of Ford and Franklin cars just made will undoubtedly have a tendency to unsettle conditions temporarily as prospective buyers of Nash cars will put off taking delivery until they are sure that there will be no immediate reduction in our prices.

Inasmuch as our prices were established on an extremely conservative basis so far as our margin of profit is concerned, and taking into consideration the fact that Nash cars are generally conceded to be under priced in comparison with other cars in our price class, we cannot justify any reduction in our prices at this time based on good business principles. Neither can we see any possibility of a change in our prices between this date and July, 1921.

Yours very truly,
THE NASH MOTORS COMPANY,

GO HEAR THEM ALL.

It is likely that the people of this neighborhood will have an opportunity of hearing the three leading candidates for governor of Minnesota before election day. Mr. Preus comes here in company with Mr. Collins, his running mate, on Saturday evening. Dr. Shipstead will certainly be here later in the campaign and local Democrats are in hopes of inducing Mayor Hodgson to include the city in his itinerary.

This will give our people quite a layout to choose from. While it is not likely that many voters will be changed by the appearance of these men, yet it will be good for us to hear what each one in turn has to say. One of them will be the chief executive officer of the state of Minnesota during the next two years and all of us should be interested in having a near view of them as well as first-hand knowledge of the things for which they stand.

An American who says that he takes no interest in politics and consequently does not care anything about what candidates have to offer nor for the principles upon which they are seeking his suffrage, is admitting that he is not a very good citizen. It is your business—everybody's business—to care about these things. Unless you find out what all candidates stand for and vote for the one you think will best fill the office sought, you have very little kick coming if the man elected does not come up to your expectations.

Come out and hear Preus and Collins on Saturday evening. Turn out for the Shipstead meeting also, and in case Hodgson speaks in Thief River Falls later in the campaign, take the opportunity offered of looking him over. In that way the community will get credit for taking an interest in what is offered in the way of candidates at any rate.

DONT OVERLOOK THE PINK BALLOT.

While Amendment No. 1 has received nearly all the notice up to date by reason of its outstanding importance, there are others coming up for decision that should not be overlooked. A good roads system for the state appeals to men and women in every walk of life and there is no great danger of anything pertaining to its establishment being passed up. For this reason it is probable that the Babcock law will receive the largest vote ever cast for a constitutional amendment in the state.

But there are three other amendments up for consideration by the voters, each worthy of careful attention. Number 2 provides for the choosing of judges of probate every four years as is the case with other county officials. There certainly can be no opposition to this proposition. Under the present law the judge of probate must be selected every two years, the entire election machinery of the state being put in motion in order to accomplish this minor result. No sensible person will object to this change.

Amendment No. 3 authorizes the legislature to change the system of taxation on personal property in certain cases, levying in its place an income tax. That this will provide a more equitable method of dealing with the matter cannot be denied. A demand for such change has long been felt and the last legislature placed the question before the people. If this law is fully understood there is hardly question of its passage.

The fourth amendment on the list permits the levying of assessments against railroad companies to meet the cost of local improvements. As matters now stand the gross earnings tax covers everything with the result that municipalities must foot the cost of all street pavement, sewers, waterworks and sidewalks for the railroads. Sometimes these are paid voluntarily by the companies but there is nothing in the law compelling the latter to do this if they do not se fit. The proposed amendment will make it possible for municipal authorities to levy on this class of property for such improvements the same as any other.

These amendments are all good ones and should be passed. There is no question but that the voters of the state will favor every one of them, but up to date the good roads amendment has so far overshadowed all others that those remaining may be lost by default. Every voter should acquaint himself with these matters and make it a point not to overlook the pink ballot.

STARTS OUT WELL.

The attendance last Thursday at the first noonday luncheon given by the commercial club augurs well for the success of the plan. A larger number of members showed up than is often the case at regular club meetings.

The subjects handled by the speakers were all timely and of importance. Nothing startlingly new was proposed but matters were touched upon that should be receiving a greater share of attention at this time. This applies particularly to the good roads agitation that is now going on all over the country and particularly in Minnesota. Nothing of more direct application could have been hit upon as a topic for discussion nor could anything have been more timely.

Noonday luncheons have proved great community building stimulants wherever tried and there is every reason for believing that such will be their history here. Much depends upon the club officials as it will largely devolve upon them to map out the programs. There is certainly no shortage of interesting subjects and ordinarily the men who can discuss them most intelligently can be secured. We have a number of first-class citizens of this kind right here at home and they will no doubt be given the opportunity of presenting their views.

The plan is a good one and starts out with every promise of being a great success.

A FOOLISH PERFORMANCE.

The ousting of the Socialist members of the New York assembly is being generally commented on by the newspapers of the country as a preposterous piece of business. Editors of every political complexion condemn the proceeding as a usurpation of power on the part of the legislature and the opinion is freely expressed that a result opposite from that sought will be the outcome.

These men had committeed no offense for which they could be brought before the bar of any unprejudiced tribunal. They simply exercised their rights as American citizens, a right that guarantees them the privilege of thinking and talking as they see fit so long as none of the laws of the land are transgressed. Actions like that of the New York legislature breeds opposition to regularly constituted government instead of quelling it.

Charles E. Hughes, former governor of New York and four years ago candidate on the Republican ticket for president of the United States, says:

"The ouster of the Socialist members of the assembly is an act of incredible folly and is in flagrant disregard of the fundamental principles of American institutions.

"I am opposed to Socialism and it is because I wish to see our institutions preserved that I think this action, which is of the essence of sovietism, should be denounced.

"It is the more flagrant because these members of the assembly had just been re-elected in accordance with our laws and at a fair election, and because, so far as provisions of the Constitution of the Socialist party gave any pretext for the previous ouster, these had been removed."

TEN SOUND REASONS.

As the general purpose of the Babcock good roads amendment becomes more generally understood objection to its adoption disappears. Almost any project involving such vast expenditure of money would require that people be given time to acquaint themselves with its provisions before giving it their unqualified endorsement. The campaign of education carried on under the direction of the State Highway department has had the desired affect and it looks now as if there would be but few votes cast against the proposition on election day.

In order to put the matter in as short a form as possible ten reasons have been given why this amendment should receive the vote of every man and woman who goes to the polls. These reasons are:

1. It will give to Minnesota a 7,000 mile trunk highway system.
2. It will remove from the counties the burden of building and maintaining these expensive highways.
3. It will release sufficient local funds, if concentrated, to enable the counties and townships to build 21,850 miles of gravelled roads in 10 years.
4. This magnificent system of highways can be constructed without increasing taxes a penny. There will be no increase in general taxes.
5. The motor vehicle owners who pay increased license fees will get their money back three-fold through saving in the cost of operating their cars.
6. It will enable Minnesota, for the first time, to take up and solve its road building problem in a business-like way.
7. It will bring millions of dollars into Minnesota every year by making the beauty spots of the commonwealth accessible to tourists from other states.
8. It will add hundreds of millions of dollars to the wealth of the state by reducing marketing costs and developing our agricultural resources.
9. It will carry the benefits of good roads, through its mainteance features, to all parts of the state simultaneously without awaiting slow and wearisome road building.
10. It will give to Minnesota the most wonderful road system possessed by any state without increasing the burden of taxation one penny.

A SERIOUS SITUATION.

According to press reports there is grave danger of people in the Northwest freezing to death for the lack of coal during the coming winter. It is claimed that the entire territory west of Duluth-Superior has received less than 25 per cent of its normal annual requirements and that the situation is decidedly serious.

This will, of course, have no effect on the man who delays ordering his coal until the last minute. Fuel has been a scarce article during the three past winters, and while there has perhaps been no actual sufferings, the condition has proved most annoying. If the coming season is to be worse in this respect than its predecessors it will be well for even those who habitually hold off everything as long as possible to give thought to the matter.

The situation will in no manner be helped by one's standing around and cussing the coal operators, miners, transportation companies or dock men. Any one or all of these may be to blame, but this fact will not prevent a man's family from freezing if there is no fuel in sight. The thing to do is to get the bin filled at the earliest opportunity. Coal dealers have urged that this be done all summer, anticipating exactly what has happened. Very few paid any attention to this warning, the general opinion seemingly being that there would be plenty of coal when the time came for firing up. It may prove that they were right—at least it is to be hoped that such is the case—but the outlook is far from cheering at this time.

It is probable that those who place their orders at once may be supplied. Local dealers are still able to secure coal, but none will promise anything for the future. One thing is certain—the man who has his bin full at this time is money ahead as well as relieved of considerable worry.

The action of a number of Minnesota banks in buying the bonds offered by the state in sufficient quantities to pay the service men in their communities the bonuses due them is a fine, patriotic move and one that should be generally followed. The bonds are purchased by the banks and the money is sent by the state direct to those who are to be benefited by the purchase. The boys are entitled to $15 for each month they served but the state has not the funds with which to pay the amount on hand at the present time. The next legislature will doubtless make provision for the payment of the entire sum, but in the meantime these banks are making it possible for the money to be secured without delay.

Women will not have to tell election judges how old they are in order to be allowed to cast a ballot—not in Minnesota at any rate. Attorney General Hilton has ruled that it will be sufficient for the officials in charge of the booth to know that the new elector is "more than 21" and that a more explicit statement is unnecessary. The real nice clerk of election will look surprised and a little doubtful when this information is given—if he knows his business.

Now that Mexico's new President has been sworn in, it's up to the family to go ahead with the funeral arrangements.—Topeka Capital.

Speaking of equal suffrage, an anti newspaper recently spoke of it as "useless fifth wheel in politics." In the case of an automobile we are reminded that the fifth wheel is the steering wheel.—Roseau Region.

There will be hurried councils in the political camps now. Some plan must be devised to keep mice away from the polls.—Pittsburgh Sun.

Peat land crop experiments this year tell the same story as in former years—that an application of phosphate or manure cause them to produce much heavier crops than in their natural state.—Warroad Pioneer.

Study at Home.

The age calls for mental activity. The citizen of a democracy should be able to use his mind intelligently. Education can no longer be thought of as limited to the immature years of life or, as with the great majority of people, stopping at a very early age; but it must be considered as a permanent necessity for personal and be general and lifelong. More and more men and women see this, and hence seek for opportunities to do systematic studying, especially during the cooler parts of the year. They are now giving thought to the work to be taken up during the coming winter. The Correspondence-Study Department of the State University is ready to help meet this widespread demand for more education that exists among the adult citizens of the state and is interested in helping every person who cannot attend classes, or who fails to find in them what he wants, to secure the instruction he desires. Its work extends into nearly every field of study and is of varyly every field of study and is of varying grades to suit the needs of those who have little, as well as those who have much, previous education. Full information about the courses offered can be obtained by sending a card to the Correspondence-Study Department University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

Two girls and two boys arrived this week to augment the population of Pennington county. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crown and Mr. and Mrs. John McCrary are the parents of the little girls, while Mr. and Mrs. John Engelbert and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Laubach were blessed with sons.

Change in Running Time.

Effective October 15th, 1920 a new time table will be in operation on the Minnesota Northwestern Electric Railway. Changes made therein are necessary on account of the increased amount of freight business this year. The more important changes are as follows: Train No. 1 will leave Thief River Falls at 7:30 a. m., and arrive at Goodridge at 8:40 a. m. Train No. 2 will leave Goodridge at 9:10 a. m., and arrive at Thief River Falls at 10:30 a. m. Train No. 3 will leave Thief River Falls at 3:00 p. m. and arrive at Goodridge at 3:50 p. m. Train No. 4 will leave Goodridge at 4:40 p. m., and arrive Thief River Falls at 5:50 p. m. Stops Nos. 1, 2 and 3 have been eliminated. The first regular stop out of Thief River Falls will now be No. 4. A supply of printed time tables showing the schedule time at all stops are now on hand and will be mailed upon request. Also merchants and others interested can secure large display cards showing time at all stops from Agent at Goodridge or at General Offices at Thief River Falls.

Very truly yours,
H. W. PROTZELLER.
General Manager.

Stories of Luther Burbank.

Luther Burbank is the most interesting man in the world to us, and we think to most persons, and "The Stories of Luther Burbank and His Plant School" is one of the most wonderful books we have seen anywhere at any time. By the introduction of full-page colored pictures of the Shasta Daisy, the Crimson Escholtzia, Fire Poppy, Lemon Calla, Spineless Cactus Slab, Rutland Plumcot, Gold Ridge Apple, and four new peaches, and fifty-four other beautiful pictures the publishers have greatly magnified the value as well as the attractiveness of the book.

The Introduction, by Mr. Burbank himself, is too valuable not to be used in this connection.

"Educational methods have changed. Fifty years ago the education of children was on the theory that they were all naturally bad, while today it has dawned upon teachers and also the public that there are both good and bad tendencies in every child, and that education should not attempt to make children over according to rule. They should be led to love and cherish and cultivate the best tendencies, while the undesirable ones will fade from neglect and lack of encouragement. Mother Nature teaches many a lesson not to be learned in school. True education should promote a happy development along the natural tendencies rather than provide punishments for not bending to arbitrary rules to be obeyed. To be sure, discipline is needed, but it should be along natural lines of development; rather than by the too arbitrary "Thou shalt, and thou shalt not." A child should fully realize that greatly upon his own actions and character depend his own happiness or punishment, thus fewer laws and rules would be necessary. Modern educational methods rely more upon a fundamental love of nature and of our fellow-travels through life than upon force, punishment, and the ability to learn certain generally accepted forms of words and phrases.

"All teachers who are such from love of their work have felt the need of some pleasing yet practical reader which providing everyday work should be at the same time so constructed as to be in kindly sympathy and accord with the child's mind. The three prominent educators of long experience who have collaborated with the publishers of this work, while quite faithfully delineating the methods employed in producing newer and far more valuable plants, trees, fruits and flowers, have confined themselves strictly to the facts, and have described the methods in a most pleasing form for the child."

COMPLETE QUESTIONNAIRE FOR CLERKS IN OUR POSTOFFICES

A Washington, D. C. post office clerk, nettled at the many questionnaires he has been asked to fill out and return to Congress or to organization headquarters, has suggested to Thomas F. Flaherty, secretary of the National Federation of Post-Office clerks, the following draft of a questionnaire, which he says more nearly meets the needs of the government clerks than any other yet proposed:

1. Are you married or single?—— Why?——
2. Do you drink near-beer?—— Why?——
3. What is your favorite flower?——
4. If a box clerk, are you troubled with insomnia?——
5. Did you withdraw any money from the bank during the past year? —— Where did you get it to put in? ——
6. Does your wife play the piano? —— What effect does this have on your rent?——
7. Are you a light eater or heavy? —— If heavy, state how and why——
8. Has your yearly expenditure for rent increased since the shortage of houses prevents frequent moving?——
9. Are you on friendly terms with your relations?—— Why?——
10. If possible, give the name of someone less intelligent than yourself, yet making more salary——
11. State average monthly grocery bill and payments if any——
12. State briefly (no profanity allowed) what your wife thinks of being married to a post-office clerk——
13. Do you drink and where do you get it? (This information will be treated as confidential.)——
14. Exclusive of bartenders, how many people depend on you for support?——
15. Do you keep chickens? Does your wife know about it?——
16. Does your wife take in washing to help support the family?—— Have you suggested this to her?—— If so, state results and name of hospital——
17. What do you think is a fair salary for a good worker?—— For yourself?——

The Tax System.

When a man has built a barn—
They are rather chumps, you know!
If they were not they would go
And tax him!
Has a man some idle earth—
Don't tax him!
Though it's climbing up in worth—
Don't tax him!
Let him reap what others sow, adaptable for all kinds of work and
When a man has cleared a farm—
Tax him!
When he lays another roof,
When he grows another hoof,
Then tax him!
Hustle 'round and get the proof,
Tax him!

WOMEN CONTROL TOWN'S INDUSTRY

(Copyright.)

It has been said that the hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world and nowhere is this more literally true than in the world of trade. The woman is the purchasing agent of the household and man, as a rule, is very glad to have her handle the job.

It has been estimated by some students of the merchandising game that 80 per cent of all retail buying is done by women. This may be a high estimate but a visit to the retail stores of any town or city is enough to convince one that the figures are not too high. The preponderance of women among the buyers is sufficient at any rate to make not only the retailer but the manufacturer and the wholesaler realize that it is the women that they must please with their merchandise.

Because they do by far the greatest part of the buying in any community, the women have a responsibility that they do not always appreciate. The women of a town, through their buying power, can make or break the merchants of a town and as a natural consequence they can make or break the town. It is in their power to make it a prosperous town or a dead town. When the women of a town acquire the mail order habit, the town may just as well begin making arrangements for its own obsequies.

Hard to Understand.

Just why a woman, who is a shopper by instinct and a shrewd judge of values in merchandise, should succumb to the lures of the mail order house it is difficult to understand but, unfortunately, some of them do. No one knows better than the woman who has had some experience in the buying of merchandise how difficult it is to distinguish between the genuine and the imitation even after a close inspection. The good shopper, when on buying bent, does not always take the first article that is offered for inspection. In fact this is the exception rather than the rule. The merchants know it and expect it. They expect a woman, if she is a good shopper, to "look around a little."

If a woman should walk into a retail store and purchase the first suit that she tries on, for instance, the shock probably would prove fatal to the storekeeper or the saleswoman. The chances are that she will try on a dozen suits and look at as many more before she selects one that suits her taste or pocketbook, and the storekeeper not only expects but wishes her to do this. He wishes her to be satisfied as he knows that satisfied customer is the best advertisement that he can obtaini.

Taking a Chance.

This same woman, however, may order a suit from a mail order house on the strength of nothing more than a pretty picture and an alluring description. She has not even the opportunity to try it on, to say nothing of the chance of examining the fabric, noting the exact shade of the material and inspecting the workmanship. She is taking chances on the suit fitting her or the material being good and durable, the shade becoming to her and the workmanship of such a character that the suit will not fall to pieces. The woman who takes such chances cannot be called a shrewd shopper.

It might be more easily understood why mere man, unaccustomed and averse, as a rule, to shopping excursions, should fall a victim to the catalogue habit. He might find it easier to order from the picture in the catalogue than to go to a store and look for the article that he wanted or he might take the position that he wouldn't know what he was getting anyway if he went to the store and he might as well take a chance on the mail order gamble, but why the woman who knows what she wants and knows that she is getting what she wants when she gets it should buy on the "sight unseen" plan—well, that's another question altogether.

Woman's Greatest Opportunity.

Women are taking a more and more prominent part in public affairs all the time. They are aiding now in many parts of the country in running the affairs of state. Even where they do not have the ballot they are playing a big part, individually and thru their organizations in the conduct particularly of local governments, yet in the one field where they can do most to help build up their communities they may be overlooking their opportunity. With the buying power in their hands they can do more for their community by staunchly supporting their home business men than they can possibly do in any other way.

Man may think he is a very important element in the progress and development of his town but when he reflects that 80 per cent of the buying power of the community is in the hands of the women he is apt to realize that he is a very insignificant atom.

CHAPEL EXERCISES

Wednesday morning the students of the high school enjoyed hearing the first of the numerous chapel programs for the year. The program was opened by singing, followed by an address by Miss Coleman of the Northern Division of the American Red Cross.

Miss Coleman was here for the teachers' institute. She recently returned from Poland, where she has been with the Red Cross taking care of civilian victims of typhus.

The first hospital which Miss Coleman was located at was an old officers' training camp. She related many amusing incidents which happened while she was on night duty in Russia last June. Several members of the famous "Battalion of Death" were stationed at Vilna as guards at the time.

As the Russians approached Vilna the American relief workers were transferred to Warsaw, and from there on to Limburg. Here they secured quarters in an old palace, but as an aviator from the Kosciusco squadron (American) made a forced landing on the roof and crushed it in, they had to move into a house that had been owned and from the manner in which it had been arranged, had undoubtedly been built for an insane princess.

One of the great Polish prison camps is located at Vilna. Here a typical representation of modern Bolshevik Russia is to be seen. "The filth and raggedness of the Russian prisoners," said Miss Coleman, "was beyond the scope of human imagination."

At Limberg Miss Coleman was detailed to investigate requests for help from the American relief supplies. These investigations often revealed great suffering, especially among old infirm people and young children. One family consisting of an old man and four small children was found living in a windowless room about six by ten feet. An eight year old newsboy, earning seven marks, or less than one cent a day, supported the family. Food was regularly distributed to bread lines which would often extend for several blocks in length.

In August Miss Coleman was sent home by way of Rome.

Following Miss Coleman's talk an announcement was made by two members of the 1920 class, Reuben Hadrath and Dennis McGinn, who were here in the interests of the 1920 "Prowler."

Class Elections.

The selecting of officers of the Senior class resulted in the election of Dreng Bjornaran, president; Mary Vance, vice president; Ethel Conklin, secretary; and Clayton Steenerson, treasurer; while the position of sergeant-at-arms was filled by Dottie Krafthefer and MaeBelle Swanson. The class feels safe in believing that it has selected a group of officers who are efficient, reliable and responsible—and with the general co-operation which is so plainly evident the class of 1921 will be a credit to the high school.

The Junior class met Thursday at 3:30 p. m. for the purpose of electing a class advisor and class officers. The former vice president, Shirley Anderson, acted as chairman of the meeting.

With this efficient set of officers and the co-operation of the other members of the class, the Juniors look forward to a profitable and enjoyable year.

A Sophomore class meeting was held last Friday after school for the purpose of selecting officers for the ensuing year. Miss Lorrayne Crandall took charge of the meeting. The following officers were elected: Miss Dix, class advisor; Olive Lonson, president; Craig Halvorson, vice president; Ole Helle, secretary; Myrtle Senate, treasurer; Guy Oftelie and James Votava, sergeants-at-arms.

With the co-operation of this able set of officers and the rest of the class the Sophomores may look forward to a successful school year.

Teachers' Institute Sept. 20-24.

The rural teachers of Pennington county were last week assembled in the high school gymnasium for their annual institute, arranged by County Superintendent George M. Gunderson and conducted by Miss Osborne and Mrs. Payne, who were sent out by the state department of education. There were 46 teachers present, in addition to the high school normal training class.

The purpose of the institute is to help rural teachers in their work during the coming school year, and to acquaint them with changes and additions which have been made in their work. Particular emphasis was put on the teaching of arithmetic and English. Nature study was also given considerable attention. "The Teachers' Patriotic League" and the "Citizens' League" were discussed and explained, so that each teacher may know just what is required in that line. The "Teachers' Patriotic League" was changed to "Teachers' Progressive League," its aim being to better the conditions in the rural schools. Action games were played during recesses.

Physical examinations were given by Miss Coleman, a Red Cross nurse, largely for the purpose of enabling the teachers themselves to give examinations in their respective schools.

An executive board was elected with the following officials:

President, Ida Legvold; vice president, Anne Barstad; secretary, Mrs. Kline; treasurer, Sena Welo.

Supt. Ziegler gave an interesting talk on "The New Philosophy of Education," and Miss Johnson, the high school music instructor, on "Music in the Country Schools." County Agent J. J. McCann discussed "Boys' and Girls' Club Work."

Tuesday evening the teachers enjoyed a picnic arranged by the normal class, at Squaw Point. Lunch was served and wieners were roasted over the campfire; after which games were played until dark.

The following are the members of the T. R. F. H. S. Alumni present at the institute, their year of graduation and place of teaching:

Athletic Board Meets.

The first meeting this season of the High School Athletic Board was held Tuesday after school in Mr. Tommeraasen's room. All the members of the board were not present, so only a small part of the intended business could be transacted.

Several members of the faculty were nominated as the other two members of the board and will be voted upon at the next meeting. Season tickets, including all football and basketball games of the season, were issued to the members to be sold to the students at two dollars apiece and to outsiders at three dollars.

Big Athletic Mass Meeting.

On Tuesday morning the student body of Lincoln High was called together to create some pep and enthusiasm for the coming football season and also to try to persuade more men to come out for football.

The meeting was opened by Mr. Pierce, who then turned the meeting over to Athletic Manager Smithers. Manager Smithers gave a short talk emphasizing the need of more men coming out for football practice in order that our 1920 football squad might be a success. Then Coache Tommeraasen was called upon and he also emphasized the need of more men coming out for the practice.

Following the coach's talk, the captain of the 1920 football squad, Ernest Barzen, and squad members Ernest Zeh, Jordan Penney, Howard Dolan, Charles Herron, Clifford Sorenson, Dreng Bjornaran, Russell Anderson, Robert McGinn and David Evenson were called on and they gave some exceedingly good reasons why all the boys should come out. They promised the newcomers that they would not treat 'em as rough as they did "Fat" Evenson.

The Grafton Game.

On Saturday, Sept. 25, our local football squad journeyed into the wilds of North Dakota and took on the "pig skin punters" of Grafton. The game opened with a rush and a touchdown was scored by Grafton in the first three minutes of the game. At the end of the game the score stood 61-0 in favor of the opposing team.

This outrageously high score was due almost wholly to lack of practice in scrimmage and to the inexperience of some of the Thief River Falls men. But, after a few more days of hard practice and scrimmage, we feel certain that we will come home from our next game with a different story.

The Report Card.

At regular intervals during the school year your child comes home with a report card.

This report is a more or less efficient barometer of your child's educational progress, and should be watched carefully.

But some parents, kindhearted ones at that, have the mistaken idea that they encourage progress by pointing out the weak places on the card, taking it for granted that the child should have the "good" marks the card shows.

A better method was adopted by a wise father. He saw only the best marks. That is to say, he talked about the good marks, ignoring those below "fair." He dwelt so enthusiastically on the "excellents" that his child came to understand that he was studying, not to keep from the bottom of the class, but to get nearer the top.

Try it on your child's report card next time.—Minneapolis Daily News.

One New School Each Day.

New high schools have been added to the American educational system at the rate of at least one a day during the last 28 years.

Statistics compiled by the Federal Bureau of Education show that there are now more than 17,000 such schools, an increase of 452 per cent over the number in 1890. Attendance figures from 14,000 of these schools give a total of 1,735,619 pupils, indicating in effect that one-tenth of the population is getting high school educations, the bureau states.

Only 632 of the schools reporting to the bureau enroll 500 students each and 278 enroll over 1,000, while one-half of the 13,951 schools tabulated have an enrollment of between 27 and 100 students. City high schools constitute less than 10 per cent of the total. They enroll 52 per cent of all the pupils. Almost 85 per cent of the high schools are rural, with 40 per cent of the students.

As 65 per cent of the schools offering a four-year course have terms of only 180 days during the year, a longer school term is "unmistakably foreshadowed," according to bureau officials. The schools cost thousands of dollars to erect and to utilize the property for only 180 days a year is "bad judgment," the statement said.

The number of high school graduates has increased from 21,820 in 1890 to 224,367 in 1918. Considering the increase in population during this period it is found that American youths are becoming over six times as well educated as they were.

The state of Texas leads in percentage of high school graduates who continue their studies in preparatory school or college. North Carolina and Kentucky are second and third, respectively.

The average high school principal, the statistics show, receives $1,272 a year, or about $100 a month for the entire year. Principals of the District of Columbia, California, Arizona, Massachusetts and New York receive the highest salaries in the order named, while Nebraska pays the lowest average salary.

Significant School Data.

More than 4,000 pupils have entered the St. Paul high schools this month, compared with 625 in 1890, an increase of 565 per cent, compared with an increase of 100 per cent in the city's population, as it would be shown by an accurate count if one were made. This gain in high school attendance at the rate of nearly six times the increase of population is remarkable evidence of the greater value now placed on education above the eighth grade as compared with 30 years ago.

Educators declare that the chief reason for the increased demand for high school education is in the attitude of employers in all commercial lines. They prefer and frequently demand a high school education in young men and women seeking work. Compulsory education laws and child labor restrictions have little to do with the case as a good share of the pupils are more than 16 years old and nearly all are more than 14.

A striking fact in this connection is that there is almost exactly the same proportion of boys to girls in the high schools in 1920 that there was in 1890. In June, 1890, there were 289 boys and 336 girls enrolled in two high schools. In June, 1920, there were 1,902 boys and 2,251 girls in four high schools. Practically 46 per cent of the pupils were boys and 54 per cent girls in each instance. The introduction of manual training and commercial branches has attracted more boys, while general prosperity has made it possible for more girls to acquire a degree of education that used to be considered nonessential in less enlightened times.—St. Paul Dispatch.

Sounds From the Woodshed.

During the period directly following the War of 1812, only a few scattered families were to be found along the lower Ohio river. As the region was infested with Indians, only the hardier pioneers had entered the country. This was not always true of their children, however, as you will realize when you have heard the story of Dick and Davy Grant. The brothers lived with their parents on the left bank of the Ohio. Their homestead consisted of a little log cabin, a log barn and hen-house, and an old rickety woodshed.

At the time when Dick was fourteen years old and Davy two years younger, there was a great Indian scare in the neighborhood. The redskins resented the intrusion of their pale-faced neighbors, and reports of attacks on settlers were becoming more and more frequent.

One day Dick was told by his mother to carry in some wood. As he approached the woodshed he thought he heard sounds of someone creeping around on the loft flooring. Could it be that Indians were ambushed there? Dick shivered at the thought of a report that had come in the previous day. He motioned Davy to come, and told him of the squeaking noises he had heard.

"What shall we do? I don't care to go in there."

"But it might not be Indians. Then he would think we were cowards, to call him just because we had heard some strange sounds. It may be just the wind. We will go and feed the cattle, and say we forgot to bring the wood. Dad always goes to the woodshed with his hoe in the evening, so he can see then what it is."

Mr. Grant went unsuspiciously to the woodshed that evening, and was terrified when he was met with wild whoops, and a shower of tomahawks. Several of them grazed his body; he owed his life to the darkness rather than to poor aim on the part of the Indians, who really were in the woodshed. Although Grant managed to slip out and lock the door, the Indian prisoners made their escape by cutting a hole in the wall.

When Dick saw his father, cut and bleeding, he burst into tears and cried, "Oh, Dad! I wish I had told you!"

A Midnight Scare.

"Thump! Thump!"

"I just know there's a burglar downstairs!" cried Lillian, "And I simply won't stay in this room another minute!"

The frightened girls scampered across the hall floor and into the room at the farther end of the passage.

Lillian Parker and Grace McDonald were caring for the Hamilton children while their mother and father were visiting in Iowa. The first night everything went smoothly, but the mysterious noises that had seemed to come from below assured the girls that all was not well tonight.

The two children were sleeping peacefully, undisturbed by the mysterious sounds. The girls made a bed for themselves on the floor, but they could not sleep, for the "thump! thump!" continued. At last it stopped, and in the silence that followed, the birls could hear the stairway creak as though someone was climbing it cautiously.

The sound came nearer and nearer, and at last when the girls expected the door to open any minute and admit a dark object, Grace flew to the window and frantically called for help.

A neighbor heard her cry, and by the girls' request, searched the house. He found no burglar or any other kind of midnight prowler. Half-convinced, the girls once more went to bed.

When Ruth and Marie Hamilton awoke next morning, they were surprised to see Grace and Lillian sleeping on the floor near their bed. After much coaxing, for the girls did not want to frighten the children, they told them of the night's proceedings. When their tale was ended they were surprised to see the two children burst forth in a volley of giggles.

"Say, do you know," screamed little Ruth in delight, "that was the same automatic pump I 'splained to you yesterday!"

Personals.

Miss Maude Johnson, instructor of music in the public schools for the coming year, arrived Sunday morning from her home at Red Wing. Miss Johnson underwent a serious operation just before the opening of the schools and was unable on that account to come earlier.

Edward Fiterman was absent from school on Wednesday.

During chapel on Wednesday morning the following incident was noted: "Gap" Hadrath, speaking to the student body, said: "This annual contains photographs of the faculty from Principal Ella A. Evans to General Flunky Gordon P. Melby."

John Melgaard, former student of the Lincoln high school, departed on Tuesday evening for Miriam, Alabama, where he will attend a naval training academy for an indefinite time.

Ruth Kiland, a graduate with the class of 1920, left on Friday evening for Minneapolis, where she will attend business college.

During the recent football game at Grafton, there was a dispute in regard to a certain rule and one of the Graftonites exclaimed, "Well, we won't give them nothing." "They have that already," replied another.

American Legion Notes

POST MEMBERS ARE NOT AGAINST ORGANIZED LABOR

In order that a matter which has caused considerable misunderstanding among union men and post members alike might be cleared up and the ex-service men placed on record as to their attitude toward those affiliated with labor organizations, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The service men of the World War have seen fit to perfect an organization for the purpose of insuring to participants in the World's War, and especially those who were wounded in battle and those who came out of the service physically unfit and their next of kin, full protection in securing their rights, and,

Whereas, The American Legion, comprising some 2,000,000 service men, has been organized for the same avowed purpose, and,

Whereas, There has been organized in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, the Elmer J. Eklund Post No. 117, The American Legion, and,

Whereas, Many of the members of said Elmer J. Eklund Post No. 117 are members of organized labor, and,

Whereas, Some members of various organizations of labor are of the opinion that the American Legion is opposed in some manner or degree to organized labor, and,

Whereas, The Constitution and By Laws of The American Legion provide for a strict neutrality on the part of The American Legion or its posts in all disputes between capital and labor, and,

Whereas, It has been brought to our notice that some posts of The American Legion have been in some manner engaged in disputes between capital and labor, which said participation is against the Constitution and By Laws of said American Legion;

Therefore, Be it resolved, that Elmer J. Eklund Post No. 117, The American Legion at a regular called meeting, after regular written notice of its purpose, condemn the action of said American Legion Posts who have broken the laws of the national body and have participated in disputes between capital and labor, and,

Be It Further Resolved, That we most highly commend the attitude and action of the American Federation of Labor during the World War and that we go on record as being in sympathy with the rights of labor to organize and their right to collective bargaining and that we do not believe that it is within the jurisdiction of any post in the American Legion to consider a question of doing strike duty, and that if such a proposition were presented to Elmer J. Eklund Post No. 117, The American Legion, that we would feel that it was a matter improperly brought before the post and that same would not receive consideration in any manner whatsoever.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be published in all newspapers in Pennington county, Minnesota, and that a copy of same be forwarded to the heads of all labor organizations in said Pennington county, Minnesota.

Presented this 24th day of September, 1920, by G. Howard Smith, member resolutions committee.

We the undersigned president and secretary of Elmer J. Eklund Post of The American Legion, Thief River Falls, Minnesota hereby certify that the above resolution was presented at a called meeting, members being notified in writing of the purpose of the meeting and that said resolution was carried by a unanimous vote.

FRED SCANLON,
President.
G. HOWARD SMITH,
Secretary.

At the regular meeting of Elmer J. Eklund Post held last Friday evening the dance committee reported a loss of $9 on the dance given Aug. 20 and a profit of $25 on the one held Aug. 27.

The race meet committee reported that $115 was netted on the auto and motor cycle races, the sum being divided equally between the post and Central Labor union.

The post has decided to put a basketball team in the field during the coming season. The players will get together at an early date for the purpose of selecting a coach and manager. The business of the team will be entirely separate from the affairs of the legion proper.

A committee was appointed to arrange dates for a meeting of the mothers and sisters of deceased service men for the purpose of forming an auxiliary. L. H. Lawrence H. O. Chommie, L. H. Hermanson, E. P. Brevig and Frank McGinn are the committee members.

The dance committee was instructed to arrange for six dances, dates for which will be arranged later.

Indian service men who are living on various Minnesota reservations have been officially informed by state department headquarters of The American Legion that they are eligible for membership in The Legion. Organization of several posts is expected shortly, according to Horace G. Whitmore, department commander.

Harvey K. Meyer, superintendent of the Leach Lake Agency, at Onigum, in a letter to P. L. O'Toole, assistant adjutant, says: "The information that American Indians who served in the military or naval establishments of the United States during the world war are eligible for membership in The American Legion, is at hand. Such information is being conveyed to the young men interested, by notices that are being posted at our several offices."

Official announcement has been authorized by State Commander A. H. Vernon, that the National Americanism Commission of The Legion in New York City has completed arrangements for lectures and motion picture programs which will be provided without cost to Legion posts throughout Minnesota.

A letter which is being sent to every post commander in the state, says in part: "A great many posts, in planning their work for the fall and winter, have made requests for Americanism pictures dealing with the form of government, history and resources of the country. Owing to lack of funds, it has been impossible, heretofore, to comply with these requests. Arrangements have now been made, however, which will make it possible for every post to include lectures in its Americanzation program. The educational service committee of the national war work council, Y. M. C. A., has arranged to supply free of charge to American Legion posts throughout the country, The Hillis Better American Lectures, The America Picturebook Programs and the Educational Motion Picture films. In giving these lectures all that is necessary is for some member of the post to read the printed text and another member to operate the lantern slides. The motion picture films are known as industrial, health and safety, educational, scenic and American Cities films. They may be given separately or as part of the same program with the lectures." Broader details of the plan and pamphlets outlining the variety of subjects have been sent to every post commander.

Forty firing squads with bugler have been furnished from Fort Snelling during the past six months for funerals of service men in or near the Twin Cities, according to a letter received by Horace G. Whitmore, state adjutant from Colonel Charles Gerhardt, commanding officer at Fort Snelling. Col. Gerhardt stated that it would be necessary to furnish transportation for firing squads who might be asked to attend funerals outside of the Twin Cities. "It is not believed to be practicable to furnish firing squads where the travel involved is more than 50 miles from the post," said Col. Gerhardt.

McAndress Laid Up.

Mike McAndress, the well-known farmer living south of town, sustained a fractured arm last week. The self-starting mechanism of his car failed to function properly and he attempted to get it going with the crank. The engine back-fired, the crank striking Mr. McAndress just above the wrist and snapping the arm.

Aggie Alumni Gathering on Sunday Successful Affair

The weather man worked overtime during the week preceding September 26 to make failures of the Northwest School picnics scheduled for that day, but he overlooked a bet at Thief River Falls. The people in this vicinity are not to be discouraged by the weather, and a crowd of seventy-five people gathered at Valhalla Hall that afternoon. Miss Lottie Ward of the domestic science department and E. R. Clark of the agronomy department of the Northwest school, addressed the crowd and explained the work now being carried on at the school, putting special emphasis on the program outlined for the dedication services to be held on October 5th and inviting the people of that vicinity to participate in the parade. Many present and former students of the school were present, among them being Misses Sophia Monson, Amanda Hanson, Myrtle Knutson, Johanna Nabben, Wanda Gans, Mrs. Paul Engelstad and Messrs. Gerald Stevens, Henry Nabben, Ole and Lars Engelstad. Mrs. Peter Engelstad and Mrs. Paul Engelstad, who have always been staunch friends of the Northwest School, furnished coffee and sandwiches for the crowd.

Auto Lights Must Throw Beam 200 Feet Beyond Car

Motorists touring at night must provide themselves with headlights bright enough so that the rays of light shall be visible 200 feet in the direction in which the motor is proceeding. Anything short of this requirement will not do, the Minnesota supreme court held last week in a decision which settles with finality all doubt upon headlight requirements.

The decision denies a motion for reargument in the St. Louis county case of Richard Thomas against Franklin P. Stevenson and Michael Mastrian, in which the supreme court last July laid down the rule that motorists must provide themselves at night with headlights bright enough to throw rays 200 feet.

Big Hill of Potatoes.

Paul Midderigh, not to be outdone by other potato growers in the city who claim various records, on Monday dug one hill of Irish Cobbler potatoes which was a whopper for size. Mr. Midderigh secured 28 good sized tubers from the hill and claims there were a number of small ones left. When placed on the scales the 28 potatoes weighed 19½ pounds, which is, so far as known, the record for one hill of potatoes in Thief River Falls and vicinity.

Fall Term Opens Oct. 6.

The Northwest School opens its fifteenth year on Wednesday, Oct. 6. The largest senior and junior classes in the history of the school will assemble at that time. An exceptionally large number of first year students have already registered which will make the school's enrollment unusually heavy, exceeding last year when 301 students were in attendance. The date of opening will follow the Northwest Agricultural School dedication program scheduled for Oct. 5.

Gasoline to Help Lower Food Prices

"Of all gasoline manufactured in the United States, 67.6% is used by automotive vehicles." (Oil News, 7-5-1920, P. 42.)

"Of all the motor vehicles in use in the Middle West, 65% of the total registration are farmer-owned" (Arthur Capper Address, 1920). Gasoline is taking the place of vanishing man-power on the farms; and not only does it reduce the man-hours required to produce a given amount of food, but it also reduces the actual cost of production, and this despite the advancing price of gasoline. (H. W. Quaintance "Influence of Farm Machinery on Production" Power Wagon Reference Book, 1920, page 561.)

Authorities agree that gasoline is a most important factor in the production and distribution of food products.

When gasoline is employed universally to increase the efficiency of man-power on the farm, we may look for vastly increased production and a consequent decrease in the cost of producing food.

In the eleven Middle West states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) more than 100,000 tractors are in use, and the number is increasing rapidly.

Kansas	1,732
Iowa	2,773
Illinois	2,261
Indiana	1,548
North Dakota	501
South Dakota	1,708
Michigan	1,636
Minnesota	1,255
Missouri	2,065
Wisconsin	1,465
Oklahoma	723
Total	17,667

(U. S. Department of Agriculture states that only about 75% of total farmer ownership was reported.)

The distribution service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) brings petroleum products quickly and cheaply to the farm when they are most needed.

It is the plan of this Company to make its distribution facilities the most perfect system of its kind in the world. To do this, largely increased equipment is being installed. To supply this vast network of stations, trucks, tank-wagons, etc., the Manufacturing Department is bending its energies to devise means for producing an ever increasing percentage of gasoline from the crude oil obtainable, and at the same time to keep users of other products of petroleum supplied with their needs.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

"Granny" Chamberlain

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

Yours for Health — Granny Chamberlain

NUXATED IRON

"Time and again I have prescribed organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and surprised patients at the rapidity with which their weakness and general debility was replaced by a renewed feeling of strength and vitality," says Dr. H. B. Vail, formerly Physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner. "I took Nuxated Iron myself to build me up after a serious case of nervous exhaustion. The effects were apparent after a few days and within three weeks it had virtually revitalized my whole system and put me in superb physical condition."

Some culprits or drunks, or whatever name we may give them, have entered two school houses in eastern Star township and done considerable damage. In district number 5 all the glass doors on the book case were broken, lamp chimneys smashed, the water crock and drinking fountain entirely broken, and things in general had been thrown around the room. In Unorganized school district number 1 the water crock was also smashed, it being the only damage so far discovered. We can not understand or see into their motive for doing this. We thought whiskey was a thing of the past but nevertheless whiskey bottles were found, of course empty ones, so that goes to prove the culprits had been drunk. We wonder if such fellows can go about with a clear conscience? If they are caught the law no doubt will deal with them, if not they will answer at some other time for their criminal offense.

CATTLE VALUES LOW AND HOGS CLIMBING

Best hogs hit the high point of the year last Monday when they sold at $17 to $17.25 but a three-day decline of 50c to 75c cut values down to $16.40 for the upper limit. The market opened a little higher Friday but closed steady at the decline. Bulk of mixed hogs sold at $16.10 to $16.30 with packers and throwouts at $12 to $16. Choice stock pigs cashed at $15 to $15.25. Receipts were the largest in weeks, totaling around 20,000.

Cattle values took a slump and most grades dropped 50c to $1 with the exception of canners and bulls. Most kinds of killers and stockers and feeders are at the low point of the season. There was very little steer trade above $10 and bulk sold at $6 to $9. Butcher cows sold a little more readily than steers but at prices which reflected the decline. Few sales went above $7.50 to $8 and business was heavy at $5.50 to $6.50. Canners and cutters were selling at $3 to $5 with bulls at $4.25 to $6. Top vealers were quoted at $15. Stocker and feeder trade was dull with good cattle going begging. Steers were available at $6 to $11 with she stuff down around $5 to $6. Dairy cows closed at $5 to $10 lower with most sales under $100. Receipts were 40,000.

Sheep and lambs closed 50c to $1 lower but lambs advanced slightly at the close. Best natives were selling up to $11.50 with Westerns at $12.50. Native ewes cashed at $2 to $5. Good feeders are obtainable at $8 to $12. Receipts were 30,000.

(By Quinn-Shephardson Co., Minneapolis.)

Last week's general decline may be attributed chiefly to the remarkably heavy run of old corn, which depressed oat prices and even sentimentally affected the strong positions of wheat and rye.

Selling of old corn was free at nominal premiums over the indicated new corn prices, apparently based on the assumption that old corn is too close to the new crop and if held much longer will be worth but little more than new corn, of which there is a record-breaking crop, frost or no frost.

Wet or frost-damaged corn should be conducive to lower values rather than higher. Unmerchantable and wet corn does not keep and, as demonstrated in previous years, would be immediately marketed from first hands. Corn sufficiently dry to keep on the farms and raised at an average cost near a dollar a bushel would not, in all probability, come to the market very fast at anything like present prices. Sellers of corn and oats at the present level should reckon with the growing independence of the producer and the necessity of delivering exactly what is sold, which despite the size of the coarse grain crops may not be quickly marketed.

Hogs are selling around $16.00. On the basis of 12 bushels of corn to 100 pounds of hog (which is a very liberal corn allowance) means that corn is worth about $1.35 a bushel as feed. The result may be plenty of 300 pound hogs. Pound for pound, oats are now almost as cheap as hay.

In the past two years the most potent factors governing prices of grains were a deficient rail service and the producers' selling and holding attitude. We see no reason that warrants at this time entirely throwing overboard these considerations.

World needs and surpluses are of necessity theoretical, but there has been nothing theoretical about the foreign purchases made to date, the volume of which raises a doubt as to the sufficiency of the available American surplus. Failing to get the cash wheat during the past week, millers as well as foreigners, were heavy buyers of the December future. A Berlin cable states that two million tons of breadstuffs must be imported this year by Germany and come chiefly from America. The German Imperial Grain department announces that their 1920 crops are seriously short of the country's requirements. Great Britain, Belgium and Italy are also reported as heavy purchasers recently.

Unmistakable signs pointing toward downward readjustment to a pre-war basis are now manifest in the industrial and manufacturing lines. An orderly recession in values unquestionably is dependent mostly upon a normal marketing of the country's crop. Immediate depression in grains to a level below production cost, however, is now a serious check upon free marketing and should create in the near future sharp reactions.

Bootlegger's Car Ditched; Threshing Crew on Spree

Because his automobile containing 18 cases of Canadian liquor overturned in the vicinity of Eldred near Crookston, on the prairie near a spot where threshing crews were at work, who forthwith found the cups that cheer, H. P. Messenbrink, of Carrol, Iowa, was considered by Judge Wm. Watts in district court at Crookston to be guilty of increasing the farm labor shortage besides the charge of transporting liquor into dry territory. He was fined $350. Following the discovery of the liquor, no threshing was possible in that vicinity for several days.

Attempt Made to Dynamite Newspaper at Cass Lake

An attempt to blow up the Cass Lake Times was frustrated last Friday morning by failure of the defective cap to function. Three and a half sticks of dynamite tied together with a shoestring and with a fuse burned to the cap were discovered in the morning by Editor Ittner when he opened his office.

Examination showed the cap to be defective so that it could not explode. An investigation is being made and it is thought the would-be dynamiter will be located. Foot prints showed the culprit entered the window and placed the fuse under the door, lighting it from the inside.

"WILL PRAISE IT LONG AS I LIVE"

Minneapolis Woman Declares Tanlac Proved a Blessing in Her Case.

"If I ever felt better in my life than I do since taking Tanlac I don't remember when it was," said Mrs. Jack Walsh, 2950 Nicollette Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

"About a year ago I began suffering from nervous indigestion, and soon was in a badly run-down condition. I was almost a complete nervous wreck, could never get a good night's sleep and got up feeling worse than when I went to bed. I just felt tired and worn out all the time and became badly exhausted at the least little exertion. My appetite was very poor, after every meal I nearly always became badly nauseated and would bloat up with gas until I was in perfect misery. Often I felt so bad I had to go to bed for I was unable to be up and around.

"One day a friend advised me to try Tanlac, and before I had finished the first bottle I was feeling much better. After taking five bottles I feel like a new woman. That tired worn out feeling is all gone, my nerves are in good condition and I sleep like a child all night long, always feeling greatly refreshed on getting up in the mornings. My appetite is just splendid, and I can eat anything I want without having a sign of indigestion afterwards. Tanlac has simply made me well and happy after I thought I would never see a well day again."

FOOTBALL LADS GET TERRIBLE TROUNCING

Meet Defeat at Grafton, N. D., on Saturday By Score of 61 to Goose Eggs.

The first football game of the season proved a disastrous venture for the Thief River Falls high school team. Last Saturday the boys went to Grafton, N. D., to try conclusions with the high school team of that village, and after the smoke of battle had cleared away it was found that Grafton's bunch had piled up 61 scores while the locals had to content themselves with a goose egg.

Various reasons are given for this result but the general opinion seems to be that it was due primarily to lack of practice and the inexperience of a number of the local players. Thief River Falls has a bunch of good material for a winning team but practically no preparation had been given the boys. For this reason they were badly handicapped in a conflict with more experienced players.

The local lads do not propose to have anything like that happen again, however, and from now on will get into the game in earnest. Diligent practice and a few needed lessons from the coach will make a wonderful difference in the team and there is no reason why the boys should not give a good account of themselves before the season is over.

Coach Tommerasen is now busy picking out the best men to be found for the various positions on the team and within a short time will have a squad to be proud of. The defeat of last Saturday was too bad to be sure, but any other result was hardly to be expected under the circumstances.

Presidential Straw Votes.

A large number of straw votes are being taken throughout the country to ascertain, if possible, the sentiment of voters on the two leading presidential candidates and upon others matters of national interest. Some of the leading motion picture houses of the country are conducting a poll for president and also on the league of nations question. In this election Harding is leading by 32,000 to 17,000 votes and the league of nations is disapproved by a vote of more than four to one. Theatres in Ohio are in almost every instance showing a majority in favor of Harding.

WOMAN KILLED, 5 OTHERS HURT IN AUTO WRECK

Mrs. Arthur Boyce of This City Meets Instant Death When Car Leaves Road.

J. A. Ralston and Mrs. A. H. Erickson Regarded as in Serious Condition.

Other Passengers More or Less Seriously Injured Saturday on South Road.

Mrs. Arthur Boyce of this city, mother of three small children, was instantly killed and five others injured when an automobile driven by J. A. Ralston went off the road and upset a short distance north of Red Lake Falls last Friday night.

The injured are Mr. Ralston, who is at his home in this city in a serious condition with a badly wrenched back and internal injuries as well as from nervous shock; Mrs. A. H. Erickson of Lancaster, who has a broken jaw and is otherwise injured so severely that her life was for a time considered in danger. She is at the Physicians hospital here and reported as improving. Mrs. Mildred Gilette of this city, sister of Mrs. Erickson, was also badly bruised but able to continue home after receiving first aid here. Oscar R. Smith and Elmer Roll were in the wreck and were badly shaken up but none of their injuries are serious.

Ran Past Turn.

The cause of the accident was failure to make a turn at the right time. A sharp corner on the road a short distance out of Red Lake Falls has been eliminated by the construction of a more gradual curve, this route having been in use all season. Ralston ran past this, according to the others, and hit the sharper turn with such speed that the car was thrown into the six-foot ditch and overturned.

Mrs. Boyce was evidently struck by one of the rods holding up the top and this driven through her skull. She was dead when cars following a short distance behind the wrecked machine arrived on the scene. The body was taken to Red Lake Falls, where burial took place on Wednesday. The others were brought to this city, where the seriously injured, with the exception of Mr. Ralston, were taken to the hospital.

EVIDENCE STOLEN FROM CITY LOCKUP

At a conservative estimate of $12 a quart, the stuff was worth between eleven and twelve hundred dollars on the market today. There were in the first place 60 quarts of sealed Canadian whiskey. Then there were 18 pint bottles of alcohol in one grip and 27 pints in another, besides about four gallons of the same stuff in an old paint can. Now nothing remains.

The stuff was kept in the city jail and represented the evidence gathered in sundry raids since the prohibition amendment went into effect. Many and divers things have happened to the original owners and it is not thought they had any further interest in the supply. Someone, however, knew where it was being held.

Sometime Monday night the jail was broken into and the stuff removed so effectively that not a trace of it has since been found. The thieves evidently used a crowbar to gain entrance as the outer door was securely locked and well protected. Not only was this obstacle easily overcome, but the cell in which the liquor was kept was broken into, bars and locks proving no effective barriers. The robbers managed to get away without leaving a trace.

County Attorney Theo. Quale says he has no definite clew to the perpetrators of this outrage, but he has certain suspicions and is going to leave no stone unturned to have them either verified or disproved.

$90 PER ACRE FOR SUGAR BEET CROP

Digging is Practically Finished and Weighing and Shipping Will Begin Soon.

The digging of sugar beets in Pennington county is now well under way. Although the crop has not been weighed and loaded as yet it is showing prospects of an excellent yield. Due to the fine weather it will be only a short time before all the beets are dug and ready for shipment to the Chaska Sugar Beet company. The agriculturist of this company was in Thief River Falls recently and was very much pleased with the prospects of growing beets in Pennington county, stating that this would be an excellent place for a beet sugar factory. He claimed the people in this vicinity are much interested in the growing of the crop, which fact was evidenced by the number who tried it the first year.

Labor will be furnished next year by the Chaska company for 250 acres, which costs this year $28 per acre. All hand labor will be furnished at that price, including the thinning, weeding, hoeing, rehoeing, piling and topping. This is handling the crop much cheaper than it could be cared for by unskilled labor. Where it has been handled in this way the crop is netting the grower $90 per acre.

Quite a number in the vicinity of Thief River Falls have already placed an application for next year. The crop is one of the surest that can be grown on any farm. The seed requires no treating and the plant no spraying, as neither insect nor disease trouble the sugar beet to any extent. Freezing in the spring or in the fall will not hurt the plant in the least. Water covering the plant even for five days will not injure it.

The seed, which is planted in the spring, is not paid for until the crop is harvested, and if the owner cannot finance the labor proposition the company is very willing to advance the money. All growers are advised not to contract for too large an acreage until they become experienced in caring for the crop.

STEENERSON HERE TO SPEAK OCT. 20

Congressman Coming to Address People of This Section at Auditorium.

Republicans of Pennington county are looking forward with interest to the meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 20, at which Congressman Halvor Steenerson will be the principal speaker. This will be Mr. Steenerson's first address in this city since early in the war and as he has always been greeted by a large audience here it is figured that the meeting will be a record-breaker. This is particularly to be expected as by that time there is likely to be a much greater interest in the outcome of the campaign.

The situation in the district is somewhat different from that of recent years. The entry of a Democratic candidate may have some effect on the fortunes of Mr. Steenerson, but opinion is rather divided as to just what this will be. Some profess to believe that it will help the Nonpartisan candidate by taking votes usually cast for Steenerson, while others maintain that whatever votes Jeffers, the Democratic candidate, receives will be that many less for Thormodson, the Nonpartisan candidate.

However that may be, Mr. Steenerson is sure to be greeted by a packed house on his appearance here.

Directory Publisher Here.

John H. Ley, publisher of city directories for half a dozen Minnesota cities, arrived on Monday and will begin the compilation of the directory of Thief River Falls to be issued some time before the holidays. Mr. Ley says that from appearances he is certain that the city will show a substantial increase in population over two years ago, at which time the last directory was issued.

Takes Boys' Class.

J. G. Nielson has agreed to act as instructor for the boys' class at the Fallness gymnasium and will begin the work on Friday evening. All boys who contemplate joining for the season are urged to be present at that time in order to begin with the rest.

COUNTY IS LEADER IN POPULATION GAIN

Makes Best Ten-Year Record of Seven in Northwestern Corner of Minnesota.

According to the census reports just given out at Washington, Pennington county has a population of 12,091, a gain of 2,715 in ten years. This is the best relative showing made by any northwestern Minnesota county, the percentage of increase being 29.0. The following table gives the population figures and rate of increase for these counties:

	1920	1910	Inc.	Pret.
Pennington	12,091	9,396	2,715	29.0
Marshall	19,443	16,338	3,105	19.0
Polk	37,071	36,001	1,070	3.0
Red Lake	7,263	6,564	699	10.0
Kittson	10,638	9,669	696	10.0
Roseau	13,305	11,338	1,697	17.3
Clearwater	8,569	6,870	1,699	24.7

The state of Minnesota now has a population of 2,379,883, an increase of 304,175 during the decade elapsing since the former census was taken, and ranks eighteenth in the Union in population. Nearly every county shows a satisfactory growth, the only ones having decreased being Goodhue, Houston, LeSueur, Washington and Wabasha. Mahnomen is the leader in the point of gain, jumping from 3,249 in 1910 to 6,179 at this time, the increase being 90.7 per cent.

The city of Thief River Falls fell slightly behind the county as a whole in the percentage of increase, the population at this time being given as 4,685 as compared with 3,714 in 1910, a gain of 26.1 per cent. This is exactly the same proportionate increase as was made by Duluth and only one tenth of one per cent behind that of Minneapolis. The leaders in the list of cities are Rochester and Hibbing, the former showing a gain of 74.9 per cent and the range town 70.8 per cent. Crookston, Lake City, Red Wing, Stillwater and Two Harbors are the cities showing a decrease in population during the ten years.

GOOD ROADS TO RECEIVE BOOST IN PENNINGTON

Big Meeting in Thief River Falls Next Tuesday Evening, October 12.

Senator McGarry and Former Immigration Commissioner to Discuss Subject.

Second Meeting to Be Held at Goodridge on Wednesday Evening, Oct. 13.

Next Tuesday, Oct. 12, will be a red letter day among the good roads enthusiasts of Pennington county. On the evening of that day the biggest meeting for this section of the state in the campaign for better roads is to be held at the auditorium in Thief River Falls, and everyone interested in the proposition is requested to be present. The Babcock amendment will be the subject discussed by the speakers at this meeting and a splendid opportunity is provided for voters to secure authoritative information concerning the workings of the proposed legislation.

Well-Known Speakers.

Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker is scheduled for the leading speech next Tuesday evening. Senator McGarry has been identified for many years with the movement for better roads in Minnesota and is recognized as an authority on the subject. Mr. McGarry is firmly convinced that the Babcock amendment is a good thing and stands ready to explain why he has come to this conclusion.

During his long term of service in the legislature, Senator McGarry has been recognized as a leader in every movement designed to help Minnesota out of the rut, and at the recent session stood sponsor for the measure known as the Babcock law.

Another Good Speaker.

Accompanying Mr. McGarry is F. D. Sherman, former state immigration commissioner. Mr. Sherman has for years been known as a booster for anything which benefits Minnesota and he is thoroughly convinced that the proposed Babcock law is a good thing for the entire state.

Everyone is invited to this meeting whether they are in favor of the amendment or not. The speakers are coming for the purpose of explaining every detail of the law and all questions will cheerfully be answered.

Extra Attractions.

The speakers will be accompanied by Col. Sam Badger, a veteran of the civil war and champion snare drummer of Minnesota, and William Patten, a regular army fifer. These musicians will add life to the proceedings and will make the evening more enjoyable for everyone.

A motion picture film will be presented during the meeting, showing road building in actual operation under varying conditions. This feature of the program cannot help but prove both entertaining and helpful.

At Goodridge Oct. 13.

On Wednesday evening a meeting has been arranged at Goodridge in order to give the people residing in the eastern part of the county an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the Babcock amendment. Friends of the amendment in that section of the county are making arrangements to care for a large crowd and indications are that they will not be disappointed.

Two Big New Harding-Preus Clubs Organized in County

G. Howard Smith, organizer for this district, last Thursday evening went to St. Hilaire and was instrumental in forming a Harding-Preus club for that village. There was a good attendance at the meeting, and about half of those present were women. The following officers were chosen for the new club: E. P. Patnode, president; Blanche Hoff, first vice president; Edith Nelson, second vice president; E. T. Efteland, secretary, and L. A. Wilson, treasurer.

Friday evening a similar club was organized at Goodridge. Here also the attendance was good and much interest was shown in political matters by the ladies. Officers for the Goodridge club were elected as follows: Miss May B. Wiles, president; O. H. Nystul, first vice president; N. Bundhund, second vice president; T. Tandberg, secretary, and Henry Rockne, treasurer. This is the only club so far organized which has named a woman as its president.

THIEF RIVER DOWNS RED LAKE WARRIORS

Sunday Football Game Results in Score of 6 to 0 in Favor of Local Team.

The Thief River Falls city football team won its first game of the season last Sunday when it defeated the Red Lake Falls city team at the fair grounds by a score of 6 to 0. It was a hard fought battle from start to finish and the spectators were furnished an abundance of thrills all the way through.

The Red Lake Falls team had been in two previous engagements this season while the locals had been in only a few practice scrimmages here at home. The Thief River lads, however, made an excellent showing and at no stage of the game was the outcome in doubt. The ball was never allowed to pass from Red Lake's side of the gridiron and had it not been for a few unfortunate fumbles by Thief River players the score would have been much more one-sided.

A game has been arranged on the local grounds next Sunday between the Crookston city team and the team which trimmed Red Lake Falls last Sunday. The Crookston lads are said to be exceptionally strong and the game is sure to be a hummer. A return game with Red Lake Falls is scheduled in about two weeks. Arrangements are also under way for games with Bemidji and Moorhead during the present season.

MAYOR HODGSON, MRS. PATTERSON TO SPEAK HERE

Democratic Candidate For Governor Will Be Heard at Auditorium Monday Night.

Also First Woman Speaker For Either Side in Present Campaign.

Meeting Widely Advertised and Special Invitation Extended to Women Voters.

The Democrats of Thief River Falls and surrounding country will have their innings on Monday night when Mayor Lawrence W. Hodgson of St. Paul, their candidate for governor, and Mrs. H. A. Patterson of Mankato, who has made considerable of a reputation as a public speaker, will deliver addresses at the auditorium. Local democrats are arranging for the biggest meeting to be held by them during the campaign and are advertising extensively in all nearby towns.

Mayor Hodgson is admittedly one of the most eloquent speakers in the state. His position as the executive head of one of our largest cities and the record he has made as such official has also given him wide publicity and he is everywhere greeted by large audiences.

While the national ticket and platform ill no doubt receive a fair share of attention at his hands, it is expected that "Larry Ho" will devote most of his address to the state situation. He has pronounced views on the tonnage tax issue, the Babcock good roads bill and land reclamation, besides taking a keen interest in educational matters. He will be invited to address the school children on Monday forenoon as he will be in the city all day.

First Woman Speaker.

Mrs. Patterson will be the first woman to deliver a regular political address in this city since the passage of the nineteenth amendment and there is considerable interest shown in her handling of the subject. To her is expected to fall the duty of explaining the league of nations from the Democratic viewpoint and reports are to the effect that she is well qualified for the task.

Mayor Hodgson speaks at Warren on Tuesday evening and at Crookston on Wednesday.

CORN OATS SPUDS ARE CROP LEADERS

Monthly Report Gives Average Wheat Yield in County as Eleven Bushels.

Corn and sugar beets are proving the banner crops of Pennington county for the present season, according to the October report sent to the U. S. department of agriculture this week by County Agent J. J. McCann. The condition of corn is placed at 105 per cent and that of wheat at 99, with an average yield for the latter cereal in the county of 11 bushels to the acre. Mr. McCann estimates that 40 per cent of the wheat crop has been marketed at this time.

The average yield of oats is placed at 34 bushels and the quality at 100 per cent. Barley went 24 bushels to the acre and has a quality score of 102. The condition of buckwheat at this time is put at 91 per cent, white potatoes at 105 and flax seed at 96.

The total acreage of all field crops is six per cent greater than last year and eight per cent above the usual average. Cloverseed scores 15 per cent in quality. Alfalfa seed is reported as going four bushels to the acre, has a percentage of 90 and an average acreage increase of five per cent. Pastures stand at 83 per cent.

Sugar beets, tried here extensively for the first time this year, show a condition of 102 per cent.

COOPERATION AS PROPER REMEDY URGED BY PREUS

Republican Candidate For Governor Addresses Large Audience Here Saturday.

Says That Country Life Must Be Made More Attractive to Farming Population.

Attacks Program of Nonpartisan League and Strongly Supports Harding.

Co-operation among farmers and the forming of organizations for the handling of all produce raised by them was urged as a necessity of the near future by J. A. O. Preus, Republican candidate for governor, in an address here on Saturday evening. He maintained that the solution of many of the ills with which the tiller of the soil now finds himself confronted would be solved through better marketing conditions and a closer working agreement among the farmers themselves. This plan, Mr. Preus maintained, was greatly to be preferred to state ownership of elevators and other agencies for collection and final distribution.

Before an audience that filled the auditorium to overflowing, Mr. Preus and Louis L. Collins, candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke for more than two hours. Mr. Collins took up but little time but what he said was evidently greatly appreciated by his hearers. He is not a large man in physical stature but has a good voice and generally gives the impression of having something worth while to say. He was not the stellar attraction and had the good judgment to recognize the fact. His remarks were mostly in a light vein and put the audience in good humor at once.

County Chairman Wilhelm Michelet started the ball rolling by making a few announcements, after which he introduced Mayor John Bratrud. The latter acted as chairman of the meeting and carried off his part in a very satisfactory manner. He introduced Mr. Preus as the next governor of Minnesota and the principal speaker of the evening was greeted by a generous round of applause as he took the platform. Mr. Preus is a clear and forceful speaker, his voice reaching to every part of the building without seeming effort on his part. Demonstrations of approval were frequent, his announced program evidently meeting with general acceptance. The speaker devoted a part of his time to giving the national ticket a generous boost and unsparingly attacked the league of nations.

Tracy R. Bangs of Grand Forks, a former Democrat now supporting the Republican ticket, arraigned the Nonpartisan league program in a short speech at the close of the meeting and furnished considerable amusement by his witty sallies.

Mr. Preus' address was in part as follows:

Collins Honor Guest at Reception Saturday Night

Louis L. Collins, candidate for lieutenant governor and formerly a corporal in the 151st field artillery, to which a number of Thief River Falls boys also belonged, was tendered a reception at the rooms of W. R. Patterson in the Meehan block after the Republican meeting Saturday. A large number of citizens took the opportunity to meet and become better acquainted with the Little Corporal on this occasion and he made a large number of friends. Mr. Collins is a man of most delightful personality and impressed most favorably all who met him.

Mrs. Bishop at Marion.

Five Minnesota women were at Marion, Ohio, last Friday to attend the special woman's day ceremonies with the social justice program. They were Mrs. Manley L. Fosseen, chairman of the national Republican speakers' bureau; Mrs. C. A. Severance, national committeewoman; Mrs. J. M. Bishop, second vice chairman of the state women's Republican committee; Mrs. Marshall H. Coolidge and Mrs. Theodore Wetmore of the national speakers' bureau.

GOOD CROWD HEARS NONPARTISAN TALK

N. E. Thormodson and O. J. Nelson Address Voters Here Tuesday Evening.

Political speakers certainly should have no fault to find with the size of the audiences they are called upon to address in Thief River Falls. So far this season the people have turned out to hear them all, regardless of the message they tried to convey.

N. E. Thormodson, independent candidate for congress, was the principal speaker at a meeting held Tuesday evening at the auditorium. The hall was well filled and there was never a question but what Mr. Thormodson had to say was very much to his hearers' liking. He lambasted both old parties unmercifully for their alleged shortcomings and maintained that the farmers and workingmen of the country are being exploited by both. His arguments followed the line of other speakers for the same cause and he had nothing particularly new to present. Mr. Thormodson is not an orator but he is evidently deeply in earnest and talks with force and directness.

O. J. Nelson, an organizer for the league, recently returned from Montana and Washington, also gave a short talk and defended the program of the organization with considerable skill and quite an array of argument. A. J. Hemstad of Plummer, league candidate for the legislature, spoke for a few minutes and explained his views on various political issues.

Attended Father's Funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Scanlan returned Monday morning from Quincy, Ill., where they had been to attend the funeral of Mr. Scanlan's father. Deceased was 85 years of age at the time of his death. The effect of an old wound, received while the senior Mr. Scanlan was a soldier in the civil war, was the primary cause of the old gentleman's demise.

RED LAKE COUNTY'S POPULATION 7,263

According to the census of 1920, Red Lake county has a population of 7,263. Ten years ago it was 6,564, an increase during the decade of 699. The city of Red Lake Falls is given credit for 1,549 out of the total, leaving 5,714 for the remainder of the county and showing a decrease for the city during the ten years of 208. The townships of Lambert, Terrebonne and Wylie show a slight falling off since the last census was taken, while the largest percentage of increase is in Emardville township which has grown from 193 inhabitants to 476. Plummer village has a population of 252 as compared with 139 ten years ago, while Oklee, the only other village in the county and where no count was made ten years ago, contains 364 persons.

KING WITHDRAWS; CHRISTENSEN FAILS

Former Says Radicals Are Too Badly Split—Christensen is Overlooked.

Withdrawal of Cyrus M. King of Deer River as farmer-labor candidate for governor, was accepted by Julius A. Schmahl, secretary of state, on Monday just before he sent sample state ballots out to county auditors.

The King withdrawal leaves four candidates for governor: J. A. O. Preus, republican; L. C. Hodgson, democrat; Dr. Henrik Shipstead, independent, and Peter J. Samson, socialist. The last two were filed by petition.

The farmer-labor state committee at the last minute also filed withdrawal of Roy C. Smelker of St. Paul as its candidate for secretary of state and substituted the name of Lily J. Anderson of Franklin.

Minnesota voters will not have an opportunity to cast ballots for Parley P. Christenson, farmer-labor party candidate for president. Failure to file the Christenson electors is charged by certain supporters to "carelessness and indifference" on the part of the committee officials.

Under the law, Saturday was the last day for filing nominations, but the committee made no attempt to file until Monday. Julius A. Schmahl, secretary of state, refused to accept the filing and it was reported that mandamus proceedings may be used in an effort to force him to receive the names.

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW SEWER SYSTEM

Storm Sewers to Be Installed Without Delay By Concern Awarded Job.

At a special meeting of the city council held last Thursday evening, the contract for the construction of the proposed storm sewer system was let to Coolsaet Brothers of Marshall, Minn., the bid of this firm being the lowest of the five submitted. The bid accepted amounts to $14,828 for the entire job. It is the intention of the successful bidders to begin work at once and they expect to have the entire contract completed before winter sets in.

As an indication of the upward trend in the prices of everything entering into work of this kind, it may be noted that the lowest bid received for this job last week was nearly $2,500 higher than the bid accepted for the same contract some six months ago, before the proceedings were tied up by injunctions and obstacles of like nature. At that time the contract was let for a little over $12,000.

Other bids considered last Thursday evening were as follows: McDonald & Hussey, Duluth, $18,231; Carl C. Knudson, Blue Earth, $15,131; Smith & Jackson, Minneapolis, $16,604; H. E. Helt, Thief River Falls, $17,721.

PRICE-CUTTING IN MANY LINES IS SENSATIONAL

Two of City's Largest Stores Are This Week Announcing Astounding Reductions.

Loken Brothers and E. O. Mogensen Slash Prices on Everything They Handle.

Sales Open Next Wednesday Morning and Will Continue For Ten Days.

The most astounding merchandising event in the history of northern Minnesota will be ushered in next Wednesday morning when two big Thief River Falls stores throw their entire stock on the market at price reductions that are decidedly sensational. Loken Brothers, dry goods and women's wear merchants, and E. O. Mogensen, clothier, have combined to make this event the greatest of its kind ever seen in this section.

These merchants, as is the case with men all over the country who have kept close watch of conditions, are convinced that the time has come for price reductions all along the line and propose to be the pioneers of the movement in this region. Instead of getting down to pre-war conditions by gradual descents they have decided to make the entire cut at once and all along the line. Everything in these two fine stores will be included in the general reduction, the prices in many instances going below the manufacturer's cost of the goods offered.

Is Simply Good Business.

Whether or not the present downward trend will be permanent is not known, but these merchants have wisely arrived at the conclusion that this is the time to give the people the reductions they have long awaited. While it is true that as yet no great decrease is noted in the wholesale price of the goods they handle—in fact some lines are being held at an advance—yet they figure with Henry Ford that "the way to reduce prices is to reduce them." Anyone reading the large advertisements appearing in The Times this week will be convinced that they have certainly gone about it with a will.

Sales Open Wednesday.

The sales will start on Wednesday morning, Oct. 13. Both stores will be closed Monday and Tuesday in order to give the sales managers an opportunity to arrange the goods for quick disposal. A large number of additional salespeople will be on hand to handle the crowds and everything will be so displayed and priced as to save time and confusion.

Experts in Charge.

Frank Stefan and Warren Reck, expert merchandise adjusters of Minneapolis, have been in the city since the first of the week getting things in readiness for what they believe will be one of the biggest sales campaigns in their careers. The stocks in these stores are different from most thrown on the bargain counters, being new and up-to-date in every particular. These gentlemen are under contract to dispose of at least $75,000 worth of goods in the two stores in ten days and they expect to exceed this amount. They have had wide experience in conducting sales of this kind and with the opportunity here offered they look forward to making a record.

FAIR BOARD MEETS ON FRIDAY EVENING

Secretary to Be Chosen and Other Matters of Importance Considered.

An adjourned meeting of the Pennington County Agricultural association will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 8, at the commercial club rooms. The matter of electing a secretary for the coming year will be taken up and other matters of considerable importance are due to come before the members for discussion. It is very much desired that there be a large attendance.

The published reports of the financial standing of the association at this time are misleading in some respects inasmuch as the impression given out that the total cash balance in the treasury of $866 represents all the cash assets. To this sum should be added $1,406 paid out in premiums and which will be returned later by the state. Two hundred dollars was also paid as interest on the outstanding indebtedness out of the receipts of this year. This will make a total balance for the season of $2,472, or nearly three times the amount first published.

Bought Farm Machinery Stock at Fergus Falls

O. A. Rambeck of the Rambeck & Stone company returned this week from Fergus Falls, where he attended to the invoicing and shipping of a stock of farm machinery purchased by his firm. The stock comprises all kinds of machines and implements and will total in the neighborhood of $8,000. All is of the Emerson-Brantingham make and will thus fit in with the line carried in this city.

GET MUCH HELP FOR ALL ROADS FROM NEW PLAN

Pennington County Will Gain Road Funds By Adoption of Babcock Amendment.

Facts and Figures Produced to Prove Benefit of Proposed Highway Plan.

Money Now Used on Main Roads to Me Made Available For Laterals.

Pennington county roads, like those in many other counties, are growing gradually poorer in spite of recent increases in road taxes.

Good Roads Amendment No. 1 is designed to solve the problem of better maintaining and improving roads without further increasing taxes or issuing road bonds as is being done in many states. The plan will accomplish this, it is explained, mainly by relieving the counties of the upkeep of the main highways and placing that heavy expense on the motor traffic, which is rapidly increasing road requirements. Friends of the plan present 1920 and 1921 comparisons furnished by the state highway department in support of the claims.

Shows Local Gains.

There are 950 miles of public roads in this county. The road money this year includes $30,362 of county and $21,704 of town taxes; $20,000 of state and $25,000 of federal aid; also $55,000 of bond revenue.

The grand total is $152,065, and approximately $117,772 of it is being spent upon the trunk highways which are to be taken over by the state.

Thus only $34,293 now is being spent on the local roads.

Under Amendment No. 1, however, there will be available next year about $71,701 against the $34,293 figure this year, a gain of $37,411 without issuing any bonds.

Big Sum For Local Roads.

To the larger 1921 fund, county taxes will yield $[illegible], township taxes $22,666, and the state will [illegible] $20,000 as this year. The county-town roads will [illegible] miles when trunk highways are taken over by the state.

Pennington county will have raised nearly $[illegible] for use on the [illegible] road [illegible].

Altogether [illegible] will [illegible] and [illegible] proposed plan. [illegible] have [illegible] trunk roads and the counties and towns more than $[illegible] year for local roads [illegible].

The benefits to the counties and towns at once are apparent [illegible] big gain in funds [illegible] friends of the proposal maintain, and every road will be made a good road in short order.

Engineers report that the state

Engineers report that the state, by spending $10,000,000 a year during the next six years, can properly grade, drain and gravel the entire 7,000-mile state system and also hard surface more than 1,500 miles of the roads carrying the heavier traffic. It will be obliged first to put and keep every mile of the system in good condition, and then, as funds permit and according to traffic demands, to use the surplus each year for permanent betterments.

Pennington county is already receiving $45,000 of state and federal aid. Advocates of Good Roads Amendment No. 1 claim that the new plan will on the average double this gift from outside. They explain that the proposal "looks too good to be true" to some citizens, but recall that the same applied to the Bob Dunn 1-mill tax amendment. The fact is that all additional funds will come from a higher motor vehicle license fee and federal aid, and that the automobile and truck owners generally favor it. Questions about Amendment No. 1 will be answered in this paper if briefly and clearly stated.

DOG SHOOTING CASE NULLED BY COURT

New Evidence Proves Dog Died From Broken Neck Instead of Bullet.

New evidence produced by the defendants in the dog shooting case mentioned in these columns last week, resulted in the case being dismissed and the defendants, E. C. Frederickson and Paul Merrisen, released from their bonds and absolved of all criminal connection with the matter. The young men were bound over to the district court last week on the charge of having shot and killed a valuable dog belonging to Theodore Tollefson of Highlanding township.

Following the hearing last week the remains of the dog were brought to this city and given a thorough examination by a veterinary. This examination brought out the fact that the dog did not die from a bullet wound but that death was caused by a broken neck. The defense's [illegible] the criminal aspect of the case and proved beyond a doubt that the dog had accidentally been run over by the car in which the defendants were riding when they left the Tollefson farm at the time the animal was found dead, which defendants admitted at the preliminary hearing might have been possible.

ADMITTING ASSAULT IS HELD FOR MURDER

While Frank Plante, a young farmer of Lambert township, Red Lake county, was pleading guilty to assault before a justice of the peace in Red Lake Falls, his victim, Ferdinand Marsonette, died as a result of the injuries inflicted and Plante was held for murder.

Both men were members of a threshing crew and became involved in a quarrel over some grain sacks. Plante, so the report goes, struck Marsonette over the head with the handle of a pitchfork during the altercation and proceeded to Red Lake Falls with the intention of paying a fine for assault. While thus engaged he is said to have stated that he would like to pay two fines as it was his intention to again give Marsonette a beating as soon as this could conveniently be accomplished.

In the meantime Sheriff Charles Fellman received word that Marsonette had died and that Plante should be held as the party responsible. He evidently made no attempt to get out of the way of the officials and was quickly found.

HOLDING POTATOES FOR HIGHER PRICES

Amount Paid Growers in State Cut in Two During Past Three Weeks.

Minnesota potatoes are selling at the growers' station for approximately one-half what they brought two weeks ago, an average state-wide price being from 50 to 60 cents a bushel, or 95 cents to $1 a hundred pounds, according to A. W. Aamodt, manager of the Minnesota Potato Growers' exchange. Under those market conditions, Mr. Aamodt said, an average wholesale price for potatoes delivered at Minneapolis, with freight and hauling charges paid, is $1.42 a hundredweight, and a fair retail price, allowing for retailers' profits, approximately $1.25 a bushel of 60 pounds.

Farmers in many localities are holding their potatoes for better prices and refusing to haul them for less than 50 cents a bushel, according to Mr. Aamodt, while in localities where no storage space is available all the stock is being thrown on the market as fast as it can be hauled, as the growers fear frost damage.

Many Study Farm Work.

Registration for another year's work at the Minnesota College of Agriculture and the Central School of Agriculture at University Farm, St. Paul, indicates that the attendance this year at these two units of the state university will be even greater than last year, when the increase in the student body was 40 per cent over previous registrations. The registration in the college last year was 733 and in Central school 1,027, or a total of 1,760. Dean R. W. Thatcher predicts a combined enrollment this year of 2,000. Federal board students are expected to number 400 as against 250 last year. The College of Agriculture began class work week before last and the School of Agriculture opened last week.

THORMODSON FILES IN CONGRESS RACE

Will Go on Ballot as an Independent—Twenty Women Signers in This City.

N. E. Thormodson of Dalton, who was defeated in the primaries by Halvor Steenerson as a candidate on the Republican ticket for congress, will go on the ballot in November as an independent. His petition, signed by 525 voters in the district who took no part in the primary election, was last week filed with County Auditor T. P. Anderson.

The petition contains the names of 44 Pennington county voters, but three precincts outside of Thief River Falls being represented. There are 38 signers giving the city as their homes, twenty of whom are women. Kratka township contributes six names, there is one from Rhoda and one from St. Hilaire.

Thormodson and Steenerson are both making a speaking tour of the district, the former appearing before a large audience here on Tuesday evening. Martin Widsten, campaign manager for Steenerson, was in the city last week and stated that the congressman would be here to deliver an address later in the campaign.

AUTO MAN GIVES FACTS TO PUBLIC

Says Nothing Agreed With Him and He Could Hardly Sleep Before He Got Tanlac.

"After being in bad shape for more than a year I am a well man again, thanks to Tanlac," declared Joseph Stanley, 3201 Findly Place, Minneapolis, Minn.

"My stomach had been in such awful condition that I could not eat a single thing without its hurting me. My food would ferment, bloating me up with gas, and I had constant pains in the pit of my stomach. My kidneys also worried me a great deal and I had such a severe pain in the small of my back it was an effort for me to bend over. I was badly constipated, and often had dizzy spells. I couldn't get a good night's sleep and would get up in the morning feeling dull and stupid. I lost at least 15 pounds in weight, grew weaker every day, felt tired and worn out all the time and finally just had to give up and stop work.

"I was in this condition when I began taking Tanlac, but I had taken only a few doses when I commenced getting better. While I have only taken four bottles so far my whole system has been built up and I can eat anything I want without suffering from it afterwards. My kidneys do not worry me any more and the pains in my back have entirely gone. I am never constipated, never become dizzy and can sleep all night long without waking till morning. I have regained all my lost weight and strength and feel as well as I ever did in my life."

An Awful Price.

Baudette Region: Jack Jowet went to Warroad Wednesday to harvest his crop of 3,000 bushels of potatoes. Buyers have offered him 44 cents a bushel for the crop, and if the buyers go where Jack told them to go the fuel famine next winter won't worry them any.

STATE INDUSTRY SHOWS UP WELL REVIEW CLAIMS

Good Roads Play Very Important Part in Development of North Star State.

Foreign Travel on the Leading Roads Shows Conclusively That Advertising Pays.

The tremendous part which good roads are playing, and will play, in the development of Minnesota, proved a vital feature of reports received from bankers and newspaper publishers in nearly every county of Minnesota during the past week, for the weekly review of Minnesota enterprise, prepared by the Merchants National bank of St. Paul and the First and Peoples State bank of Thief River Falls.

Large Foreign Travel.

Inspection of available road census reports from more than 40 counties, obtained during the last half of September, indicated several reasons why residents in rural districts who have been classed as opponents of good roads amendment No. 1, have become friends and boosters of the $100,000,000 enterprise. Some counties reported as many as 250 foreign cars (machines from other states) traveling over a single highway in a week. These cars carried an average of three passengers.

Advertising Pays.

Unofficial reports, which may not be entirely accurate, estimated that travel on nationally known highways, such as the Yellowstone and Jefferson trails, was from 40 to 200 per cent heavier than traffic on the less extensively advertised roads. The consequence has been the merchants in many cities are boosting for broader advertising for the highways which bring tourists to their cities. No estimate is available to indicate approximately the money left in the state by motorists this year, but it will amount to several millions. Twenty-six counties have reported land sales as a consequence of summer automobile travel.

Grain Situation Unchanged.

Not much change was noted in the grain situation. Corn came through nicely, thanks to the fine weather during the last days of September. Marketing of grain has not commenced on a large scale and bankers pointed out that farmers have been taking advantage of weather conditions to do other work.

The hog movement increased and higher prices were reported from South St. Paul. More noticeable, however, was increased activities in the wool trade. Reports from the east that the market, long dead, was coming to life rapidly, brought optimism to hundreds of Minnesota sheep men. Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of Minnesota wool is in storage awaiting satisfactory prices.

Shipping By Truck.

Many farmers have been shipping potatoes, produce and grain to market by trucks and automobiles. Some have used automobiles to tow one or two wagons loaded with potatoes. Paved highways made such transportation very simple. The demand for freight cars has not been unseasonably heavy and information obtained in St. Paul by the Merchants National bank indicated that railroads have been successful in obtaining the return of cars long held by other lines.

Practically no change was noted in loans or deposits. A few banks reported slightly decreased loans. Merchants, generally, have been optimistic over fall and winter business possibilities.

SPECIAL ELKS' MEETING

Thief River Falls Elks will hold a special meeting at the lodge rooms Friday evening, Oct. 8, for the purpose of considering applications of candidates who desire to be initiated into the order with the big class of Oct. 15. Officers and members of the lodge are requested to be on hand promptly at 8 o'clock.

One Way to Encourage the Purebred Stock Movement

Dr. H. W. Froehlich, in common with most other people in this section, does not see any sense in breeding scrub cattle, but it was not generally known until lately that he has started a crusade against animals of inferior lineage. Such, however, appears to be the case. On a trip to Crookston the other day he found a herd of cows on the road ahead of him and, singling out the least likely specimen, headed his auto straight for her. He struck the unsuspecting bovine amidships just abaft the fourth principal meridian, ruining one fender and spraining his steering gear. The cow's injuries have not been ascertained.

New Association Formed By Northwestern Medics

The Red River Valley Medical society, the Park Region Medical society and the Clay-Becker Medical society at the joint convention held last week at Fergus Falls voted to amalgamate and form a new organization to be known as the Northwestern Minnesota Medical association. Dr. A. J. Paulson and Dr. H. W. Froehlich of Thief River Falls were in attendance at the meeting.

Dr. Edward Bratrud of Warren was elected president of the new organization, Dr. E. E. Verne of Moorhead, vice president, and Dr. W. L. Burhap of Fergus Falls, secretary and treasurer. The first regular convention will be held at Detroit next summer.

"That farming is the basic industry of this nation has always been recognized and asserted by the Republican party. That it is the basic industry of the state of Minnesota was recognized at the Republican convention held in St. Paul May 8, 1920.

"Until the time of the Civil War, the United States was recognized as being almost purely an agricultural country.

"Since that time the United States has moved with marvelous rapidity toward becoming an industrial nation and today we find that approximately 74 per cent of the population of the United States is in cities as against 26 per cent in the country.

"Here in the state of Minnesota, recognized as one of the leading agricultural states in the union and frequently spoken of as the 'Bread and Butter State,' we find that our city population is now 68 per cent and our country population is approximately 32 per cent of the total.

Back to Farm Cry Heard.

"For a number of years, we have heard in Minnesota, as well as throughout the United States the cry of 'back to the farm.'

The reason is that the United States has gradually approached the point, despite its tremendous agricultural areas and fertile soils, of becoming an industrial rather than an agricultural nation.

"This is demonstrated by the fact that today our importations of food stuffs practically equal our exportations thereof.

"While many causes have contributed to this great change in the activities of our people, the chief reason, it must be agreed, is that city life is more attractive than rural life.

Co-operation vs. Socialism.

"One plan advocated is that of having state-owned elevators, packing houses, factories, mills, terminals and so forth, operated by the state in competition with the privately owned elevators, warehouses, and so forth.

"The other plan proposes is that of having more co-operative elevators added to the 352 which we now have throughout the state and through which approximately 40 per cent of our grain is marketed, as well as having other warehouses to take care of all other products of the farms of the state of Minnesota, to be owned and controlled exclusively by the farmers and operated on a co-operative plan.

"Would it not be well for the farmers to consider which plan will be most to their interest?

"One proposes bonding the state and taxing all the people in the state for these purposes and then having state owned plants to be administered by all the people of the state, 68 per cent of whom live in the cities and villages and 32 per cent on the farms.

"If the state should engage in these various enterprises the state would have thousands of employes subject to political appointment or under a civil service law, which would get about the same results and efficiency out of the employes which the Federal government receives from its various departments.

"Would it not be better for the farmers to consider the co-operative plan?

Applicable to Minnesota.

"In Minnesota such an association could be organized under the Organization Act. Some slight changes would be necessary but if such an association were organized with its stock company for marketing and purchasing farm products and supplies, it could purchase a membership in the Chamber of Commerce of Minneapolis and Duluth on behalf of the farmers of Minnesota."

FAIR ASSOCIATION MEETS

The postponed meeting of the Pennington county fair association will be held Friday evening, Oct. 8, at the commercial club rooms, the meeting being called for 9 o'clock. Through an error in translating a telephone message The Times last week made an incorrect announcement concerning this meeting. Those interested will kindly take notice that tomorrow evening, Friday, Oct. 8, is the correct date.

MANY BANK JOBS NOT ENOUGH HELP

"Northern bankers are hiring our students before the ink's dry on their diplomas," said F. L. Watkins, Pres., Dakota Business College, Fargo, N.D. "Recently the First National Bank, Tuttle, N. D., needed help urgently. We sent Miss M. Ufer before her course was quite complete. The First National Bank of Wilton started our Mr. L. E. Massey with $110." About 700 banks in four states employ D. B. C. graduates.

1000 pupils needed to fill next year's openings. "Follow the Succesful." Write F. L. Watkins, Pres., 806 Front St., Fargo, N. D.

Canadian Plan to Fight Sow Thistle Advocated

The plan successfully used in Manitoba—that of having district agents—to fight the menace of the sow thistle, is advocated for the northwestern part of Minnesota by J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture, who says that the thistle situation is becoming real serious in that district.

Mr. Hay urges that the plan of having county agents plan campaigns to eradicate the evil be worked out.

Red Lake Republican Club.

A Harding-Preus club was last week formed at Red Lake Falls by Falls, organizer for the district. The following were chosen officers of the new club: Frank E. Hunt, president; Mrs. M. Findeisen, first vice president; M. H. Latendresse, second vice president; Mrs. J. C. Wilkinson, treasurer; Chas. E. Boughton, Jr., secretary. The club expects to take an active part in politics from now until after election.

Miss Effie Christianson returned on Friday from a business mission to Warroad.

Nobody thinks anything now of going away on a trip

THE railroads were partly responsible. But it wasn't until the automobile reached its present state of development that the old barriers against travel were finally broken down.

II

More people own automobiles today than ever thought of owning a horse and buggy in the old days.

That's because the cost of motoring has been brought within reach of the average citizen's pocketbook.

We look upon it as part of our job to keep it there. If it weren't for the trade of the man with the medium priced car there wouldn't be much in this tire business for us.

III

The less a man has to spend on motoring, the more important it is that his tires should be of first quality.

Any tire is not good enough for the small car owner. He wants a tire that will give him just as much for his money in the small size as the big car man gets for his money in the large size.

IV

In thinking over what kind of tires we would represent in this community we tried to put ourselves in the place of the car owner. And we believe we hit it exactly when we selected U. S. Tires.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.

ARE THEY UNDESIRABLE?

Northwestern Minnesota is in need of settlers and is in a position to offer unusual inducements to those who will come here with the intention of making the section their home and becoming a part of our citizenry. No other kind is wanted, no matter how well fixed they may be or how exemplary their character in other respects.

The news that some twenty thousand Mennonites were considering settling in the neighborhood of Thief River Falls was hailed with enthusiasm at first. A little closer investigation as to the characteristics and antecedents of these people has somewhat dampened this prospective welcome and our people are waiting to find out whether or not the stories told of the Mennonites are true before going any farther in their friendly demonstration.

The Toronto Saturday Night recently contained an article that is illuminating and rather suggests that we do not want these people to cast their lot here. The Toronto paper says that for half a century the Mennonites have enjoyed special privileges over other citizens in Western Canada and have grown wealthy. As Germanized colonies their religious liberties were never interfered with and even now are not threatened in any way, notwithstanding assertions made to the contrary. They were exempted from military duty in the European war and during that period were permitted to enjoy unmolested the enormous financial rewards attendant upon conditions at that time. The sole and only grievance they have, according to the Canadian writer, is an objection on the part of the church bishops to permit the Mennonite children to receive a proper education in the English language, as decreed by the law of the land. They have contested these decrees through all the Dominion courts and lost. Now they are seeking a new haven where they will be permitted to bring their children up in ignorance—at least so far as the official language of the state is concerned. That, according to the Saturday Night is the sole extent of their persecution in Canada.

If these are the facts—and it is greatly to be feared that such is the case—there is no place in Minnesota for the Mennonites. Unless they come fully intending to live up to such laws as the rest of us find safety and contentment in obeying, they had better keep right on going. It would not be advisable to back away from principles one iota in order to have them come.

There is a possibility that the men and women who are leaving Canada are doing so because they wish to break away from the domination of their bishops, realizing that there is no place for persons with their ideas in the world today. But even in that case there would be a serious question as to whether or not they would be wanted. They certainly would not easily be made to understand their duties as citizens, while their attitude toward the remainder of the population would probably preclude their ever being properly assimilated.

If these people want to come they should be made to understand that their customs will have to yield where they conflict with the law of the state. Otherwise we do not want them here under any circumstances.

Minnesota will probably get along somehow no matter who is elected governor. The old state will also muddle through if it is decided that the present makeshift road system is good enough, but this is a most unnecessary proceeding. Amendment No. 1 will set in motion the machinery for giving us the finest outfit of highways of any state in the Union—and the carrying out of the plan is not predicated upon the election to the executive office of any one person. This does not mean that no attention should be paid to the selection of the right officers. That is always an important matter but need in no way interfere with the question of good roads. Vote for Amendment No. 1, no matter who happens to be your choice for the positions to be filled.

THE MATTER MADE CLEAR.

The Times today publishes the text of a pamphlet sent out by the Minnesota Highway Commission dealing with the Babcock Good Roads Amendment to the constitution, which is to be voted on by the people at the coming election. The pamphlet is sent out with the purpose of acquainting the voters with every phase of the proposed law and in it is found an answer to every question that can be put with relation to the workings of the plan. Read it all and find out just exactly what the amendment means.

Next Tuesday evening there will be a good roads meeting in Thief River Falls at which Senator P. H. McGarry and Fred Sherman will be the speakers. They will further explain just what the Babcock law will do for Minnesota in general and for the farmer in particular. Senator McGarry introduced the bill in the legislature and is better qualified to speak on it than any other man in the state. There will be no politics mixed up in his address as the measure is in no way one of political import or significance. Candidates and voters of all parties are behind it almost to a man but it is not wise to allow interest in its success to die out because it will require a majority of all votes cast at the election in order to carry the amendment through.

You may have reasons for believing that this measure will not be a good thing for the state. In that case you owe it to yourself to hear what there is to be said in its favor. By attending this meeting you are sure to find out something pertaining to the plan that you did not know before and the matter is of too great importance for you not to wish to be thoroughly posted on its provisions and intention.

Read the article in The Times today and then come out and hear the speakers on Tuesday evening at the auditorium, or attend the Goodridge meeting on Wednesday evening if that is more convenient.

It may, of course, develop yet, but up to date there certainly is not much enthusiasm displayed over the forthcoming presidential election. It is doubtful if even the oldest voter can recall so quiet and uninteresting a campaign. Everybody seems willing to concede that the two gentlemen from Ohio who are at the head of the old party tickets all right and very nice men, but neither one has managed to inject much ginger into his following. Just think how different things would have been had Hi Johnson and Bill Bryan been the nominees!

The public should bear in mind that not buying the things needed at any price is just as foolish and dangerous a proceeding as paying a high price for things not needed. It is just as well to remember that there is a point on the downward slope beyond which prices cannot go without bringing about a most disastrous condition. Should a tightening up of buying, even to the point where necessities are included, now result it would prove much worse for the country than the high prices. A good plan is to buy what you need when you need it. We have kept the safety valve popping a long time and it has proved a costly process. Let's not make the mistake of trying to get along without steam entirely.

To Women Voters.

(St. Paul Pioneer Press.)

The women of Minnesota will hold the balance of power in determining the state's political complexion on all questions and candidates at the coming election. It is in their power, in all probability, to say whether Preus, Hodgson or Shipstead will be our next governor. It is for them to decide whether Minnesota will go for Harding or Cox. But, most of all is it in their power to determine whether Amendment No. 1 shall be passed and give Minnesota the greatest road system in the country, or whether it shall go by default and thus deprive the state of the benefits of the most progressive program ever undertaken in its behalf.

Their control over good roads is peculiarly vital in this respect. If a woman fails to vote for one of the candidates for any office she will, at least, not be casting a vote against that candidate. But if she fails to vote for the good roads amendment she will be voting against it! The reason for this, as informed persons already know, is that the amendment, to be approved, must receive a majority of all the votes cast in the election. If the woman voter, then, through ignorance or indifference, fails to vote for Amendment No. 1 her vote will simply add to the total of votes cast without increasing the number favorable to the good roads cause.

Women voters, if they realized the significance of the amendment, would be the first to vote for it. In most cases the man of the family owns the automobile and would pay the license tax. The woman has nothing to lose but everything to gain in riding over smooth, dry roads. It is for her, in most cases, that the family car was ever bought. Then why not the roads to go with it? If she lives in the country the right kind of a road reduces, by so many miles, her distance from town, from her neighbors and her church. It means education for her children, for it brings them within five to fifteen minutes of the school and makes it easy for them to attend the high school in town. What a pity if the woman voter should fail to realize her interest in this matter! What a mistake if any man who wants a good roads system at a minimum of cost and delay should fail to instruct the women voters of his family to cast their votes for, and not against, Amendment No. 1!

Let it not be forgotten that failure to vote for the amendment is a vote against!

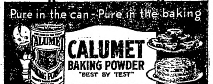
WHAT you lose thru baking failure must be added to baking costs—it has to be paid for.

Calumet Baking Powder will save you all of that. Because when you use it there are no failures—no losses. Every baking is sweet and palatable—and stays moist, tender and delicious to the last tasty bite.

That's a big saving—but that isn't all. You save when you buy Calumet and you save when you use it.



It is reasonable in cost and possesses more than the ordinary leavening strength. You pay less and use less. You get the most in purity, dependability and wholesomeness.

In every way — it is the best way to keep down baking costs. That's what has made it the world's biggest selling baking powder — has kept it the favorite of millions of housewives for more than thirty years.

Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Sunshine Cake Recipe

Insufficient Telephone Earnings In Minnesota

After paying our operating expenses we are earning less than 3 per cent annually for interest and dividends on the money invested in our property in the state of Minnesota.

We are now paying $1,554,000 more annually in wages to telephone employees in this state than three years ago.

Other telephone expenses have gone up tremendously too.

The following figures show the per cent increase in prices over pre-war costs of some of the principal telephone supplies used in the upkeep of our property.

Batteries	105 per cent
Brass	79 per cent
Cedar Poles	140 per cent
Copper	55 per cent
Cross Arms	162 per cent
Furniture	121 per cent
Glass Insulators	99 per cent
Iron Wire	79 per cent
Paper	110 per cent

In order to provide for the telephone requirements of the people of Minnesota, we must obtain from investors about $3,000,000 of new money each year.

To obtain this new money under present conditions we would have to pay approximately 9 per cent interest annually.

Adequate telephone earnings must be obtained from the operation of our business if we are to continue to maintain our properties and be able to attract the new money necessary to meet the growing requirements of the public for telephone service.

First
Miss Shepherd sang, "In the Gloaming." The New Edison stood on the stage by her side.
Then

185 times - no difference!

Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, famous concert soprano, has made this test 185 times. 185 public audiences, in 185 cities, have heard her compare her voice with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. No one, out of a total of more than 100,000 listeners, has been able to tell when Miss Shepherd was singing, and when the New Edison—except by watching her lips.

4,000 similar tests of direct comparison, made by over fifty other celebrated vocalists and instrumentalists, have given this same result.

The New Edison is perfect realism achieved!

What kind of music "gets" you?

Tell us—and we'll show you how all its emotional power is RE-CREATED by the New Edison

Is it the soulful violin?—a mellow contralto?—the scintillating flute?—a sweet, soothing tenor?—that draws the quickest emotional response from you.

Let us play your favorite voice or instrument in a new kind of Realism Test. See whether you are touched by the RE-CREATED music in the same way that you are touched by the living music.

We want to show you that the New Edison RE-CREATES all the vital power in all music.

Remember what to ask for—"personal favorites" Realism Test!

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Perfect realism is your one vehicle to the inner joys of music which you crave.

Mr. Edison spent three million dollars in the research work which gave the New Edison perfect realism. He did this in order that the phonograph might transcend its former limitations and (here we quote Mr. Edison's own words), "bring into every American home, music so realistic and so perfect in its rendition as to be an unending source of benefit and pleasure."

The instruments which proved this perfect realism in Miss Shepherd's 185 tests were all exact duplicates of the original Official Laboratory Model on which Mr. Edison spent his three million dollars. You can also have an exact duplicate of this three million dollar original. We have it in our store, and guarantee it to be capable of sustaining the same test of direct comparison.

Important Practical Detail
Our Budget Plan brings your New Edison for immediate enjoyment, without asking for immediate payment. Ask about it when you come in to hear the "Personal Favorites" Realism Test.

Something About Furniture Prices:

We notice in the daily papers that the Associated Press through the newspapers of the country have given the great mail order houses a lot of free advertising concerning reductions in the price of merchandise which ten minutes' investigation by the person sending out the report would have proven absolutely untrue. One of these statements was that prices of furniture had fallen off twenty-five per cent in the last few months, an absolutely false statement.

Prices of furniture, rugs or housefurnishings generally have not been reduced by manufacturers twenty-five per cent, nor even five per cent, nor any per cent, except in a very few isolated cases on a very few articles and then for special reasons, and no manufacturer will today accept orders for immediate or future delivery at any reduction in prices and with very few exceptions still insists on stipulating that price will be made at time of shipment.

The Grand Rapids Furniture Record just received, admitted to be the best informed and authentic authority in the matter of housefurnishings, in announcing the opening of the New York Furniture Show, Oct. 11th, at which Eastern and Southern as well as many Western manufacturers book their orders for Spring delivery, says: "If present plans succeed all exhibitors will sell at guaranteed prices, eliminating the price prevailing clause, but the Association does not believe there will be any change in prices from those that prevailed at the midsummer shows."

Our goods are priced as low as they can be sold in the present markets and our prices will be reduced just as fast as reductions are made by manufacturers, both on goods bought at the new prices and also on those we have on hand when the reduction comes, be it five or fifty per cent, and we challenge a comparison of prices and quality of merchandise with the mail order or any other houses no matter what reductions they claim to be selling their goods at. It's the ultimate price you pay after the reductions and percentages have been deducted together with the quality of merchandise you get that counts. Don't lose sight of that fact.

Don't let so-called price reductions and discounts be the dust thrown into your eyes to blind you to the final result.

Thief River Falls Is One of the Most Progressive Towns of Its Size in Minnesota

Thief River Falls boasts of its business houses. Its stores are filled with complete stocks of up-to-the- minute merchandise. There is excellent telephone and telegraph service; four banks with resources of over $3,000,000, progressive newspapers, co-operative creamery doing a business of nearly half a million dollars per year, the finest city auditorium in that section of the state, two modern motion picture theatres, three well-stocked lumber yards, two strictly modern hotels and a number of smaller ones; two high-class bakeries, a number of confectionery and ice cream parlors, three restaurants, four barber shops, three furniture stores, five clothing stores, three pool halls, four hardware stores, two plumbing establishments, four drug stores, three dry goods stores, two harness shops, two tire-repair establishments, four blacksmith and machine shops, four farm implement concerns, five elevators, railroad round-house, cement tile factory, corrugating works, two wholesale produce houses, one wholesale grocery, one wholesale candy concern, municipal lighting and water plant, four garages, three millinery shops, three meat markets, three tailor shops, two feed stables, six groceries, and every other kind of business house usually found in a city of its size.

Thief River Falls is the trading center for the fastest developing section of the Northwest. An electric line connects the city with the people in the eastern part of the county, both freight and passengers being handled. Twelve passenger trains arrive at or depart from Thief River Falls every 24 hours.

Thief River Falls is surrounded by an exceptionally fine country, peopled by progressive farmers who have made their money through livestock and dairying; through the production of bumper crops of graini, corn, cattle and hogs. Dairying is the industry of prime importance, though the city's rapidly increasing commercial interests are factors to be reckoned with. If you are looking for a location for a business or a home, Thief River Falls offers the best. Get in on the ground floor and reap the harvest that all who invest wisely in real estate, and remember, when you buy real estate you buy an inheritance that is everlasting.

Thief River Falls lies in the heart of the best grain growing, stock raising and diversified farming section in Minnesota and is a thoroughly modern city of 6,000 inhabitants. It is located on the main line of the Soo railroad between Minneapolis and Winnipeg, and on the Crookston-Warroad branch of the Great Northern. It is the largest cit yon that line north of Detroit, and is truly a place in which anyone will do well to cast his lot. With one of the best high schools in the state—one ranking at the top in point of attendance, of both home and non-resident students—in which all branches are taught, its educational features are unsurpassed. There are also a number of fine church buildings. It is a town in which good morals is the keynote and for this reason contentment and happiness both reign. No more pleasant place to live can be found throughout the length and breadth of the Gopher State. It is a city of mixed population, of plain people, where all meet together for a bigger and better community.

ratifying Interest in Program of Woman's Club Shown at First Meeting

The initial meeting of the Woman's ab for the present year was held in e commercial club rooms on Mon- ay afternoon with a large attend- nce, signifying the fact that the old thusiasm exists among the mem- s. The session was opened with musical numbers, consisting of a o solo by Miss Laura Forde and ano selection by Miss Ausilga nson. Both numbers received rty applause. Mrs. Daniel Shaw, wly elected president, gave an in- esting talk to the club members in which she outlined the work for the coming year. Her address in full follows:

"Members of the Woman's club: We are today opening the door for a beginning of our seventh year of work. I want to congratulate club for its activities in the past years and trust that this year's ork will not suffer by comparison. Our club in the past two years has received many flattering compliments in the district and state due to the forts of our past president, Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, and her board.

"We stand on a little different basis his year owing to the fact that we have been granted full citizenship, and I hope that each of us stands ready to study the situation.

"It makes little difference whether you and I have been for or against suffrage; it is here, and the question arises, will we prepare ourselves for these new duties and make ready to shoulder the responsibilities which are sure to force themselves upon us?

"We know the average man gets his politics in his daily business, talks it in his office or on the street, and some men eat and sleep politics, while we women must exert ourselves to learn about politics.

"Now, then, I feel the time is ripe and that we must acquaint ourselves with our government in its various forms—national, state, county and city. It seems to me that if we familiarize ourselves along these lines we will become better citizens.

"Current events is represented by a leader and four other club mem- ers, who will be appointed at the arious meetings to assist. Watch the magazines and daily papers for e best events.

'Now comes the course of study, ided into thirteen lessons, viz: ing, Form of Government, Dements of Government, Powers of ress, Party Organization, Elec- in Minnesota, City Government, River Falls, City Executives, Courts, Municipal Activities, and essons on Americanization. Am- ization is a big subject and we ly touch upon it this year.

expect we all feel that we have lind of our own. That is good, no one gets very far on the hts of someone else. They are at for texts but we must make our own, that is, transplant into our personal belief and he- efore we gain much benefit.

e board has placed in the public ry several of the best texts on ubjects we are to study; these several pamphlets will be of help. This literature will be on a table at the left as you the library. Please make use u will notice that each topic has ler or, in other words, a teach- al we are the students. And way, I wish to thank all the s for the way in which each ded when asked to do this.

o much credit cannot be given iss Frissell, who acted as tem- ry chairman of the program com- e. She planned from the stand- of the teacher and each lesson een made as simple as possible. ill find this is true as you study by step. Let us by our own ef- s show the committee we appre- te what has been prescribed for

'Right here I want to make a little ur. Perhaps I hear someone say, work and no play makes Jack ull boy.' Well, friends, hear in l that we have nearly $925 to for the Lyceum course that was d for last spring, so the board this would be sufficient recrea- for the club year.

he fear that giving woman the ballot might unsex her will prove unfounded, or at least it has in the states having had suffrage for a number of years. There was, as you all know, a like fear expressed when women sought the right to practice law and medicine.

"But the mere fact of our having the right to vote will not make for better government unless we vote intelligently, and how can we do this? I believe the way is through study. The more knowledge we have and the more responsibility we take the greater our influence will be felt, though I do believe we will in a great measure find it uncongenial to take part in political conventions.

"Some of our states have had suffrage for years but the women seeking or holding office has been a small percentage of the whole.

"The musical numbers on our year's program have been arranged by Mrs. Gay Halvorson, chairman of the musical section, and I am sure each number will be enjoyed in turn, thanks to the ladies who have so kindly consented to help with this part of the program.

"There are five numbers in the course and we have placed the price of season tickets so reasonable that I hope every member will feel that she can take one. Two dollars for adults, one dollar for students; single admission at the door, fifty and twenty-five cents.

"Mrs. Nason, chairman of the committee, has promised that the selling of tickets will go with a swing and I know the other members must catch her enthusiasm—hence we look for results.

"Now, ladies, in conclusion I wish to say we will get out of these lessons just what we put into them, and I ask and urge in all sincerity that we do our best. Teacher and student, come prepared so far as possible for each lesson, but on the other hand I do not want a sigle member to absent herself for fear of not being able to recite. Far be it from us to embarrass any member. Just let us be a unit in doing this work.

"It will be most gratifying to the board if we succeed in making our study program the best in the Ninth district and one of the best in the state.

Brumund kindly offered the club the use of the theatre. The president also urged the members to attend the lecture on Oct. 12 at the auditorium, at which time Sen. P. H. McGarry and F. D. Sherman will speak on the Babcock amendment.

When you read the sport columns which appear regularly in this publication, a number of you will think of high school athletics simply as an amusement or recreation. That is, however, not the case. High school athletics are valuable because of the physical benefit to the participants, but their greatest value lies in the development of school spirit.

What is the real motive that impels the football players to go out for practice night after night without thought of material compensation? Those who play for mere personal glory may easily be detected in a football or basketball game. But what about those who, when their team seems to be facing inevitable defeat, rush back into the fray with a set, determined expression, as if to say, "We are going over the top?" They want to win, for their school and for their team. That is true school spirit, which is simply another term for loyalty.

Then, too, there are those who play without considering a chance of making the first team. They want to do what they can that the team may be in the best of condition in meeting their foes.

"The Progess."

The education and enjoyment derived from our paper, "The Progress," should keep every pupil in high school in close touch with it. "The Progress" gives every pupil a chance to see his or her literary efforts in print.

The public as a whole is interested in the advancement of education, and in reading "The High School Progress" they find out what our high school is doing along the lines of high school activities and the regular school work. So let us all get behind the activity that wields the greatest influence of any in high school.

High School Spirit.

Are you a "pull down" to your school? Do you attend your class meetings and pay your class dues? Are you going to attend the coming football and basketball games? Are you going to buy a season ticket to help the support of the Athletic association?

If you, each individual, of the Lincoln high school, fulfill these questions, there will be no lack of high school spirit.

The high school, your school, will be alive. No one wants to pull down a school, so let's see you, who make up the school, alive and full of "pep."

Makers and Breakers.

To which class do you belong? Are you a maker or a breaker? In a broad way, people may be divided into two classes, with a lot of left overs who haven't enough pep to get into either class.

There are the makers. They are the people who put things across.

They are the path finders. They make a town grow, they make men. It's a great thing to be a maker, so let's all be.

Then there are the breakers. They are the class of people who pile things in the way. They depress and discourage and tear down. They are always discouraged. They have the critical instinct abnormally developed. Such people can ruin any enterprise. They are the breakers. If I cannot build up, then I hope I shall not tear down. If I cannot make the day brighter and the way easier for some fellow-traveler, I have missed my chance.

Alumni vs. High School.

Next Tuesday, Oct. 5, at 3:30, we will play our first home game of the season. The game that was to be played at Grand Forks this Saturday has been postponed until a later date. The game that comes off next Tuesday is going to be a snappy one. Both of these teams have a fine line-up and are in the best of shape for the game. Season tickets can be used at this game, and admission of 25 cents will be charged to outsiders. It's the first game of the season and every high school student should be full of pep and enthusiasm. So let's all come out with our colors and boost our high school team.

More than eleven hundred foreigners, representing nearly a score of nationalities, have signified their desire to become full fledged Americans and educated citizens by registering in the night classes opened in fourteen public schools in Minneapolis. Persons of Slovak descent or birth are in the majority in these classes.

Forum.

A Forum debating society will be organized this week open to all Juniors and Seniors. The prospects for the best debating team in the state are good and all indications point toward a banner year. The value and importance of debating is being recognized by the greatest educators and keen competition will exist. It is a learning of so great value that it cannot be measured in dollars and cents—an influence that will be a mile-stone in anyone's career. A large membership is expected and arrangements are being made to either have it during school hours or establish an eighth period class. The high school will compete in the Red River Declamatory contest.

Smith-Hughes Progess

Mr. McGarvey of the state department of education was in Thief River Falls last week in the interest of the Smith-Hughes work.

He feels confident that the great progress made by our local vocational school makes it superior to a great many schools of the same nature in Minnesota, due to the interest which the high school boys have taken in the work.

Two more very interesting subjects are to be introduced in the near future. More specific and complete announcements will be released concerning the vocational work in the next issue of the Progress.

Senior Class Meeting.

Thursday afternoon at 3:30, the Seniors held a class meeting at which the annual staff was announced. The staff this year has been appointed by a number of the high school faculty, in conjunction with the officers of the Senior class.

The following is the 1920 annual staff:

Junior Class Meeting.

Since this banquet is a great expense to the Juniors a special class meeting was called Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. for the purpose of levying a certain amount, as a class due, to be paid by each of the Juniors.

Freshmen Elect Officers.

The Freshmen class had their first meeting last week for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. The following were elected:

President, Ivan Larson; vice president, Elsie Blair; secretary, Melvin Engelstad; treasurer, Herbert Keene; sergeants-at-arms, Robert McGinn and Clifton Conner.

With this set of officers and the co-operation of the rest of the class, it is certain to be a credit to the high school.

'D Ye Ever Meet 'im?

Duffy's seeing visions in the mansions of the skies,
And the world that sweeps around him has no value in his eyes.
They are fixed on far horizons, on a distant, certain goal,
On the haven of the strenuous and conquering of soul.
Duffy's brand new football uniform and leather headgear, too,
Have carried into nearer kew, the end he has in view,
When with cheering and with shouting, till the very heavens crack,
The populace acclaims him as the Greatest Living Back.

High School Spirit.

How dead at times our spirit seems to be!
We all neglect our high school home; forget
Its walls, its mem'ries and our lasting debt
To it; and keep its name in secrecy.
These things must cease; if e'er we are to see
Our school become renowned, each one must set
Its standards far above reproach, and let
Its praise be heard and sung continually.
A boost, a word, an act, a thought expressed,
Will herald on its grand ideals, the fame
'Twill bear. If then we have ourselves addressed
To keep its life beyond reproach and blame.
There'll come to both a blessing great to tell,
The consciousness of duties done, and well.

—R. R. Vance.

Sounds From the Woodshed

"C-o-m-e here mother. I'm hurt," sobbed little Jane.

Mrs. Patterson, who was entertaining the Methodist Ladies' Aid, excused herself and hastened to her little daughter.

While she was gone John rushed into the living room, and would as quickly have rushed out had not Miss Brown called to him, saying, "Johnnie, come here! Sit down by me. Wouldn't you like to live with me and be my little boy?"

"You might powder my nose if I lived with you, so I guess I wouldn't care to go. Ma says you powder your nose," answered John.

"The very idea of people daring to say such things. I'll not stay in this house another minute."

After she had gone, Mrs. Norton said, "Wasn't that strange? Why should she get mad and go away? Everybody knows she does powder."

"Say," said Johnnie, "I believe you are the woman ma said was always talking about people behind their backs."

"How dare you say such a thing! I don't blame Miss Brown for going, and I shall do so too, and never come here again," cried Mrs. Norton.

"Well, I declare," said Mrs. Lake when she had gone, "What you said was true, but everybody knows that the truth hurts sometimes."

"Yes," said John, "I suppose it does. Say, Pa said you had the worst temper of anybody he knew, and—"

"Enough," snapped Mrs. Lake, "I wish to hear no more," and taking her wraps, she went away.

Johnnie told every woman present something similar, so by the time his mother returned all had gone.

"Why, where are all the ladies, John?"

"Oh, I don't know. They just went. I told Miss Brown that you said she powdered her nose and Mrs. Norton that she always was saying things behind other people's backs, and—"

"Johnnie!" cried his mother, "you bad, bad boy. Come with me to the woodshed."

Didn't you hear some queer sounds? I did.

Personals.

Miss Patrick: "What is the day after Hallowe'en called?" (Meaning All Saints Day.)

Bright student: "Reconstruction Day!"

Ernest Zeh says: "When I was out hunting I got as many in two hours as some fellows get in two days—I almost hit one!"

Jordan Penney was confined to his home a few days last week because of an accident which occurred while he was playing football at Grafton last Saturday. He is getting along fine and has returned to school again.

We notice the Juniors are getting busy. Their colors are on the school flag pole, and Lincoln has been wearing a new necktie for the past few days.

Lynn Halvorson has been confined to his home for several days because of sickness. He is recovering rapidly and will soon be able to pursue his studies again.

Denis McGinn, "Tubby" LaBree and Reuben Hadrath, alumni of '20, have entered upon the auto thieving business. If you don't believe this, ask "Mat" Barzen.

The football boys entertained themselves at Ardock between trains playing "African golf."

Born, to Prof. and Mrs. Pope, on Sept. 29, a nine and a half pound baby boy, Wendell Wiedman. Before the year is over we look for Master Wendell to be efficient in the use of a saw, hammer and plane.

Thief River-Red Lake Game.

The Lincoln high school football squad went to Red Lake Falls on Saturday morning to play a game with the team of that city for the benefit of the Red Lake county fair spectators. The final outcome of the game was 7 to 0 in favor of the Lincoln high school squad.

The game clearly showed a lack of team work and tact which will only be overcome by more hard practice and scrimmage. The next game will be played at East Grand Forks on Oct. 9.

WHY?

(From the Publisher's Auxiliary.)

More than seven thousand printers of this country are using the Franklin Printing Price List. They are charging for printing approximately the prices quoted in this list. A very large percentage of these 7,000 printers are both job printers and newspaper publishers and are selling advertising space in their newspapers as well as printing.

When the local merchant goes to any one of these publishers with an order for 500 or 1,000 handbills of a size of 6x9 inches, which means a type form of 4½x7 inches, the publisher looks at his price list and unhesitatingly names a price of $6.25 for 500 or $7.75 for 1,000 of these bills and the merchant pays it willingly.

When the merchant receives his handbills he employs a boy to distribute them about town, throwing them on the lawns or doorsteps, to be picked up by the householder or blown away by the wind as fate may decree, and whichever it may be the merchant is satisfied.

Get ten, one hunderd or one thousand publishers together and ask them which is the more valuable advertising medium, the handbill or space in their newspapers, equal space and equal circulation for either medium, and the unanimous verdict will be space in the newspaper.

But—the same merchant goes to the mercant with an advertisement of a special sale and wants a space of 4½x7 inches in his newspaper. How many of these same publishers, who have voted unanimously that newspaper advertising is more valuable than handbill advertising, will quote this merchant a price of 44 cents a column inch for 500 circulation, or 55 cents a column inch for 1,000 circulation?

In the case of the newspaper the publishers are going to do the distributing and are going to put these papers inside the home of the community, and put the advertising on the same pages with reading matter for which the people are paying, and which they want.

There is not one in a thousand publishers who would quote the same inch price for newspaper advertising they do quote for handbill advertising. Take any one thousand publishers of newspapers with circulations of 500 copies each and but very few of them would think of making an advertising rate of more than 20 cents an inch, while many of them would say 10 cents an inch or less. What is true of publishers of papers with 500 circulation is equally true of publishers of papers of 1,000 circulation. The rate for the 1,000 circulation might be as much as 25 cents an inch, but in the great majority of cases it would be less than that—considerably less.

The prices quoted for handbills is that given in the Franklin Printing Price List for bills printed on print paper and for the B class of composition, while the majority of the advertising in the newspapers would carry the more expensive C class of composition.

When the newspaper publishers of America realize that in selling advertising they are selling service, when they realize that the thing that makes their advertising space valuable is the reading matter the public is buying, and that the advertising must, and quite properly should, carry much of the cost of preparing, printing and distributing this reading matter, then, and then only, will they realize the value of their advertising space to the local merchant.

When the advertising space for the local stores sells for the price it should sell for, at the price it is worth to the merchants, then the community newspapers of America will be on a profitable basis, and the community publisher will command the respect of the community and the place to which he is entitled.

That Morning Lameness.

If you are lame every morning, and suffer urinary ills, there must be a cause. Often it's weak kidneys. To strengthen the weakened kidneys and avert more serious troubles use Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on Thief River Falls testimony.

H. C. Liden, 424 Davis St. N., Thief River Falls, says: "Not long ago I began to have trouble from my kidneys. My back pained most all the time, and mornings I was sore and lame. Often I had to have my shoes pulled on for me because I couldn't stoop to get them on myself. My kidneys didn't act regularly sometimes they acted too freely and then again the secretions were scanty. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Curtis' Drug Store and two boxes entirely ended the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Liden had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—adv.

"Do you lack power of decision, energy, and stamina? Are your ambitions greater than your strength? You need not be discouraged, says Dr. James Sullivan, formerly of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and Westchester County Hospital. "By feeding the blood pure organic iron—Nuxated Iron—many a weak, rundown, discouraged man has changed to a red-blooded American, full of force and energy that win success." Multiplying the Wheat Yield 21 Times Per Man

"It takes thirteen minutes of human labor to produce every bushel of wheat that comes out of a good American wheat state. In Europe a bushel of wheat required four and one-half hours of labor."
—Dearborn Independent.

Europe with its pre-war wealth of labor developed intensive hand cultivation to an extent undreamed of because unnecessary in America. In the United States labor shortage developed a type of farming which gave petroleum products a chance to lend a hand.

Increased labor shortage in the United States has meant increased application of gasoline power to the farms of the Middle West. Mechanical power has multiplied the wheat yield 21 times per man.

The fact that power machinery, and gasoline to run it, is going on the farms, is responsible in no small degree for the large crops produced for 1920. The great mission of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is to produce enough gasoline to supply the farmer with all he can use at the time and place he needs it, and at a low price.

"Domestic consumption of gasoline, far outstripping our production of crude petroleum, has forced gasoline up in price. During the first four months of 1920, gasoline consumption increased 796,030 gallons a day more than production during the same period." (Oil News, July 5, 1920.) While more crude oil is being produced in 1920 than even the most enthusiastic optimist dared predict five years ago, it is not sufficient to meet the ever increasing demand.

Every facility developed by the vast organization of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) through years of service, is being directed to the end of supplying the farms of the Middle West with necessary petroleum products. Transportation difficulties have been anticipated by this company, so that there has been no serious shortage of petroleum products to the farmer in any of the states served by this company—the dark green tank wagon delivering even to the tractor in the field in emergencies.

Helping the farmer produce and market his crop is one of the essential services rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to the people of the Middle West.

STOMACH CATARRH.

Causes untold misery and suffering, all of which is needless. Pe-ru-na acts as quickly and surely on catarrh of the stomach and bowels as in cases of that common form, nasal catarrh.

Exercises a soothing, healing effect upon all mucous linings. Belching gas, sour stomach, nausea, vomiting, cramps, pains in the abdomen, diarrhoea, constipation are all symptoms of a catarrhal condition in the organs of digestion.

Don't suffer another day. It is needless and dangerous. Two generations have found Pe-ru-na just the medicine needed for such disturbances.

BEEF ON TOBOGGAN-PORK HOLDING WELL

Union Stock Yards, South St. Paul, Oct. 4—As a result of steady declines the past two weeks, cattle values are at the low point of the year. Last week's trade was very unsatisfactory from the shipper's standpoint and little change was forecast for this week, owing to the liberal runs that are flooding the market. The market declined 50c to $1 on most butcher cattle and stockers and feeders were quoted at $1@2 off with trade at a standstill. Most steer trade stopped at $8 late in the week, though good grades would have sold higher. Cow trade ranged from $5 to $7, but a lot of stuff sold around the $6 mark. Canners and cutters cashed at $3.50 @ $4.50 with bull trade at $4.50 to $5.50. Vealers were steady at bargain prices. Dairy cow trade was limited and lower. Receipts at 46,848 were the largest of the season.

Hogs declined sharply the greater part of the week, but rallied Friday and closed around $1.25 lower for the period. Top was $15.25 with bulk of mixed loads at $14.75@15 and packers and throwouts at $11 to $14.25. Good stock pigs sold up to $14 and $14.15. Receipts were 28,305.

Top lambs fluctuated during the week but closed steady with top at $11.50 for natives and $12.50 for westerns. Ewes ranged from $2@5.75 for westerns with other grades unchanged. Receipts were 31,577.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

Intrinsic feeding value of course grains and the rather uncomfortable strong statistical position of wheat and rye has, during most of the week, apparently cooled the enthusiasm of sellers for deferred delivery. Deflation sentiment for the time being appeared thoroughly discounted, but a wave of price-cutting in all lines, and a general lack of confidence in the stability of values have forced the market into a condition very sensitive to depressive news.

Sellers confidently base their attitude on the assumption that the producer having been the first to reap the benefit of inflated prices growing out of war conditions, he will be the first to take losses incident with readjustment and that the necessity of liquidation will require reasonably prompt marketing. No doubt the theory is sound when applied to an extended period of time, but reduction to pre-war values in the space of two weeks is considered generally too precipitate to hold.

Although the downward readjustment idea is now dominant, actual conditions should not be taken entirely from view. Despite a bumper crop this year and a short production last year, carlot receipts of grain to this market are reported thus far totaling more than 6,000 less than the corresponding time a year ago. Barring the run of old corn the same conditions hold true relatively with all other markets.

In wheat especially the deflation theory is in sharp conflict with actual conditions and in course grains the bumper crops now assured are discounted about 50 per cent on the basis of prices obtaining only a short time ago. Is this sufficient?

It may be also considered that to meet the present tremendous short selling for December delivery and maintain depressed values there is required first, free selling on the part of the producer and, secondly, ideal transportation conditions, neither, of which are promising.

Many hold the belief that the producer will be slow to take severe losses. There is little probability of panicky liquidation from first hands and it may be expected that this position will be strengthened by more or less deficient transportation.

Private estimates now place the corn crop at 3,213,000,000 or 82 million more than the previous government report. September weather undoubtedly increased the yield of the standard grades. Oats are estimated at 1,526,000,000, or 278 million more than last year and 85 million greater than last month's government report. In spring wheat we see no reason to change our August 13 prediction of 225 million, which at the time was 37 million less than the government figures and is now 13 million under the last month's government report.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

The second national convention of the American Legion ended its three-day session at Cleveland, with the unanimous election of F. W. Galbraith, Jr., of Cincinnati as National Commander.

Mr. Galbraith received the required the majority of votes on the second ballot, his closest opponents being Hanford MacNider of Iowa and J. F. J. Herbert of Massachusetts. On motion of Mr. MacNider, seconded by Mr. Herbert, the election of Mr. Galbraith then was declared unanimous.

The man selected to succeed Franklin D'Olier of Pennsylvania and safeguard Legion destinies through 1921 commanded the 147th infantry thruout the war and won the Distinguished Service Cross, the Croix de Guerre and the Croix de Guerre with palm for heroism in the Meuse-Argonne offensive, in which he was wounded. His record includes that of both soldier and sailor, as he served as cockswain, third and second mate, respectively, aboard American sailing vessels following his graduation from the Nautical Training School, Boston, in 1893. He is 46 years old and since 1908 has been treasurer of a paper goods company in Cincinnati.

At the first state convention of the American Legion in Ohio, Mr. Galbraith was unanimously elected department commander. He also served as a member of the Legion's National Executive Committee. The convention elected the following vice commanders: John G. Emory, Grand Rapids, Mich.; E. J. Winslett, Sabeville, Ala.; Thos. J. Goldingay, Newark, N. J.; C. G. Pendill, Kenosha, Wis., and J. G. Scrugham, Reno, Nev. John W. Inzer of Montgomery, Ala., was chosen National Chaplain.

Outstanding features of the closing session included an emphatic stand for exclusion of Japanese immigrants and a decision to continue the policy of "strict neutrality" regarding political questions. A motion to modify the present political restriction clause of the national constitution was overwhelmingly defeated.

Early in the second day's session, the delegates registered an emphatic demand on Congress for enactment of the Legion's four-fold optional compensation bill as passed by the House and now pending in the Senate. A committee report recommending that the Legion give its unqualified approval to the measure, known as the Forney bill, and authorizing the National Executive Committee to take whatever action it deems necessary to bring about favorable action in the Senate, was adopted almost unanimously, delegates from South Carolina and Florida being the only ones to oppose it.

By a happy coincidence, just as the poppy had been adopted as the memorial flower of the Legion, Gen. Marie Emile Fayolle, representative of the French government, entered the hall arm in arm with Admiral Sir W. S. Grant of the Royal Navy of Great Britain, and Gen. Leonard Wood. Five minutes of cheering interrupted the meeting and Commander D'Olier declared the regular order of business temporarily suspended. Later brief addresses were delivered by each of the distinguished trio.

"As long as France and America remain united who indeed would dare henceforth to disturb the peace of the world," Gen. Fayolle asked in the course of his remarks. Referring to the statements of Gen. Fayolle and Admiral Grant, Gen. Wood said:

"As both of our distinguished visitors have said, the peace of the world and the happiness of mankind very largely depend upon keeping up that friendly spirit. Don't let any insidious distinctions creep in among us as to who won the war. We won it all together."

The convention reiterated the Legion's position of strict neutrality in all disputes between capital and labor. The delegates also reaffirmed the stand in favor of universal military training.

A parade of 20,000 ex-service men, witnessed by approximately 300,000 people, including more than 50,000 out of town visitors, marked the first day's proceedings of the conclave.

Led by National Commander D'Olier and more than 30 of the nation's foremost hero-winners of the Congressional Medal of Honor, the veterans covered a route through the heart of the city in a procession declared by Cleveland city officials to have surpassed any previous function in the history of the municipality. Cheering thousands along the line of march showed an enthusiasm such as the Legion had never evoked before and contrived to make the spectacle one of the biggest demonstrations of the kind ever held in America.

A reverent silence greeted the delegation from Washington state. Its members carried the American Legion flag that was fired on by radical anarchists at Centralia, last Armistice day, when four Legionnaires were shot to death.

The day started at Convention hall with the reading of greetings from President Wilson, Senator Harding, Goveronr Cox, Marshal Foch and other distinguished men. Marshal Foch expressed his regret at being unable to attend the convention, and said his heart was with the "former combatants of the glorious American Army at the moment of the second anniversary of the fighting they went through by the side of the Allies for the common cause of right and liberty."

Reviewing the Legion's phenomenal growth and other achievements during the past year, Commander D'Olier told the convention the organization's greatest single service to the nation was the virile stand it had taken for the maintenance of law and order.

"This stand," he said, "is the greatest possible insurance policy our country could possibly have and the only return the ex-service man expects is fair play from that government with which he has played so fair."

Patching and Mending

Along about this time of year there is always a lot of repair work to be done around the home. Things have to be made snug and tight for the winter whether one lives on a farm or in the city. A slight expenditure of time and money will save many times its cost in comfort and fuel when winter really sets in.

Remember, we pay as much attention to small orders as to large ones. None is too small to receive our most careful consideration and none so large that we cannot fill it.

DEATH RESULTS WHEN BACK IS BROKEN IN FALL

Hans Jacobson, Carpenter, Sustains Fatal Injuries When Scaffold Gives Way.

Hurt While at Work on F. E. Mousley Residence, on Monday Afternoon.

Resident of Thief River Falls For 14 Years—Leaves Wife and Children.

Hans Jacobson, carpenter, died Tuesday afternoon at the local hospital as the result of injuries received the day previous when he fell from a scaffold on the Mousley building at 109 Main avenue south. The man's back was broken in the fall and it was apparent from the beginning that he had very slight chances of recovery.

Mr. Jacobson was engaged in shingling the Mousley residence and was standing on a scaffold about twelve feet high when the structure collapsed. He struck the ground on his head and shoulders, and when picked up seemed to be badly dazed. A physician was at once called and the injured man removed to the hospital, where it was found that his back was broken.

Funeral Services Friday.

The funeral will be conducted on Friday afternoon from Trinity Lutheran church, with Rev. T. E. Sweger conducting the services. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery. Deceased is survived by a wife and eight children—one boy and seven girls—ranging in age from 16 years to a babe in arms. The family is left in poor financial circumstances and the death of the husband and father comes as a very severe blow to them. The only other relative is a brother who resides in Montana.

An Old Settler.

Mr. Jacobson had been a resident of Thief River Falls for 14 years and was known as an honest, industrious and hard-working man. He was born in Norway nearly 60 years ago and had lived in America 33 years. Before coming to Thief River Falls the family resided at Christine, N. D.

Since coming to Thief River Falls deceased had been employed at the carpenter trade most of the time and at the time of his death was a member of the local carpenter's union. He carried no life insurance nor accident insurance and it is understood his employer was not protected by compensation insurance. Whether or not legal action will be taken against the owner of the house where the accident occurred to force payment of damages is not known at this time. The scaffold is one which had been in use for a day or more previous to the accident and just what caused it to collapse is difficult to explain as no unusual weight had been thrown upon it.

NEW SEWER SYSTEM STARTED THIS WEEK

Contractors Have Crew of Men on Ground and Work Will Be Rushed.

Coolbaet Bros. & Irees of Marshall, who recently were awarded the contract for installing the storm sewer system in Thief River Falls in connection with the paving program, arrived on the scene this week with a crew of men and are ready to go to work in earnest. It is expected the entire sewer job can be completed this fall providing the weather remains favorable.

When the storm sewers are completed throughout the paving district only the curbs and gutters remain to be installed before actual paving of the streets may be started. It appeared likely for a time that this work also could be done this fall but recent developments have forced the contractors having this part of the work in charge to abandon operations until next spring. This will not delay paving at that time, however, as the crew doing the paving can follow up the curb crews very closely.

R. E. Borrowman of the Bradley Engineering Service, St. Cloud, engineers for the paving project, arrived on Tuesday and is personally seeing to it that the storm sewer crew gets the right kind of a start. He stated to a representative of The Times yesterday that the contractors intend to put on all the men they can secure in order to rush the job to completion as rapidly as possible.

CONVICTED SLAYER ENDS LIFE IN CELL

Andrew Koski, Facing Life Sentence, Takes Own Life By Hanging.

Andrew Koski, murderer wanted at Duluth and captured some weeks ago near Warren by Sheriff W. J. LaBree of Pennington county, committed suicide in his cell Tuesday morning by hanging himself from a bar with a pair of suspenders. Koski had recently been found guilty and was under life sentence for the murder of Jacob Carlson, a farmer near Markham, Minn., on June 15, 1919.

Koski left a note explaining his act. In it he said he was not "crazy," knew what he was doing and was aware that it was wrong, but that he was better off dead than in prison for the rest of his life. The note follows: "Common belief is that if a human being ends his own life himself people believe that he is crazy, or a mad man, or is not himself, or not in clear mind. But I say I am myself when I do this. I know it is wrong but I can't help it. Better dead than life in prison. World does better without me. Best wishes to all."

Koski, with one William Kumpula, who is now serving a life term at Stillwater, walked into the Carlson store at Markham, and, after robbing the proprietor, shot and killed him. Kumpula was arrested a few months later and was tried and convicted. Koski made his escape and was captured a few weeks ago by Sheriff LaBree, as stated above. He was tried and convicted of complicity in the crime at the present term of court in Virginia. On Sept. 28 he was sentenced to life imprisonment. With the exception of a half-brother residing in Duluth the dead man's relatives all live in Finland.

SPECIAL COURSE IS OPEN TO FARM BOY

May Put in Six Months Studying Mechanics and Farming at High School.

Beginning next Monday morning a six months course in agriculture and mechanics will be inaugurated for farm boys at Lincoln high school. Half of the time will be given over to agricultural instruction along the lines laid down under the Smith-Hughes law and the other half to the study of general mechanics and English. M. A. Schmitt and A. W. Pope will have charge of the mechanical instruction while the agricultural work will be under the supervision of F. A. Tripp.

In the mechanical division the study of automobile and tractor engineering will be offered. The work in Field Crops and Soils will include a study of the diseases of plants and crops, potato selection, seed testing and other matters of special value to the farmer. Farm arithmetic and accounting and the keeping of accounts pertaining to all things produced on the farm will be another important feature.

The high school at Thief River Falls is the only one in Northwestern Minnesota receiving federal aid at the present time and work done here is credited to those who may wish to continue their studies at the Northwestern School of Agriculture. Any boy over 14 years of age may join these classes without his having passed through the eighth grade.

This furnishes an unusual opportunity for those who wish to apply a part of their time to the study of scientific farming or mechanical work. Those wishing to enter should apply to F. A. Tripp, room 2, Lincoln high school building.

Mrs. Bishop is Confident Of Republican Success

Mrs. J. M. Bishop, vice chairman of the Minnesota League of Republican Women, came up from the organization's headquarters at St. Paul yesterday morning for the purpose of spending a couple of days in the city. On Friday Mrs. Bishop goes to Crookston to attend a meeting of the Ninth district women. She says that in her opinion there is no doubt of the success of the Republican ticket either in state or nation, everything pointing to a landslide for the G. O. P. candidates.

FIRST NATIONAL TO SPONSOR CALF SHOW

Liberal Premiums Offered to Winners in Popular Contest November 5.

The First National bank dairy calf contest, promoted by C. L. Hansen in co-operation with the Pennington County Farm Bureau, will be held in Thief River Falls on Friday, Nov. 5. Some of the finest calves in the Northwest will be exhibited at this show and it will be to the interest of all dairymen as well as club members to be in attendance at that time.

Mr. Hansen will give a luncheon at the Evelyn hotel to all club members. He also will donate $50 to be used as premium money, the number and size of the premiums to be announced at a later date. Mr. Hansen is much interested in improving the dairy stock of this section, which he gives as the reason for his liberal offer to club members. He is also working along the line of better feeding and is encouraging all dairymen to erect silos. To make this possible Mr. Hansen's bank is loaning the money to defray the cost of the silo for one year free of charge.

All club members who exhibited at the county fair and others who have enrolled but did not exhibit should fit their animals in the best possible way for Nov. 5. The five best calves exhibited at this show will be sent to Crookston Nov. 12 and 13, with all expenses paid for the members as well as the expense of their calves. The two best from each county will then be sent to the state show at St. Paul on Nov. 17, 18 and 19. This is an opportunity for club members to work for a free trip to the state contest, where much valuable experience will be obtained.

FOUR-DAY FAIR IS DECIDED ON FOR NEXT YEAR

Greater Part of First Week in August Will Be Taken Up by Big Show.

Salaries Voted For All Officials, the Treasurer Alone Being Overlooked.

Postpone Action on Proposition to Have Directors Select the Secretary.

There will be four days of the Pennington county fair next year instead of three as has heretofore been the custom. At a meeting of stockholders held at the commercial club rooms on Friday evening this decision was reached after a short discussion.

The fair has grown in importance to such an extent of late years that the three days deemed ample when *the organization was formed no long*er provides sufficient time in which to put on the exhibit to the best advantage. There was practically no opposition to the change being made. Fair dates were set for the last four days of the first week in August.

Officer's Salaries Fixed.

The stockholders proved to be in a very liberal mood, doubtless made so by the highly satisfactory financial report submitted by the officers. When the question of fixing the salary of Secretary G. Howard Smith for the past year came up he announced that it had been agreed between the directors that the $300 heretofore paid was inadequate. A number of those present did not subscribe to this view and N. W. Tarrant, who himself served the association as secretary for one year, moved that Mr. Smith be paid the customary amount. This motion was lost. H. A. Brumund moved that the sum be increased to $500 and this was carried.

Johnson is Sarcastic.

It was then suggested that the president and vice presidents also were entitled to some consideration in the way of salary and a discussion followed. Two hundred dollars per year was mentioned as about the right amount and First Vice President Albert Johnson sarcastically suggested that it might be a good idea to hereafter divide among the officers any surplus in the treasury. President Herbert Fuller stated that so far as he was aware no president of the association had ever asked that he be paid and was absolutely certain that while he held the office no such demand would be made. Vice President Beerbower threatened to return any salary voted for his services. The motion was passed, however, and the salaries fixed.

L. A. Lampert was elected treasurer but in his case the salary attachment was left out—probably through an oversight.

Capital Stock Increase.

A motion by Mr. Lampert increasing the capital stock of the association from $10,000 to $20,000 and permitting an indebtedness liability of $10,000 instead of $5,000, was referred to a committee as was also the proposition that hereafter the selection of a secretary be left to the board of directors instead of stockholders. President Fuller named as such committe: P. W. Mabey, O. A. Naplin, John Bratrud, N. W. Tarrant, and W. J. LaBree.

An adjournment was taken to Friday, Oct. 22.

Local Banker Goes East To Investigate Conditions

President C. L. Hansen of the First National bank left last evening for Washington and New York city on business. Mr. Hansen stated before leaving that his principal reason for going was to make a first hand investigation of financial conditions. Interest rates at the present time are so high as to prove a severe burden on mercantile and farming enterprise, he said, and he was in hopes of discovering something that would promise relief in the near future.

STEENERSON SPEAKS HERE ON WEDNESCAY

Present Day Political Issues to Be Discussed By Ninth District Congressman.

One of the important political meetings scheduled for Thief River Falls in the interval from now until election is to be held at the auditorium next Wednesday evening. Congressman Halvor Steenerson will deliver the principal address at this meeting and his talk will make it worth while for all voters, both men and women, to be present.

This will be Mr. Steenerson's first address in the city since early in the war. The congressman has always been greeted by large audiences whenever he has appeared here and next Wednesday evening should be no exception. There is much interest in the outcome of the congressional campaign and voters will be eager to hear issues discussed from the standpoint of the present incumbent. In past years the fight in this district has been confined to two men but this year it is a three-cornered scrap through the entry of a Democrat into the race. Just what effect the candidacy of the Democrat will have upon the result is highly problematical, and whether it will injure the chances of the present congressman remains to be seen.

All who are interested in the political situation—and everybody should be—are urged to turn out next Wednesday evening and hear what Hon. Steenerson has to say.
